ANTI DRY-ROT COMPANY.

(KYAN'S PATENT.)

Ingesteld by Acte des Parlements.

De Compagnie bereid TIMMERHOUT, ZEILDOEK, en TOUWWEK, op de volgende Station in London:

Hoofdstatie,—South Dock, West India Docks.

Takstation,—Grosvenor Basin, Plimlico,

City Road-Basin,

Surry Kanaal Dock, Rotherhithe.

Voor het gemak der Scheepsbelangen heeft de Compagnie dryvende Bakken, welke kunnen worden gezonden naar iedere Scheepstimmerwerf op de Rivier Thames.

DE onbetwistbare getuigenissen gegeven door lieden van de grootste bekwaamheid en ondervinding in het Ryk, over het volkomen vertrouwen dat men kan stellen op Kyan's bewerking van het bereiden van Timmerhout, zoo dat het volkomen de Dry-Rot en ander bederf tegen staat, zyn zoo overtuigend dat dezelve geen verdere aanpryding behoeven.

De krachtadigheid der bewerking is genoegzaam bewezen uit het getuigenis vervat in het Rapport van de Lords der Admiraliteit, en vervolgens gepresenteerd aan en gedrukt door het Huis der Gemeenten; en mede door het aannemen van dezelve op Z. M. Werf te Portsmouth.

De bewerking is van het uiterste belang voor een zeevarend en handels volk, zoo als Groot Brittannie, want het is een zeker behoedmiddel tegen de schrikkelijke verwoestingen door Dry-rot, en gevolgelyk groot verlies van kapitaal voor den Scheepsreeder, welke tot nu toe hebben plaats gehad in alle soort van Schepen, en voor de Scheepsbelangen, want het is duidelyk bewezen dat het het weer en ander bederf in Zeilen en Touwwerk zoo wel als in Houtwerk tegengaat.

Door deze bewerking kan Britsch Amerikaans Timmerhout, even nuttig worden gemaakt als dat van de Oostzee, en dus zal het product van de Britsche Kolonien worden aangemoedigd boven Timmerhout van uitheemsche groei.

Men heeft bevonden dat hout groen gekapt, terwyl de bladeren groeyen, door deze bewerking dadelyk ten gebruike geschikt wordt:—makende dus iedere soort van binnenlands Timmerhout van dezelfde waarde en deugd als het beste uitheemsche—voor alle einden van buitenwerk, en door het gebruik van het gemeenste hout, zal duurzaamheid met spaarzaamheid worden vereenigd, en de landbouw en mynen grootelyk bevorderd worden.

Gebouwen in het algemeen:—

STYLEN, HEKKEN, PALEN, ENZ.

Hier voor kan nu alle soort van hout worden gebruikt in plaats van de kostbaarste soorten. Het zal mede in vele plaatsen het gebruik van yzer kunnen verangen door deszelfs bekomen duurzaamheid en grooter goedkoopheid.

BEREID ZEILDOEK, CALICO, TOUWWEK, Voor Zeilen, Hangmatten, Tenten, Zonneschermen, Pressnings, Zakken, Vischnetten, enz.

Adres by den Hr. W. THOMPSON, Agent van de Compagnie, in de Burgstraat, No. 14, Kaapstad.

Draft of an Ordinance,

Proposed by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, to the Legislative Council thereof,

For releasing certain Property bequeathed to Esther Andrietta Constantia de Roos, from the entail of Fideicommiss.

WHEREAS Maria Christina Kraaywinkel, Wife of Andries de Roos, late of Cape Town, deceased, did by her last Will and Testament made on the 12th day of May 1830, institute as her Sole Heiress her only Daughter Esther Andrietta Constantia de Roos, now the separated Wife of Marten Godlieb Eckard, both of Cape Town, and appoint the late Orphan Chamber to be the Executor of her said Will and Guardian of her minor Grandchildren, the Children of the said Esther Andrietta Constantia de Roos. And whereas the said Testatrix did by her said Will burthen with the entail of Fideicommiss, the inheritance of her said Daughter, and did thereby provide that the said Daughter should enjoy the annual interest of the said inheritance during her life; and that at her decease the said inheritance should devolve on her lawful Children; and that in case her said Daughter should happen to die before her said Husband, then her said Husband should enjoy one half of the said interest, and her Children should enjoy the residue thereof, but that if her said Daughter should survive the said Husband, then, in such case, the said inheritance should be released from the said entail, and her said Daughter should become entitled to the said inheritance free and unencumbered, And whereas the said inheritance amounted in the whole to the sum of £358 17 0, a part whereof consisted of a certain House and Premises situate in Church-street, Cape Town, and certain articles of moveable property, valued at the sum of £160 9 3, and the remainder consisted of monies which were taken under the administration of the late Orphan Chamber. And whereas the annual interest of the aforesaid inheritance was inadequate to the maintenance of the said Esther Andrietta Constantia de Roos and her said minor Children, and she and her said Children having been reduced to great poverty and distress by reason thereof, the Master of the Supreme Court, as acting in the place and stead of the late Orphan Chamber, did from time to time advance from the Guardian's Fund the sum of £198 7 9 to the said Esther Andrietta Constantia de Roos, to provide her and her said minor Children with the necessaries of life, and to defray certain necessary expenses disbursed for their use and benefit. And whereas the said Marten Godlieb Eckard did, by a certain Notarial Deed executed by him, and bearing date the 30th day of August 1834, renounce all the right and interest to which he had and might become entitled under and by virtue of the provisions of the Will of the said Testatrix. Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, that the inheritance bequeathed by the said Testatrix to her said Daughter Esther Andrietta Constantia de Roos, shall be and the same is hereby released from the entail of Fideicommiss imposed thereon by the said Will of the said Testatrix; and that it shall and may be lawful for the Master of the Supreme Court, and he is hereby authorized, to replace out of the said inheritance the said sum of £198 7 9, advanced by him as aforesaid; Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall affect or be construed to affect the right and interest which by the said Will is given to the said minor Children in the House and Premises aforesaid: And, provided also, that it shall not be lawful for the said Esther Andrietta Constantia de Roos to sell, alienate, or mortgage the said House and Premises; and that the said Esther Andrietta Constantia de Roos, shall have the free use and occupation of the said House and Premises during the minority of her said Children.

K. B. HAMILTON,
Clerk of the Legislative Council.

ANTI DRY-ROT COMPANY, (KYAN'S PATENT.)

Constituted and Empowered by Act of Parliament.

The COMPANY prepare TIMBER, CANVASS, and

CORDAGE, at the following STATIONS in LONDON :

Principal Station,—South Dock, West India Docks.

City-Road Basin.

Surry Canal Dock, Rotherhithe.

The Company, for the convenience of the SHIPPING INTEREST, have FLOATING TANKS, which can be sent to any Ship-

Builder's Yard in the River Thames.

THE indisputable Testimonials given by men of the first talent and experience in the kingdom, as to the perfect reliance that may be placed upon KYAN'S PROCESS of PREPARING TIMBER to resist the effect of DRY ROT, and other decay, are so entirely satisfactory as to require no further remark.

The efficacy of the Process is sufficiently established by the Evidence contained in the Report to the Lords of the Admiralty, and subsequently presented to, and printed by, the House of Commons; and likewise by the adoption of it by His Majesty's Government in Portsmouth Dock Yard.

The Process is of the utmost importance to a Maritime and Commercial Country like Great Britain, for it is a certain Preventive of those destructive Ravages from Dry Rot—and consequent enormous Loss of Capital to the Ship-owner—which have hitherto prevailed in Vessels of every description; and to the Shipping Interest the Process is doubly valuable, for, as is clearly proved, it prevents Mildew and Decay in Canvass as well as in Timber.

By the use of this Process, British American Timber will be rendered equally as valuable as Timber from the Baltic; and thus the produce of British Colonies will be encouraged in preference to Timber of Foreign growth.

It is found that Timber cut down while in a state of active vegetation, with the leaf growing, becomes, by the application of this Process, immediately fit for use;—thus rendering every species of Domestic Timber of the same value and available as the best Foreign, for all purposes incidental to Farming and Husbandry;—and, by the use of the most common Woods, economy will be combined with durability, and the Agricultural and Mining Interest will derive most incalculable advantages.

Purposes for which the prepared Timber, &c. is available:—

BUILDINGS IN GENERAL.

Posts, Rails, Gates, Fences, Park Palings, Hop-Poles, &c.

For these purposes any kind of timber may now be used instead of the more expensive kinds. It will also supersede, in many cases, the employment of iron, from its acquired durability and greater economy.

FOR

H. M. Ship "Larne," bound to India, arrived in Simon's Bay on Wednesday. She left Portsmouth on the 6th of June, and touched at Lisbon; while there, the Packet arrived from England, bearing intelligence of the Death of His Majesty, King WILLIAM IV. It appears that the King's illness was of but short duration; but the nature of the Malady has not transpired.

CAPTAIN ALEXANDER, THE TRAVELLER.

We have much pleasure in announcing to the admirers of courage and enterprise, that intelligence has reached Cape Town respecting the movements of Capt. ALEXANDER. A letter from the Rev. Mr. JACKSON, a Wesleyan Missionary at Kamiesberg, in Little Namaqualand, dated July 24, states that "we have heard from Colonel* (Capt.) ALEXANDER; he says that he has performed a very satisfactory journey, and is now turning towards the Cape." At the time Mr. JACKSON wrote, he had just returned from Great Namaqualand, where he doubtless received the above communication; and there is good reason for believing that Capt. ALEXANDER was on the borders of the Damara country when he wrote his letter.

It is nearly twelve months since he left Cape Town. The last previous intelligence from him, on leaving the Missionary borders, was dated February 19,—Capt. ALEXANDER, therefore, and his party, must have been fully five months in an unexplored country, and he will no doubt furnish the world with some valuable details respecting a country teeming with interest to the philanthropist and the man of science.

* Capt. Alexander holds the rank of Colonel in the Portuguese Army.

THE WEATHER.

On Friday, Saturday, and Sunday last, the wind blew strongly from the Northward and the Ships in Table Bay were in great danger. The Schooner "Antelope," with part of her cargo on board for St. Helena, parted from her anchor and was driven ashore behind the Jetty on Friday night and completely wrecked. The Ship "Ranger" from England, with a cargo for this place, which had arrived in the bay but a few days, while endeavouring to beat out, was driven ashore on the same night, on the beach beyond Salt River.—The cargo is being landed in a partially damaged state; but the vessel is so deeply embedded in the sand, that it is feared she will be an entire wreck. Providentially, no lives were lost, although Capt. and Mrs. Byron, and the crew, were in great danger throughout the night. The wreck of the "Antelope" was sold on Wednesday. The weather has been moderate and fine since Monday.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

On Sunday Afternoon, three Juvenile Emigrants, in attempting to ford Salt River, in order to reach the wreck of the "Ranger," were carried down the river by the waves, one youth, named Cooke, succeeded in regaining the shore, but the other two (Moore, in the Service of Mr. Kunhardt, and Calder, in that of Mr. Greig) were unfortunately drowned.

The body of Mr. Kunhardt's Apprentice was found on Monday Morning; but the remains of Calder have not yet been discovered, although diligent search has been made by Mr. Greig in the neighbourhood of the accident, and along the beach for several miles.

WRECK OF THE "FEEJEE," IN ALGOA BAY

Extract of a Letter, dated Port Elizabeth, Aug. 18.

"I am sorry to say, that the "Feejee" came on shore on Wednesday night at 10 o'clock, nearly on the side of the projected Jetty. It had been blowing hard nearly the whole day, and at 4 o'clock p.m. she parted one anchor: towards evening the wind lulled a little, but the sea continued exceedingly high, and between 9 and 10 she parted altogether and came on shore. It being dead low water she grounded at some distance from the beach, and considerable apprehensions were entertained for the safety of the crew, as after repeated attempts it was found impossible to afford them any effectual assistance until the following morning.—Having several tons of dead weight on board, she soon settled down in the sand, and as the tide flowed, her stern frame was carried away and the sea made a complete breach over her.—But a small portion of her Cape goods, and scarcely any of her English cargo, had been landed, so that I fear the losses will be severe.—No lives were lost."

To Captains of Vessels.

The Commanders of Ships and others connected with the Shipping Interest are informed, that a Ball has been erected before the South front of the Observatory, for the purpose of daily communicating to the Ships in the Harbour, the instant of one o'clock Cape mean time, which corresponds to eleven hours, forty-six minutes, five seconds, Greenwich mean time.

The present contrivance furnishes a convenient method for obtaining this important object, without any calculation or difficulty. All that the Observer has to do is, to point the common ship Spy-glass to the Signal Ball a minute or two before 1 o'clock, and to note the instant of the fall of the Ball from the top of the staff, by Chronometer. Then 11h. 46m. 5s. subtracted from the time by Chronometer, gives the error of the Chronometer, or Greenwich mean time, which, compared with the error obtained at departure, will give the rate during the interval.

ANTI DRY-ROT COMPANY.

(KYAN'S PATENT.)

Ingesteld by Acte des Parlements.

De Compagnie bereid TIMMERHOUT, ZEILDOEK, en TOUWWEK, op de volgende Statien in London: Hoofdstatie,—South Dock, West India Docks.

Takstatien,—Grosvenor Basin, Plimlico, City Road-Basin, Surry Kanaal Dock, Rotherhithe.

Voor het gemak der Scheepsbelangen heeft de Compagnie dryvende Bakken, welke kunnen worden gezonden naar iedere Scheepstimmerwerf op de Rivier Thames.

DE onbetwistbare getuigenissen gegeven door lieden van de grootste bekwaamheid en ondervinding in het Ryk, over het volkomen vertrouwen dat men kan stellen op Kyan's bewerking van het bereiden van Timmerhout, zoo dat het volkomen de Dry-Rot en ander bederf tegen staat, zyn zoo overtuigend dat dezelve geen verdere aanpryzyng behoeven.

De krachtadigheid der bewerking is genoegzaam bewezen uit het getuigenis vervat in het Rapport van de Lords der Admiraliteit, en vervolgens gepresenteerd aan en gedrukt door het Huis der Gemeenten; en mede door het aannemen van dezelve op Z. M. Werf te Portsmouth.

De bewerking is van het uiterste belang voor een zeevarend en handels volk, zoo als Groot Brittannie, want het is een zeker behoudmiddel tegen de schrikkelijke verwoestingen door Dry-rot, en gevolgelyk groot verlies van kapitaal voor den Scheepsreeder, welke tot nu toe hebben plaats gehad in alle soot van Schepen, en voor de Scheepsbelangen, want het is duidelyk bewezen dat het het weer en ander bed-rt in Zeilen en Touwwerk zoo wel als in Houtwerk tegengaat.

Door deze bewerking kan Britsch Amerikaansch Timmerhout, even nuttig worden gemaakt als dat van de Oostzee, en dus zal het product van de Britsche Kolonien worden aangemoedigd boven Timmerhout van uitheemsche groei.

Men heeft bevonden dat hout groen gekapt, terwyl de bladeren groeyen, door deze bewerking dadelyk ten gebruike geschikt wordt:—makende dus iedere soort van binnenlands Timmerhout van dezelfde waarde en deugd als het beste uitheemsche—voor alle einden van buitenwerk, en door het gebruik van het gemeenste hout, zal duurzaamheid met spaarzaamheid worden vereenigd, en de landbouw en mynen grootelyks bevorderd worden.

Gebouwen in het algemeen:—

STYLEN, HEKKEN, PALEN, ENZ.

Hier voor kan nu alle soort van hout worden gebruikt in plaats van de kostbaarste soorten. Het zal mede in vele plaatsen het gebruik van yzer kunnen verangen door dezelfde bekomen duurzaamheid en grooter goedkoopheid.

BEREID ZEILDOEK, CALICO, TOUWWEK, Voor Zeilen, Hangmatten, Tenten, Zonneschermen, Pressennings, Zakken, Vischnetten, enz.

ANTI DRY-ROT COMPANY,

(KYAN'S PATENT.)

Constituted and Empowered by Act of Parliament.

The COMPANY prepare TIMBER, CANVASS, and CORDAGE, at the following STATIONS in LONDON:
Principal Station,—South Dock, West India Docks.
Branch Stations,—Grosvenor Basin, Pimlico.
City-Road Basin.
Surry Canal Dock, Rotherhithe.

The Company, for the convenience of the SHIPPING INTEREST, have FLOATING TANKS, which can be sent to any Ship-Builder's Yard in the River Thames.

THE indisputable Testimonials given by men of the first talent and experience in the kingdom, as to the perfect reliance that may be placed upon KYAN'S PROCESS of PREPARING TIMBER to resist the effect of DRY ROT, and other decay, are so entirely satisfactory as to require no further remark.

The efficacy of the Process is sufficiently established by the Evidence contained in the Report to the Lords of the Admiralty, and subsequently presented to, and printed by, the House of Commons; and likewise by the adoption of it by His Majesty's Government in Portsmouth Dock Yard.

The Process is of the utmost importance to a Maritime and Commercial Country like Great Britain, for it is a certain Preventive of those destructive Ravages from Dry Rot—and consequent enormous Loss of Capital to the Ship-owner—which have hitherto prevailed in Vessels of every description; and to the Shipping Interest the Process is doubly valuable, for, as is clearly proved, it prevents Mildew and Decay in Canvass as well as in Timber.

By the use of this Process, British American Timber will be rendered equally as valuable as Timber from the Baltic; and thus the produce of British Colonies will be encouraged in preference to Timber of Foreign growth.

It is found that Timber cut down while in a state of active vegetation, with the leaf growing, becomes, by the application of this Process, immediately fit for use;—thus rendering every species of Domestic Timber of the same value and as available as the best Foreign, for all purposes incidental to Farming and Husbandry;—and, by the use of the most common Woods, economy will be combined with durability, and the Agricultural and Mining Interest will derive most incalculable advantages.

Purposes for which the prepared Timber, &c. is available:—

BUILDINGS IN GENERAL.

Posts, Rails, Gates, Fences, Park Palings, Hop-Poles, &c. For these purposes any kind of timber may now be used instead of the more expensive kinds. It will also supersede, in many cases, the employment of iron, from its acquired durability and greater economy.

PREPARED CANVASS, CALICO, ROPES,

FOR

Sails, Hammocks, &c. Rick Cloths, Tarpaulings, Tents, Sacks, Bags, Awnings and Cloth Blinds, Fishing-Nets, &c.

Application to be made to the Secretary, Mr W. TOMPSON, Agent to the Company, 14, Burg-street, Cape Town.

BEES.—The Launceston Advertiser states that a farmer residing at Norfolk Plains, had had four swarms of Bees from the same hive within one month. We are surprised that more attention is not given by our rural fellow Colonists to the rearing of Bees, as their fecundity is so great, and honey is an article not only of general home-use, but adapted for exportation.

The population of Van Diemen's Land, in 1836, was officially declared to be 40,000.

A Sydney paper states that a Gas Light Company was forming in Sydney, on a capital of £20,000. The "Prospectus" affirms that the profits will exceed £11,000 per annum!

To Captains of Vessels.

The Commanders of Ships and others connected with the Shipping Interest are informed, that a Ball has been erected before the South front of the Observatory, for the purpose of daily communicating to the Ships in the Harbour, the instant of one o'clock Cape mean time, which corresponds to eleven hours, forty-six minutes, five seconds, Greenwich mean time.

The present contrivance furnishes a convenient method for obtaining this important object, without any calculation or difficulty. All that the Observer has to do is, to point the common ship Spy-glass to the Signal Ball a minute or two before 1 o'clock, and to note the instant of the fall of the Ball from the top of the staff, by Chronometer. Then 11h. 46m. 5s. subtracted from the time by Chronometer, gives the error of the Chronometer, or Greenwich mean time, which compared with the error obtained at departure, will give the rate during the interval.

ANTI DRY-ROT COMPANY.

(KYAN'S PATENT.)

Ingesteld by Acte des Parlements.

De Compagnie bereid TIMMERHOUT, ZEILDOEK, en
TOUWWEK, op de volgende Statien in London:

Hoofdstatie,—South Dock, West India Docks.

Takstatien,—Grosvenor Basin, Plimlico,

City Road-Basin,

Surry Kanaal Dock, Rotherhithe.

Voor het gemak der Scheepsbelangen heeft de Compagnie dryvende Bakken, welke kunnen worden gezonden naar iedere Scheepstimmerwerf op de Rivier Thames.

DE onbetwistbare getuigenissen gegeven door lieden van de grootste bekwaamheid en ondervinding in het
Ryk, over het volkomen vertrouwen dat men kan stellen op Kyan's bewerking van het bereiden van Timmerhout, zoo dat het volkomen de Dry-Rot en ander bederf tegen staat, zyn zoo overtuigend dat deselve geen verdere aanpryding behoeven.

De krachtadigheid der bewerking is genoegzaam bewe-zen uit het getuigenis vervat in het Rapport van de Lords der Admiraliteit, en vervolgens gepresenteerd aan en gedrukt door het Huis der Gemeenten; en mede door het aannemen van deselve op Z. M. Werf te Portsmouth.

De bewerking is van het uiterste belang voor een zeevarend en handels volk, zoo als Groot Brittanie, want het is een zeker behoudmiddel tegen de schrikkelijke verwoestingen door Dry-rot, en gevolgelyk groot verlies van kapitataal voor den Scheepsreder, welke tot nu toe hebben plaats gehad in alle soort van Schepen, en voor de Scheeps-belangen, want het is duidelyk bewezen dat het het weer en ander bederf in Zeilen en Touwwerk zoo wel als in Houtwerk tegengaat.

Door deze bewerking kan Britsch Amerikaansch Timmerhout, even nuttig worden gemaakt als dat van de Oostzee, en dus zal het product van de Britsche Kolonien worden aangemoedigd boven Timmerhout van uitheemsche groei.

Men heeft bevonden dat hout groen gekapt, terwyl de bladeren groeyen, door deze bewerking dadelyk ten ge-bruike geschikt wordt:—makende dus iedere soort van binnenlands Timmerhout van dezelfde waarde en deugd als het beste uitheemsche—voor alle einden van buitenwerk, en door het gebruik van het gemeenste hout, zal duurzaamheid met spaarzaamheid worden vereenigd, en de landbouw en mynen grootelyks bevorderd worden.

STYLEN, HEKKEN, PALEN, ENZ.

Hier voor kan nu alle soort van hout worden gebruikt in plaats van de kostbaarste soorten. Het zal mede in vele plaatsen het gebruik van yzer kunnen vervangen door deszelfs bekomen duurzaamheid en grooter goedkoopheid.

BEREID ZEILDOEK, CALICO, TOUWWEK,

Voor Zeilen, Hangmatten, Tenten, Zonnenschermen, Presensings, Zakken, Vischnetten, enz.

Adres by den Hr. W. THOMPSON, Agent van de Compagnie, in de Burgstraat, No. 14, Kaapstad.

NOTICE TO THE TRADE.

S MORDAN & Co. beg to call the attention of the TRADE, and of the Public at large, to the following articles of their manufacture, viz:—

THE PATENT EVER-POINTED PENCIL is an instrument universally allowed to be of the greatest utility, and particularly recommended to the public, when made with that mathematical nicety on which its use depends. The Patentees inform the public that all Pencils having steel points are not of their make; and to avoid all inconvenience the following remarks on purchasing will ensure them a genuine article:—see the Pencil has the name, "S. Mordan and Co., Makers and Patentees," on the body of the case.

LEADS.—The spurious leads are a mixture of common lead-dust and antimony, and of all manner of sizes; they choke up the Pencil-case, and create an unjust prejudice against the genuine article. The proper leads for replenishing the case have on each box a yellow belt, with the word "warranted" on it, and a red sealing-wax impression, bearing the initials "S. M. & Co."

Shopkeepers in provincial towns would do well to observe the above remarks, to prevent their being imposed upon, the public being much inconvenienced in not being supplied with the genuine article.

CEDAR PENCILS.—Artists and others are particularly requested to try their Black Lead Pencils in Cedar, made from the pure Cumberland lead, selected with the greatest care: they have been pronounced, by the most competent judges of the day, the best extant. (See J. D. Harding's Work on Pencil Drawings.) This article is patronized by all the Government offices.

THE PATENT OBLIQUE PEN, the only straight Pen. This peculiarity is owing to the slit being parallel to the angular slope of the writing, which gives it that freedom in use which is unequalled by any other pen by the direction in which both nibs are brought into use at the same time, the writer is not operating upon one edge of the nib, and the contrary edge of the other at the same instant, but upon the square surfaces or points of both together. Both nibs are thus brought into constantly equal wear, and a freedom is secured which no other metal Pen ever possessed. The Patent Oblique Pen is the most perfect hitherto offered.

PATENT TRIPLE-POINTED PEN.—The peculiarity of this Pen, either in its straight or oblique form, is the addition of a third nib, which secures the following advantages:—

1. A certain supply of ink of any kind, uniform with the most rapid writing.

2. The two nibs of the ordinary pen act only as dividers or tracers, while the third nib, pressing upon the paper, conducts and distributes the ink.

3. The third nib renders the same pen capable of writing the boldest text or finest running hand.

4. The third nib retains a larger supply of ink without risk of blotting. (See Laws of Fluids.)

5. The third nib, acting on the slit of the pen, effectually removes the fibres as they are gathered from the paper, thereby removing the greatest impediment to the use of metallic pens.

6. Firmness in use is obtained by the third nib; and at the same time the flexibility is increased, and durability necessarily follows.

* * * Use the Improved Joint Holder, made expressly for these Pens.

PORTABLE QUILL PENS.—There are many persons who do not like steel pens; to those the Portable Quill Pens, and Silver Penholder, are particularly recommended. In Boxes containing Fifty and One Hundred.

"S. M. & Co., Makers," are marked on each box, and are warranted, with a yellow belt and wax impression.

COOPER'S PATENT SCENT BOTTLES.—These articles are confidently recommended from their superiority. The advantages derived from this invention are, that the Stopper, from its spherical form, can neither stick, or break in the neck, so constant a complaint against those on the old plan. The Stopper being made of glass never corrodes. They are so perfectly air-tight that they will preserve the most volatile spirits, even ether or ammonia, any length of time. They cause much less trouble in use than any others, the act of removing the cap and stopper being only one operation. They are more durable than any others, from their superiority both in workmanship and material, the silver and gold used in them being very stout, and warranted standard.

Manufactured by S. Mordan & Co.

PATENT TRAVELLING INKS.—S. M. & Co. invite particular attention to their improved Travelling Inks, to which they have adapted the Patent Spherical Stopper, so as to secure all its advantages, while the construction of the case admits of a glass holding a much larger quantity of ink than those in general use, without increasing its bulk; and at the same time it is protected by a strong case, neatly covered with leather. The improved Stoppers to these Inks remove the objections to the India Rubber Stoppers of the late Mr. Berry, and may be had in all the varieties made by him.

These Inks are also made in wood or ivory, for the pocket.

NEW FOUNTAIN INKSTANDS.—These Inkstands are of a very superior construction to those formerly in use. They present but a small surface of ink to the atmosphere, and comparatively no evaporation takes place; nor can dust accumulate to spoil the ink. The spout is placed at the most convenient angle for dipping the pen; and the ink being of a uniform depth, prevents the pen being spoiled by striking against the glass.

This Inkstand is peculiarly adapted for the writing fluids now in use. They are made of white or coloured glass, either plain or richly cut; and are also mounted with silver caps, which exclude the atmosphere or dust. Each Inkstand has a medalion, with the name S. Mordan & Co. London, on it.

SEVEN GUARDED LOCK.—There are few persons but have property of some kind to secure from prying curiosity or theft. No lock can be secure that has duplicate keys in existence, or that will allow of an impression being taken of the key to produce a facsimile, so easy in all warded and tumbler locks. The most serious robberies have taken place by means of duplicate keys, which allow the dishonest to relock without suspicion; this is fully borne out by the Police Reports. The only lock that gives positive security is the Seven Guarded Lock. The infinite variety of changes of which the key is susceptible, which causes every successive key to differ from all which have preceded it, makes this Lock perfectly secure. An inspection of the machine will justify this assertion.

This Lock is patronized by the Government offices; also at Newgate, Whitecross-street, and Warwick. There is scarcely a banking house in London but have these Locks more or less on their establishment.

ROWLAND'S KALYDOR.

PREPARED from the most beautiful Exotics, and WARRANTED PERFECTLY INNOCENT, yet possessing properties of surprising energy: it eradicates all CUTANEOUS ERUPTIONS, PIMPLES, SPOTS, REDNESS, &c., transforms even the most SALLOW COMPLEXION into RADIANT WHITENESS, realising delicate WHITE FACE, NECK, HANDS, and ARMS, and imparting a BEAUTIFUL JUVENILE BLOOM to the COMPLEXION; successfully render HARSH and ROUGH SKIN, beautifully soft, smooth, and even.

The KALYDOR is equally indispensable in the Nursery as at the Toilet. Perfectly innocuous, it may be used by the most delicate Lady, with the assurance of safety and efficacy. To MOTHERS NURSING their OFFSPRING, it gives, in all cases of incidental inflammation, immediate relief; cools the mouth of the Infant, and enhances internal pleasure in the act of administering alimentary nourishment.

To GENTLEMEN, whose faces are tender after Shaving. A great infelicity which attends the operation of shaving, is the irritation of the skin;—many Gentlemen suffer greatly from this cause. Rowland's Kalydor will be found excellent (beyond precedent) in ameliorating and allaying that most unpleasant sensation.

It protects the Skin from the baneful effects occasioned either by intense solar heat or cold winds, and thus to the Traveller, whose avocations expose him to various changes of weather, proves an infallible Specific—a prompt resource; and, as conducing to comfort, a pleasing appendage and invaluable acquisition.

DIED, on the 28th August 1837, after a protracted illness, Mrs. MAGDALENA ELIZABETH THOMPSON, wife of Dr. WILLIAM THOMPSON, in the 43d year of her age, deeply lamented by her Family and Friends.

Since our last publication we have received files of Sydney and Hobart Town Journals.

Wheat at Sydney is quoted at 6s. 6d. to 7s. 6d. per bushel. At Hobart Town nearly the same.

And Barley at 6s. The crop of Potatoes was expected to be abundant, seasonable rains having fallen in January. Mauritius Sugars ruled from £35 to £45 per ton, and were not abundant.

Negro-head Tobacco, 10d. per lb. in bond. British Manufactures were there (as here) plentiful as blackberries, and sales difficult.

It appears that General Sir RICHARD BOURKE has resigned the government of New South Wales. The following extract from a Sydney paper assigns the cause:—

"RESIGNATION of the Government of New South Wales by Sir RICHARD BOURKE, K.C.B.—We understand that the Governor has received a despatch by the Fortune, reinstating Mr. Riddell in the Office of Executive Councillor. It is known to the public that the Governor suspended Mr. Riddell from this office about the close of 1835. In communicating that suspension to the Secretary of State, His Excellency then intimated his desire of retiring from the Government in the event of this act not being confirmed by His Majesty's Government. The Secretary of State, we understand, in a separate despatch, earnestly urges His Excellency not to persevere in this intention. His Excellency, however abides by his first decision,—not to sit in Council with Mr. Riddell. In this position of affairs, Sir Richard Bourke only awaits the return of Colonel Snodgrass from Hobart Town, to make the necessary arrangements for leaving in his hands the charge of the Government and for proceeding himself to England."

The following little articles are taken from the Sydney Journals:—

"The following is the number of vessels which have entered this port from various parts of the world, during the year 1836, ending the 31st of December last, not taking in the numerous small craft going in and out continually in that period.—

Ships	45
Barques	103
Brigs	94
Schooners	94
Cutters	5

Total 311 vessels.

Comprising 72,554 tons of shipping. There are at present eleven vessels taking in cargoes for England, and several others will not be shortly laid out for the same destination."—Monitor.

"Last night's Government (Sydney) Gazette notifies that the King has been pleased to appoint Mr. E. D. Thomson to the office of Colonial Secretary and Registrar of Records, and Mr. Macpherson to the office of Clerk of the Councils."

BANKING, PAPER MONEY & CURRENCY.

(From the Banker's Circular.)

This publication with great judgment and ability analyzes the money question between the United States Banks and the monetary interests of this country. We are not saying too much when we state that in the whole compass of the public press, there is no party that understands this question better, if any so well, as the author of this publication.

The subject continues to be all absorbing in the monetary and mercantile circles—in fact, these circles can attend to nothing else; their existence for the present being closely connected with this matter. In justice to the Bankers' Circular, we give its remarks in the author's own words.

"The seasonal supply of a description of American credit which is supposed to be less precarious in its foundation than that of the private merchants, has certainly, on its imitation, been regarded with favour by the Bank of England. Its tendency is to enable the firms, that have in the shape of another received assistance from the Bank, to discharge their obligations and place the Bank out of risk concerning the advances which she has made to them; thereby, it is at first contemplated with no dis-favour by the Directors. But as they perceive, if the bank and public companies of the United States can bring their credit for sale in our money-market, and can succeed in familiarizing the leading operators on the Stock Exchange with daily transactions in it, the risk to the established system of regulating our currency would be enormous; and consequently the pretext of an equal value of money in the two countries is put forth to mask the embarrassing and hazardous position in which the Bank of England may be placed. If the banks or public companies of the United States can establish a daily market in Capel-court or their credit in exchange for our gold, the operations that may grow out of it must be a thousand times more riskful to the Bank of England than the practice of the Joint-Stock Banks selling their credit in the same market, and forcing it into circulation by means of the bill-brokers; because the latter practise was in some degree under the controul of the Bank Directors, and the former is wholly independent of them. The American banks in effect say to the Board, 'we do not want your countenance and assistance, we only ask those who deposit money in your hands to draw it out and lend it to us in exchange for our bonds and bills.' We state an extreme but still a possible and not a very improbable case, when we state that, with their credit firmly established on the Stock Exchange, the American banks have by means of such an engine as they have now brought into operation the power to drain all the gold out of the Bank of England whenever the value of money shall for a considerable period be worth four or five per cent more in the United States than it is in London.

"The truth is that the determination of British capitalists to invest money in foreign countries resolves itself into a question of reliance on the stability of peace, of trust in the security of facility of communication and familiarity in dealing, and of confidence in agents. There never was much disposition to invest money permanently for the purpose of income in any of the securities of Spain and Portugal, and South America, except among a few persons who were swayed by political predilections and associations. They were regarded in great measure as funds to be gambled with for profit. But it is not so in the case of Holland; the securities of that country brought to England for sale recommend themselves to our accumulators with all the four requisites above stated, and hence investments are made in them for the sake of permanent income more proportionally, than in any other continental securities. And as a proof of the high favour in which the public hold Dutch Bonds, the amount recently invested in them is sufficiently large to constitute a grave question in our money affairs; it has accordingly for many months past been regarded as a grievous source of apprehension and uneasiness in the Bank parlour, and loud complaints have been made by the Bank Directors on the subject. This effect, be it observed, has been produced by our traffic in credit with the comparatively late of Holland.

"In the case of the United States we have all the four requisites—stability of peace, satisfactory security, facility of intercourse and familiarity in dealing, and confidence in agents, in a much higher degree than in the case of Holland; we have, in addition, common language, similar laws and habits, and usages as nearly the same as possible. And we have—which was more than a 1—the strongest predisposition to increase our investments in American securities, fostered and encouraged by that powerful money-sect, the Society of Friends, who may be said to be the leading operators, and most constant and extensive dealers in credit in both countries. Mr. Biddle himself, who so long as skill, circumspection, foresight, soundness of judgment, hold yet sagacious adventure in affairs of credit, shall mark the highest authority, must be considered the sovereign of all bankers, either is, or was, we believe, a quaker.

"Men who look only at the natural and admitted tendency of principles to produce certain results, without having due regard to the influence which habit, prejudice, and various circumstances may have upon their operation, are apt to conclude that money will find its level, and if it be worth more in one country than another, it will at once flow out of that in which the value is lowest. Amongst loan-mongers this may be the case, as far as their dealings with the credit of government are concerned, but it is not so in the general affairs of commerce; on the contrary, the disposition to change securities from domestic to foreign is very slowly diffused, the holders of money are for a time extremely timid and shy when they are tempted to withdraw it from the usual channels, to invest it in Bank credit, public companies, or in any description of floating mercantile credit whatever, unless they can examine its operation, and see at their own firesides the things which tend to preserve and strengthen it. We, therefore, regard it as a matter of great importance—for immediate consideration even of more importance than the naked principle—to reflect upon the tendency and probable consequences of an open market being established in London for the sale of American credit, where daily transactions can take place between people wholly unacquainted with each other. Heretofore the offices of the bill brokers have constituted this market; it was, however, a narrow and uncertain one, and the thing in which they dealt was the credit of private merchants; henceforward, if the American banks and their skilful agents succeed in accomplishing their present purpose, it will be a market as open and extensive as the Stock Exchange, and the articles brought for sale will be as current and acceptable as the stock of the Bank of England. A community which has an insatiable desire to become possessed of British capital to promote its commerce and industry, and employ it in developing great latent resources of wealth, can achieve no advantage of greater advantage than this; it is, in its tendency to produce remote consequence upon the relative interests of the two countries; one of the same momentous character as that which in 1685 first contributed to give England the ascendancy in manufactures when France revoked the Edict of Nantes. If the value of money shall remain uniformly much higher in the United States than in England, and the means of transmitting it be made safe, familiar, and of daily resort, what is to prevent it passing from our shores?

"Lastly, the mischief of withdrawing British capital by means of merchants' credit may have been in a great measure compensated by the increased power which it gave to the Americans to purchase and consume our manufactures; but what will be its effect on our interests when their manufacturing industry has made them more independent of supplies from England? They already undersell us in third markets with the lower fabrics of Cotton goods; by means partly of our money they will not only produce cotton, tobacco, timber, and corn more cheaply, as they do now, but in a few years they will also produce coals and iron with as much facility and cheapness as the manufacturers of Lancashire can now procure the same materials. In these altered circumstances the precious metals may become the leading articles of export from England in exchange for those raw materials which are indispensable to us; and in that case how will the Bank of England regard an open market established at her own door, for the sale of American Bank credit? In whatever light the question may be considered, it will be found to be one of great importance; and although according to the usual practice of resorting to temporary expedients, the Bank of England may, by arrangements with the Bank of the United States, postpone the period of severest trial, it would betray the greatest incapacity and improvidence not to be prepared for the changes that are likely in the course of time to flow from the altered condition of our money relations with the United States. This new opening of a great and valuable market for supplying themselves with cheap money is more important to the enterprising people of that country than the opening of the Canadian lakes by means of the Erie canal has been to the commerce of New York.

"Taking the fall of prices in the principal raw materials of manufacture from the highest level of last summer, to be at the present time in about the following proportions, viz: Cotton 30 to 35 per cent. Silk 40 to 45, Wool now on the average 20 to 25, Indigo and Drysalteries 15 to 20, Iron 30 to 35, we should think this reduction will be found to indicate the period of about the lowest depression; but we would rather speculate on a further fall of 5 to 10 per cent. on some of these than on a rise during the next two or three months. And we venture to give this opinion because we place no reliance on the theory of an equalized value of money. If money is to become of equal value at the standard fixed by the Bank of England when she has got ten millions of gold again in her coffers, and if it is to be kept at that equal value, prices must be forced down considerably lower. But we may be perfectly satisfied that the Americans would soon disturb this balance, whatever should become of the Bank of England.—May 9.

ALTERATION IN THE USURY LAWS.—(MAY 23.)

This publication, which is ever on the look out for every occurrence which affects money matters, has during the past week fallen foul on a Bill prepared and brought into Parliament by Mr. Warburton and the Chancellor of His Majesty's Exchequer, which it introduces to the eye of its readers in the manner communicated hereafter. Against the Bill the Circular takes up the cudgels for reasons which it assigns. He always sets his readers to think, and by so doing does them service. The Bill in question, will, if it become law, materially affect, amongst other great interests, those of land owners. They will read and judge for themselves. The Bill itself is very plain and easily to be understood.

"The following short Bill, 'prepared and brought in by Mr. Warburton and Mr. Chancellor of the Exchequer,' was 'Ordered by the House of Commons to be printed the 10th of May, 1837.' The comprehensive character of this mediated Act of Parliament may lead to changes so extraordinary, it may, if allowed to pass into law in its present shape, so deeply affect the interest of land-holders, canal and railway proprietors, and all borrowers of money for long periods, that we think it right to call the attention of our subscribers to its import.

"Bill to exempt certain Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes from the operation of the Laws relating to Usury.
[Note.—The Words printed in Italics are proposed to be inserted in the Committee.]

"Whereas by an act passed in the fourth year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled, 'An Act for giving to the Corporation of The Governor and Company of the Bank of England certain Privileges for a limited period under certain conditions,' Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes made payable at or within Three Months after the date thereof, or not having more than Three Months to run, and certain transactions in respect of such Bills, were exempted from the operations of the Statutes relating to Usury; and it is desirable to extend such exemption; Be it therefore enacted, by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That no Bill of Exchange or Promissory Note made payable at or within Twelve Months after the date thereof, or not having more than Twelve Months to run, shall, by reason of any interest taken thereon or secured thereby, or any agreement to pay or receive, or allow interest in discounting, negotiating or transferring the same, be void, nor shall the liability of any Party to any Bill of Exchange or Promissory Note be affected by reason of any Statute or Law in force for the prevention of Usury; nor shall any person or persons drawing, accepting, indorsing or signing any such Bill or Note, or lending or advancing any money, or taking more than the present rate of legal interest in Great Britain and Ireland respectively for the loan of Money on any such Bill or Note, be subject to any penalties under any Statute or Law relating to Usury, or any other penalty or forfeiture; any thing in any Law or Statute relating to Usury in any part of the United Kingdom to the contrary notwithstanding."

MONDAY, MAY 8.

We cannot but regret that Mr. ROBINSON, the Member for Worcester, has been defeated in his attempt in parliament to procure the grinding of Grain in bond into Flour, for exportation. The landlords in the House appear to be so very jealous of a change in the Corn Laws, that they muster strong to prevent any measure being carried which can be construed as having any connection with these Laws. Nothing but the united energies of all who suffer from these Laws will ever secure their repeal, or even their modification—Every attempt that is made in parliament to touch them, demonstrates this fact.

A LONDON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE THE ONLY PREVENTIVE TO FUTURE MONETARY CALAMITIES.—May 2.

The present monetary derangement and disjointed condition of mercantile matters, call the attention of reflecting men to means for the prevention of such calamities in future. The past is gone; but this calamity which has now occurred and under the heavy pressure of which so many are suffering may occur again; and, doubtless, will occur again, if preventives are not brought into existence. The Bank of England, by its charter and by its influence, exercises a very extensive and irresistible controul over the currency of this country, as thousands know from costly experience. The energies of commercial men in London, the seat of the Bank and the head quarters of Commerce, are divided and scattered; and such is their feeble, inactive, and inefficient state, that although the conduct of the Bank in producing the present monetary calamity has been and is the subject of individual and general censure, still there has been no public expression of opinion upon it. Not a single public meeting has been called in London to express public opinion on the matter. Individuals have grumbled at the Bank, and pamphleteers have fired at it, but there has been no public judgment upon its conduct.

Had there been a Chamber of Commerce in London as there might have been, as there ought to have been, and as there would have been if our repeated urgencies and recommendations on this matter had been taken up, the Bank of England would have been prevented from going to the lengths which it did.—But there was no power to controul it—there was no body of men of whom it stood in any fear whatever. It knocked first one merchant down and then another, whilst all the rest stood by looking on, each expecting himself to go next; and they have gone one after another to a very great extent at the caprice or resentment of the Bank. If the Bank had no charter which gives it a monopoly of power, a Chamber of Commerce would be a desirable and even a necessary thing as far as money matters are concerned: but how much more desirable and necessary does it become when the Bank has such a monopoly of power?—The Bank would have listened to a London Chamber of Commerce remonstrating with it on the injustice of its proceedings, but the remonstrances of individuals were but as idle wind which blew unheeded by its ear.

In this point of view only, a London Chamber of Commerce is evidently a very desirable and a very necessary institution. When however we look at it in a mercantile point of view, its importance expands into larger dimensions, and assumes a more valuable aspect. The advantages of such a Chamber will here suggest themselves to the minds of mercantile men at once. As far as all abuses and wrongs could be remedied by any Institution, they would be remedied by such a Chamber. It would tell also with great effect on the Legislature in the discussion and decision of all mercantile affairs. It would also be a receptacle for all kinds of the most accurate and most useful commercial information, which is of great consequence to mercantile men.—Its records would be filed and easy of access, and would secure confidence from their being the offspring of the most authentic sources. London must have a Chamber of Commerce, and shall, if it be possible to accomplish the matter, have a Chamber of Commerce. It would be the only efficient corrector of all existing abuses—the receptacle for all descriptions of authentic and valuable commercial information, and its existence would break up some of the existing monopolies of commercial intelligence now possessed at the Customs and elsewhere; and finally, it would act with great public effect in all times of monetary unhappiness like the present, by communication with and influence upon those who have the controul over the currency.

If our merchants do not wish for a recurrence of similar monetary troubles like the present, let them at once establish a Chamber of Commerce in London, that will prevent such recurrence. If they wish the present pecuniary troubles to be repeated, let them have no Chamber let them go on just as they have done—let them treat the establishment of such Chamber with neglect—let them turn a deaf ear to all the arguments urged in favor of its establishment—let them trust to the random operations of chance—but when the next monetary troubles overtake them, and overtake them they will if no means be employed to prevent such calamities, do not let them complain—it is their own fault—they have the remedy in their own power, but they will not use it.

KYAN'S PREVENTION OF DRY ROT.

Much attention has been lately given by the scientific bodies in England to KYAN's Invention for the preservation of Timber from Dry Rot; and many Lectures have been delivered on its advantages. Dr. BIRKBECK, Professor FARADAY, Mr BEAZLEY, and many other eminent men have borne testimony to its value in all cases in which Timber is exposed to more than ordinary decay. The following remarks on Mr. KYAN's process, from the pen of Sir ANTHONY CARLISLE, embrace a variety of interesting facts:—

SIR ANTHONY CARLISLE stated, that an atmosphere impregnated with Mercury could not be considered wholesome. The question, whether in the instance of Mr Kyan's Process, the Mercury becomes vapourised, admits different views. Washers in Mercury do not find it a destructive vocation. Some metallic substances, as well as earths, if not in a fixed state, are vapourisable, at the atmospheric temperature of this country, either in winter or summer; and he proceeded, "I will now offer two examples: If a person touches the brass handle of a door with a moist hand, the brass becomes cognizant to the sense of smell; if a person scours stone stairs with pipeclay, it becomes vapourised during the drying, and you perceive the earthy smell in passing. In ruder states of chemistry, it was falsely concluded that distillation produced pure water freed from any metallic substances, but the contrary has been proved. For neither common distilled water, supposed to be pure, and provided for medicinal purposes, if distilled in copper vessels, nor waters distilled for perfumes, such as rose water, are free from copper.

"In both examples the copper may be manifested by adding ammonia in a long glass tube, which will form a blue subsidence; but the cases of any simple insoluble matter or compound, in a state of perfect chemical union, for instance, pure Silica, or Phosphate of Lime, or pure Sulphate of Lime, in none of these will the vapour of distillation bring over the particles of those solids. I am not fully aware of the late experiments of Mr. Faraday on this subject, but he is a scientific and correct man. I understand that they show that the crude juices, or sap of vegetables or wood, commonly called albuminous or gummy fluids, are susceptible of a fixed chemical union with corrosive sublimate; and if that should be the fact, mathematically and exactly true, it may be safely admitted that Mercury would not be vapourisable from the Timbers steeped in a solution of corrosive sublimate, with the exception of the superabundant solution, not combined with the raw material or nascent carbon of the wood. I think that metallic vapours generally are prejudicial to human health; Arsenic in the highest degree; Copper, Mercury and Lead, perhaps, next in order. But I do not speak precisely as to the order; they are, however, severally injurious: nevertheless the workers in metals are not invariably affected in their health. Some metals appear almost harmless to the human body, as zinc, tin, and iron, either applied externally or internally. De-structive effects, however, may arise from particular effects of iron, as in the case of needle-grinders, whose lungs become hepatized by exposure to the vapour of the needles, when pointing on a wheel, and the men die. From iron taken inwardly as a medicine no destructive effect on the human constitution has ever arisen, indeed this metal is a natural part of our blood.

"I am informed that nurses in the wards of hospitals where mercury is constantly used, are not injured in their health by it; but strangers or temporary visitors of such hospitals occasionally become so impregnated with mercury as to be salivated. There is now in the Lock Hospital a nurse about eighty years of age, and who has been more than forty years exposed to the incessant vapour of mercury, without suffering any deterioration of her health.

"The College of Surgeons, built by Mr. Dance about 35 years ago, was lately found to be in a state of dangerous decay from a species of Dry Rot. Square pieces of timber were so totally decayed, that they appeared to be half charred, and very brittle. The Council of the College, therefore, felt it to be their duty to use every precaution to prevent the new building from being affected with Rot; and, with this view, the whole of the Timber has been prepared after Mr. Kyan's Process. This species of Rot seems to have resembled a slow putrefactive decomposition, for it showed no fungous productions, neither were there any worm-holes.

"In the constitution of all growing vegetables, the sap, which is analogous to the blood of animals, is in a state of ebbing and flowing; not through vessels, as in animals, but through interstices freely communicating among the woody fibres; those interstices or reticular spaces being lengthwise and crosswise, in all directions. This sap, or raw carbonaceous material for forming wood, leaves, &c. derives its fluidity from water; but in different trees or plants, the water holds in solution different substances: for instance, gum in the cherry-tree and acacia, and a tough macilage in the holly, which prevents and apparently during the stagnant or passive condition of winter rest, the sap becomes part and parcel of the new wood by losing its liquid source of motion, freezing in the winter. In other trees there are essential oils, as in the pine, sweet-bay, and common laurel; and in each there is a certain quantity of albuminous juices or soluble carbon, capable of being deposited so as to form new woody fibres or leaves. These elementary solutions are, perhaps, transmutable into each other. Common woody fibres may be considered as pure charcoal; but the liquid raw material of woody fibre, called the sap, may exist in various stages of condensation or assimilation toward carbonaceous matter; and, from extensive observation I am led to conclude that the more solidified the sap is, the less it is liable to be decomposed in timber by any of the affections called Dry Rot. In timber the food of the destroying fungus is preferably the unconsolidated or unsettled sap. Timber is subject to three sorts of decay; fungous rot, the worm, and a species of putrefactive decomposition. Certainly corrosive sublimate must have the effect, in my opinion, of preventing, more or less, every sort of Dry Rot; for wood or sap so empoisoned would prove very unsuitable for a worm to eat; and the antiseptic efficacy or corrosive sublimate, both on animal and vegetable matter exposed to putrefaction, is unquestionable.

"All liquids and solutions have a hygrometrical movement backward and forward, both along the surfaces and among the interstices of organic fibres; so that it is impossible to say how far Mr. Kyan's solution will penetrate timber. I think any sized log of wood would be penetrated by water, whether fresh or salt; but I do not know in how long a time.

"In the sawing shed of the builders employed on the New College of Surgeons, I observed men cutting a piece of Kyan's timber, about eight inches by six inches. The four outer sides had been all previously cut off, and the entire piece of wood had been steeped in Kyan's solution. I caught some of the saw-dust falling from the timber, and filled my mouth with it, chewed it, and found it strongly impregnated with corrosive sublimate."

GENERAL STATISTICS OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE, BY JAMES M'QUEEN, ESQ.

COTTON TRADE.

The capital vested in the British cotton trade may, taken at about 40,000,000*l.*, and the whole charges on the trade, estimating the cost of producing the yarn 7*d.* per lb., be stated as follows:—

9,333,000 spindles, at 23 s.	£10,683,956
119,472 power-looms, at 40 t.	4,332,000
280,000 hand-looms, at 4 t.	1,120,000
280,000 weavers, capital in shops, &c., at 5 t.	1,400,000
Price, one-third raw material	4,437,916
Ditto, one-fourth yarn, &c., manufactured	13,000,000
Allow for workshops, &c.	1,500,000
Capital, printfields, at least	2,000,000
Also, capital in stocking and bobbins at manufacture	2,500,000
	£40,973,872

Glasgow has about one-ninth of the cotton trade. In it there are 800 spinners, manufacturers, and other heads of cotton establishments. One power-loom is estimated to be equal to two men. One man can produce 20 to 25 yards common goods daily. The steam-loom can produce 40 yards. In fine work, a cotton hand-loom weaver cannot produce half the preceding quantity. In weaving by power-loom, 1*s.* per piece will cover all expense for tear and wear, and weaving. The machinery in mills is supposed to change in six or eight years.—(Evidence, Jonathan Hitchen, Committee Hand-loom weavers, 1835, p. 223, &c.)

Kennedy, in 1827, estimated the persons employed in the cotton trade thus:—

Engineers, machine-makers, &c.	133,000
Weavers, spinners, bleachers, &c.	705,000

Total . . . 838,000

The enumeration, by the previous narrative, for those laboriously and directly employed in the cotton trade, will stand thus:—

In factories	220,136
Hand-loom weavers	280,000
Attendants on power-looms	60,000
Printers, &c.	240,000
Bobbinet trade	211,000

SILK MANUFACTURE.

The next important branch of British manufacture which we should notice, is the silk trade.

The tables of revenue and population, part 4th p. 214, inform us that the export of silks, of British manufacture, in 1834, was 637,168*l.* The raw material comes, in about equal proportions, from the British territories in Asia, and from foreign states. The quantity and value in 1834 were—quantity, 4,848,612 lbs., of which 228,005 lbs. were exported, leaving for British consumption 4,620,607 lbs.—in value 1,923,037*l.*—(official value.)

There are, according to the report of the Factory Commissioners, 737 factories in the United Kingdom engaged in the silk trade, which trade gives employment direct to about five hundred thousand persons, and has connected with it, and dependent upon it, perhaps as many more. The production has been estimated at about 10,000,000*l.*, which, deducting the value of the raw material, leaves, say 5,500,000*l.* for wages, &c. to the labourer and manufacturer.

The extent of the British manufacture greatly exceeds that of France, and the home consumption is double that of our populous neighbour. According to Dr. Bowring's report on the silk trade of France, in 1835, the silk goods exported from France, in 1831, amounted to 122,494,361 francs (5,100,000*l.*) and the home consumption 111,118,802 francs (4,360,000*l.* sterling.) The British home consumption will be the difference between the total amount of the manufacture, say, 10,000,000*l.*, and the export 637,168*l.*, or 9,362,832*l.*, and the quantity of foreign silks retained for home consumption about 600,000*l.*

SHEEP:—WOOL.

Purity of blood is the great essential towards producing Wool of such uniform fineness of texture as shall befit it to compete with the German and Australian fleeces: it is therefore of vital consequence to the Farmer to obtain Rams of pure Saxon breed, or at least of recent Saxon origin. Defect also in breeding, and a want of care in the shearing of the Sheep at regular periods, may destroy the value of the Wool, though the blood be pure; the utmost attention therefore must be given to these points. The following directions for the management of Wool were drawn up by a Wool-broker of much experience in London, Mr. W. BUCHANAN, for the use of Growers in New South Wales; they are equally applicable in this Colony:—

Washing.—It is of great importance that the fleece should be well washed, that the wool may be brought to market with as bright a color as possible; every convenience, and a plentiful supply of pure water should therefore be provided, a running stream being most desirable.

The preferable mode of washing is that which is performed before shearing, according to the German manner; some growers have tried the plan of washing after the fleeces have been shorn and sorted; and as is supposed have used tepid water, following the French and Spanish method; but this has not been approved of by the buyers generally, and particularly by those who buy for combing purposes.

The breaking of the fleece, and washing after shearing, gives the wool more the appearance of Spanish than of German wool, and consequently reduces it to a lower standard of comparison. It is well known that the sheep of those German flocks that are best washed are, after that operation, driven into some shed strewn with clean litter, or penned up with hurdles on clean grass, that the utmost care is taken to prevent their exposure to dirt or whatever else might tend to sully their whiteness, and that they are not shorn until a sufficient degree of moisture is deposited in the fleece by perspiration, to impart a soft handle to the wool. It may here be added, that it is very important, if possible, to prevent the sheep from filling their fleeces with grass seeds, broken leaves, and other extraneous substances which cannot be removed in the operation of washing, and which are productive of labor and expense in every process of manufacturing; in some cases indeed rendering wools almost unsalable. It may be here observed, that so conscious are the Spaniards of the superiority of the German mode of washing and assorting, that they are making every effort to introduce it.

Assorting and assorting.—In order to assimilate the Australian wool as much as possible with the German in preparing it for market, the fleeces should not be broken, but merely divested of the breech and stained locks, and so assorted or arranged that each package may contain fleeces of the same character as to color, length of staple, fineness of hair, and general quality.

If the washing has been performed at the same time and place, and with an equal degree of care, the color is likely to be uniform, and it will then only be necessary to attend to the separation of the fleeces as to length, fineness, and general quality: but if a large grower has flocks of different breeds, and fed on different soils, care should be taken that the fleeces be separated first as to color, and then again as to length, fineness, &c.

Packing.—The fleeces being assorted as already suggested, should be spread one upon another, the neck of the second fleece being laid upon the tail of the first, and so on alternately to the extent of eight or ten fleeces, according to their size and weight. When so spread the two sides should be folded towards the middle, then rolled together, beginning at each end and meeting in the centre, and the roll or bundle so formed held together by a slight packthread. The bagging should be of a close, firm, and tough nature. The material hitherto most used has been sail canvas, which very ill resists bad weather on a long voyage, and when received here, even in favorable condition, is so dry and crisp that it will tear like paper. A thicker, twilled, more flexible, and tough material would be preferable. The size and form of the package may be in length about nine feet, and width four feet, sewed up on the two long sides, and at one end,—the other end being left open, and the sheet so formed, being suspended with the open end upwards to receive the bundles made up as before directed, which are to be put in one at a time, one of the flat sides of the roll or bundle being put downwards, and so on in succession, being well trod down until sufficiently full for the month to be closed. This is the German mode of packing, but it is doubtful whether smaller packages of the dimensions that have been hitherto sent from the two colonies may not be more convenient for so long a voyage.

The Screwing of the bales should be discontinued, where it has been practised; as the pressure by the screw, and remaining compressed during the voyage, occasions the wool to be caked and matted together in a manner that is highly prejudicial to its appearance on arrival. The practice also of winding up each fleece separately, and twisting a portion into a band, is productive in a minor degree of the same prejudicial effect, and it is to avoid this that the making German bundles, of eight or ten fleeces, is suggested.

PROPERTIES OF SNOW.

The following extract on this subject is taken from a volume lately published by the Rev. H. Duncan, D. D. Ruthwell, (the first of a series of four,) intended to illustrate the Perfections of God in the Phenomena of the Year:—

"Let us consider, then, the properties of snow, and we shall not fail to admire the provision. The vapour floating in the atmosphere is arrested by the cold, and is frozen; but, instead of running together, as might be expected, into solid masses, it unites with the nitrous particles, also to be found mingled with the air, and, forming a compound crystal, shoots out into beautiful feathery flakes. Whoever will take the trouble to examine one of these flakes with the aid of a microscope, cannot fail to admire the elegance and form of its structure. He will observe many little sparkling crosses or darts radiating from a point, and branching off and meeting in all directions, so as to form hexagonal lines of much beauty, wrought apparently with the nicest art, and wonderfully fitted for passing, with a kind of buoyant and flickering motion, through the air, so as to drop, without disturbance, on the ground, spreading, as they actually do, a coat of dazzling whiteness, profusely but gently, over bush and brake, waving lawn and towering mountain.

"It has been found by experiment, that snow is twenty-four times lighter than water, and that it fills ten or twelve times more space, at the moment of falling, than the water produced from it when melted. This is an admirable contrivance to prevent, or at least to modify, what would otherwise prove a great evil. Another useful property of snow has been noticed by many writers, and is verified by yearly experience. Being a very imperfect conductor of heat, it does not readily descend below the freezing point, and thus tempers the rigour of the season. Under its white covering the earth remains of a moderate and equal temperature, and the bulbs and roots of plants are preserved from the ungenial influence of a severe sky. In consequence of the same slowness in the conduction of heat, the Arctic traveller can sleep, without much inconvenience, on his bed of snow, which is warm compared with the atmosphere he breathes; and for the same reason the snow-formed hut affords the Esquimaux no unpleasant abode."

Manufactured Tobacco or Segars pays a duty of 9s. per lb.

IMPROVEMENT IN THE DESTRUCTIVE POWER OF CANNON.

A great improvement has recently been effected in the construction of cannon, by which these engines of war will probably become infinitely more destructive than formerly. The improvement, strange to say, has been for the first time put to the test in Turkey, under the patronage of the sultan, who has been entirely pleased with it. The inventor is a young man named John W. Cochran, son of a merchant in New Hampshire, United States, of whom and of his invention the following additional particulars are given in the American periodicals:—

“Mr. Cochran was brought up to no particular business. At the age of sixteen, he discovered a strong taste and passion for mechanical experiments, and was constantly occupied in the construction of machinery, which his father approving of, encouraged, and expended several thousand dollars in his behalf, in the cost of the different kinds of apparatus required. When only eighteen, he made the discovery in question but did not perfect it until three years after. He then went to France and England, and exhibited his model cannon to Louis Philippe and William IV. While at Paris in 1833-4, he was requested by the Turkish ambassador to explain it to the Turkish minister at London, and accordingly went to Woolwich, and performed a series of experiments before the latter personage, which gave so much satisfaction, that he urged Mr. C. to visit the sultan at Constantinople, and for that purpose provided him with the most flattering recommendations to the court of the sublime Porte. Mr. Cochran arrived at Constantinople, February 11, 1836, was received with great distinction, and introduced to the sultan by the grand vizier. His Turkish majesty was highly pleased with the experiments made with the model, told Mr. Cochran he was satisfied it would be generally adopted, and requested him to cast a twelve pounder on the same principle. He was provided with elegant apartments in Pera, raised to the dignity of master of cannon, and furnished with as many workmen as he required for the accomplishment of his task.

Mr. Cochran, however, finding there was no good foundry or mechanics, was obliged to undertake the work with his own hands; and though not brought up to the business of making machinery of any kind, by dint of much labour and perseverance made himself all the necessary implements, the augers and the wooden apparatus for boring with horse power, and the preparations required for procuring the proper castings. He succeeded entirely to his wishes, and cast and bored three cannon, two of one pound each, and the third, a twelve pounder, which last was finished in a style as perfect as he could have desired. On the 14th September following, he proved this last piece to his entire satisfaction, in the presence of all the Turkish government, who were delighted with its execution, and made a highly flattering report to the sultan. He fired it off in the presence of those officers to their utter astonishment a hundred times in fifteen minutes. The sultan, when he heard of it, could scarcely believe it, and directed Mr. Cochran to perform the same experiments in his presence. The most extensive preparations were accordingly made for this important trial, which was to take place at Tarache, on the European side of the Bosphorus.

No less than three thousand troops were assembled at this spot. The sultan at the hour appointed came over from his summer residence on the Asiatic shore, rowed in one of his splendid vessels, and preceded by a long line of other boats of the same description. As the vessel was nearing the wharf, Mr. Cochran, at the suggestion of Halil Pacha, the sultan's son-in-law, and commander in chief of the land forces, fired off a salute of twenty-one guns (the customary number), with the experimental cannon, which consumed less than two minutes, and struck the assembled multitude with amazement. As the sultan at this moment stepped on the wharf, Halil, accompanied by the grand vizier and other dignitaries, ran to his majesty, and the former making the usual salaam of kissing the sultan's foot, announced to him with feelings of exultation that could scarcely be repressed, the wonderful success of the machine-cannon, as they appropriately named it. The sultan, arrived at his tent, sent for Mr. Cochran, and after a short conference, in which Mr. Cochran conversed chiefly in the Turkish language, which he had partially acquired, the sultan, renewing his expressions of kindness, requested him to perform the experiment in his presence. The cannon was fired as before a hundred times in fifteen minutes, during which the barrel acquired 630 degrees of heat, while the revolving cylinder which contained the charges was comparatively cool, being only 250 degrees of temperature.

The Sultan asked for the bill of expenses, and being told by Mr. Cochran that it was left to his own pleasure, he went the next day at the request of the sultan, to visit him at his palace. The bag of gold he there received was truly an imperial present, and enough to make his fortune. Mr. Cochran soon after returned to America, with the undersanding that he should have a contract for supplying a large number of cannon of the pattern exhibited, whenever it could be agreeable for him to execute it.” His invention has since been taken into consideration by the American Institute, with what result we have not heard; but a recent New York paper states that the patent right of the many chambered non-revolving rifle, as it is called, has been sold by the inventor to a company, for the enormous sum of three hundred thousand dollars.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF JOHN ABERNETHY.

JOHN ABERNETHY was a pupil of John Hunter, and the earnestness and delight with which, at an early age, he received the lessons of this his great master, were indications of the soundness of his own judgment. It was from this profound and original thinker, who exercised an extraordinary influence over the understanding, tastes, and pursuits of his young pupil, that Abernethy derived that ardent love of physiology, by the application of which to surgery, he was destined to convert a rude art into a beautiful science. He made himself thoroughly acquainted with anatomy, but it was that he might be admitted into the then new world of physiology; he studied structure, but it was that he might understand function; and the moment he had obtained a clear insight into these two sciences, he saw the applications of which they were capable to the treatment of disease. From that moment he looked with contempt on the empiricism then almost universal in surgery; he ridiculed its jargon; he exposed the narrowness of its principles, if it be at all allowable to designate by such a term the ignorant dogmas which alone regulated the practice of the surgeon. But he did not content himself with deriding what truly deserved contempt; he laid the foundation of, and mainly contributed to build up, a new edifice. By the diligent study of nature, and by continual reflection on what he saw, and, as he himself expressed it, the concatenation of what he saw, he reduced to order what he found a chaos. Hitherto the surgeon had looked upon the class of diseases which it was his part to treat, diseases which almost always have a local seat, as diseases which have also a local origin, and consequently as diseases which are to be cured by local applications.

To Abernethy belongs the great merit of first perceiving, in its full extent, the utter incompatibility of this notion with the true phenomena of disease, and the inertness, or, when it ceased to be inert, the mischievousness of the treatment that grew out of it. In a work abounding with acute and original observation, and exhibiting comprehensive and philosophical views, entitled “The Constitutional Origin and Treatment of Local Diseases,” he laid down and establishes this great principle: that local diseases are symptoms of a disordered constitution, not primary and independent maladies; and that they are to be cured by remedies calculated to make a salutary impression on the general frame, not by topical dressing, nor any mere manipulations of surgery. This single principle changed the aspect of the entire field of surgery, and elevated it from a manual art into the rank of a science. And to this first principle he added a second, the range of which is perhaps somewhat less extensive, but the practical importance of which is scarcely inferior to that of the first—namely, that this disordered state of the constitution either originates from, or is rigorously allied with, derangements of the stomach and bowels, and that it can only be reached by remedies which first exercise a curative influence upon these organs. The benefit daily and hourly conferred upon mankind by the elucidation and establishment of these two principles, both by the prevention and the mitigation of disease and suffering, it were vain to attempt to estimate, and it is not easy to pay to their author the debt of gratitude which is his due.

Further, the same philosophical view of the structure and functions of the human frame, which enabled this acute physiologist so greatly to improve the theory and practice of surgery, suggested, and at the same time armed him with the courage to perform, two operations in surgery bolder than any that had ever before been achieved, and the repetition of which has since been attended with splendid success—namely, the tying the carotid and the external iliac arteries. The announcement of the performance of these capital operations, at once established his reputation as a surgeon, and increased the credit of the English school throughout Europe.

Great, however, as was the reputation which this distinguished man acquired as an anatomist, physiologist, and surgeon, it is probable that he owed his celebrity chiefly to his success as a teacher. Gifted with the genius to master and extend his science, he was endowed with the still rarer capacity of communicating to others in a clear, succinct, impressive, and fascinating manner, whatever he himself knew. Easy and fluent, yet not inelegant—abounding with illustration and anecdote, yet methodical—logical, yet often witty, and occasionally humorous almost to coarseness—seldom impassioned, yet always impressive, and never allowing the attention of his audience to flag for a single moment,—it was rare, indeed, that he failed to convince whoever heard him, and as rare that he failed to make whoever was convinced a decided partisan. Nevertheless, a highly competent witness, speaking apparently from a careful and mature examination of the impression made upon his own mind by the prelections of his master, gives the following account, which, if true, is decidedly unfavorable as to the ultimate result of the mode and spirit of his lecturing. “He so eloquently expounded some of the highest truths,” says Dr Latham; “he so nicely disentangled the perplexities of many abstruse subjects; he made that so easy which was before so difficult,—that every man who heard him feels perhaps to this day, that for some important portion of his knowledge he is indebted to Mr. Abernethy. But he reserved all his enthusiasm for his peculiar doctrine; he so reasoned it, so acted it, and so dramatised it (those who have heard him will know what I mean); and then in his own droll way he so disparaged the more laborious searchers after truth, calling them, contemptuously, ‘the Doctors,’ and so disported himself with ridicule of every system but his own, that we accepted the doctrine in all its fullness. We should have been ashamed to do otherwise. We accepted it with acclamation, and voted ourselves by acclamation the profoundest medical philosophers, at the easy rate of one half hour’s instruction. The great Lord Chatham, it is said, had such power of inspiring self-complacency into the minds of other men, that no man was ever a quarter of an hour in his company without believing that Lord Chatham was the first man in the world, and himself the second; and so it was with our poor pupils and Mr. Abernethy. We never left his lecture room without thinking him the prince of pathologists, and ourselves only one degree below him.”

If this were, indeed, the ordinary result, then it must be admitted that the excellence of Mr. Abernethy, as a teacher, was, after all, but of a secondary order. He only teaches well who sends his pupils away thirsting after truth, determined to search for it, feeling that he has a clear conception of the manner in which he is to get at it, and, at all events, in no mood to be satisfied with anything but the entire truth.

The private character of Mr. Abernethy was blameless. He was highly honorable in all his transactions, and incapable of duplicity, meanness, artifice, or servility. His manners in the domestic circle were gentle, and even playful; he gave to those about him a large portion of what his heart really abounded with—tenderness and affection; and on his part he was tenderly beloved by his children and by all the members of his family. In public, and more especially to his patients, his manners were coarse, capricious, churlish, and sometimes even brutal. It would not be difficult to account for this anomaly were there any use in pursuing the investigation: his conduct in this respect merits unqualified censure. If but one-half of the stories that are told of him be true, the feelings they should excite are disgust and indignation. Without doubt it is the interest of every patient to state his case to his medical adviser in as few and plain words as possible, and then to listen without interruption to the counsel that is given him; but no one knew better than Mr. Abernethy how utterly ignorant even the educated classes are of the structure and functions of the animal economy, and how completely they have been excluded from the means of obtaining any information on these subjects. No one knew better than he in the cases in which he was consulted there was often real suffering, though there might be exaggerated statements and unreasonable complaint; that suffering is not the less suffering because it is self-inflicted, and that it is bitter indeed when the very person from whom solace is sought treats it with derision and reproach. To listen to the interminable details of a bewildered and possibly a selfish hypochondriac may, indeed, be a ‘trial of temper;’ but the department of the medical practitioner, even towards such a hypochondriac who applies to him for guidance and aid, ought to be under [the control of] principle, rather than of feeling. Whatever be the folly of a patient, it can never forfeit his claim to humanity,—of which the physician, from the knowledge which his profession gives him of the weakness, infirmity, and suffering of human nature, ought to be more observant than any other human being.—Penny Cyclopædia.

THE SUNFLOWER.

The value of this plant, which is easily cultivated, and ornamental to the garden, is scarcely known in most parts of the kingdom. The seed forms a most excellent and convenient food for poultry, and it is only necessary to cut off the heads of the plant when ripe, tie them in bunches, and hang them up in a dry situation, to be used as wanted. They not only fatten every kind of poultry, but greatly increase the quantity of eggs they lay. When cultivated to a considerable extent, they are also capital food for sheep and pigs, and for pheasants. The leaves when dried form a good powder for cattle; the dry stalks burn well, and form an abundance of alkali; and when in bloom, the flower is most attractive to bees.

SELF-DENIAL.—There never did, and never will exist, any thing permanently noble and excellent in a character which is a stranger to the exercise of resolute Self-Denial.—Sir Walter Scott.

LOSS OF THE CORNWALLIS.

(From The Australian, Feb. 17.)

The forebodings which had been so prevalent respecting Messrs. Grose and Co.’s whaling brig Cornwallis, were painfully verified on Tuesday, by the arrival from the South Seas of the ship Mechanic, of Newport, Captain Daggett, which has brought up Captain and Mrs. Bardo, and their two children, with the crew of the Cornwallis. The details of the manner in which the loss occurred, will be found below. The Mechanic reports the Lady Mary Pelham, of Hobart Town, out six weeks, with 50 barrels. The Cornwallis had not spoken any whaler for some time prior to her wreck.

The following is the account of the loss of the Cornwallis, extracted from a private log book of the chief mate of the above vessel:—On Friday morning, the 31st day of Dec., we sent the second mate up Bourka Bay to see if there was an harbour where wood and water might be procured—and he was successful in his trip. He also reported that there were natives on the island, who appeared to be very friendly. Capt. Daggett, of the ship Mechanic, was on board the Cornwallis when the second mate returned, and both the Captains resolved to enter the harbour. By day break the following day the chief mates of the Cornwallis and the Mechanic went to sound the harbour, when a great number of the natives surrounded the boats in canoes, and were anxious for the boats to come to anchor. At sunset they returned on board, and it was arranged to enter the harbour the next morning, (Sunday). At day-light in the morning we got up the anchors and bent the cables; a light breeze springing up, at half past nine came to an anchor in Deceitful Bay. The ship Mechanic followed almost immediately afterwards. A great number of canoes came off from the shores and surrounded the vessels. The next morning early we sent a raft of casks on shore to be filled with water, and also a party of New Zealanders to cut wood. The natives still continued friendly, and there was a great number of them at the place where we were getting water from. We got that day five tons of water on board and a great deal of wood. On Tuesday we sent a raft of nine tons of casks to be filled. The wood-party also went on shore. The natives began to congregate in still greater numbers. At one o’clock we got some more water and wood on board. The next day we were going on with the same measures, and when the water and wood parties got on shore, they found the natives armed with bows and arrows. At eight o’clock the wood party came off to breakfast, that, for the watering party was sent on shore. After the wood party had finished their breakfast they proceeded again to the shore, and on their landing were surprised by about two hundred natives, who seized their axes and wounded two of the New Zealanders, who ran into the water and swam off.

A boat being manned and armed was sent to their assistance. This boat’s crew commenced firing at the natives who immediately made off into the bush. This boat then conveyed the wounded New Zealanders on board of the Mechanic, and immediately proceeded to the assistance of the watering party, who were attacked by the natives whilst they were engaged rolling off the casks. They fired arrows at us and threw stones, and succeeded in driving us off the beach, and taking possession of the casks. The second mate was wounded with seven arrows, the carpenter was severely injured with a stone on his head; we all luckily got off without the loss of life, but no doubt a good number of the natives were killed, as there was a constant firing kept up from both vessels. The second mate and the carpenter were conveyed on board the Mechanic.

At four o’clock, p.m. both vessels got under weigh with a light breeze from the westward. At seven, p.m., the wind shifted in from the north-east, with a heavy squall of wind and rain, which took the ships aback, the light then being within half a mile of the breakers, with a heavy swell and strong tide, which prevented the vessel from coming round, the top-sail sheets being carried away. In less than ten minutes after, the brig struck on the edge of a reef, and the Captain finding that there was no probability of saving the brig, or anything belonging to her, ordered the boats to be cleared away. The starboard quarter boat was stove on the reef at the time of the brig striking. The larboard waist boat left the Cornwallis immediately she struck, and pulled towards the Mechanic with four New Zealanders in her. They left seventeen men on board the wreck with only one boat to take to, and when we left the brig was filling fast. There was about sixty fathom of water at the side of the reef. About ten o’clock we got on board the Mechanic, and found that she had lost her main top-sail and flying jib, and barely escaped the reef. The remainder of the night was spent in beating out of the harbour. At daylight next morning sent four boats well manned and armed to see if anything could be saved from the wreck, but only a few planks were to be seen.

Whitehall, June 20, 1837.

ON Tuesday morning, the twentieth of June instant, at twelve minutes past two o'clock, our late Most Gracious Sovereign King William the Fourth, expired at His Castle of Windsor, in the seventy-second year of His age, and the seventh year of His reign. This event has caused one universal feeling of regret and sorrow to His late Majesty's faithful and attached subjects, to whom He was endeared by the deep interest in their welfare which he invariably manifested, as well as by the many manly virtues which marked and adorned His character.

Upon the intimation of this distressing event, the Lords of the Privy Council assembled this day, at Kensington-palace, and gave orders for proclaiming Her present Majesty, who made a most gracious declaration to them, and caused all the Lords and others of the late King's Privy Council, who were then present, to be sworn of Her Majesty's Privy Council.

WHEREAS it has pleased Almighty God to call to His Mercy Our late Sovereign Lord King William the Fourth, of blessed and glorious memory, by whose decess the Imperial Crown of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland is solely and rightfully come to the High and Mighty Princess Alexandrina Victoria, saving the rights of any issue of His late Majesty's Consort: We, therefore, "the Lords Spiritual and Temporal of this Realm, being here assisted with those of His late Majesty's Privy Council, with numbers of others principal Gentlemen of Quality, with the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Citizens of London," do now hereby, with one voice and consent of tongue and heart, publish and proclaim that the High and Mighty Princess Alexandrina Victoria is now, by the death of Our late Sovereign, of happy memory, become our only lawful and rightful Liege Lady Victoria, by the Grace of God, Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, saving as aforesaid. To whom, saving as aforesaid, we do acknowledge all faith and constant obedience with all hearty and humble affection, beseeching God, by whom Kings and Queens do reign, to bless the Royal Princess Victoria, with long and happy years to reign over us.

AT the Court at Kensington, the 20th day of June 1837.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

HER Majesty being this day present in Council, was pleased to make the following Declaration, viz.

The severe and afflicting loss which the Nation has sustained by the death of His Majesty, my beloved Uncle, has devolved upon me the duty of administering the Government of this Empire. This awful responsibility is imposed upon me so suddenly, and at so early a period of my life, that I should feel myself utterly oppressed by the burthen were I not sustained by the hope that Divine Providence, which has called me to this work, will give me strength for the performance of it, and that I shall find in the purity of my intentions, and in my zeal for the public welfare, that support and those resources which usually belong to a more mature age, and to longer experience.

I place my firm reliance upon the wisdom of Parliament, and upon the loyalty and affection of my People. I esteem it also a peculiar advantage, that I succeed to a Sovereign whose constant regard for the rights and liberties of his Subjects, and whose desire to promote the amelioration of the Laws and Institutions of the Country, have rendered his name the object of general attachment and veneration.

Educated in England, under the tender and enlightened care of a most affectionate Mother, I have learned from my Infancy to respect and love the Constitution of my Native Country.

It will be my unceasing study to maintain the Reformed Religion as by Law established, securing at the same time to all the full enjoyment of Religious Liberty; and I shall steadily protect the rights, and promote to the utmost of my power, the happiness and welfare of all classes of my Subjects.

Whereupon the Lords of the Council made it their humble request to Her Majesty, that Her Majesty's most gracious Declaration to their Lordships might be made public, which Her Majesty was pleased to order accordingly.

A PROCLAMATION,

*For the Encouragement of Piety and Virtue, and for the preventing and punishing of Vice,

VICTORIA, R.

WE, most seriously and religiously considering that it is an indispensable duty on Us to be careful, above all other things, to preserve and advance the honor and service of Almighty God, and to discourage and suppress all vice, profaneness, debauchery, and immorality, which are so highly displeasing to God, so great a reproach to Our Religion and Government, and (by means of the frequent ill examples of the practices thereof) have so fatal a tendency to the corruption of many of Our loving subjects, otherwise religiously and virtuously disposed, and which (if not timely remedied) may justly draw down the Divine vengeance on Us and Our Kingdom; We also humbly acknowledging that we cannot expect the blessing and goodness of Almighty God (by whom Kings reign and on which We entirely rely) to make Our reign happy and prosperous to Ourselves and Our people, without a religious observance of God's holy laws; to the intent therefore, that religion, piety, and good manners may (according to Our most hearty desire) flourish and increase under Our Administration and Government, We have thought fit, by the advice of Our Privy Council, to issue this Our Royal Proclamation, and do hereby declare Our Royal purpose and resolution to discountenance and punish all manner of vice, profaneness, and immorality in all persons, of whatsoever degree or quality, within this Our realm, and particularly in such as are employed near Our Royal Person; and that for the encouragement of religion and morality, We will, upon all occasions, distinguish persons of piety and virtue by marks of Our Royal favor; and We do expect and require, that all persons of honor or in place of authority will give good example, by their own virtue and piety, and to their utmost to contribute to the discountenancing persons of dissolute and debauched lives, that they, being reduced by that means to shame and contempt for their loose and evil actions and behaviour, may be thereby also enforced the sooner to reform their ill habits and practices, and that the visible displeasure of good men towards them may (as far as it is possible) supply what the laws (probably) cannot altogether prevent.

And we do hereby strictly enjoin and prohibit all our loving subjects of what degree or quality soever, from playing on the Lord's Day at dice, cards, or any other game whatsoever, either in public or private houses, or other place or places whatsoever; and we do hereby require and command them, and every of them, decently and reverently to attend the worship of God on every Lord's Day, on pain of our highest displeasure, and of being proceeded against with the utmost rigour that may be by law: and for the more effectual reforming all such persons who, by reason of their dissolute lives and conversations, are a scandal to Our Kingdom; Our further pleasure is, and We do hereby strictly charge and command all Our Judges, Mayors, Sheriffs, Justices of the Peace, and all other Our Officers and Ministers, both Ecclesiastical and Civil, and all Our subjects whom it may concern, to be very vigilant and strict in the discovery and the effectual prosecution and punishment of all persons who shall be guilty of excessive drinking, blasphemy, profane swearing and cursing, lewdness, profanation of the Lord's Day, or other dissolute, immoral, or disorderly practices; and that they take care also effectually to suppress all public gaming-houses and places, and other lewd and disorderly houses and to put in execution the Statute, made in the twenty-ninth year of the reign of the late King Charles the Second, intituled "An Act for the better observation of the Lord's Day, commonly called Sunday;" and also so much of an Act of Parliament, made in the ninth year of the reign of the late King William the Third, intituled "An Act for the more effectual suppressing of blasphemy and profaneness," as is now in force, and all other laws now in force for the punishing and suppressing any of the vices aforesaid; and also to suppress and prevent all gaming whatsoever in public or private houses on the Lord's Day; and likewise that they take effectual care to prevent all persons keeping taverns, chocolate-houses, coffee-houses, or other public houses whatsoever, from selling wine, chocolate, coffee, ale, beer, or other liquors, or receiving or permitting guests to be or to remain in such their houses, in the time of Divine Service on the Lord's Day, as they will answer it to Almighty God, and upon pain of Our highest displeasure:

And, for the more effectual proceeding herein, We do hereby direct and command all Our Judges of Assize and Justices of the Peace to give strict charges at their respective assizes and sessions for the due prosecution and punishment of all persons that shall presume to offend in any of the kinds aforesaid, and also of all persons that, contrary to their duty, shall be remiss or negligent in putting the said laws into execution, and that they do, at their respective assizes and quarter sessions of the peace, cause this Our Royal Proclamation to be publicly read in open Court, immediately before the charge is given: and We do hereby further charge and command every Minister, in his respective church or chapel, to read, or cause to be read, this Our Proclamation, at least four times in every year, immediately after Divine Service, and to incite and stir up their respective authorities to the practice of piety and virtue, and the avoiding of all immorality and profaneness; And to the end that all vice and debauchery may be prevented, and religion and virtue practised by all officers, private soldiers, mariners, and others, who are employed in Our service by sea and land, We do hereby strictly charge and command all Our Commanders and Officers whatsoever, that they do take care to avoid all profaneness, debauchery, and other immoralities, and that, by their own good and virtuous lives and conversations, they do set good examples to all such as are under their care and authority, and likewise take care of and inspect the behaviour of all such as are under them, and punish all those who shall be guilty of any the offences aforesaid, as they will be answerable for the ill consequences of their neglect herein.

Given at Our Court at St. James's, this twenty-first day of June, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-seven, and in the first year of Our reign.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

BY THE QUEEN.

A PROCLAMATION.

Requiring all Persons, being in Office of Authority or Government at the Decease of the late King to proceed in the Execution of their respective Offices—
VICTORIA, R.

WHEREAS by an Act, made in the sixth year of the reign of Her late Majesty Queen Anne, intituled "An Act for the security of Her Majesty's Person and Government, and of the succession to the Crown of Great Britain in the Protestant Line," it was enacted, that no office, place, or employment, civil or military, within the kingdoms of Great Britain or Ireland, dominion of Wales, town of Berwick-upon-Tweed, isles of Jersey, Guernsey, Alderney, and Sark, or any of His Majesty's plantations, should become void by reason of the demise of Her said late Majesty, heirs or successors, Kings or Queens of this realm, but that every person and persons in any of the offices, places, and employments aforesaid, should continue in their respective offices, places, and employments for the space of six months next after such death or demise, unless sooner removed and discharged by the next successor to whom the Imperial Crown of this realm was limited and appointed to go, remain, and descend; and whereas by an Act, made in the fifty seventh year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for the continuation of all "and every person or persons in any and every "office, place, or employment, civil or military, "within the United Kingdom of Great Britain "and Ireland, dominion of Wales, town of "Berwick-upon-Tweed, isles of Jersey, Guern- "sey, Alderney, Sark, and Man, and also in all "and every of His Majesty's foreign posses- "sions, colonies, or plantations, which he or "she shall hold, possess, or exercise, during "the pleasure of the Crown, at the time of "the death or demise of His present Majesty, "until removed or discharged therefrom by "the succeeding King or Queen of this "realm," it was enacted, that all and every person and persons who, upon the day of the demise of His said late Majesty, should hold any office, civil or military, under the Crown during pleasure, should, under and by virtue of the said Act, and without any new or other patent, commission, warrant, or authority, continue and be entitled, in all respects, notwithstanding the demise of His said late Majesty, to hold and enjoy the same; but, nevertheless, the same should be held or enjoyed only during the pleasure of the King or Queen who should succeed to the Crown upon the demise of His said late Majesty, and the right and title to hold and enjoy the same, under the authority of the said Act, should be determinable in such and the like manner by the King or Queen who, upon the demise of His said late Majesty, should succeed to the Crown, as the right or title to any office, place, or employment granted by such succeeding King or Queen during pleasure, would by law be determinable; We, therefore, with the advice of Our Privy Council, declare Our Royal will and pleasure to be, and do hereby direct and command, that all and every person and persons who, at the time of the demise of Our late Royal Uncle, of glorious memory, duly and lawfully held, or were duly and lawfully possessed of or invested in, any office, place or employment, civil or military, within our United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, dominion of Wales, town of Berwick-upon-Tweed, isles of Jersey, Guernsey, Alderney, Sark, or Man, or any of Our foreign possessions, colonies, or plantations, do, severally, according to their places, offices, or charges, proceed in the performance and execution of all duties belonging to their respective offices, whilst they shall hold the same respectively during Our pleasure; and We do require and command all Our loving subjects to be aiding, helping, and assisting at the commandment of the said Officers and Ministers, in the performance and execution of their respective offices and places, as they and every of them tender Our utmost displeasure, and will answer the contrary at their peril.

Given at Our Court at St. James's, this twenty-first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-seven, and in the first year of Our reign.

ANTI-DRY-ROT COMPANY, (KYAN'S PATENT.)

Constituted and Empowered by Act of Parliament.

The COMPANY prepare TIMBER, CANVASS, and CORDAGE, at the following STATIONS in LONDON :

Principal Station,—South Dock, West India Docks.
Branch Stations,—Grosvenor Basin, Pimlico.
City-Road Basin.
Surry Canal Dock, Rotherhithe.

The Company, for the convenience of the SHIPPING INTEREST, have FLOATING TANKS, which can be sent to any Ship-Builder's Yard in the River Thames.

THE indisputable Testimonials given by men of the first talent and experience in the kingdom, as to the perfect reliance that may be placed upon KYAN'S PROCESS of PREPARING TIMBER to resist the effect of DRY ROT, and other decay, are so entirely satisfactory as to require no further remark.

The efficacy of the Process is sufficiently established by the Evidence contained in the Report to the Lords of the Admiralty, and subsequently presented to, and printed by, the House of Commons; and likewise by the adoption of it by His Majesty's Government in Portsmouth Dock Yard.

The Process is of the utmost importance to a Maritime and Commercial Country like Great Britain, for it is a certain Preventive of those destructive Ravages from Dry Rot—and consequent enormous Loss of Capital to the Ship-owner—which have hitherto prevailed in Vessels of every description; and to the Shipping Interest the Process is doubly valuable, for, as is clearly proved, it prevents Mildew and Decay in Canvass as well as in Timber.

By the use of this Process, British American Timber will be rendered equally as valuable as Timber from the Baltic; and thus the produce of British Colonies will be encouraged in preference to Timber of Foreign growth.

It is found that Timber cut down while in a state of active vegetation, with the leaf growing, becomes, by the application of this Process, immediately fit for use;—thus rendering every species of Domestic Timber of the same value and as available as the best Foreign, for all purposes incidental to Farming and Husbandry;—and, by the use of the most common Woods, economy will be combined with durability, and the Agricultural and Mining Interest will derive most incalculable advantages.

Purposes for which the prepared Timber, &c. is available:—

BUILDINGS IN GENERAL.

Posts, Rails, Gates, Fences, Park Palings, Hop-Poles, &c.

For these purposes any kind of timber may now be used instead of the more expensive kinds. It will also supersede, in many cases, the employment of iron, from its acquired durability and greater economy.

PREPARED CANVASS, CALICO, ROPES,

COLONEL SMITH.

The reader will peruse, with unmingled pleasure, the following honorable testimonial to the conduct and character of Colonel SMITH, during his administration of the late Province of ADELAIDE.

EXTRACT OF A GENERAL ORDER, (No. 818.)

Dated Head Quarters, Cape Town, 11th Sept. 1837.

No. 6.
The Commander-in-Chief avails himself of this occasion, to give himself the satisfaction,—a satisfaction which he well knows will be abundantly shared by all the Troops in this Command,—of publishing for their information the following extract of a Dispatch which he has received from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Extract of a Dispatch from the Right Honourable Lord GLENELG, Secretary of State for the Colonies.

To Lieutenant General Sir BENJAMIN D'URBAN, K.C.B. &c. &c. &c.

Dated Downing street, 1st May, 1837.

I perform a duty highly agreeable to me, in declaring that Colonel SMITH is entitled to the grateful acknowledgement of His Majesty's Government, not only for his Military Services, but for his zealous, humane, and enlightened Administration of the Province under his charge.
(Signed) GLENELG.

The reader is requested to notice the Advertisement in this day's "Gazette and Trade List," for convening a Public Meeting in the Commercial-hall To-morrow, for the purpose of forming a Joint Stock Company to raise funds for making a Road from Stellenbosch to Cape Town. This is a work of great public utility, and promises a safe and profitable return for the capital invested.

CAPT. ALEXANDER, THE TRAVELLER.

We noticed in a late number that intelligence had been received from this adventurous explorer of unknown and unfrequented regions. From the same respectable source whence our former information was drawn, we are now enabled to state that Capt. ALEXANDER has arrived within the Colonial borders. A letter from him has reached Cape Town, dated Comaggas Mission Station, near Kamiesberg, 16th August. Capt. A., with his enterprising compagnons du voyage, has traversed a large part of the Namaqua, Bushman, and Damara countries, and will doubtless give the world one day the result of his observations, for he is not the man to travel from Dan to Beersheba, and say 'tis all barren.

After leaving the Colonial limits in January last year, it appears that Capt. A. proceeded across the Lion and Fish Rivers, and arrived at the deserted station of Bethany, where a Namaqua Chief named Kovisip and three head men, offered to accompany him to the sea; this offer was accepted, but they brought with them more followers than were agreeable, at one time the party being 50 strong, armed with guns, assagais, bows and arrows, and clubs, and each man ate (it is dryly remarked) "when he could get it," 10 lbs. of flesh per day.

The party then travelled North, and saw some new rivers and ranges of mountains; they passed through a wild poort where rhinoceros were running like a herd of cattle, and which also abounded in lions, zebras, bucks, &c. The poort is called "The Bull's Mouth." Beyond that they came to the desert of Tans, where they had nearly all perished for want of water!—this occurred in April; the thermometer was at 100°; for two days the people had not one drop of water, and the poor oxen had none for three entire days. Owing to the intense heat their sufferings were greatly augmented. Capt. ALEXANDER lost his horses; and several oxen, sheep, and dogs perished. With tottering steps, it is plaintively observed, the party reached the bed of the Kovisip, beyond the Tropic.

From the Kovisip one of the head men went back with the wagon towards Bethany, taking with him 10 men and two spans of oxen. Capt. A. went forward with pack-oxen. Here again the party suffered deeply from thirst; and at length, after enduring many privations, they reached Walvisch Bay on the 19th of April. This is the first known instance of any one from the Cape having penetrated so far. Their provisions being exhausted, they ate all the skins, and dug in the sand for elms, &c.

Capt. ALEXANDER waited anxiously but vainly for a fortnight, expecting a man of war. At length two American whalers, the Commodore Perry and the Pocahontas, came into the bay, from whom they procured biscuit in barter; and from some natives a few lean sheep. The party being then unable to proceed farther North, for want of guides, went due East for 300 miles, to the verge of another desert, and passed through part of the Damara country. Again unable to procure guides to the North, they returned towards the South, and after travelling 1200 miles again entered the Colony. Their whole route is said to have described the figure 8, between the Somerset and Orange Rivers. The journey was perilous and painful;—they had to sustain the extremities of hunger and thirst, intense cold and burning heat, and incessant fatigue; for several months they had not slept out of their clothes, nor off the ground. On reaching the Colony, Capt. A. considers that he shall have travelled upwards of 4,000 miles in the year. His spoils comprise skins of the rhinoceros, lion, zebra, gemsbok, and others, besides about 300 birds' skins.

The "Malabar," with goods from Greenock; the "William Nichol," from the Isle of Sky and Greenock, with settlers for Van Diemen's Land; and the "Tickler," from London, with goods and specie, have arrived—the latter sailed on the 6th of July. The commercial intelligence is of the most gloomy character; bankruptcies, stoppages, and compromises had occurred among some of the most respectable firms. Produce of every kind was greatly depressed. The losses on Hides and Wool, especially, have been very heavy. The best Australian fleeces, which usually bring from 2s. 8d., to 3s. 4d., were sold in London during June as low as 14d., 16d., and 18d. Some parcels of best Cape Wool only realised 16d. to 18d. Private letters, however, it is gratifying to hear, state the general opinion to be, that the worst had passed; and as the Government, the Bank, and the East India Company had rendered very essential aid to several parties, a restoration of confidence and a gradual reaction in prices were expected.

On Wednesday the spirit of speculation was increasing in almost every branch, but the English Stock Market suffered a reaction of ¼ per cent. without apparent cause. The Spanish securities were a little lower, and in shares, though firm, little was done.

Ninety thousand bags of cotton, chiefly American, were imported into Liverpool in fifty-four vessels last week; this, with the remittances of specie, says very much for the good faith of the American merchants, and their honourable intentions towards their English creditors.

On Wednesday news reached town from Lancashire that the cotton-mills were again in full work.

One consequence of the Bank of England's aid to Brown & Co., at Liverpool, was an immediate and material amendment in the Manchester market.

HIS LATE MAJESTY'S DISEASE.

(From the Medical Gazette, June 24.)

While the King continued to live, we abstained from making any comment on his complaint, and even now it is not our intention to do more than place on record a brief but authentic account of the disease of which his Majesty died.

The principal symptoms during life were cough and oppression of breathing, with a very languid state of the circulation, but without the signs of effusion into the chest. As the disease advanced the pulse became scarcely perceptible at the wrist, while the expectoration presented a considerable admixture of blood—the function of the lungs becoming progressively more embarrassed.

The phenomena taken collectively clearly indicated organic disease of the heart of a nature not likely to be essentially mitigated by any remedies; and the result which has taken place was therefore fully anticipated by those who were aware of his Majesty's condition; although, from the circumstance of the royal patient not merely seeing, but actually revising the bulletins himself, this was made less apparent in those documents than would probably otherwise have been the case.

On opening the body the heart was perceived to be enlarged and flabby, with a few shreds of soft lymph gluing the surfaces of the pericardium together. The right side was comparatively healthy, but the left showed very extensive disease of both sets of valves; those of the aorta were ossified, presenting an obstruction to the passage of the blood into that vessel, which was rough on its internal surface, but without dilatation. The mitral valves were also ossified, and suffered the blood to regurgitate. The tendency to bony degeneration extended to the respiratory organs; the larynx, trachea, and even the bronchi, being ossified. The left lung was greatly gorged, and the pleura on this side firmly united by thick adhesions of ancient date. In the right cavity of the chest were some 12 or 14 ounces of serous fluid, probably poured out during the few days immediately preceding dissolution. The liver was enlarged and granulated; there was also slight granular disease of one kidney.

To the medical reader it will be obvious that the deficiency in the general circulation, and the overloaded state of the lungs are clearly explained by the dilatation without hypertrophy of the left ventricle, the obstruction of the aortic, and patulous condition of the mitral valves.

OP Dingsdag morgen, den 20sten van Juny, ten 12 minuten na 2 ure, overleed wylen onze genadige Souverein, Koning William de Vierde, op Hoogstdeszelfs Kasteel te Windsor, in het 72ste jaar zyns ouderdoms en het 7de van zyne regering. Deze gebeurtenis heeft een algemeen gevoel van leedwezen verwekt by Zyner overledene Majesteits getrouwe en liefhebbende onderdanen, door wie hy bemind werd om zyne onveranderlyke belangstelling in hun welvaren, gestadig door hem aan den dag gelegd, zoowel als door de mannelyke deugden welke zyn karakter sierden.

By het ontvangen van deze bedroevende mare vergaderden zich de Lords van den geheimen Raad op heden te Kensington Paleis, en stelden zy order op proclameren van Hare tegenwoordige Majesteit, welke hen eene zeer genadige verklaring deed, en alle Lords en anderen van des overleden Konings Geheimen Raad, die tegenwoordig waren, den eed deed afleggen als Harer Majesteits Geheimen Raad.

NADEMAAL het den Almagtigen God heeft behaagd, onzen voormaligen Souvereinen Heer Koning William den Vierden, van gezegende en roemruchtige nagedachtenis, tot Zyne genade op te roepen, door wiens overlyden de rykskroon van het Vereenigd Koningryk van Groot-Britannie en Ierland eeniglyk en geregelyk vervalt aan de Hooge en Mogende Prinsesse Alexandrina Victoria, behoudens de regten van alle nakomelingen van Zyne overleden Majesteit, welke kunnen worden geboren uit Zyner overledene Majesteit echtgenoot; zoo is het, dat wy de Kerkelyke en Wereldlyke Lords van dit Ryk, hier geassisteerd zynde door die van wylen Zyner Majesteits Geheimen Raad, door anderen van de voornaamste Heeren van rang, door den Lord Maire en Schepenen en Burgers van London, hierly met eene stem, en met eenheid van tong en hart, publiceren en proclameren, dat de Hooge en Mogende Prinses Alexandrina Victoria nu, door het afsterven van onzen geliefden Souverein, zaliger gedachtenis, is geworden onze regtmatige Opperheersesse Victoria, by de genade Gods Koningin van het Vereenigd Koningryk van Groot-Britannie en Ierland, Beschermster des Geloofs; behoudens als boven. Aan wie, behoudens als boven, wy erkennen alle trouw en bestendige gehoorzaamheid met alle hartelyke en nederige liefde; smeeke God, door wien Koningen en Koninginnen regeren, de Koninklyke Prinses Victoria te zegenen met lange en gelukkige jaren om over ons te regeren.

Gegeven aan het Hof te Kensington, den 20sten dag van Juny 1837.

GOD BEWARE DE KONINGIN!

ERNST.

AUGUSTUS FREDERICK.

Hier volgen de teekeningen van al de Geheime Raden die tegenwoordig waren, en van een groot aantal van den Adel.

AAN het Hof te Kensington den 20sten Juny, 1837.

TEGENWOORDIG,

Der KONINGINNE Alleruitmunteudste Majesteit in Rade.

HARE Majesteit heden in Rade present zynde, vond goed de volgende verklaring te doen:—

Het zwaar en bedroevend verlies dat de natie heeft geleden door het overlyden van Zyne Majesteit, mynen beminden Oom, heeft my den pligt opgelegd van het administreren van het gouvernement van dit Ryk. Deze gewigtige verantwoordelykheid is my zoo onverwacht opgelegd en op zulken vroegen tyd van myn leven, dat ik my geheel door dien last nedergedrukt zou gevoelen, indien ik niet werd gesteund door de hoop, dat de Goddelyke Voorzienigheid, welke my tot deze taak heeft geroepen, my de kracht zal geven om dezelve te volbrengen, en dat ik in de zuiverheid van myne intentien, en in mynen yver voor het algemeen welvaren, dien steun en die hulpbronnen zal vinden, welke gewoonlyk het deel zyn van ryper jaren en van langer ouder vinding.

Ik stel myn vast vertrouwen op de wysheid van het Parlement en op de trouw en toegenegenheid van myn volk. Ik beschouw het mede als een groot voordeel, dat ik eenen Souverein opvolg, wiens bestendige zorg voor de regten en vryheden van zyns onderdanen, en wiens verlangen tot het verbeteren van de wetten en instellingen des lands, zynen naam het voorwerp hebben gemaakt van algemeene gehechtheid en eerbied.

Opgevoed in England, onder de teedere en verlichte zorg eener liefhebbende moeder, heb ik van myne kindsheid af geleerd de constitutie van myn vaderland te eerbiedigen.

Het zal bestendiglyk myn streven zyn de Hervormde Godsdienst in stand te houden, zoo als dezelve by de wetten is vastgesteld, verzekeerende tevens aan allen het volle genot van godsdienstige vryheid. En ik zal bestendiglyk de regten beschermen, en zoo veel als in myn vermogen is trachten het geluk en de welvaart te bevorderen van al myne onderdanen.

Waarop de Lords van den Raad het hun nederig verzoek maakten, dat Harer Majesteits genadige declaratie mogt worden publiek gemaakt, hetwelk Hare Majesteit goedvond dien ten gevolge te gelasten

C. C. Greville.

ANTI DRY-ROT COMPANY.

(KYAN'S PATENT.)

Ingesteld by Acte des Parlements.

De Compagnie bereid TIMMERHOUT, ZEILDOEK, en TOUWWERK, op de volgende Statien in London:—

Hoofdstatie,—South Dock, West India Docks.
Tukstatie,—Grosvenor Basin, Plimlico,
City Road Basin,
Surry Kanaal Dock, Rotherhithe.

Voor het gemak der Scheepsbelangen, heeft de Compagnie dryvende Bakken, welke kunnen worden gezonden naar iedere Scheepstimmerwerf op de Rivier Thames.

DE onbetwistbare getuigenissen gegeven door lieden van de grootste bekwaamheid en ondervinding in het Ryk, over het volkomen vertrouwen dat men kan stellen op Kyan's bewerking van het bereiden van Timmerhout, zoo dat het volkomen de Dry-Rot en ander bederf tegen staat, zyn zoo overtuigend dat dezelve geen verder aanpryzing behoeven.

De krachtdadigheid der bewerking is genoegzaam bewezen uit het getuigenis vervat in het Rapport, van de Lords der Admiraliteit, en vervolgens gepresenteerd aan en gedrukt door het Huis der Gemeenten; en mede door het aannemen van dezelve op Z. M. Werf te Portsmouth.

De bewerking is van het uiterste belang voor een zeevarend en handels volk, zoo als Groot Brittanie, want het is een zeker behoedmiddel tegen de schrikkelijke verwoestingen door Dry-rot, en gevolgelyk groot verlies van kapitaal voor den Scheepsreeder, welke tot nu toe hebben plaats gehad in alle soort van Schepen, en voor de Scheepsbelangen, want het is duidelyk bewezen dat het het weer en ander bederf in Zeilen en Touwwerk zoo wel als in Houtwerk tegengaat.

Men heeft bevonden dat hout groen gekapt, terwyl de bladeren groeyen, door deze bewerking dadelyk ten gebruike geschikt wordt:—makende dus iedere soort van binnenlands Timmerhout van dezelfde waarde en deugd als het beste uitheemsche—voor alle einden van buitenwerk, en door het gebruik van het gemeenste hout, zal duurzaamheid met spaarzaamheid worden vereenigd, en de landbouw en mynen grootelyk bevorderd worden.

Gebouwen in het algemeen:—

STYLEN, HEKKEN, PALEN, ENZ.

Hier voor kan nu alle soort van hout worden gebruikt in plaats van de kostbaarste soorten. Het zal mede in vele plaatsen het gebruik van yzer kunnen vervangen door dezelfde bekomen duurzaamheid en grooter goedkoopheid.

BEREID ZEILDOEK, CALICO, TOUWWERK.

AFRICA,

NORTH-EAST OF THE CAPE COLONY,

Exhibiting the Relative Positions

OF THE

EMIGRANT FARMERS

AND THE

NATIVE TRIBES,

By Capt. W. C. HARRIS, Bombay Engineers.

OF this MAP the general outlines are taken from ARROWSMITH, the details being filled in partly from personal observation, and partly from information afforded by Missionaries and intelligent Traders. The Author was residing at Moselekatsé's kraal during the great attack made on the Emigrants in October last, and he subsequently returned through the scene of slaughter, and the Country they now occupy. The present and past locations of the different Parties that have abandoned the Colony under Tricheard, Maritz, and Retief, and their ultimate destination near Delagoa Bay, are severally exhibited; the position occupied by Potgieter's and Erasmus's party, when attacked by Moselekatsé on the 29th October last;—that of the fifteen Matabili kraals destroyed by Maritz's Commando on the 17th January following;—the geographical position of the Great River visited in 1835 by the trader Robert Scoon, and subsequently by Bronkhorst and his party;—together with the journeys of the trader David Hume, to the 23d parallel of South Latitude; and much geographical information hitherto unpublished.

The Printing being attended with much difficulty and expense, persons desirous of obtaining Copies are requested to signify their wishes to A. S. ROBERTSON, 45, Shortmarket-street, where an Impression of the Map may be seen on application.

War Office, 7th July.—75th Foot, Brevet Lt.-Col. Patrick Grieve to be Lieut.-Col. without purchase, vice England, appointed to the 4th Regt. of Foot.

Ry the "Boyne," bound to Bombay, we have papers and advices up to July 15.—Symptoms of improvement in trade are noticed in the several journals more immediately connected with trade and commerce. Strong easterly winds had kept out the homeward-bound vessels. No arrivals from the Cape are reported from July 1 to 14.

DISTRESSING OCCURRENCE.

A fatal accident occurred on Monday last. The eldest son of WILLIAM MUSGRAVE, Esq. (a grandson of His Excellency the Governor,) while returning from the Races, was thrown from his horse by a person riding against him, and had his skull fractured. We regret to state that he remained insensible until late in the evening, when he expired. His family are plunged into deep distress. Mr. MUSGRAVE being on the Circuit, an express was sent to him early on Tuesday morning, to apprise him of the painful fact.

LOSS OF THE "ROYAL WILLIAM."

We are sorry to have to state that the ship "Royal William," Capt. FRAZER, while rounding the point on Tuesday evening, struck on the rocks near to Mr. LESAR's Fishery, and, it is feared, will become a wreck. A great part of the cargo will be damaged, as she had 9 feet of water in the hold yesterday. She sailed from London on the 10th of July, bound to Calcutta. (See the Shipping Report.)

STORM AT BOMBAY.

By late intelligence from Bombay we regret to learn that that Harbour had been visited by a violent storm, in which a great number of vessels were stranded. The occasional accidents in Table Bay sink into the shade by the side of such visitations as that at Bombay. The losses are estimated at £80,000. A friend has favored us with the following statement:—

Particulars of ships, lost, injured or saved during a Storm on the 15th June 1837 in Richard Walker, with 1000 bales of cotton and wool—on shore, a total wreck.—The goods may be landed damaged.

Rapid, on shore at Musjud Bunder, may get off.

THE NEW BILL FOR THE PROTECTION OF COPYRIGHT.

By Mr. SERJEANT TALFOURD'S New Bill to secure the protection of Copyright, that right is to be preserved to an author complying with the registering conditions of the Bill, and is to be secured to him for the term of his natural life, and to his executors for sixty years after his death.—A copy of the work is to be deposited in the British Museum—the Bodleian Library at Oxford—the Public Library at Cambridge—the Advocates Library at Edinburgh—and the Library of Trinity College, Dublin, within a month after demand: and a penalty of five pounds for each copy, if the demand is not complied with. The book of registry is to be kept at Stationers' Hall. The law is not to extend to any extracts from a work for the sake of criticism, observation or argument, or to any translation into any other language, or abridgment fairly made of any book. In case of convicted piracy are the damages to be assessed at less than forty shillings and costs. The word "Book" is intended to signify any volume, sheet of letter-press, sheet of music, map, chart or plan, and any dramatic piece.

If the Bill become law, newspapers who copy so much from each other will not be affected much, because in so many cases it will be difficult to ascertain who is the author of the intelligence: and the newspapers are not continuous sheets on one topic, but sheets made up of separate paragraphs. The Bill in fact does not even name newspapers, and must be supposed not to mean to include them in its provisions—it will however affect that part of the Book-selling trade, which consists in publishing great and expensive works in the cheap form of small and separate numbers.—Mercantile Paper.

VOORDRAGT

Van het doel, de wyze van uitgave van, en de voorwaarden van deelneming aan, het publiceren van het aangekondigde Werk: Opzage van daadzaken, betrekking hebbende op de staking van den opbouw der Nieuwe Kerk, het verlaten, afbreken en weder opbouwen van de Oude Kerk, en de bepaling der tegenwoordige plaats van openbare Godadienstoefening voor de Nederduitsche Hervormde Gemeente in de Kaapstad, benevens hetgeen daaruit voortgevloeid is en daarmede in verband staat.

1. Het doel der onderneming is, om de verkeerde voorstellingen tegen te gaan en te wederleggen, die van tyd tot tyd in geschrifte verspreid geworden zyn en nog verspreid worden, aangaande zekere handelingen en besluiten van den Kerkeraad der Nederduitsche Hervormde Gemeente alhier en van afzonderlyke Leden van denzelven, oordert January 1835; waardoor men het publiek van de regmatigheid van zekere ondernemingen tegen den genoemden Kerkeraad en deszelfs afzonderlyke Leden tracht te overtuigen, en die ongelukkig eenige Leden der Gemeente bewogen hebben om deel te nemen aan het klagen, in het openbaar en by onderscheidene autoriteiten, over die handelingen en besluiten; en waardoor zeer waarschyntlyk aanleiding is gegeven tot het aandringen op de daarstelling van veranderingen in hun Kerkbestuur, die, naar het oordeel des Kerkeraads, niet missen kunnen op de welvaart der Gemeente eenen nadeeligen invloed te hebben.

Het Werk zal dus eene strekking hebben, om de Leden der Gemeente en het Publiek in staat te stellen om over de ware toedragt der zaken te kunnen oordeelen.

Ten einde dan de kosten daarvan goed te maken en hetzelve ook voor behoeftigen verkrygbaar te stellen, wordt eene Inteekening geopend en is de prys voor ieder bepaald gedeelte daarvan zoo laag mogelyk gesteld, om de Inteekenaren, die het gratis verspreiden daarvan willen helpen bevorderen, het tekenen voor meer dan een exemplaar gemakkellyk te maken en daartoe aan te moedigen.

2. Wyze van Uitgave.

Men zal zoo spoedig mogelyk eenen aanvang maken met de uitgave van het Werk, en wel by gedeelten, alle weken een, bestaande uit 16 bladzijden, en het voor de Inteekenaren verkrygbaar stellen des Vrydags voor den middag van 9 tot 12 ure, in de Konistoriekamer der Nederduitsche Hervormde Gemeente alhier.

3. Voorwaarden van deelneming.

a. Ieder deelnemer wordt beschouwd ingeteekend te hebben voor het geheele Werk, waarvan men de uitgebreidheid nog niet wel bepalen kan, maar hetwelk wellicht tuschen de 400 en 500 bladzijden bevatten zal.

b. De prys voor elke afzonderlyke aflevering zal zyn Zes Stuivers (Kaapsch) of 2d. (Engelsch,) te betalen by elke aflevering.

De Lysten der Inteekening zullen gedurende den tyd van vier achtereenvolgende weken, gerekend van Maandag den 11 dezer, openliggen, in 's Gouvernment Bank, 'The Cape of Good Hope Bank,' de Beurs, ten Huize van den Koster der Nederduitsche Hervormde Kerk, en aan het Kantoor van de 'South African Commercial Advertiser.'

In naam en op last van den Kerkeraad der Nederduitsche Hervormde Gemeente alhier,

J. BLORE, Auctioneer.

Cape Town, 20th Sept. 1837.

W. TOMPSON,

Agent to the Anti Dri-Rot Company,

TAKES this opportunity of announcing to the Public, that he has now hired Premises at the upper end of Strand-street, the Property of the Joint Stock Company, and that a Tank is now in forward preparation, for carrying into operation KYAN'S PATENT, for seasoning Timber of every description, and preventing any kind of Rot; also of Canvas, Cordage, Ropes, &c., from Mildew. That W. T. will be ready to commence his Process toward the latter end of next month.

Timber, Canvas, Cordage, &c., can be received immediately and placed in his dry Store on the Spot, until such time, as according to the rotation of delivery, the saturation can be effected; those who wish to avail themselves of the benefit of this truly valuable discovery, will do well to apply to the Agent, No. 14, Burg-street, at their early convenience, as many applications have been already made.

It is found that Timber cut down while in an active state of vegetation, with the leaf growing, becomes by the application of Kyan's Invention, immediately fit for use.

So much has been already notified on this interesting subject, and such incontrovertible testimonials of the efficacy, and inestimable advantages to be derived from the use of this most valuable discovery, that any further comment would be superfluous.

Extracts from Sir R. SMIRKE'S Evidence, before the Select Committee on Timber Duty, will be fully adequate to establish the fact, viz;

Do you know Kyan's Patent?—Yes, I do.

What is your opinion of this Patent?—I think it extremely valuable.

Supposing it were applied to the yellow Canadian Timber, would it render it equally fit for the purposes to which you now usually apply Baltic timber?—I applied it to YELLOW CANADIAN PINE, about three years ago, and exposed that wood to the severest tests I could apply, and it remains uninjured, when any other timber (oak or Baltic wood) would certainly have decayed if exposed to the same trial, and not prepared in the same manner.

Have the goodness to state to what trial you subjected it.—I took a certain number of pieces of wood, cut from the same log of YELLOW PINE, from POPLAR, and from SCOTCH FIR; these pieces I placed first in a cesspool, into which the waters of the common sewers discharged themselves; they remained there six months; they were removed from thence, and placed in a hotbed of compost, under a garden frame, they remained there a second six months; they were afterwards put into a flower border, placed half out of the ground, and I gave my gardener directions to water them whenever he watered the flowers; they remained there a similar period of six months. I put them afterwards into a cellar where there was some dampness, and the air completely excluded; they remained there a fourth period of six months, and were afterwards put into a very wet cellar. Those pieces of wood which underwent Kyan's Process are in the same state as when I first had them, and all the others to which the Process had not been applied are more or less rotten, and the Poplar is wholly destroyed.

This preparation of Mr. Kyan's resists all rot;—"I CANNOT ROT IT,"—added Sir Robert Smirke.

It is extending its beneficial advantages in every part of England; upwards of a hundred Noblemen and Gentlemen have taken out Licences to season Timber on their own Estates; and Agents have been appointed at more than one hundred and fifty principal Towns in Great Britain.

N. B. A small House, and a good sized Store adjoining, to be Let, with immediate Possession, very suitable for a steady Carpenter or Cooper. Application to be made to the Undersigned.

BOARD OF RELIEF FOR THE DESTITUTE.

Along with the announcement of the termination of the labours of the Board of Relief, a few brief remarks may be acceptable to the Public

The issues of relief, having been gradually contracted as the funds diminished, ceased altogether about the end of May last.

The whole amount of Relief raised by private benevolence and dispensed, through the Board from its first appointment until the audit on the 31 July 1837, is £3,737 6 1½.

This sum is of course distinct from the assistance afforded in various ways, by the Government, to the Sufferers by the War.

After the publication of the Abstract of the first year's proceedings, the Relief afforded was principally in the form of small pecuniary allowances paid monthly to the most helpless; or occasionally grants towards rebuilding a ruined farmhouse, or completing a team of oxen, or repairing an unserviceable wagon, or other specific purposes, with a view to enable the parties to resume some profitable occupation and provide for their own subsistence; and there is reason to believe that the good effected in this way was very considerable, as compared with the amount expended.

The accounts of the Treasurer having been finally closed and audited, are herewith published for general information.

JOHN HEAVYSIDE,

(late) Chairman to the Board.

Graham's Town, 12th September, 1837.

ANTI DRY-ROT COMPANY.

(KYAN'S PATENT.)

Ingesteld by Acte des Parlements.

De Compagnie bereid TIMMERHOUT, ZEILDOEK, en TOUWWERK, op de volgende Statien in London:

Hoofdstatie, —South Dock, West India Docks.

Takstatien, —Grosvenor Basin, Plimlico,

City Road Basin,

Surry Kanaal Dock, Rotherhithe.

Voor het gemak der Scheepsbelangen heeft de Compagnie dryvende Bakken, welke kunnen worden gezonden naar iedere Scheepstimmerwerf op de Rivier Thames.

DE onbetwistbare getuigenissen gegeven door lieden van de grootste bekwaamheid en ondervinding in het Ryk, over het volkomen vertrouwen dat men kan stellen op Kyan's bewerking van het bereiden van Timmerhout, zoo dat het volkomen de Dry-Rot en ander bederf tegen staat, zyn zoo overtuigend dat dezelve geen verdere aanpryding behoeven.

De krachtadigheid der bewerking is genoegzaam bewezen uit het getuigenis vervat in het Rapport van de Lords er Admiraliteit, en vervolgens gepresenteerd aan en gedrukt door het Huis der Gemeenten; en mede door het aannemen van dezelve op Z. M. Werf te Portsmouth.

De bewerking is van het uiterste belang voor een zeevarend en handels volk, zoo als Groot Britannie, want het is een zeker behoedmiddel tegen de schrikkelijke verwoestingen door Dry-rot, en gevolgelyk groot verlies van kapitaal voor den Scheepsreeder, welke tot nu toe hebben plaats gehad in alle soort van Schepen, en voor de Scheepsbelangen, want het is duidelyk bewezen dat het het weer en ander bederf in Zeilen en Touwwerk zoo wel als in Houtwerk tegengaat.

Men heeft bevonden dat hout groen gekapt, terwyl de bladeren groeyen, door deze bewerking dadelyk ten gebruike geschikt wordt: makende dus iedere soort van binnenlands Timmerhout van dezelfde waarde en deugd als het beste uithetsehe—voor alle einden van buitenwerk, en door het gebruik van het gemeenste hout, zal duurzaamheid met spaarzaamheid worden vereenigd, en de landbouw en mynen grootelyk bevordert worden.

Gebouwen in het algemeen:—

STYLEN, HEKKEN, PALEN, enz.

Hier voor kan nu alle soort van hout worden gebruikt in plaats van de kostbaarste soorten. Het zal mede in vele plaatsen het gebruik van yzer kunnen vervangen door deszelfs bekomen duurzaamheid en grooter goedkoopheid.

BEREID ZEILDOEK, CALICO, TOUWWERK.

Voor Zeilen, Haangmatten, Tenten, Zonneschermen, Pressings, Zakken, Vischnetten, enz.

Adres by den Hr. W. THOMPSON, Agent van de Compagnie, in de Burgstraat, No. 14, Kaapstad.

WEG NAAR STELLENBOSCH.

Wy herdrukken met genoegen de Aanspraak van den Hr. I. CHASE, de Amerikaansche Consul, by eene Publieke Byeenkomst, onlangs gehouden in in de Beurs, tot het oprigten van eene Maatschappelyke Compagnie, voor het aanleggen van eenen Harden Weg van de Kaapstad naar Stellenbosch. Het onderwerp is van hoog belang, en behoort te worden ondersteund door iederen Kolonist, en door iederen vriend van verbetering. Het zal goede interest verzekeren voor het ingelegde geld. De aanmerkingen van den Hr. CHASE, over het nut van EENDRAGT, zyn juist en krachtig, en passen byzonder op de omstandigheden dezer Kolonie.

Mynheer de Voorzitter,—Het verheugt my plan ten te zien voordragen, welke het welzyn van de Kolonie ten doel hebben. Ofschoon myn verblyf in deze Kolonie in vergelyking kort is geweest,—is het lang genoeg geweest om my een levendig belang te doen stellen in hare welvaart. Het vriendelyk gevoelen dat algemeen is uitgestrekt tot my, een vreemdeling, en tot myne landgenooten, heeft een gelykstaand gevoel van vriendschap in myn hart verwekt, en ik kan er byvoegen, eene sterke gehechtheid aan de kolonisten en aan hun land, en na de welvaart van myn eigen dierbaar geboorteland, zal ik altyd met genoegen zien op het welzyn van deze Kolonie. (Toejuiching.) Dit gevoel, dat ik rondborstig uitdruk, kan eene verschooning zyn voor eene enkele aanmerking, welke ik ter overweging van deze aanzienlyke byeenkomst zal voordragen.

Mynheer, het is onbetwistbaar dat deze Kolonie in zich zelf ontzettende hulpbronnen bevat, welke, behoorlyk ontwikkeld zynde, dezelve eene ryke, en kan ik niet zeggen, eene magtige natie kunnen maken. Begunstigd met het beste klimaat der wereld en met uitgestrekte streken vruchtbaar land geschikt om al de behoeften en byna al de weelden des levens voort te brengen, wat ontbreekt er om het dat te maken, wat ik gezegd heb dat het worden kan? Er zyn, naar myne bevattig, slechts twee zaken, t. w.:—arbeid en kunstmatige middelen van communicatie tusschen het land en de stad of de zeehaven. Ik zeg kunstmatige, want gy hebt geene natuurlyke middelen van communicatie, zoo als rivieren. Gy moet wegen hebben van de eene of andere soort. Het kan eene zaak zyn welke overweging verdient, of het niet beter ware met eens Spoorwegen aan te leggen. De kosten zouden zekerlyk grooter zyn, maar de voordeelen daaruit ontstaande voor het geheele land, zouden onberekenbaar worden vermeerderd boven die van gewone wegen. Dit is echter eene vraag welke tyd van overweging vereischt. Het is echter opvallend dat er iets moet gedaan worden, indien men verlangt deze Kolonie te zien in iets gelykende naar den voorspoedigen staat der naburige Kolonien. Zie op Nieuw Zuid Wales: Daar is eene natie in bestaan gekomen als het ware door toovery.

In myn gevoelen ontbreekt niets dan werkzaamheid om de Kaap de Goede Hoop, in alle opzigten, even voorspoedig te maken.

Mynheer, gy zult my verschoonen, maar ik moet zeggen, dat gedurende myn verblyf alhier, ik een gebrek aan eendragt heb bespeurd. Ik geloof dat het onbetwistbaar is, dat de maatschappij te veel in kleine partijen is gedeeld—gespleten en oneenig Politieke verschillen van gevoelen schynen niet alleen een gevoel van personele vyandschap te hebben te weeg gebragt, maar eene onbeschryfelyke partyzucht—een gevoelen, zoo als ik nooit te voren gezien heb,—een gevoel dat strekt tot het afkeuren van ieder plan of voorstel (hoe goed het ook wezen moge,) dat wordt voorgesteld door individuen behoorende tot de tegenovergestelde party. Ik kan dwalen, maar ik geloof dat ik iets van dit gevoel heb bespeurd. Heb ik gelyk, Mynheer? Indien ik gelyk heb, durf ik voorspellen, dat zoo lang als dit gevoel blyft bestaan, er niets van eenig aanbelaug zal worden verrigt ten voordeele van de Kolonie. Dezelve zal blyven bestaan in juist denzelfden stand waarin dezelve heeft bestaan gedurende de laatste halve eeuw—eene bloote stip in de schepping. Eene kolonie met eene handvol inwoners, welke kan worden bevolkt met millioenen. Ik waag het alleen te zeggen als een gevoel, dat, ten zy deze partyziekte kan worden verbroken,—ten zy heeren aan beide zyden met eens willen besluiten om hunne politieke verschillen van gevoelen het gezellige en huislyke leven niet te laten verbitteren, dat zy zich niet door deze verschillen van gevoelen, als kinderen laten wegslepen van de voorschriften der rede,—gy publieke byeenkomsten kunt hebben—welsprekende aanspraken kunt doen, en sterke resoluties passeren, maar dat het uiteindelyk hierop zal nederkomen—dat niets wordt gedaan!

Nu, Mynheer, dit is een betreurenswaardige staat van zaken, en verdient, naar myn gevoelen, de ernstige overweging van allen. Zyt gy niet broeders? Hebt gy niet dezelve belangen? Moet gy niet allen gelyk belang stellen in het welzyn der Kolonie, hetzy dezelve nu eigen of aangenomen vaderland is? Er wordt niets meer vereischt dan Eendragt—eendragt van Sterkte, en eendragt van Voorneemen, en dit is ten hoogste wenschelyk. Daarmede kan men alles verrigten.

Men heeft my gezegd, dat er gebrek is aan geld; maar waarlyk, Mynheer, het komt my vreemd voor, dat in een land, waar gediscoteerd wordt tegen 5 per cent., er geen geld zou te bekomen zyn voor binnenlandsche verbeteringen. Mynheer, ik durf vragen, wat er zal worden gedaan met deze een en een kwart miljoen ponden Sterling, welke nu in de Kolonie vloeyen, indien dezelve niet worden belegd in binnenlandsche effecten, in wegen, stoomboten en dokken? Het is ter naauwernood waarschyndlyk dat deze som zal worden belegd in effecten in het Moederland. In myn gevoelen behoort het nooit uit de Kolonie te gaan. Hier moet het worden belegd in effecten, welke nog moeten geschapen worden, en welke zeker moeten bydragen tot den aanwas en voorspoed der Kolonie. Ik zou gaarne eene Compagnie zien gevormd in deze Kolonie met een Kapitaal van een miljoen, (en waarom kan niet een miljoen van het Compensatie geld op deze wyze worden belegd?) te worden genoemd "De Zuid Afrikaansche Land Compagnie," ten doel hebbende landeryen te koopen, welke nu voor spotprijzen worden verkocht,—wegen aan te leggen, en emigratie uit het Moederland aan te moedigen. Hoe is het, Mynheer, dat wy bestendig hooren van uitgebreide emigratie naar naburige Kolonien? Wat beteekent liet, dat er op dezen oogenblik een schip in deze baai ten anker ligt, bestemd naar Nieuw Zuid Wales, opgepropt met de beste soort van volkplantelingen welke men vinden kan,—de geharde, werkzame, matige Bergschotten? (Toejuiching.) Waarom gaan zy de Kaap voorby, welke zulk een heilzaam klimaat en zulken vruchtbaeren grond bevat? De reden, de eenige reden is, dat er geene goede middelen van communicatie tusschen het land en de stad zyn.

Mynheer,—Indien gy ooit ontzettende streken woesten grond wilt zien, welke onder bebouwing zyn gebragt, zal het en moet het geschieden door het openen van goede wegen. De mensch moet dwaas zyn, die zich op eenen grond voor zyn leven nederzet, waar hy zyne producten niet ter markt kan brengen. Want welk voordeel is er te planten,—welk voordeel in het bouwen van schuren, indien er geen koopers zyn voor de producten, of dat het even veel kost om dezelve naar de markt te brengen als dezelve waard zyn? Een ieder mensch, die eenen voet gronds in deze Kolonie bezit, behoort belang te stellen in de voorgedragen verbeteringen, om deze eenvoudige redenen—hy heeft een personeel belang—zyn land zal meer waard zyn—hoe meer menschen hy in de Kolonie kan brengen, des te beter voor hem, des te grooter zullen zyne voordeelen zyn. Zoo als ik te voren heb gezegd, zal niemand emigreren naar een land waar er geene genoegzame middelen zyn om de producten ter markt te brengen. Zy zullen gaan naar die Kolonien welke deze voordeelen aanbieden. Ik hoop daarom, dat deze voorgestelde wegen en alle andere inlandsche verbeteringen de hartige ondersteuning mogen genieten van deze byeenkomst en van de kolonisten in het algemeen, als de eenige en zekere hoop van het vermeerderen van de bevolking dezer Kolonie door emigratie, en gevolgelyk van deszelfs voorspoed.—Mynheer, ik wensch dezelve allen mogelyken voorspoed.

ROAD TO STELLENBOSCH.

We reprint, with pleasure, the following Speech of I. CHASE, Esq., the American Consul, at a Public Meeting held lately in the Commercial Hall, for the formation of a Joint Stock Company, to construct a Road from Stellenbosch to Cape Town. The object is one of deep importance, and should be supported by every Colonist and friend to improvement. It will secure good interest for the money invested. Mr. CHASE's remarks on the value of Union are just and forcible, and apply with peculiar emphasis to this Colony.

Mr. Chairman,—I am glad to see projects started which have for their object the welfare of this Colony. Although my residence here has been comparatively short, it has been long enough to have excited in me a strong interest for its prosperity. The kind feelings which have been universally extended to me, a stranger, and to my countrymen generally, I feel bound to acknowledge, has excited corresponding feelings of kindness in my bosom, and I may add, of a strong attachment to the Colonists and the country; and next to the prosperity of my own native, beloved land, shall I always view with pleasure the welfare of this Colony. [Applause.] These feelings, which I freely express to you, Sir, may be an apology for my offering a single remark to the consideration of this very respectable meeting.

Sir, it is undeniable that this Colony possesses in itself immense Resources, which, when properly developed, cannot fail to make it a rich, and may I not say, a powerful nation. Favored with one of the very best climates in the world, and with extensive tracts of rich land, capable of producing all the necessaries, and nearly all the luxuries of life, what is wanting to make it what I have said it is capable of becoming? There are only two things in my apprehension, viz:—Labour and good artificial sources of communication between the country and the town, or sea-port. I say artificial, because you have no natural sources of communication, such as Rivers. You must have roads of some sort. It may be a matter worthy of consideration, whether it would not be better to build Rail-Roads at once. The expense would certainly be more, but the benefits resulting to the country at large, would be incalculably increased beyond those which would arise from common roads. However, this is a question which may require time to consider. That something must be done is, however, evident, if you would ever see this Colony in any thing like so prosperous a condition as your neighbouring Colonies. Look at New South Wales. There a nation has sprung into existence as it were by magic. What has made those colonies such as they are, but energy?

Nothing, in my opinion, is wanting but energy, and a union of energy, to make the Cape of Good Hope every way as prosperous.

Sir,—You will excuse me, but I must say, that during my residence here I think I have discovered a want of Union. I think it is undeniable that Society is too much split up into parties—disjointed and sundered. Political differences of opinion seem to have excited not only a kind of personal animosity, but an undefinable party feeling,—a feeling which I have never before been called to witness,—a feeling which tends to the condemnation of any plan or project, (no matter however good,) that is proposed or started by any individuals connected with the opposite party. I may be mistaken; but I think I have discovered something of this feeling. Am I right, Sir? If so, I venture to predict that so long as this feeling exists, nothing of any considerable moment will be accomplished for the good of the Colony. It will remain in precisely the same state in which it has existed for the last half century—a mere speck in creation. A Colony with a mere handful of inhabitants, which ought, and which might be peopled with millions,—which ought, which might become a powerful nation! I venture it only as an opinion that, unless this party feeling can be broken up; unless gentlemen on both sides will at once determine that they will not permit their political differences of opinion to embitter domestic and social life, will not permit these differences of opinion to lead them so like children away from the dictates of reason,—you may have your public meetings, you may make eloquent speeches, you may pass strong resolutions, but it will all come to this at last,—nothing will be done!

Now, Sir, this is a lamentable state of things, and in my opinion, deserves the candid, the prayerful consideration of gentlemen. Are you not Brothers? Have you not common interests at stake? Should you not be mutually interested for the good of the Colony, whether it be your native or adopted homes? Nothing is wanting but Union—union of Strength and union of Purpose, and this is most devoutly to be desired. With this every thing may be accomplished.

It has been suggested to me, that money is wanting;—but really, Sir, it appears very odd, that in a country where discounts are made at 5 per cent. money cannot be obtained for internal improvements. Sir, I will ask, what is to be done with this Million and Quarter of Pounds Sterling now coming into the Colony, if it is not to be invested in domestic Stocks—in Roads, and Steam Boats, and Wet Docks? It is hardly probable that this money will be invested in Stocks at home. In my opinion it should not go out of the Colony. Here it should be invested in the yet-to-be-created domestic Stocks, which could not fail to conduce to the growth and prosperity of the Colony. I should be glad to see a Company formed with a Capital of a Million, (and why may not a million of this Compensation Money be invested in this way?) to be called "The South African Land Company," whose object it should be to purchase the Land now selling for a mere song—to build Roads, and excite and encourage Emigration from home. Why is it, Sir, that we are constantly hearing of extensive emigration to your neighbouring colonies? What means it, that just at this moment, a ship bound to New South Wales is riding at anchor in Table Bay, crowded with the very best description of settlers in the world, viz., the haidy, the industrious, the temperate Highlanders of Scotland? [Applause.] Why do they go past the Cape of Good Hope, possessing as it does, such a heavenly climate, and such rich soil? The reason, the only reason is, there are no good sources of communication between the country and town.

Sir, if you are ever to see the immense tracts of waste land brought into a state of cultivation, it will, it must be done by opening up good roads. A man would be insane to settle himself down for life in a country where it was impossible to get his produce to market. For where is the use of planting—where is the use of building barns and storehouses, if there are to be no purchasers of the produce—or if it would cost as much to get it to market as it is worth? Every man who owns a foot of ground in the Colony should take an interest in these suggested improvements, for this plain reason—he is personally interested—his land will become more valuable—the greater number of people he can get into the colony the better for him—the greater his profits. As I have before said, people will not emigrate to a country where there are no adequate means of getting their produce to market. They will go to those colonies which offer these facilities. I hope, therefore, that this projected road, and all other internal improvements, may meet with the ardent support of this Meeting and the Colonists in general, as the only possible and sure hope of increasing the population of the colony by emigration, and consequently its prosperity. Sir, it has my very best wishes.

BANKING, PAPER MONEY & CURRENCY.

The Bank of England and the American Houses, and American Trade with this Country in future.

(From the Bankers' Circular, 1st June.)

The Bankers' Circular enters at length, with its usual ability and intelligence, into this matter, which continues to absorb public attention. Nothing else during the past week has been talked of or thought of, in the monetary and mercantile circles; and never was greater anxiety shown in the city than was exhibited on Thursday, the day on which the Bank was to come to its momentous decision relative to a great Liverpool American House. It appeared like a fever, and when the decision of the Bank in favor of the House was known, it diffused universal satisfaction. After some preliminary observations, the Circular proceeds:

"Since this day of last week several incidents have occurred which have a tendency to dissipate some of the gloom which enveloped industrious pursuits. The support of Welles and Co. of Paris, by the bank of France, the support—effectual and complete—of W. and J. Brown and Co., of Liverpool, by the Bank of England, the relief effected by Country Banks and private friends of various other parties who had become entangled and perplexed by the guarantees which they had given, and the dishonoured bills which had been thrown back upon them, are all cheering circumstances for persons who are involved with American commerce. And the only material fact of an opposite nature that we are acquainted with is the unfortunate, and, we trust, but temporary suspension of payments by Bolton, Ogden, and Co., of Liverpool.

"New York papers to the 3rd June have arrived by the Mediator. They do not communicate accounts of any more failures, but they are full of statements relative to specie and local bank notes. The latter continued to be currently taken, and specie was finding its way out of the States to a greater extent than it has done for some time past. It would be surprising if it did not do so just now.

"The Mediator brought 170,000 dollars, 50,000 of which are to protect the bills of Messrs. T. Wiggins & Co. The remainder is for making new purchases under special direction of British Manufacturers. There appears to be an impression that it will be some time before the United States pay their debts.

"COTTON WOOL.—The market has at length assumed a more lively appearance; the demand since the public sales on Friday seamount, has been brisk, and an improvement of full 4d per lb. has been realized on the prices of last week for Surat and Madras, whilst Bengal has supported former rates. The private business this week amounts to 8380 bales comprising 150 bales good ordinary to fair Bengal at 3 1/2 to 4d. 1500 bales ordinary to good fair Surat at 3 1/2 to 5d. 1700 bales middling to good Madras at 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 d, and 30 bales fine Bowled at 8d per lb.

"SUGAR.—MAURITIUS. There has been less demand for this description, and at the public sales, which have comprised 12,493 bags, some portion has been bought in, and that which sold was generally at a decline of 6d per cwt. on former rates. Good middling & very good bright yellow sold at 57s to 61s, low and middling greyish yellow at 54s 6d to 56s, and good middling fawn brown at 43s; some very ordinary damp brown was bought in at 39s per cwt.

"EAST INDIA.—There is a continuance of the demand for Bengal, for home consumption, and there is now only a small quantity at market; the holders are still firm, and have realized quite as much money as last week; 260 bags at the equalized duty were brought to the hammer on Friday, and sold readily at full former prices; fine dry white brought 66s 6d to 67s 6d, and damps and washed 62s 6d to 65s per cwt. For export there is only a limited request, but at easier prices there are no sellers. Of all other sorts the market continues bare, we are in consequence unable to report any business.

"REFINED.—The prices of Grocery goods have been fully supported, and in the early part of the week there was a good business doing; sales of lumps to pass the standard made at 75s to 76s; and those rather under at 74s; but the market yesterday and to-day was quiet; yet under these prices there are not sellers, the market still being almost bare of goods delivery. For shipping rather more has been doing, but the refiners have been compelled to accept 32s for double crushed, at which price however the sales are trivial, and further sales cannot be made except at 32s 6d: Bastards have been taken steadily at former rates; Treacle is much wanted, but is scarce. Dutch Crushed is offered at 31s, but there are no buyers, an offer of 30s. has been made for a considerable parcel but refused.

"COFFEE.—We have had a much larger supply of British Plantation descriptions at market during the present week than for some time past; the public sale having offered about 1020 casks, 106 tuns, 846 barrels and bags, the larger proportion of which was Jamaica, the remainder Demerara and Berbice, and more inclination on the part of importers has been evinced to realize; the demand, however, has been quite equal to the supply and the whole of the clean grocery qualities was disposed of, and is to 3s per cwt. advance on former prices was realized for the middling and good qualities, notwithstanding those sorts predominated; the fine ordinary sorts have gone at 2s 1/2 rates, whilst the inferior and unclean kinds are still very flat, and again mostly bought in, in some cases where they have been forced off, the lowest sorts are 4s, to 3s per cwt. lower. The clean qualities sold as follows: viz Jamaica, fine middling and fine 12s to 12 1/2; middling to good middling at 9s to 11s; fine and fine fine ordinary at 7s to 9s, good ordinary at 6s; Berbice, fine fine ordinary at 8 1/2 to 9s; and Demerara fine fine ordinary at 8 1/2 to 9s 6d per cwt. There is only a partial demand for Ceylon admissible for home consumption at the low duty, but the firmness of holders compels buyers to pay full the late quotations, some small parcels of good ordinary have sold privately at 6 1/2 per cwt. In Mocha we have still a very limited business doing, but the late prices have firmly maintained. The only business that has been done in the shipping qualities of East India was at a public sale of 376 bags of good, and good ord. Sumatra, which sold at 28s to 30s, being about the rates of the previous transactions. We have still to report a dull market for Foreign description, the demand continuing only for colour sorts; but the Importers are firm, and the bare state of the market has rendered it impossible to make purchases except at 1s to 2s advance on the late public sale; at which improved small parcels of Brazil have been sold, at 12s to 13s for fine ordinary colour, and at 43s to 44s per cwt. for good ordinary colour Havana.

"INDIGO.—East India descriptions remain without any alteration in price, and little or no business is doing. Of Guatimala there have been offered at public auction 311 serons, which form no criterion upon which to judge of the market, for with the exception of about 20 serons, they were bought in full 4d to 6d per lb. higher than the previous sales. Had they been actually sold, they would not have fetched within 6d, of the nominal taking in prices, the parcel upon the whole being but a very middling one. The 20 serons that were actually disposed of comprised the better qualities, viz middling to good sobras, which brought 4d to 6d higher prices, owing to there being a few unusual orders at the sale. Subres good and fine 4s 6d to 5s 4d ordinary and middling 3s 10d to 4s 3d; Cortex low middling and good 3s to 3s 9d, low ordinary 2s to 2s 9d per lb.

"HIDES.—The imports and exports of Cow and Ox Hides to this port and the Kingdom in the past 6 months compared with those of the first 6 months of 1836 and 1835, have been as follows—

	Imports.	1837.	1836.	1835.
To Liverpool...	323,100	260,300	414,000
To the Kingdom...	583,600	496,000	672,000
Exports.	1837.	1836.	1835.
To Liverpool...	95,600	112,400	108,000
To the Kingdom...	156,600	141,500	121,500

The stocks remaining in importers' hands at the close of June this year, and the two preceding were as follows:—

	N. & S. America.	West India.	East India.
1837	104,200	2,800	48,000
1836	57,500	300	20,000
1835	120,300	2,800	57,800
	Russian, &c.	Total.	Horse.
1837	6,000	161,500	8,000
1836	10,000	87,800	5,200
1835	14,500	195,400	8,000

Large arrivals of Ox and Cow Hides from Buenos Ayres have come forward in the past month, and the total import of all sorts has been 65,700, adding materially to our stocks. The trade has remained in a very languid state, and many large parcels brought to public sale have been obliged to be withdrawn; lower prices for most descriptions have ruled than for a long period past.

The sales of the month were only about 22,000 consisting of 14,000 Buenos Ayres and Monte Video salted at 3 1/2 d to 4 1/2 d; 1400 North American 2 1/2 d to 3 1/2 d, 400 West India 4d to 4 1/2 d, 570 Cape at 3d, 200 German at 3 1/2 d to 4 1/2 d, 6000 dry salted Brazil at 4 1/2 to 5d, and 300 dry California at 5 1/2 d per lb. East India Kips have been nearly unsaleable, 3000 brined sold at 6 1/2 d for good, 3 1/2 d and 5 1/2 d for inferior sorts, and 400 Monte Video at 7d per lb. Of Horse Hides the sales were only 300 salted at 9s each.

COMMERCIAL IMPROVEMENT.

(From the Bankers' Circular, June 11.)

One of the best symptoms that we have observed is that of new houses of ample capital taking measures for entering into the trade with the United States for the purpose of taking up some of the connections that have been discovered and scattered by the stoppage of the suspended American firms. That of Holford & Co. is one of these instances, and we have heard of others in which the plans for the prosecution of the intentions of the parties concerned are less matured.

"From all the inquiries that we have been able to make, it is not possible for us to report any decided improvement in the industry of the manufacturing districts. We learn, however, that the hand-loom weavers at Blackburne, Burnley, and other places lying a little remote from the centre of business—Manchester—have somewhat less difficulty in getting work than they had a month ago. This we consider the most favourable symptom that has come under our observation, for good generally visits that class of operatives last.

"We think that activity will commence sooner at Birmingham, Sheffield, and generally in the iron and metal districts, than in the Cotton and Woollen trades. Home consumption and the demand for the shipping interest afford better reliance for expectation of renewed traffic than foreign demand; and upon foreign trade the fabricators with the loom in Lancashire and Yorkshire are more dependent than any other branch of British Manufactures.

STATE OF TRADE IN THE MANUFACTURING DISTRICTS.

"MANCHESTER.—The improvement which has been perceptible in the Liverpool market since the arrangement of the Bank of England to support Messrs. Brown's house has also, we are glad to say, begun to be felt here. There was yesterday a very fair demand for shipping numbers of yarns, and prices were paid at which previously the buyers were not willing to make purchases. Although cloth did not exhibit equal improvement, there was some increase of confidence in prices; and generally, we may say, people were in better spirits. The country trade, however, is greatly affected by the Kings illness; and there seems a very prevalent feeling, that an early effort should be made to do away with the practice of enjoining a public mourning on any future occasion of the same kind. We hope the Chamber of Commerce will look to this.

ROCHDALE FLANNEL MARKET, Monday, June 19.—To-day there may be said to have been little improvement in the market, more goods having been sold, but still at extremely low prices. The wool market has been slack, and very few sales made. So long as it continues to fall in price, the manufacturers will be desirous of keeping their stocks low.

LANCASHIRE.—On Monday many of the master calico printers had better prospects. Machine printing within the last few days has mented surprisingly, and block printers at some places have more work this week than they have had for several months. Silk weaving is very brisk indeed, especially black figured and plain saracenis; weavers are receiving for blacks 4s per cut extra to the list of prices. Cotton hand-loom weavers are in a wretched state; some of the factories which have been running short, expect going full time next week; this is not general, but some masters have given notice. There has been one or two failures amongst Cotton masters, but nothing to what was expected. There have been many false reports. Trade would now be unusually brisk if there was more confidence; some are of opinion there will be full employment for all hands in the course of a few weeks.—June, 27.

LONDON MONEY MARKET, JULY 1.

STOCK EXCHANGE, FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

The scarcity of money has not in any degree diminished; rather, indeed, the pressure during the last few days seems to have increased. This state of things is in a great degree attributable to the reluctance which the large discount brokers evince to the transaction of business. It has long been the custom for these capitalists to take large sums on loan from the Bank at low rates of interest, and reap a proportionate advantage from the employment of it by discounting the bills of traders of less known credit, at a higher rate; thus taking, in effect, a percentage for the guarantee they afforded to the Bank for the safe employment of its capital. The state of commercial affairs is, however, at present such, that more than one large establishment of this nature has determined to restrict itself to the employment of its own capital; and hence its discount customers are forced to seek elsewhere for that accommodation which its extensive agency in the employment of the capital of others has hitherto enabled it to afford them. A great temporary demand is therefore created for money, while this change in the mode of its employment is going on.

The following notice was yesterday issued from the Bank—

"The Governor and Company of the Bank of England do hereby give notice, that the advances in pursuance of their notice of the 1st inst., on bills of exchange not having more than 95 days to run, will be extended to bills not having more than six months to run; such advances to be repaid on or before 15th July next, with interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, and to be for sums not less than 2,000l."

"Bank of England, 29th June 1834."

A large class of bills—namely, most of those drawn from India and China—are thus rendered available to their holders; and the accommodation which this relaxation of the rule, by which no bill which had longer than three months to run was ever discounted, or taken as security by the Bank, must be a material aid to the holders of such paper. It is also expected that the measure now passing through Parliament for the further partial repeal of the Usury laws as far as regards bills of twelve months' date, will afford great assistance to the merchants generally, as henceforward a person holding bills of this date can always be sure of getting them discounted, however scarce money may be at that time; whereas, while an unrestricted rate of discount was only legally obtainable upon bills of three months' date, the capitalist of course employed his resources in discounting them at a high rate of interest, and money could only be obtained on longer dated bills by an evasion of the law.

The Railway Shares are also in great demand. London and Birmingham were also more than 5l. per share higher; and the price has maintained itself to-day in the face of the resolution of the proprietors to create 6500 new shares. The various Brighton lines are also in request; as are the shares of the Croydon, to which the hope of a bill for the Brighton scheme being obtained before the dissolution of Parliament, has to-day given increased currency.

The Particulars of the Affairs of the Great American Houses which have stopped Payment.

(From the Bankers' Circular)

The Bankers' Circular of last week presents a complete analysis of this matter, which has excited and which still receives so much attention in the monied world. From the statement it appears that the balances of the three houses, stand as follows:—

THOMAS WILSON & Co. have a balance left of £678,000 to meet a private loan of £406,000, and capital.

T. WIGGIN & Co. have a balance of £484,700 to meet a private loan of £200,000, and capital.

G. WILDES & Co., have a balance of £578,000 to meet private loans of £312,000, and capital.

These balances are not given by the partners of the Houses themselves, but by Inspectors chosen by the Bank, and the above was the authenticated state of their affairs on the 15th of May last.

"In ordinary times, statements exhibiting such a surplus of property above paying all obligations would undoubtedly afford great satisfaction to the creditors of the suspended firms, and would give those creditors entire confidence in the solvency of their debtors. But the present times are the most extraordinary ever known; and far beyond all preceding, such as to render all attempts to determine the final issue of embarrassment a problem of singular perplexity and difficulty. Men best acquainted with the laws in the several States of the American Republic touching the more or less prompt and efficacious methods of recovering assets from debtors, with the conditions of debtors as to their ability to fulfil their engagements and with the state of the banks and the currency in the United States, are the fittest persons to give their opinions on such matters. Consequently, Mr. Bates, of the eminent firm of Baring and Co., has been much consulted by the Directors of the Bank of England ever since they were first called upon to give support to the firms placed in jeopardy, with the intention of enabling the Bank to appreciate the degree of risk they would encounter by making the large advances of cash required to pay the bills accepted by the embarrassed houses. That Gentleman's opinion has always been strongly expressed in favour of their solvency; and, this, too, in the case of T. Wilson and Co., which appears to be admitted on all hands to be that wherein the greatest risk is discoverable. At the meeting of their creditors on Monday he reiterated the same opinion concerning the affairs of the house, and readily consented to become an inspector, on the ground that he wished to see the operation of the process of liquidation in affairs respecting which he had been so much consulted. This circumstance has, we are assured, powerfully tended to lessen the anxiety of the business-creditors of Messrs. T. Wilson and Co., and of the numerous sureties.

"As to the case of T. Wiggin and Co., those who knew Mr. Wiggin in his former prosperous career, who were intimate with him when, on account of bad health, he retired from business, with an ample fortune, when eleven years ago, he took up the connexions of the late Mr. Samuel Williams,—having at that time in the public funds, a property considerably exceeding £200,000 in value,—who are familiar with all his habits, persons, we say, possessing those very great advantages to enable them to form a very correct judgment regarding his affairs, and who are themselves habitually cautious and circumspect, express their confident belief that under Mr. Wiggin's own management, assisted by his son and connexions, the creditors of the firm will, without great delay, receive full satisfaction for all their demands. The American debtors of the house are believed to be of the most responsible class. Mr. Wiggin himself is even now of opinion that one-half the sum subtracted for bad debts will be found in the sequel to be more than sufficient to cover all loss. We think it right to state these circumstances,—which we do, not merely without exaggeration, but with much less force than we should be justified in doing if we entirely followed the opinions of persons best capable of judging,—because the satisfactory issue of the affair greatly depends on Mr. Wiggin's personal influence and exertions; and it appears to us exceedingly desirable that he should have been trusted with the winding up and settlement of that which he understands best.

The case of George Wildes and Co. has some peculiar features. Early in April last the Bank agreed to pay all their engagements as they became due, on condition of the affairs of the house being brought to a close. This agreement was concluded chiefly by verbal communications, but there are persons who know all that took place at interviews, and who have seen all the written documents that have passed on the subject, who give their decided opinion that the Bank is bound in honour and fair-dealing, and, if tested, in law, to discharge all the debts of George Wildes and Co. as they become due. The Directors acted under this impression in various instances, and especially by paying in April or May, a promissory note which George Wildes and Co. had given of the value of £20,000, and falling due in July; thus anticipating the payment about two months before it came to maturity. This fact demands explanation. It is well known that the mode of remunerating London bankers for their trouble in keeping banking accounts for their customers, and for discount accommodation, is not by a commission charge, but by a balance of cash always remaining on account without interest. When houses are at full stretch in their operations, and require more capital than they can command, they cannot afford to keep a large balance of cash at their bankers; in such circumstances it is not an unusual practice for them to ask the bankers to grant them a loan on their promissory note, which is at once discounted and placed to the credit of the account—with the understanding, however, that the amount of the loan shall not be drawn out, but that the whole or the greater portion of it shall remain on the account as a remuneration for trouble and accommodation attending the transactions in business between the parties.

"Messrs. G. Wildes and Co. had we understand, given to their bankers a note of this kind, and for such purposes as we have described. When their affairs were undertaken to be wound up by the Bank of England, the Directors very properly (on the supposition that they were bound to pay all the debts of the firm) discharged this note long before it became due, because they thought it would be wrong for them to waste £150 or £200 in interest when G. Wildes and Co. had no further occasion to continue the same banking which was the cause of its being given. Nothing can be more proper and legitimate than this transaction, it being understood, we repeat, that all the debts of George Wildes and Co. are to be paid by the Bank of England as they become due; but if not, it is clearly a payment made in preference, and would be dealt with as such by a court of equity.—June 13.

The Bank of England and the American Houses which have stopped payment.—(June 6)

(From the Bankers' Circular.)

The stoppages of some great and old established American Houses occasioned by the Bank of England having refused further to assist them, has been the chief topic of conversation and importance in the monetary and mercantile circles during the past week. It was confidently expected, and publicly given out in the daily papers, that the Bank would assist them until the close of the present year. (Circumstances, however, have arisen which altered the aspect of the matter, and on Thursday night, after frequent and long deliberation, the Directors decided not to assist them further. They stopped the next day: and never since the present monetary calamities began has the city experienced so great a shock. Every body and every thing appeared depressed by the occurrence, and great fears existed for other houses. The Bankers' Circular goes thoroughly into the matter, and seems as though it had received its information direct from the Bank Parlour.

After the Circular had stated its belief that the whole matter had been settled for the houses to receive assistance, it speaks of the obstacles which has arisen, and says,

"Such obstacles have unexpectedly arisen, and they arose, we believe, in the following manner, viz.—in consequence of the Bank discovering, subsequently to the decision to carry the houses through the 31st of December, that by consent to do so they would at their own risk and on their own responsibility entirely alter the arrangement agreed upon between themselves, the American merchants, and the sureties of those merchants; and that the guarantee-notes, those guarantees would be exonerated and wholly value-less. Now, as these guarantee-notes amounted in one case for one firm to half a million sterling, and in each of the two other cases to nearly the same sum, of course the discovery of this legal objection stopped the execution of the design, and threw the whole matter into perplexity and confusion after the arrangement announced last week had been partly acted upon.

"In this unanticipated dilemma the first thing to be done was to obtain the consent of those who had given the guarantee-notes resident in London. These, in two individual cases, were given for sums, not under £50,000 each; in others they were given for various sums such as £20,000, £15,000, £10,000, £5,000; this last, we believe, being the lowest amount for which any guarantee-note has been given; and the whole number of sureties in London and the country, the majority of securities will, we imagine, be found to be for this smallest sum. The guarantee-notes for the House, where, on account of the magnitude of the debt owing by it, the most formidable obstacle which has been found, were given in the early part of April, and they were at five, six, and seven months date. The last would, therefore, become due early in November at the latest. The consent of the London-contributors to the guarantee-fund was, as we have said, the first thing to be obtained, because, with that point carried, no very intractable difficulty could be rationally-expected to be encountered in the country, the merchants and manufacturers of Lancashire, &c., being so deeply concerned in the issue, and being prone habitually to follow the example of the Londoners. If no obstacle arose in London, none was expected to present itself anywhere.

"In the course of Saturday last it was ascertained that two of the London sureties, viz. a firm popularly known as the most eminent Loan contractor of modern days, and a bill brokering firm, generally considered to stand second in the eminence of its mercantile station in that branch of business, did object, or at least did hesitate to give their assent to the proposed arrangement. In this state the matter hung until Monday, the 29th ult., and on that day it was understood that the first obstacle, as far as the consent of sureties is concerned had been overcome by the two objectors intimating that they should not stand out against the general desire for unanimous acquiescence, but, in times so indescribably critical as these, a day, even an hour, may be of vast importance. On Monday new difficulties arose. Some of the oldest Directors of the Bank of England, who had never very heartily given their consent to the plan of taking burden after burden when it became too heavy for the great props of the discount-market to sustain, became alarmed at the aspect of affairs; and they strenuously urged their doubts of the propriety of making further advances, seeing that packet after packet arrived from New York without bringing gold, or any thing of value to be placed to the credit of the houses supported, in amount adequate to the expectations held out. Three of the oldest Directors, who have passed the chair, it is understood, took this attitude against what was then supposed to be the majority of their colleagues.

"This being the position of things on Monday, a General Board of the Directors was summoned to meet on Tuesday, the 30th; and much anxiety was manifested by some influential parties who are understood to be, collaterally, deeply implicated in the measure, that the London Bankers should attend the Board for the purpose of assisting, by their advice and countenance, the Directors of the Bank of England to arrive at a favourable determination for the commercial interests. Four at least of the London Bankers did attend accordingly, but from the fact of the Board of Directors postponing their decision, and meeting again and again after receiving the sentiments of the London bankers, it may be inferred that the advice of those able men of foresight and experience was not of a very decided character. If the Bank Directors were in doubt before the consultation, circumstances would seem to justify the conclusion that this doubt had not been removed at its termination. All that was done, however, on Tuesday was, we believe, a resolution to write to Liverpool to stop the sailing of the packet for a day, and to pass a resolution for the Board to meet again at eleven o'clock on Wednesday.

"It should not, however, be omitted to be stated, that during the sitting of the Board on Tuesday an express arrived from Liverpool, bringing an account of the rapid progress of panic in New York, of the failure of more merchants in that City, New Orleans, and other parts of the States, and the stoppage of some of the banks; and also advising the receipt of little, if any, gold and silver. This tended to increase distrust and apprehension in the Bank parlour, and to impose the necessity of anxious circumspection in the proceedings of the Directors. Under these impressions they met on Wednesday, and they continued in deliberation from eleven to five o'clock. It is said that this long period was employed partly in examining accounts and investigating the condition of the debts owing to the firms requiring support, and partly in ascertaining the state of the Bank itself, as to its amount of bullion, its issues, and other matters. The impression at the close of the business on Wednesday was, that the extended and enlarged relief would be granted, but it was hoped another day's delay would cause the three or four more cautious and apprehensive Directors to concur in a vote in favor of the measure. A resolution was accordingly passed that the Board should meet again at eleven o'clock on Thursday.

"The Board did meet at eleven o'clock on Thursday, pursuant to the agreement to convene the general body; Thursday also being the day appointed for the meeting of the Board according to routine. The course proposed to be taken being still full of entanglement, fearful responsibility, and additional danger, unanimity in the determination to afford the requisite relief could not be speedily attained. After deliberating on the matter for some time, a deputation was appointed to proceed to Downing-street, for the advice and contingent co-operation of the Government. These Gentlemen left the city about twelve o'clock, the meeting of the Board having been adjourned to two o'clock, at which hour it was expected the views and intentions of the Government on this weighty subject would be made known to the general body of Directors.

"The Deputation did not return to the Bank from the Treasury until three o'clock instead of two, and the Board continued in deliberation from that hour till the close of business on Thursday. This was the state of things, be it remembered, five days after the Directors of the Bank of England had concluded that all had been settled for the support of the houses up to the 1st of January, 1838, and after they had acted on that conclusion, by making large advances on Friday and Saturday, the 26th and 27th of May, to a firm already prodigiously in their debt beyond the sum guaranteed by third parties.

"We have brought the narrative down to the termination of banking business on Thursday. But the Directors remained in consultation long after, even till between eight and nine o'clock; and the unfavourable result of their deliberations was then made known.

"It is generally understood among the best informed persons that the Bank has advanced to the three London firms an amount in cash amounting to four millions sterling. The remittances—such as have up to this instant been received—will probably go in reduction of this large sum. In the single case of Messrs. T. Wilson & Co. we understand that the advances over and above discounts for bills received in the ordinary course of business are,

On guarantee about £500,000
On open balance, without other security than that of the firm, nearly the same £500,000 and that, besides this sum of about one million sterling, the Directors on the present passing occasion was called upon to advance a further amount of about £1,250,000, which this single firm has still outstanding against it.

"In the other two cases, it is represented that Messrs. T. Wiggins & Company would require about £700,000, and Messrs. G. Wild & Company about £600,000 to enable them to discharge all their existing liabilities up to the 1st of January 1838. The engagements of the firm in Liverpool alluded to in the above extract must still be heavy; but their individual wealth is great, and their American resources are abundant and acknowledged to be substantial; in this case there can be no apprehension of loss.

(From the Banker's Circular, June 26.)

THE BANK OF ENGLAND AND THE GREAT SUSPENDED AMERICAN HOUSES.

The knowledge which the Editor of the Bankers' Circular has not only of what transpires in the Bank Parlour, but of what is likely to transpire before it does take place, is abundantly shown by a comparison of what the Circular stated last week, and what has actually transpired during the past week; speaking on this topic, the Circular says:—

"It is now evident that we had good grounds for asserting in a postscript which we sent off by post on Monday the 12th inst. 'that it (viz. the altered feeling of the Bank-parlour) may be expected to lead to some decision on the part of the Bank which will have the effect of relieving incalculably the holders of American bills, which are now not negotiable. The confirmation of this will be found in the resolution which the Directors yesterday formed, and which is very clearly set forth in the following communication from the "Morning Post," which was no doubt furnished to that paper by some one of the functionaries of the Bank itself.

"At the weekly meeting of the Bank Directors held today the affairs of the American houses who have lately found themselves under the necessity of suspending payment were again brought under consideration, with a view, we understand, to the relief of parties holding their acceptances in the manufacturing districts and to that, indeed, of the bill-holders generally. Since the stoppage of the firms in question and opportunity has been afforded the Bank Directors of going into a more minute and elaborate investigation of their accounts than they were able to do in the first instance and the result, we are glad to learn, has proved highly satisfactory. The claims of the several establishments upon their correspondents in the United States are, as the public have been already informed, very considerable, and much will depend upon the manners in which these claims are met; but seeing little cause for apprehension upon this point, and as there appears to be no rational ground for doubt with respect to the ultimate resources and solvency of the former, the Directors have come to a determination of great importance to the mercantile community, and one which can hardly fail, we think, to give very general satisfaction. At the meeting held this day they authorized the Governors to make advances on loan for a period not exceeding three months to applicants of adequate responsibility or upon approved security for the reimbursement of the same, of the amount of the overdue acceptances of the respective firms who have suspended payment, but who are entrusted with the winding up of their own affairs, as well as upon accepted bills not yet due, drawn on the same parties, and also upon similar accepted bills overdue taken up for honour. This arrangement will give time for the transmission of the amount of such bills from the United States, and, as it will be a means of preventing the return of a vast mass of paper to various parts of the world, including India and China, it is not in this kingdom alone that it will be felt as a very great benefit and accommodation. The considerate conduct of the Bank Directors will, we are very sure, be equally appreciated in the United States, and in every country, in fact, to which our commercial intercourse extends; and we shall be disappointed if, in the end, it is not found that the example of liberality set by them has some effect upon the American Executive, deaf as it has hitherto shown itself to be to the just remonstrances of the commercial population of the republic.

"We learn that a gentleman named Dixwell, who came passenger in one of the packets lately arrived from the United States has to-day had an interview with the Bank Directors, as the representative of the leading merchants at Boston, the purpose of his visit to England being to assure them of the great anxiety of that community to square accounts with their creditors here the moment that the American Money-market shall have become sufficiently settled to enable them to do so. The proceedings of the Boston merchants on this occasion do them much honour, and they may be at all events taken as an earnest of their good intentions. The communications made by Mr. Dixwell have accordingly had a favourable aspect.

"The gentlemen mentioned above is come to this country not only for public objects to represent the condition and disposition of the merchants of the United States, but also to protect the bills drawn by him on T. Wigg & Co.; and has opened an account with an eminent banking house, paying in a large sum of money, for that purpose.

"The operation of this measure of the Bank will be salutary in various ways. It will save many of the protested bills from being returned to the United States to spread embarrassment in all the channels which they have passed through in coming to maturity; and it will remove all pretext for withholding remittances due to the suspended firms. At present parties indebted to those may not unreasonably say, that they should consider it dangerous to transmit bills, cash, or produce, not knowing precisely what proportion of the bills they have drawn has been paid. Whether this be a valid reason for keeping remittances or not, it is unquestionably used as a plea to excuse them from doing their duty punctually at once. It will now be manifest that the Bank of England is, or must soon, become the principal holder of such bills, and danger in making remittances to that corporation cannot be led.

In reference to the ability and disposition of the United States merchants to pay their debts, the Circular writes as follows:—

"From various quarters we receive satisfactory evidence of the energy and determination of the Americans to discharge their debts in Europe with all practicable promptitude. Large remittances have been received by the house of Welles and Co. of Paris; and produce has been sent to Hamburg, Rotterdam and Havre, the proceeds of which are to go in liquidation of the balances due to firms in England. Under the present interruption of confidence, some of the United States' merchants are preparing to send confidential members of their families to England with the means of discharging their debts. The severe contraction which the American Banks must have put into practice, if they had continued to struggle to pay in gold and silver would have impeded the operation of this salutary principle of mercantile honour, and it might perhaps, in many of the indebted merchants, for a time have annihilated it. The Banks would not put on this severe screw, but preferred rather to forfeit their own charters; and we are satisfied that that determination may fairly be attributed the revival of energy and activity as manifested by their exertions to pay their debts on the part of the merchants of the United States. We are glad to see this spirit met by one of the same character—however distant from perfect analogy it may be—as exhibited in the foregoing measure of the Directors of the Bank of England.

"We believe that a sum about equal to £200,000 in specie has been received from the United States within the last fortnight; and it is calculated that now that the Banks have suspended specie payments, about a million sterling in all may be expected from that country. If the Banks had not suspended, we should not have received one-fifth part of this sum, and a great proportion of the debt due from the United States to England would have been placed in the greatest jeopardy. A considerable sum in gold has also been received from Russia, and it is almost certain that £600,000 in all will be received from that country. These circumstances place the Bank Directors in a state of comparative ease, and serve partly to explain their liberality in the case of James and Wilm. Brown & Co., and in that above cited. If these arrivals had come a month earlier, and the Bank Directors had been as well informed concerning the responsibility of the merchants of the United States indebted to the suspended firms as they are now, they would not have been allowed to stop. Those firms are, by circulars and other means, showing their determination to protect the interests of bill-holders as much as lies in their power.

The Circular entertains a more favourable opinion of the present commercial convulsion in the United States, than many other people, and it states at considerable length its reasons for that favourable opinion. They stand as follows:

"In the American trade the manufacturers of Britain have two classes of debtors for the products of their industry. The first consists of the merchant-bankers whom recent circumstances have brought so prominently forward into public view, with some score of subordinate firms who never pushed their credit to such extravagant lengths; and the second class consists of all who supply the consumers from their stores in the interior as well as in the Atlantic cities. For the purpose of carrying on this latter branch of the trade, agents or servants of British manufacturers are appointed to live in some of the sea-ports, where the goods are first landed, and they break bulk, assort, and distribute the goods to all parts of the country where their connexions lie. Looking at these two kinds of business respectively, it will be found, we believe, that eight-tenths of the trade of British manufactures is carried on by the first class, the merchant-bankers, and not more than two-tenths by the other. This change in the nature of the trade has been brought about principally within the last fifteen years: during the war with France, and, with the exception of the short period of the last war with the United States, almost the whole of the trade was conducted by consignments or by means of agents or partners established in the American cities.

"We have on former occasions explained the advantages of this change in the trade to the manufacturers of England. Supposing the merchant-bankers whose credit was brought into extensive operation to carry the trade in British manufactures, to be free from risk, and, excepting at a crisis like the present, they have been proved to be so, not a single eminent firm having failed for upwards of ten years, the change was from a trade of great hazard, uncertainty, and perplexity, to one of perfect safety and regularity. And by the nature of its arrangement and the knowledge, experience, and property brought to its support, it had great advantages over the consignment-system, and also over the system of agency, which brought the British Manufactures into direct contact with the Store-keepers who sold the goods to the consumers. The importers of British manufactures, resident in the great towns of the American republic, who used the credit of the merchant-bankers of the London and Liverpool to facilitate their operations, are, generally speaking, prosperous men of capital and resources. This constitutes the strong ground of that confidence in their available assets which all the suspended firms express when speaking of the issue of their affairs. And every thing that transpires relating to those affairs tends to show that it is a well-founded confidence. Several of their correspondents who were indebted to those firms, sums amounting to £20,000 £30,000, £40,000 respectively, have already provided for the discharge of their debts by shipping goods to Hamburg, Holland, and France sufficient to balance the accounts: others have procured an adequate supply of gold and silver, principally silver, for the same object. All the circumstances that come to our knowledge are calculated to have the effect of convincing us that the English creditors of the suspended firms would not, under any circumstances, be likely ultimately to sustain much loss. The embarrassment and inconvenience consequent on their suspension of payments cannot fail to be a great evil, but as to positive defalcation on the final winding-up of their affairs, we cannot at present discover any just reason for concluding that that will be a matter of serious consideration.

THE WIRE WORM.—A correspondent of the Lincoln Gazette recommends the use of white mercury as a protection against the devastations of the grub and wire-worm, and gives an instance of a large crop of oats having been saved by about 8lbs. being scattered over the field, which would otherwise have fallen a sacrifice to these destructive insects.

A NEW ARTICLE OF MANUFACTURE.

On Thursday evening a new article of manufacture was produced at a discussion in the Gallery of Practical Science, Lowther Arcade, Strand. This novelty is the fibre of the Pine Apple Leaf, several large samples of which were produced. This fibre is stronger than that of either Flax, Hemp, or Cotton, as was demonstrated satisfactorily at the discussion. It will take any color, several samples of which fibre dyed red, green, yellow, and blue where shown: Flax and Hemp will not take color. In the hand, a hank of this fibre feels very much like that of a hank of fine Hemp. It is easily got from the leaf of the Pine Apple, the only part of that plant from which it has at present been obtained; and the party who had thus obtained it stated, that it could be brought into this country from the West Indies exclusive of all Government charges here and there, for four pence per pound. A letter was read from an eminent Spinner in Norfolk, stating that the fibre was capable of being spun into very good thread, and wove into excellent cloth. The party who produced the fibre and exhibited it, stated, that a ton of it might be obtained from 2½ acres of the Pine Apple plant. The fruit of the plant sustained no injury from the taking away of the fibre. It was stated that the Pine Apple would grow in most of the British Possessions; but that the West Indies was the place to which the cultivation might be more immediately looked for. It was said that the negroes as they became free would cease the cultivation of the Sugar Cane, to which they had a dislike, and would take to that of the Pine Apple to which they were attached. We recommend this fibre to the attention of all our manufacturers.—June 13.

GROWING CENTRALIZATION.—From an advertisement inserted in the Edinburgh papers, we observe that the Birmingham and Liverpool Railway, via Manchester, is to be opened on the 4th of next month. The posting distance is ninety-seven miles, but as engineers have to step aside to find levels, it may be a good deal more by what, for brevity's sake, is called the rail; and, whether it be longer or shorter, the drive is to be completed in four hours and a half. The opening of the Grand Junction Railway will follow, we suppose, in May next, and then the "great metropolis" will be brought within ten hours' distance of the second port in the British empire. By means of this great improvement, and the numerous tributary rails which will hereafter be drawn into it, as streams are drawn into rivers, the expense of transit, whether for goods or passengers, will be greatly cheapened: the proposed fares in the first-class trains are considerably under 3d. per mile; in the second, under 2d.; and in the course of a few years increase of business in all probability will enable gentlefolks to ride at the rate of 2d., and common at 1d. per mile, which in the case of the latter will be little more than the shoes they would wear in walking the same distance. Four-seated mail coaches are to form part of the trains, berths in which are to be charged £1 5s.; in close common carriages a guinea is the sum, and in open ditto 14s., which on railways means outside fare. But as all these vehicles are in use already, the principal novelty in the extended line is what are called bed carriages, in which invalids, for an additional 15s., may repose as softly as in a downy couch at home. As the trains at both ends of the line are not to start earlier than half past six A.M., few healthy persons will go to bed, particularly in summer; but when the whole works in progress are completed, there are many who will avail themselves of such an opportunity. And truly it will be something new under the sun for a traveller to draw on his night-cap in Liverpool, retire to rest, and in nine or ten hours thereafter re-open his eyes to the light of day, within hearing of the bells of St. Paul's. An American merchant, on landing from one of the fast-sailing packets, will then be able to step into a railway carriage, and in half a month from the time he left New York address a letter to his partner in life or business, dated from the great city of London. When Napoleon's travelling carriage was in this country, thousands paid a shilling to see it; but what were its refectory and dormitory conveniences compared to sleeping berths on rail-roads, that vibrate not nor shake, while moving with the velocity of the wind itself; Steam, by means of this contrivance, has laid the world under new obligations, and, as regards the luxury of their travelling accommodations, placed plebeians on a level with kings, emperors, and conquerors—yea, the very greatest of the great.—Dumfries Courier.

TRAINING.—"An interesting anecdote was recently told by Admiral Codrington at a public meeting at Exeter-hall. The gallant admiral said, that in a conversation he had not long since with the Duchess of Kent, he took the liberty of expressing his surprise that so much of her time should be passed on the sea-coast, and that she should so frequently be making excursions in yachts, while it was generally understood that marine objects and amusements were distasteful to her. The Duchess, in her reply, admitted that such employments were not altogether congenial to her taste, but that she endeavoured to conquer her natural repugnance for the sake of the princess, whose future prospects made it highly desirable that she should acquire some general knowledge of the nature and importance of the shipping interest to the commercial greatness of England."—Times.

"Order and discipline," saith Machiavelli, "are more available in war than valour or force." At the siege of Oczakow a picket, advancing to occupy a post, were informed that it was seized by the Turks, and if they did not retreat, they would encounter certain death. "Prince Dolgorouki must answer that," said one of the soldiers. Not a man returned. United Service Journal.

Observance of the Lord's Day.

AT the Quarterly Meeting of the Kirk Session and Deacons of the Scottish Church in Cape Town, held this day in St. Andrew's Church, it was (inter alia)

RESOLVED,

1. That this Meeting acknowledges with thankfulness to Almighty God, the benefit conferred on the Christian Community of this Colony, by the Enactments of the Ordinance for the better observance of the Sabbath, passed by His Excellency the Governor and the Honorable the Legislative Council of this Colony, on the 23d August last; and desires to express its conviction, that the provisions therein contained against unnecessary Work, Public Gambling, Riotous Pastimes, and such like, constituting offences against the Law of God, will, under Providence, materially tend to the stability and increase of Peace, Prosperity, and Religion in this Land.

2. That this Meeting has found, with great surprise and regret, that a Memorial, or Petition, condemning the Provisions of this Ordinance, and praying for its repeal, has been proposed, published, and signed by certain Persons in this Town; and that the said Memorial contains statements opposed to the truth of Revelation and of History, and to the doctrinal Standards of this Church and of other Christian Churches.

3. That this Meeting seeks affectionately to warn all Persons in communion with this Church, that it considers the signing of the above mentioned Memorial as being equivalent to a Public Profession of Infidelity, lowerer unintentionally this may have occurred in individual instances, and would earnestly and tenderly exhort all Christians to refuse, in any way, to countenance the same, and to withdraw their Names from it, if their Signatures have been unwittingly, and in ignorance of its character, attached thereto.

4. That an Address to Her Majesty the Queen be prepared, in conformity with the Resolutions, and offered for Signature to the Congregation of this Church and other Christians in this place.

St. Andrew's Church,

W. TOMPSON,

Agent to the Anti Dri-Rot Company,

TAKES this opportunity of announcing to the Public, that he has now hired Premises at the upper end of Strand-street, the Property of the Joint Stock Company, and that a Tank is now in forward preparation, for carrying into operation KYAN'S PATENT, for seasoning Timber of every description, and preventing any kind of Rot; also of Canvas, Cordage, Ropes, &c., from Mildew. That W. T. will be ready to commence his Process toward the latter end of next month.

Timber, Canvas, Cordage, &c, can be received immediately and placed in his dry Store on the Spot, until such time, as according to the rotation of delivery, the saturation can be effected; those who wish to avail themselves of the benefit of this truly valuable discovery, will do well to apply to the Agent, No. 14, Burg-street, at their early convenience, as many applications have been already made.

It is found that Timber cut down while in an active state of vegetation, with the leaf blowing, becomes by the application of Kyan's Invention, immediately fit for use.

So much has been already notified on this interesting subject, and such incontrovertible testimony of the efficacy, and inestimable advantages to be derived from the use of this most valuable discovery, that any further comment would be superfluous.

Extracts from Sir R. SMIRKE'S Evidence, before the Select Committee on Timber Duty, will be found adequate to establish the fact, viz;

Do you know Kyan's Patent?—Yes, I do.

What is your opinion of this Patent?—I think it extremely valuable.

Supposing it were applied to the yellow Canadian Timber would it render it equally fit for the purposes to which you now usually apply Baltic timber?—I applied it to YELLOW CANADIAN PINE, about three years ago, and exposed that wood to the severest tests I could apply, and it remains unimpaired, when any other timber (oak or Baltic wood) would certainly have decayed if exposed to the same trial, and not prepared in the same manner.

Have the goodness to state to what trial you subjected it.—I took a certain number of pieces of wood, cut from the same log of YELLOW PINE, from POPLAR, and from SCOTCH FIR; these pieces I placed first in a cesspool, into which the waters of the common sewers discharged themselves; they remained there six months; they were removed from thence, and placed in a hotbed of compost, under a garden frame, they remained there a second six months; they were afterwards put into a flower border, placed half out of the ground, and I gave my gardener directions to water them whenever he watered the flowers; they remained there a similar period of six months. I put them afterwards into a cellar where there was some dampness, and the air completely excluded; they remained there a fourth period of six months, and were afterwards put into a very wet cellar. Those pieces of wood which underwent Kyan's Process are in the same state as when I first had them, and all the others to which the Process had not been applied are more or less rotten, and the Poplar is wholly destroyed.

This preparation of Mr. Kyan's resists all rot;—"I CANNOT ROT IT,"—added Sir Robert Smirke.

It is extending its beneficial advantages in every part of England; upwards of a hundred Noblemen and Gentlemen have taken out Licences to season Timber on their own Estates; and Agents have been appointed at more than one hundred and fifty principal Towns in Great Britain.

N.B. A small House, and a good sized Store adjoining, to be let, with immediate Possession, very suitable for a steady Carpenter or Cooper. Application to be made to the Undersigned.

Rent of House, Rds. 30 per month.

Do. Store, „ 15 per month.

W. TOMPSON.

LUNAR ECLIPSE of Friday, October 13th.

THERE will be a total Eclipse of the Moon this night, and as we wish to excite young minds to contemplate the simplicity of the laws by which these phenomena are regulated, we will shortly explain the circumstances:—The Earth intercepts a portion of the Sun's light proportionate to the relative magnitudes of the Sun and Earth. The consequence is that the Earth projects a conical shadow in the Heavens, the Apex, or end of which, describes a circle in the plane of the Eclipse moving with the velocity of the Earth round the Sun.

The shadow is circular, because the Earth is round, and it is conical, because the Sun is larger than the Earth.

If a boy's playing-marble suspended by a thread is carried round the flame of a candle, it will throw a shadow in the same manner, and if a marble is less than the flame of the candle, the shadow will be in the form of a cone, broad near the marble and tapering off towards the end. As the marble is moved to or from the candle, the shadow will be lengthened or shortened.

The length of the Earth's shadow is much greater than the distance of the Moon from the Earth. If the Moon's path round the Earth was in the plane of the Eclipse the moon must pass through the shadow at every full Moon, because at the full Moon the Sun, Earth and Moon, are in a direct line. But the Earth's orbit being inclined to the Eclipse, the Moon is generally above the shadow or below it. When the Moon is in or near to the Eclipse at the time of full Moon, she will pass through the center of the shadow or through part of it, and will be totally or partially eclipsed, or shaded from our view. Thus an Eclipse of the Moon is the passage of the Moon through the Earth's shadow, and shows that the Moon derives its light from the Sun.

The commencement and termination of a Lunar Eclipse cannot be accurately noted like an Eclipse of the Sun or of a fixed Star, for the shadow is surrounded by a penumbra or twilight, produced by the passage of the Sun's rays through our atmosphere. The Moon's limb penetrates the penumbra almost imperceptibly, becoming darker in its progress; hence Lunar Eclipses are of little use in settling the Longitudes of places.

The progress of the Eclipse of Friday will be as follows:

	Cape Mean Time.
First contact with penumbra,	9h. 46m.
First contact with dark shadow,	10 44
First total immersion in dark shadow,	11 45
Middle of Eclipse,	12 31
Last total immersion in dark shadow,	13 16
Last contact with dark shadow	14 17

See SUPPLEMENT.

(Aan den Redakteur van de "Gouvernements Courant en Handels Lyst.")

Mynheer,—Misschien kunt gy plaats vinden voor het volgende:—Het doet my leed te zien dat ik maar weinig mede schryvers heb over Landbouwkundige Onderwerpen in de "Gouvernements Courant en Handels Lyst." Zekerlyk is dezelve het beste middel voor narigten van dien aard,—omdat dezelve wordt gelezen door iederen Veldkornet en d. zelfs adjunct—ten minste, en omdat dezelve politieke twisten uitsluit. Ik geloof dat een kort artikel nu en dan over de goedkoopste middelen om water op te brengen uit Rivieren of Putten, met veel belangstelling zouden worden gelezen—alsmede uittreksels uit de Engelsche Landbouwkundige Journalen, met verstand uitgezocht en toepasselyk op deze Kolonie. Ik ben, enz., F. W. R.

WOL.

Het is van aanbelang op den tegenwoordigen tyd, nu de Papieren melden dat Wol 50 percent is gedaald op de markt in het moederland, niet alleen de aandacht te leiden op de bloote daadzaak, maar eenige verklaringen te geven welke de strekking kunnen tegenwerken welke zulk eene tyding kan hebben om onze Wolteelers te ontmoedigen.

In andere landen waar de om middelen algemeen narigt te bekomen meer verkrygbaar zyn, zou zulk eenen gang misschien onnoodig worden geoordeeld; maar onder onze Koloniale Landbouwers in het algemeen, brengt onkunde aan de Oorzaken welke eene daling in den prys van zekere artikelen doen ontstaan, dikwyls noodlottige gevolgen te weeg. Indien men de moeite wil nemen om de "GOVERNEMENTS COURANT EN HANDELS LYST," te lezen, zal men zien dat er eene storenis en temporaire verachtering in den handel in het algemeen is. Ik vrees niet dat de yver van Engelsche Settlers en anderen die groote kapitalen hebben gestoken in Merino Schapen, zal verminderen; maar voor den Kolonialen Veeboer, die begonnen is zyne schapen te verbeteren, of die beginnen wil zuivere rammen te koopen; die zich verbeeldt dat, om dat Wyn en Aloe eene duur zyn geweest, en nu goedkoop blyven;—daarom de Wol ook goedkoop zal blyven;—dezenken moet ik geduld en volharding aanbevelen. Er is geene reden om stil te staan in de voortgang van verbetering. De volgende uittreksels uit twee Engelsche Papieren, de "Morning Herald" en de "Carlisle Patriot," van July II., zullen toonen dat de daling der pryzen krachtiger werkt in Duitschland dan in deze Kolonie; en indien zulk een staat van de markt aldaar eenigen tyd bleef duren, zou het gevolg wezen, zoo als ik dikwyls heb gezegd, dat de Deutsche Landbouwers genoodzaakt zouden zyn het teelen van Wol als een artikel van uitvoer op te geven. Indien de tegenwoordige pryzen nog eenige jaren moeten duren, zouden zy genoodzaakt zyn hunne aandacht te vestigen op rassen van grooter gestalte en grover Wol; en de groote jaarlyksche toevvoer van het vasteland van de Engelsche markt zynde getrokken, zou er duidelyk eene reactie moeten plaats hebben ten voordeele van de Kolonien, want N. S. Wales en de Kaap zouden de eenige plaatsen zyn die het beleg konden doorstaan.

Ik raad myne mede Wolteelers aan zich niet te laten ontmoedigen. Indien men geld heeft kan men het nergens beter in steken dan in oprexe Schapen; er is alle reden te verwachten dat de pryzen spoedig zullen ryzen. "Wanneer de zaken op het ergst zyn moeten dezelve zeker beteren." Ga voort en koop goede Schapen. Men heeft berekend dat men in 12 jaren van 100 gemeene Ooyen, rekenende dat ieder Ooi jaarlyks een lam voortbrengt, slechts eene Ooi zal hebben van de zesde kruising, en dat is nog ver van zuiver, koop dan met eens goede Schapen, schoon de prys u in het eerst duur moge "Die niet waagt, die niet wint."

Ik zal besluiten met die uittreksels waarvan gesproken is.

De Saksische Wol Handel,—Leipsich, 2 Juny,—Onze Courant bevat het volgende bericht, gedateerd 30 Mei, van den Minister van Finantien, berigtende de Wolteelers in Sakse, dat ten einde de gevolge van de tegenwoordige crisis te gemoet te komen, de tresorie hen geld zal voorschieten op zes maanden, tegen 3 per cent interest, onder securiteit van de Wol, welke zal worden opgeslagen in ruime magazynen tot dat einde voorzien. Zy kunnen inmiddels het geheel of een deel van de Wol verkoopen, en dezelve uit de magazynen nemen, mits betalende de geleende som met de interest tot op dien tyd, pakhuishuur en assurantie tegen brand. Een magazyn is geopend te Dresden en een ander zal worden geopend te Leipsich. Deze maatregel zal een groot voordeel zyn voor de kooplieden van die twee steden, en het Gouvernement heeft aanspraak op publieke dankbaarheid, want het geld aan gebrek is groot, en zon tot zware rampen kunnen lyden.—Journal de Francfort, 5 Juny.

"Brieven van Dresden van den 14 Juny, melden dat de jaarlyksche Wol Markt aldaar zeer slecht is afgelopen, zynde de Wol vruchteloos aangeboden tegen 25 per cent beneden de pryzen welke in het afgelopen jaar geredelyk zyn gegeven. De voornaamste koopers waren Engelsche Fabrikanten en inlandsche weevers, zynde er zeer weinig Hollanders en andere vreemdelingen tegenwoordig." F. W. R.

CAPE WOOL.

At the suggestion of a mercantile friend, a member of the house of Messrs. DICKSON, BURNIES and Co., we give the extensive currency of this publication for the purpose of diffusing, among our Wool-growers, a knowledge of the valuable information contained in the following communication, from a highly respectable Wool-broker in London. We would take this occasion to impress upon all Cape Sheep-farmers, the absolute indispensability of giving earnest attention to the WASHING of their Fleeces before clipping them Unwashed, or but partially washed Wool, had better not be sent to the London market—it not only results in loss, but does much mischief to the general character of our Wools in the estimation of European buyers. Field Cornets and all our intelligent readers are requested to make this important fact widely known:—

London, 28th June 1837.

Messrs. W. & J. BURNIE, GENTLEMEN,—You will find annexed a list of Prices of the first Public Sales of Wool which have taken place this season—they commenced on the 14th and ended the 16th instant; and we regret to add, that in consequence of the present depressed state of commerce, the Wool did not realize but little more than 50 per Cent. of the prices which similar Wool obtained in the Public Sale of July last. It will naturally be imagined, that this extraordinary depreciation in prices must have proceeded from various causes. In the first place, the commercial difficulties which have so long prevailed in this country, has naturally caused a vast quantity of Yarn to accumulate—in so much, that the spinners, who on former occasions were generally the most spirited bidders for Wool at public sales, were, on the present occasion, merely lookers-on, and not buyers to any extent. To which we may further add, that the sales having taken place so early in the season, at a period too when the result of the German Wool Fairs were not ascertained, (and consequently those interested therein were uninformed, either of the Prices there given, or the extent of their own engagements) these united causes, we conceive, did operate to the disadvantage of the sales. We therefore cherish the hope, that greater spirit and animation will be manifested at the ensuing sales next month—in which opinion we are further encouraged, from having learnt that at the Fairs in Germany, Wool has only fallen 20 to 25 per cent. under last year's prices. It is true, large sums of money have been advanced by the See Handlung Society, either for the purchase of Wool, or in advance to the Flock-master in Germany, which will cause the Wool to be kept out of the English market for some months. In the mean time we flatter ourselves, that the sales which will take place the ensuing months will prove more satisfactory than those recently concluded. We further beg to direct the attention of the Flock-masters in general towards the improvement of the condition of their Wool intended for the British market. If they continue the practice of sending it unwashed and in bad condition, unsatisfactory low prices must necessarily be the result.

To the Flock-masters of Southern Africa, more especially, we beg to call their attention to the improvement of their breed of Sheep, and also to the imperfect condition of their Wool. It appears that they still retain in their Flocks a class of Sheep which produce what is technically called Dead, or Stich Hairs, that very materially deteriorates and lessens the value of the Wool. Such Sheep should be expelled from their Flocks: and every Ram which produces such Wool ought not to be retained by those who aim at raising a valuable description of fine Wool. That the Southern African Flock-masters have numerous difficulties to encounter we are well aware, and that they may be overcome by due attention may be seen in the Wool produced from the Flocks of Messrs. BREDA and RAITZ, which are not only fine in quality, but generally in high condition, and therefore worthy of imitation.

Some of the Flocks in the vicinity of Graham's Town are also well prepared, and the Wool of good quality. We again repeat, that condition of Wool constitutes an essential part of the duties which devolves on a Flock-master; and those who indulge the laudable ambition of raising Wool to perfection, would do well to consign the produce of their Flocks direct to the English market, in order that its defects may be pointed out, and such observations made thereon as would probably lead to a speedy improvement.

We are, Gentlemen, Your obedient Servants,
23, Coleman-street. THOS. SOUTHEY & SON.

(To the Editor of the "Cape Gazette & Trade List.")

Sir,—Perhaps you may find room for the following:—I am sorry to find I have but few fellow scribes on Agricultural subjects in the "Government Gazette and Trade List." Certainly it is the best vehicle for information of that kind,—because read by every Field Cornet and his deputy—at any rate, and because it excludes political controversy. I think that a short article, every now and then, on the cheapest modes of raising Water out of Wells and Rivers, would be read with great interest—as also extracts from the English Agricultural Periodicals, judiciously selected, as applicable to this Colony. Your's truly, F. W. R.

WOOL.

It is important at this time, when the public Papers announce that Wool has fallen fifty per cent. in the home market, not alone to lead public attention to the mere fact, but to give some explanations to make some comments, which may counteract the tendency of such startling intelligence to damp the ardour of Wool-growers.

In other countries, where the means of obtaining general information are more accessible, such a course might perhaps be deemed unnecessary; but amongst our Colonial Agriculturists in general, ignorance of the Causes which produce a fall in certain articles of produce often gives rise to fatal effects. If people will take the trouble to read the "GOVERNMENT GAZETTE AND TRADE LIST," they will perceive, that there is a disturbance and temporary depression in trade generally. I am not afraid that the zeal of English Settlers and others, who have embarked or are embarking capital largely in Merino Sheep, will be abated; but to the Colonial Cattle Farmer, who has commenced improving his sheep or who is about to commence purchasing well bred animals, who is ignorant of the present state of the money market in Europe; who fancies that because Wine and Aloes were once dear, and now remain cheap;—that therefore Wool will also remain cheap;—to such I would recommend patience and perseverance. There is no cause for a halt in the march of improvement. The following extracts from two English papers, the "Morning Herald" and "Carlisle Patriot," of July last, will show that the fall in prices operates more powerfully in Germany than in this Colony; and if such a state of the market there were to continue for any length of time, the consequence would be, as I have frequently said; that the German Agriculturists would be forced to give up raising Wool as an article of export. If the present prices were to be maintained for a very few years, they could not do otherwise than turn their attention to breeds of larger size and coarser Wool; and the large annual supply from the continent being withdrawn from the English market, a reaction must evidently take place in favour of the Colonies,—for N. S. Wales, and the Cape would be the only places, capable of standing the siege.

I strongly recommend my fellow Wool-growers not to be despirited. If you have money, you cannot invest it better than in well-bred Sheep; there is every reason to believe that prices will soon improve. "When things are at the worst, they are sure to mend." Go on improving and buy good Sheep. It has been calculated that, in 12 years, from 100 common Ewes—even if you allow that every Ewe rears a lamb each season,—you will only have one Ewe of the 6th cross, and that is often far from thorough-bred; therefore buy thorough-bred Sheep, if you can, though the prices may at first appear high. "Die niet waagt, die niet wint."

I shall conclude with the extracts spoken of:—

The Saxon Wool Trade.—Leipsic, June 2.—Our Gazette contains a notice from the Minister of Finance, dated the 30th of May, informing the Wool dealers in Saxony that, to alleviate the effects of the present pecuniary crisis, the treasury will advance money to them for six months, at 3 per cent. interest, on the security of the Wool, which is to be deposited in a spacious magazine provided for the purpose. They may sell in the mean time the whole or part of the Wool, and take it out of the warehouse on repaying the sum lent, the interest up to that time, the expenses of warehouse rent, and insurance against fire. One magazine is opened at Dresden, and there will be another at Leipsic. This measure will be a great benefit to the merchants of those two cities, and the government is justly entitled to public gratitude; for the pecuniary distress is great, and might lead to many disasters.—Journal de Francfort, June 5.

"The letters from Dresden of June 14th, mention that the annual Wool Fair held there, had passed off very badly, Wools having been vainly offered at 25 per cent. below the prices willingly paid last year. The chief buyers were English Manufacturers and native Loom Proprietors, very few Dutch or other foreigners being present."

F. W. R.

COMMERCIAL RETROSPECT, JULY 21.

On Monday last the Queen prorogued both Houses of Parliament until the 10th of next month; since then Parliament has been dissolved. It is lamentable to consider what very little business has been done during the long Session which has just closed. There has been abundance of talk, which has evaporated into empty air, whilst the waste paper of the House of Commons in particular must have been considerably increased by the great number of bills, which, after long and wordy discussions, have come to nothing. Sincerely is it to be hoped that the next Parliament will talk less and do more than that which has just terminated its unprofitable toil.

We have had no "CUSTOMS DUTIES BILL," this year, which we suppose is to be attributed to the state of the revenue. Into that indefinite receptacle, the next Session, a great number of measures have been postponed, and there are in it already a great number of notices of motions, which perhaps then will be forgotten. We allude to this state of things, because it has a most prejudicial effect on that exclusive source of the greatness and wealth of the country, its Commerce, by suspending the business of many departments, owing to the uncertainty which prevails, and also by precluding the introduction of measures which have a direct bearing on its interest, owing to the time of the legislature being occupied with other matters.

The approaching elections have a considerable effect on the extent of business transacted in both our monetary and mercantile markets. These elections occupy attention, and require on the part of many individuals considerable efforts. The consequence is that business receives but a partial attention, and transactions necessarily become very confined. The prevailing trait in the Money market has during the past week been that of great quiet. Money is not by any means so scarce as are the ways for its profitable employment.

The consequence of the effect of the low prices of Cotton in this country, produced by the state of the money market, has been, that in Bombay, Cotton has been sent to Canton in exchange for Tea, in preference to sending it here in the face of so bad a market.

We have accounts from Rio Janeiro to the 18th of May, from the Matanzas to the 14th of June, and from the Mauritius to the 14th of April, all of which state that commerce was very dull in those parts.

The latest accounts from Van Diemen's Land, say to the middle of March, state that their export of Wool will be very great this year.

Accounts from Jamaica to the 14th of June, Barbadoes to the 11th, and Trinidad to the 3rd, state that the season in all parts of the country was delightful—the rains abundant and refreshing—and the crops every where promising and in a state of great forwardness.

COTTON WOOL.—The market was quiet last week, and the only business privately was about 50 bales Upland at 7½d. per lb. in bond. The public sales on Friday comprised about 10900 bales of East India &c., about 1000 bales of which were withdrawn. The principal proportion of the above quantity consisted of Surat, the quality of which was generally low and mixed, but upon the whole the sales went off with animation, and very full prices, to ½d. per lb. advance on the previous market rates were obtained. The principal part of the quantity sold was taken by the exporters, with some parcels on speculation. The following are the particulars of the quantities sold, and the prices obtained:—for 5370 bales Surat, 4400 sold, ordinary to middling at 2½d to 3½d. middling fair to fair at 3½d. to 4½d. and good fair and good at 4½d. to 4½d.; of 4200 Madras, 2600 sold, ordinary to middling at 3½d. to 3½d. middling fair to fair at 5½d to 4½d., and good fair and good 4½d. to 4½d.; of 700 Bengal, 400 sold, ordinary at 3½d. and good at 4½d.; of 230 Manila, all sold, good fair and good 5½d. to 8½d.; of 400 Brazil, 170 sold, good Pernams at 9½d. per lb.

MAURITIUS SUGAR.—At a public sale of 6290 bags (a much better parcel than that of Tuesday last) rather more spirit was manifest in the biddings, and the decline which then took place was fully recovered; indeed some of the finest Sugars in the sale went even higher. Fine and very fine yellow sold at 60s. 6d. to 64s. 6d. low middling to good grey for the pan at 53s. 6d. to 59s. low and good middling grocery 54s. to 56s. 6d., good dry bright brown 54s. 6d., to 53s., and low heavy and low brown at 41s. to 46s. per cwt.

COFFEE.—The Market for all descriptions of British Plantation continues to wear a very firm appearance. The unclean and low ordinary sorts, as well as the better clean qualities have been in steady demand, by private contract, and small profits have been paid for parcels of middling and good middling purchased at recent public sales. Since our last there have been offered about 300 casks, 470 barrels and bags, principally Jamaica and Demerara, which latter descriptions were mostly unclean. Nearly the whole of this quantity found buyers at very full prices, and for the good colony sorts the grocers again paid a slight advance. Jamaica fine middling brought 120s. 6d.;—middling and good middling 102s. to 106s., fine and fine fine ordinary 81s. to 98s., Demerara mid 95s. to 97s., fine and fine fine ordinary 75s. to 85s., Berbice good and fine ordinary unclean 65s. 6d. to 76s. 6d., St. Lucia mid 100s. to 109s. 6d., and fine fine ordinary 85s. to 86s. per cwt. For Ceylon there has been a steady demand from the grocers, who have paid former prices for about 2000 bags, viz; 68s. to 69s. for good ordinary quality, being that portion of the recent large public sales which was bought in. Mocha is held firmly, and is not to be bought except at stiff prices; 207 bales were submitted to auction, when about 80 bales of good middling clean yellow fetched 73s. 6d. to 77s. the remainder was good fair greenish clean garbled, and was held for 84s. per cwt. All shipping qualities remain without demand, still the holders continue firm, and do not press sales of any kind. The demand for all descriptions of Foreign Coffee continues exceedingly dull, and confined only to trifling parcels for which the buyers are compelled to pay stiff prices, in consequence of the market still being kept very badly supplied: the only transactions to record are about 200 bags mixed good ordinary St. Domingo at 40s. per cwt.

COTTON, WOOL.—The advance established at public sale on Friday, is firmly maintained and there is a steady request, about 500 bags have been sold by private treaty, principally Surat and Madras.

SUGAR.—We had again a quiet market for British Plantation raw Sugar to-day, yet the importers appeared firm, and no visible reduction on last week's rates can be quoted in any description except Barbadoes, 146 hhds. of which sold at public sale at a decline of 1s. per cwt, and with much heaviness; low to fine yellow at 61s. to 61s. per cwt. The quantity sold, including the above public sale, is calculated at not more than 600 hhds. and tuns.

The stock of B. P. Sugar is 19,917 hhds. & tns. against 26,476 at the corresponding period of 1836 thus shewing a decrease of 6559 hhds. and tierces; the weekly deliveries are 2383 hhds and tierces, against 2284 at the same time last year, thus shewing an increase of 99.

MAURITIUS.—The late prices were firmly supported at the public sales, which comprized 5548 bags, a large proportion was however bought in; low brown sold at 48s., good bright brown to middling yellow at 53s. 6d. to 55s. and good middling and good grocery at 56s. 6d. to 60s. a large quantity of similar quality was bought in at 55s. 6d. to 59s. 6d. and low brown at 48s. 6d. per cwt.

The stock of Mauritius is 72,177 bags, against 59,432 at the same time last year, thus shewing an increase of 12,745 bags; the weekly deliveries are 4,801 bags, against 5,318 last year.—These returns include the East India Dock Company.

COFFEE.—The only public sales to day was that of 478 bags Ceylon admissible for home consumption at the low rate of duty; the prices obtained were from 62s. to 68s. 6d. for low ordinary to good ordinary musty, which are much about the same as the previous currency of the market. All other sorts are unaltered.

TEA.—The Tea sales commenced yesterday, and are proceeding with little animation: about 18,000 pkgs. have passed auction, of which rather more than one-third have found buyers: the quotations exhibit scarcely any variation upon those previously current. The importers have withdrawn a large proportion at very high prices, and evince no anxiety for effecting sales at the present rates.

INDIGO.—The sales concluded this morning. Yesterday and to-day there was little change in the prices from the former days, the biddings for the good and decided marks have been brisk, whilst the inferior and defective qualities have continued extremely heavy, and the proportion bought in consists chiefly of these sorts.

Madras and Kurpah went off very irregularly: the low and ordinary were chiefly bought in at 3d. to 6d. discount, whilst the small proportion of good and fine realized last sale's prices and in some instances even higher.

The quantity put up was 5567 chts. about 1600 chts. of which have been bought in, 2175 chts. withdrawn and the remainder (about 2800 chts.) has been chiefly bought for export, the home trade having purchased very sparingly.

MONEY MARKET, JULY 14.

STOCK EXCHANGE, FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

The issue of money consequent upon the payment of the Dividends has entirely relieved the pressure under which the market has for some time laboured.

BANKING, PAPER MONEY & CURRENCY.

ENGLISH BANKS, & UNITED STATES POLICY.

The Circular of this week goes into the solidity with which Banks generally, and the Bank of England in particular have stood the late storm; and then enters upon the effect which the policy of the United States cabinet will have on our future monetary condition.

"The Bill Brokers have at present plenty of money in their hands, and are anxious to see borrowing customers of the right stamp enter their offices; the Bank of England is at ease, and quite ready to grant any accommodation and afford any assistance that can reasonably be required, and the Bankers in general, both in London and the country, have no more pressure upon them, arising from the necessities of their customers, than they can sustain with perfect ease and satisfaction. These are the best elements of vitality and power on which we can confidently rely as the means of restoration to a sound and healthy condition for the enfeebled commercial and manufacturing portion of the community, when time and circumstances shall admit of their free and unobstructed action. It must be a matter of astonishment to every intelligent observer of mercantile affairs that these elements of strength and activity should have been preserved as they have been, almost intact, through such an ordeal of trial, danger, and suffering as the last nine months have exhibited. If at the commencement of that period, any man had predicted, that before its termination, four of the new Joint Stock Banks, with seventy branches, should be driven from the field by losses, and that the largest and best foreign trade of the country—that with the United States—should for a time be utterly annihilated by the stoppage of many eminent firms engaged in that trade, and that notwithstanding these disasters all the London Bankers, except one, and all the principal Bill Brokers should stand firm, and that no country Banks should fail to meet all their engagements, save two at Carlisle and the comparatively insignificant banks in the vicinity of London, the answer to such a prediction would have been the effect is altogether inadequate to the cause. Assuming that the disasters will be as great as the annihilation of so much American and Joint-Stock Bank credit indicates, the ravages amongst the private Banks and the great discount operators must be much more extensive. So much ruin cannot take place among the largest customers of those operators without producing more mischief than you predict.

"It is also a proper subject of congratulation to see, at the termination of such a period of distress and suffering, that the Bank of England has escaped without ruin and without being driven to suspend payments in cash. All who believe in the power and efficiency of that corporation to administer the currency of the country upon the present system must congratulate themselves at the present posture of affairs, for undoubtedly it affords demonstrative evidence of irresistible power of the Bank. It shows that when danger assails her position, she can paralyze the operations of Joint-Stock Banks, which are too much extended, and can for a season utterly destroy and annihilate the most prosperous foreign trade of the country, because its foundation is a dangerous excess of credit. The power of the Bank for good or for evil is therefore manifest and conspicuous; its rigorous exercise when danger threatens is terrible to the industrious and enterprising classes of the people; but the capability of the Bank to make all submit to her authority whose operations would interfere with the conduct of the Directors, is now placed beyond all question.

"Although Sir James Esdaile & Co. and one or two of the Bill brokers have been obliged to wind up their affairs, their creditors will, we believe be paid in full. And amongst the Bankers and Bill brokers most extensively connected with the suspended joint stock Banks and American Merchants there has been no failure. This is the state of that branch of the great money interest. And with the power of the Bank of England settled and confirmed, beyond dispute, with the Bankers and money-dealers in a remarkable state of efficiency, what can prevent that gradual return of confidence and prosperity which we all so much desire? Why should not the same consequences follow the late mercantile convulsion as those which succeeded the panic of 1825-6? We answer that we know of nothing likely to interrupt the slow and gradual restoration of confidence and active operations in the same manner as on the former occasion, except what may arise from the proceedings of the American Government; and we own that we looked with great solicitude to that quarter for evidence that no danger is to be apprehended from the policy of the American Executive concerning the great question of money.—It must be recollected that the Gold Act which passed the Congress upwards of two years ago, and the conduct of General Jackson and his Cabinet subsequent to its passage, constituted the main obstacles to the exercise of the customary banking functions of our own privileged banking corporation. But for this formidable impediment gold and silver would have been brought back more readily, and it would not then have been necessary to suspend the three eminent merchant-bankers of London, nor to have ruined such numbers of solvent firms in the United States, and caused all the banks of that country to stop paying in specie.—It is necessary therefore constantly to recollect that the proceedings of the American Government may, in future, most seriously affect the conduct of the Bank of England, and check and interrupt the return of confidence and the circulation of credit among the mercantile classes of this kingdom."

"Whatever may be the fluctuations in the Money Market," says Sir F. Head to the directors of the Bank of Upper Canada, "the commercial integrity of the British empire rests on the fixed immutable basis of faithfully liquidating, so long as it has power to do so, whatever it has promised to pay. The principle of monarchy is honour." And again—"The lieutenant-governor is of opinion that a suspension by banks of their cash payments with specie in their vaults, is equally in America, as it is elsewhere, inconsistent with commercial integrity, which, in plain terms, means a bank honestly liquidating, so long as it has power to do so, whatever it has promised to pay, on demand."—July 2.

Notices of Motions on Commercial and Monetary Matters which now stand in the Order Book of the House of Commons for the next session.

Amongst the different notices of motions for the next sessions, stand the following which come within the range of those matters which are usually adverted to in this paper—whether they will come on or not next sessions we cannot tell.

Dr. Bowring.—Repeal of the Usury Laws.

Dr. Bowring.—Committee of the whole House, for the purpose of removing the prohibitions on the importation of Foreign Cattle, Animal Food, and Fish, and for substituting fixed Duties in lieu thereof.

Dr. Bowring.—Resolutions, requiring that no department of Receipt shall stop Revenues in their progress to the Exchequer, and no department of Expenditure obtain funds except by issues from the Exchequer; and for bringing the whole amount of Income and Outlay under the control of Parliament.

Dr. Bowring.—that the Duties levied on British Goods by the now existing Tariffs of Foreign Nations, be laid on the Table of the House, and that a yearly report be made by the Government of any modifications such Tariffs may have undergone.

Dr. Bowring.—Bill for modifying that part of the Navigation Act which prohibits the importation of non-European produce from Ports in Europe.

Mr. Powell Buxton.—Motion for the Abolition of Slavery in the East Indies and Ceylon.

Captain Chedwyn.—Motion on the subject of Members of Parliament holding shares in Railways, and sitting on Committees on the Bills of such Railways.

Mr. Giffon.—Total abolition of the Soap Tax.

Mr. Hawkes.—Bill for the protection of the Manufacturers of Hardware, Irish Linens, Gloves, &c. &c. against foreign Importation of those articles, with a view of affording employment to our native artisans.

Colonel Sibthorp.—That it is the opinion of this House, that the Duty now chargeable on all Insurances against Fire, at the rate of 3s. per cent on each Policy, shall cease; and shall henceforward be at the rate of 1s. 6d. in lieu thereof, on all such Policies, being a reduction of one-half the former amount.

Mr. Wallace.—Select Committee, to inquire into the present rates of Postage, and especially to examine the improvements recommended, and the mode of charging Postage proposed, in a pamphlet by Mr. Rowland Hill, with a view to a general reduction of Postages.

Whether the office of Postmaster General might be dispensed with, and a Commission in lieu of it rendered unnecessary, by collecting the whole, or a large proportion of the Postage revenue under the direction of the Board of Stamps, thereby diminishing expense, increasing the revenue arising from Postage, and tending greatly to promote the best interests of the Nation.

Mr. Wallace.—Select Committee, to inquire in how far the Establishments of Excise and Customs, and the Laws as enforced under these Departments may be better regulated, on the principles contained in Reports laid before Parliament.—July, 15.

INDIA STEAM NAVIGATION.

Petition from the Merchants of Liverpool, praying for Steam Communication with India via the Red Sea.—(July.)

On Friday night a petition from the merchants of Liverpool was presented by Lord Sandon, one of the Liverpool representatives, praying government to facilitate the opening of a steam communication with India by way of the Red Sea. Steam communication between India and this country has been much agitated in India and considerable expense has been incurred there in presenting the matter to the public in a tangible shape. Different routes have been proposed, and without giving an opinion on which would be the most preferable, and which opinion would be worth nothing, except it were grounded on a thorough knowledge of every particular connected with the different proposed courses, what we are anxious to see carried into effect is the establishment of a steam communication between Great Britain and India by some one of these proposed routes. The world is familiar with the advantages of steam communication, and is, in many parts, enjoying those advantages. India is not a small place—nor is its connection with this country unimportant. There is water all the way between here and there; and it is surprising that this steam communication has occupied so little of the attention of the mercantile public of this country and of the government. The latter, indeed, appear to treat the matter with the greatest unconcern, and which can be accounted for only on the ground that they have so many matters before them which involve other matters, that create long discussions.

In a very able pamphlet, which we reviewed some short time ago, of Capt. Grindlay's on this subject, that able author presents this important subject in every form of which it admits, and urges its adoption by a variety of cogent arguments deduced from facts, which he states at length, on authorities that cannot be doubted. The practicability of the measure is shown—the amount of intercourse between Great Britain and India is also stated—the certainty of its answering is also demonstrated, as far as anything can be demonstrated which has not yet already an existence—the necessity of such a communication, and its great advantage to the government and the country at large, are also powerfully pointed out. In fact, that pamphlet contains as great a mass of information on the subject as could be collected, and the information is so valuable because it is authenticated. Our object in writing is, as a commercial publication, to keep this matter before the commercial public, to inform or remind them of its practicability and advantages, and so to operate by a frequent recurrence to the subject, in conjunction with other public prints, as to create and collect a public opinion on the subject that shall carry the project into execution. As the government do not take any interest in the matter, could it not be done without the government? Are there not men of wealth, intelligence, and enterprise in this country in these times of activity and advancement, who could form themselves into a company for the consummation of so desirable a matter as this? We ask the question, and leave the mercantile public to answer it.

OPENING OF THE GREAT RAILROAD.—The first journey on the London and Birmingham rail-road was made on Thursday, when the directors, accompanied by the engineer, the architect, and three of the non-resident directors from Liverpool, started from the station at Foston-Square, with a locomotive engine and a train of carriages, and proceeded to Boxmoor, near Hemel-Hempstead, being a distance of twenty-five miles from town. The tunnel under Primrose Hill, which is three quarters of a mile long, was passed through in a minute and fifty seconds, on departing from town; but on returning it was passed in a minute and a half. The train stopped at Watford in going and returning, and remained for half an hour at Boxmoor. In coming back, they travelled at the rate of thirty miles an hour, along a considerable portion of the line; so that little more than half an hour will be, we imagine, the time to go to Watford.—London Paper, July 8.

THE RED SEA.

(From the "Church of England Magazine.")

The Red Sea occupies a deep, rocky cavity, extending about one thousand one hundred and sixty miles in length, and its mean breadth may be taken at about one hundred and twenty. Strabo has compared its shape to that of a broad river; and it does not receive the waters of a single tributary stream. The name greatly puzzled the ancients, and has occasioned, in later times, a display of much superfluous learning to determine whether it was derived from the colour of the water, the reflection of the sand-banks and the neighbouring mountains, or the solar rays struggling through a dense atmosphere. These various conjectures are set at rest: both the air and water are unusually clear; the theory of King Erythrus is exploded; and the name is now admitted to be merely a Greek translation of the "sea of Edom," (a Hebrew word denoting Red,) so frequently mentioned by the sacred writers. Its surface is diversified with a number of islands; some of which, such as Koteble, and Gebel Tor, near Lobeiz, exhibit volcanic appearances. The western coast is bold, and has more depth of water than the eastern, where the coral rocks are gradually encroaching on their native element. These reefs are found dispersed over the whole gulf, rising, in some places, ten fathoms above the water. The bottom is covered with an abundant harvest of this substance, as well as of certain plants; and, if examined in calm weather, it has the appearance of verdant meadows and submarine forests, — phenomena which procured this gulf the appellation of Yam Zuph from the Jews, and Bahr Sauf from the Arabs, signifying (in both languages) the "sea of green weeds." These beautiful productions attracted the admiration of antiquity. Strabo seems to allude to them when he speaks of trees, resembling the laurel and the olive, growing at the bottom and along the eastern coast of the Red Sea, which at ebb-tide were left uncovered, though at other times they were wholly under water; a circumstance deemed the more surprising when contrasted with the nakedness of the adjacent shores. Burckhardt remarks, that the coral in the inlet of Akaba is red, and that in the gulf of Suez the white is chiefly to be seen,—facts which may reconcile the discordant statements of Bruce, Valentia, Henniker, and other modern travellers.

All who have frequented the Red Sea have observed the luminous appearance, or phosphorescence of its waters. "It was beautiful," says a graphic writer, who sailed from Mocha to Cossier, "to look down into this brightly transparent sea, and mark the coral, here in large masses of honeycomb-rock, there in light branches of a pale red hue, and the bed of green sea-weed, and the golden sand, and the shells, and the fish sporting round the vessel, and making colours of a beauty to the eye which is not their own. Twice or thrice we ran on, after dark, for an hour or two; and though we are all familiar with the sparkling of the sea round the boat at night, never have I seen it in other waters so superlatively splendid. A rope dipped in it and drawn forth, came up as a string of gems, but with a life, and light, and motion, the diamond does not know." Those sea-lights have been explained by a diversity of causes; but the singular brilliancy of the Red Sea seems owing to fish-spawn and animalculæ, — a conjecture which receives some corroboration from the circumstance, that travellers who mention it visited the gulf during the spawning period; that is, between the latter end of December and the end of February. The coral banks are less numerous in the southern parts. It deserves notice, that Dr. Shaw and Mr. Bruce have stated (what could be true only so far as their own experience went), that they observed no pieces of weed or flag; and the latter proposes to translate Yam Zuph, "the Sea of Coral," a name as appropriate as that of Edom.—Andrew Chrichton.

BISHOP'S COLLEGE, CALCUTTA.—The following communication has been forwarded to the vice-chancellors of the universities by the secretary to the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts:—"In consequence of the expected return to Europe of the Rev. Dr. Mill, principal of Bishop's College, Calcutta, whose term of Service has expired, the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts wishes to engage a proper person to succeed him in that important office. The qualification required in a principal of Bishop's College are thus described by Bishop Middleton:—"The clergymen sent out to conduct the labours of the college must possess considerable endowments; he, of course, especially, who is to be at the head of it. They should be, if not distinguished for general scholarship, at least respectable divines, acquainted with the Scriptures in the originals; of frugal and laborious habits, and possessing a talent for languages; and without a certain ardour of character and deep feeling of the importance of the duties committed to them, and a disposition to value success in such an enterprise more than in other human pursuit, they would not, I fear, answer the end proposed. The senior should not, I imagine, be more than thirty years of age." The salary of the principal is fixed at 1900l. a-year, with a retiring pension of 500l. a-year after the expiration of fifteen years' service.

IMPORTANT TO BREEDERS OF STOCK.—A very valuable discovery has lately been made of a new article of food for the rearing of young cattle. It will, if it prove successful, and we have no doubt, from experiments already made, that it will prove eminently so, be of immense importance to dairy farmers, and others in the neighbourhood of towns and villages, where milk and other produce of the cow are in demand for the market. The recipe, which has been tried and found to answer the purpose admirably is as follows, viz:—A pound of pearl sago dissolved in boiling water in the proportion of six quarts of new milk, or a proportionally larger quantity of skimmed milk to the mixture. The cost of the pearl sago is now so low that the eight quarts of mixture is half the price of the same quantity of milk, and is considered by practical men more nutritious than the milk.

THE WATERLOO FESTIVAL AT APSLEY-HOUSE.

His Grace the Duke of Wellington's annual banquet, in commemoration of the battle of Waterloo, to the gallant officers who participated in achieving that glorious victory, took place on Monday evening, at his grace's mansion in Piccadilly.

By the permission of the noble duke, a select party of the nobility and gentry was permitted to view the apartments as laid out for the banquet, and to inspect the valuable gold and silver plate and costly presents made to the gallant duke by the sovereigns of Europe. The plate alone displayed was stated to be valued at 300,000*l*.

The grand gallery, appropriated occasionally as the ball and a banqueting-room, extends the whole length of Apsley-house, from east to west, the latter looking towards Hyde-park. It is upwards of 200 feet in length, and about 85 in width. This unique apartment almost defies description, and is considered to be the finest specimen of modern taste within the metropolis. The hangings are of rich amber and citron-coloured satin damasks, the cornices and ceiling ornamented with scroll work, and carvings elaborately gilt. The paintings include the chef d'œuvre of the ancient masters, affording the most valuable specimens of the Flemish, Italian, Spanish, French, Venetian, and other schools. At either extremity were sideboards, bearing large massive gold and silver plate, amongst which was conspicuous the silver-gilt shield, of immense magnitude, emblematical of the duke's conquests, and presented by the allied monarchs. On the principal table, covers were laid for about forty gallant officers. Rising from the centre of the table (through apertures for the purpose) were two marble pedestal candelabras, each twelve feet high from the floor, and weighing 25 cwt. They are richly ornamented in or molu, were cut out of solid blocks of Russian marble and presented by the late Emperor Alexander. Two colossal vases of the like material, and presented at the same time also ornamented the room, filled with rich exotics. The set of three gold candelabras, presented by the Corporation of London to the noble duke, representing in bold relief, as large as life, a foot soldier, with the standard of each nation that had signalled itself in the field: and likewise the solid gold vase, a tribute from the noblemen of England, and on which are portrayed the British Guards forming a solid square also formed conspicuous objects of the dinner-table. The beautiful service of Dresden and porcelain and wine-coolers was also brought into requisition; it is ornamented with the most exquisite paintings, each piece representing some engagement or general officer engaged in it; the entire service containing the whole series of his grace's victories in India, the Peninsula, and at Waterloo. In addition to the magnificent candelabras before mentioned, the apartment is illuminated from the cupola, in the centre of the fretted roof, by a brilliant chandelier of great magnitude, manufactured by Messrs. Hancock and Rixon. The whole presented when lighted up, a scene quite oriental, falling little short of those described in the "Arabian Nights' Entertainments."

The second apartment thrown open was the north drawing-room, a saloon of great elegance, but demanding no particular notice.

Third, the "crimson striped room." This is devoted to the portraits of nearly all the gallant duke's brave companions in arms, and forms a most interesting collection. A full-length likeness of Field-Marshal Lord Beresford is particularly striking. This apartment also contains a painting of no ordinary value, viz., Wilkie's "Chelsea Pensioners reading the Gazette with the account of the Battle of Waterloo," presented by King George IV. The other apartments contain many interesting objects of virtu, but which we have not space to describe at length. The gallant and distinguished guests began to arrive at half-past seven o'clock; the band of the Guards was in attendance.

The meeting was less numerous than on any preceding anniversary. Time has thinned the ranks of those gallant officers who were wont to assemble on similar occasions some twenty years ago; and the dangerous illness of the King caused a general depression amidst the distinguished circle assembled to celebrate so important an event in British history.

The following were present:—General Lord Hill, General the Marquis of Anglesey, Lieut.-General Lord Strathford, Lt.-General the Hon. Sir Charles Colville, Lieut.-General Sir Edward Barnes, Lieut.-General Sir James Keppel, Lieut.-General Sir Hussey Vivian, Lieut.-General Sir A. Barnard, Major-General Sir John Elley, Lieut.-General Sir Henry Hardinge, Major-General Lord Saltoun, Major-General the Hon. E. H. Lygon, Lord Fitzroy Somerset, Sir J. Stratton, Sir E. Bowater, Sir George Scovell, Sir C. B. Vere, Sir John Woodford, Colonels Freemantle and Doyley.

On the cloth being removed, a letter was put into the hands of the illustrious host, brought by a messenger from Windsor Castle, which was read in silence. The duke afterwards arose, and gave "The health of the King," evidently labouring under a depression of spirits. The company drank the toast in solemn silence. The second toast was to "The memory of the heroes who fell at Waterloo;" and the third, "The health of our brave companions at arms."

After the first toast, the Duke of Wellington alluded to the last anniversary, when they had the proud gratification of meeting their Sovereign; and then alluded to the delicate state of his Majesty's health, and the loss the nation would sustain by his disease. His grace's speech made a very mournful impression. After the third toast had been drunk, at the early hour of ten, the party rose from the table, and retired.—London Paper.

ALTERATION IN THE ROYAL ARMS—The Royal Arms of England will vary much from those borne by her Majesty's five predecessors. The Sovereign being a female, they will be borne on a lozenge instead of a shield, and the imperial crest of a lion surmounting the crown will be discontinued, as well also the escutcheon of Pretence bearing the arms of Hanover surmounted by the crown of that kingdom. The arms will in future consist of the four grand quarters only, namely, England in the first and fourth, and Scotland and Ireland in the second and third quarters.

KYAN'S PREVENTION OF DRY ROT.

Application of the Process to Canada and British Timber.

Canada timber is much more liable to decay than that grown in the northern parts of Europe, and for this reason is never used in buildings of a superior description. The principle of decay being destroyed as above shewn, this objection is no longer in existence; and this kind of timber may now be employed with as great security as that of a superior quality and higher price.

The same observation applies with great force to timber of British growth, particularly to that of Scotland, much of which is at present considered of very little, if any value for durable purposes, on account of its extreme liability to decay, whether in exposed situations or otherwise. The present process will therefore render of considerable value plantations of larch, firs of all kinds, birch, elm, beech, ash poplar, &c., which are the chief products of the great wooded estates, and which, when prepared, may be advantageously employed to most useful purposes.

Preservation of Canvass, Cordage, &c., from Mildew, &c.

When canvass, cordage, &c. are exposed to moisture at the usual temperature of the atmosphere, the decaying principle which they possess, in common with all other substances of vegetable and animal origin, is particularly active, and will, in the course of a few weeks, destroy their texture to such a degree that they will not even hold together. This was the case with both canvass and calico when exposed in the fungus pit in Woolwich Dock-yard from August 1832 to February 1833, as well as in the trial made by Professor Faraday, on pieces placed in the cellar of the Royal Institution from the 10th December, 1832, to 21st February, 1833, and from 15th December to the same date. The corrosive sublimate acts precisely in the same way as on timber, neutralizing the element of decay, converting it by mutual combination into an insoluble, inert, and indestructible compound, which therefore cannot be removed by subsequent moisture or wet, but becomes as much a part of the cloth, &c. as the fibres of which it is composed. The destructive principle being removed by being rendered inert, moisture has no longer any substance on which it can act, and the fibre is preserved in its full strength.

French Legislation relative to Beet Root and Colonial Sugar.

The successful cultivation of Beet Root Sugar in France, and its competition with Sugar the produce of the French colonies, has necessarily forced upon the Chambers a very deliberate consideration of the matter. It appears that Beet Root Sugar has put considerable money into the pockets of the agriculturists, and caused serious diminution in the Treasury receipts. All governments, no matter of whatever form or in whatever country, soon move when the Treasury is touched, however indifferent they may be when touched or even struck in any other part. This is their vulnerable point.

The La Paix speaks highly of this Bill. It is the production of M. DUCHATEL. The substance of it is thus stated:—

"This plan of M. Duchatel is 1st, to protect the colonies, by not allowing Beet Root Sugar to be made and sold without paying a duty. 2nd. To protect the Beet Root Sugar manufacturers, by imposing a duty on Colonial Sugar, so as not to allow the home manufacturers to be ruined by a superabundant supply from abroad. 3rd. To protect the colonists from the evil consequences which would arise from their Sugar being taxed too high, or from Beet Root Sugar being taxed too low. 4th. To encourage this new and useful, profitable and national manufacture of Beet Root Sugar on conditions which shall prevent it from being injurious to vested interests. 5th. To relieve the pressure which weighs down the colonists in consequence of the heavy duty on Sugar, by diminishing that duty, and by equalizing as near as possible the duties on colonial and home Sugars. 6th. To take care of the interests of the Treasury, which would suffer from the reduction of the duty on colonial Sugar, unless counterbalanced by the duty laid on Sugar made in France from Beet Root.

"These are the principles of the bill prepared by M. Duchatel, and La Paix terms the debate on the Sugar Bill a contest between such as value the general interest above that of individuals, and such as make no scruple of sacrificing the public fortune to that of some wealthy landed proprietors. The defenders of the bill now before the Chamber have, in the opinion of the Paix, ably refuted the declamations of the liberal school, and by looking at the question in its broadest point of view, have proved the utility and the urgent necessity of M. Duchatel's bill.

"The National regards the Sugar Bill at present under discussion in the Chambers, not as a definite law, but as one destined to a longer and less stormy resistance than the measure so imprudently adopted by the Chambers in 1833. The interests of the consumers and of the French maritime trade outweigh all others with this journal, and induce the National to hope for the adoption of the new bill, and of the new tariff which it establishes."—London Paper, May, 30.

HER PRESENT MAJESTY.—This youthful and illustrious personage is descended, on her mother's side, from John Frederick, surnamed the Magnanimous, elector of Saxony. Having taken arms against the Emperor Charles V., and fallen, after the disastrous battle of Weiburg, into the hands of that sovereign, he was detained in prison till his death, which took place in the year 1564, after seven years of distressing captivity. This prince left two sons, John Frederick, founder of the old line of Saxe-Gotha, and John William, in whom commenced the line of Weimar, of which the present representative is Charles Augustus, the reigning Duke of Saxe-Weimar. The marriage of the Duke and Duchess of Kent was first performed at Coburg, in May, 1818, and again at Kew in July of the same year. A few weeks after the second ceremony, they returned to the Continent, and retired to Amorbach, the residence of the late Duke of Leiningen, the first husband of the duchess, who left her the occupation of the palace, and the guardianship of their only son. The duchess acceded to the wish of the duke to return to this country, and the young princess was born at Kensington, 24th of May, 1819, but seven months before her father's lamented demise.

THE QUEEN DOWAGER'S DOWER.—Marlborough-house, St James's, and Bushey Park, with 100,000*l*. per annum to support her royal dignity, was voted by Parliament, 1831, as a provision of her Majesty, should she survive the King. The present Earl Spencer, at that time Chancellor of the Exchequer, in stating to Parliament what it was the government proposed, apprehended there would be no difference of opinion as to the course they proposed, for he was sure that all parties would concur in any measure which had for its object the personal comforts of the Sovereign; and he was equally certain the same feeling prevailed the house in regard to her Majesty, who during the whole time in which she had honoured the country by her presence, had conducted herself in that manner which was calculated to endear her to the people of England. The proposition which he had to submit was founded on precedent. The dower voted to Caroline, the Queen of George II., and to Queen Charlotte, the consort of George III., was 100,000*l*. for life. Queen Caroline had consigned to her Somerset-house, as a town residence, and a part of Windsor as a country residence.

NAVAL COURT-MARTIAL.—A court-martial was held at Plymouth last week, to try Sir Thomas Fellowes, of her Majesty's ship Vanguard, late of the Pembroke, for disobedience of orders while in the command of the latter vessel, and for neglect of duty. The disobedience of orders consisted in carrying the Pembroke into Gibraltar Bay, when he was ordered to proceed to Malta; the neglect of duty, in refusing to have the Pembroke moored, though the master and the commander advised that course, by which she was driven on shore and damaged. The charges were in part proved, but there was nothing flagrant about the case, and the accident of getting on shore arose from the suddenness with which a heavy gale came on. The sentence of the court-martial was, that the gallant officer should be admonished to be more cautious in future. There was a third point of discipline in dispute, namely, whether Sir Thomas Fellowes ought not, agreeably to his orders, to have given up the command of the Pembroke to Captain Motesby, who was appointed to her by the Admiralty, and met with her at Gibraltar; but this point was waived, in consequence of its being doubtful whether the order to carry the ship to Malta did not suspend the operation of the Admiralty appointment, there being authorities on both sides. The question is considered one which will require an order of the Admiralty to settle.—July 12.

OPENING OF THE RAILWAY FROM LIVERPOOL TO BIRMINGHAM.—The formal opening of the line by the directors took place on Monday. The velocity on several parts of the line was upwards of thirty-seven miles an hour, and at one time it reached about forty miles. On ascending the rise from Crewe to Madelay the speed was never less than twenty-five miles an hour, and besides the train of coaches at that place, the engine had to drag two heavy-laden waggons of iron, which made the gross load equal to a train capable of accommodating 160 persons. On this line there are no tunnels. Yesterday (Tuesday) morning, the carriages commenced running at each end of the line (simultaneously) between Birmingham and Liverpool, and at an early hour an immense concourse of persons had assembled near the station-house from which the carriages were to start. The whole train when in motion had a very imposing appearance, the carriages being built in a very elegant and commodious manner. The carriages from Liverpool were expected to arrive in Birmingham by half-past eleven, and a mail being about to start from the latter place to London, on its arrival persons may, in the course of the present week, travel the whole distance between Liverpool and London in the short space of twelve hours.—July 8.

"POPULATION OF N. S. WALES, 1836.—The total is stated at 77,096, viz., Protestants 54,621, Roman Catholics 21,893, Jews 477, Pagans 100; or Male 55,539, Female 21,557, or free 49,265, convict 27,821. The town of Sydney is stated at 19,729. Paramatta, 2,686. Windsor, 910, Richmond, 811. Maitland, East and West, 788."

LUNAR ECLIPSE of the 13th inst.

The night proved particularly favorable—scarcely a cloud to be seen until two o'clock A.M.

The entrance of the Moon into the Penumbra was almost imperceptible: a slight dimness was visible at 9h. 48m., but there was little diminution of brightness as seen through the Telescope, until about 10 minutes before entrance into the dark shadow, although to the naked eye it was visible for several minutes preceding. The 1st contact with the dark shadow was estimated at 10h. 45m. 19s. Cape Mean Time. To the unassisted eye, it appeared to have begun

3m. before. As the Eclipse advanced, the edge of the shadow projected on the Moon was of a dark grey colour, and although not well defined—its progress across the disc, successively eclipsing the remarkable spots on the Moon's surface, could be easily followed and noted.

The Moon entered totally into the dark shadow at 11h. 44m. 40s.; then several small stars became visible, the brightest of whom was occulted at 12h. 2m. 25.7s.

At 12h. 10m. the colour of the East and West Limbs was a deep orange copper, inclining to red, more extensive on the East than on the West side. The centre, and the North and South Limbs, dark grey.

Towards 12h. 40m. the N. W. point of the Limb had become the brightest, which went on increasing, and at 13h. 13m. assumed a delicate light blue cast, while the deep hue of the centre changed to a dark copper.

As the Limb was about to emerge, a gleam of beautiful pink red spread over the disc, towards the East, forming a pleasing contrast to the other shades on the Moon's surface. The East Limb emerged at 13h. 15m. 34s. and the following Limb at 14h. 17m. 22s.

During the whole period of the total Eclipse, the outline of the Moon's periphery, was distinctly visible.

In order to estimate the degree of accuracy that may be obtained in noting the moments when the spots on the Moon's surface become eclipsed by the Earth's shadow; two observers were placed with Telescopes at a distance from each other without any direct communication, afterwards their observations were compared, when it appeared that the mean of 17 observations, including the contacts of the Limbs agreed to 3s. in time, and the discrepancies were in proportion to breadth or bad definition of the spots, so that if beforehand an arrangement had been made, to select the bright small points, and to reject the rest from observation, it is probable the mean would have been within a second. Hence the difference in longitude of two places on the Earth's surface may be obtained by a Lunar Eclipse such as the last, to the accuracy of one or two seconds, for the phenomena of a Lunar Eclipse, as seen from all stations are the same, the only element required is the accurate time at each station.

The whole attention of the observer should not be directed to the spot, and eclipsing portion of the shadow. The eye should rapidly glance over the curved outline of the shadow, by which he will be able to seize the moment when the spot is bisected by the outline with considerable precision.

Observed times of the Lunar Eclipse of Oct. 13.

W O L.

Den volgenden brief zyn onze lezers verschuldigd aan de vriendelykheid van den Hr. Dickson, van het kantoor van Dickson & Burnies:—

De Heeren W. & J. Burnie.

Myne Heeren,—Hiernevens zult gy eene lyst vinden van de eerste publieke verkooping van Wol, welke in dit seizoen hebben plaats gehad; dezelve begonnen den 14den en eindigden den 16den dezer, en het doet ons leed by te voegen, dat ingevolge van den tegenwoordig kwynenden staat van den handel, dezelve weinig meer dan de helft der pryzen hebben bekomen, welke gelyke Wol op publieke verkooping, July 11. heeft bekomen. Men zal zich natuurlyk voorstellen dat deze buitengewone daling moet worden toegeschreven aan verschillende oorzaken. In de eerste plaats hebben de ongelegenheden van den handel eene groote ophooping van garen te weeg gebragt, zoodat de Spinners, die eerst de voornameste bidders op de Wolverkooping waren, nu bloote toekykera waren en geen koopers. Hier kunnen wy byvoegen dat de verkooping deze keer zoo vroeg in het seizoen hebben plaats gehad, en dat mede toen de uitlag van de Deutsche Wolmarkten nog niet bekend was, (en de belanghebbenden gevolgelyk niet wisten welke pryzen waren gegeven, noch de uitgestrektheid hunner engagementen); deze vereenigde oorzaken, gelooven wy, hebben nadeeligen invloed gehad op de pryzen. Wy hopen dus dat er by de verkooping in de aanstaande maand meer levendigheid zal zyn, in welk gevoelen wy verder bemoedigd worden, door dat wy vernemen dat Wol op de Deutsche Markten slechts 20 tot 25 pCt gedaald is. Het is waar dat groote sommen gelds zyn voorgeschoten door de See Handlung Maatschappij, zoo wel voor den koop van Wol als in voorschot aan de Wolterels in Duitschland, hetgeen de Wol eenige maanden uit de Engelsche Markt zal houden. Immiddels vlyen wy ons dat de verkooping in de aanstaande maand gunstiger zullen uitvallen, dan die welke nu gesloten zyn. Wy moeten verder de aandacht van de Wolterels in het algemeen vestigen op den staat van hunne Wol, bestemd voor de Britsche Markt, indien zy aanhouden dezelve ongewassen en in slechten staat te zenden, zullen zy niet anders dan ongunstige pryzen bekomen.

Wy verlangen meer byzonder de aandacht van de Wolterels van Zuid-Afrika te vestigen op de verbetering van het ras hunner schapen. Het schynt dat zy onder hunne schapen nog eene soort houden, welke produceren hetgeen men in den handel noemt "dood" of stikhaar, hetgeen de waarde van de Wol merkelyk vermindert. Zulke schapen moeten zorgvullig uit de kudden worden geveerd, en geen ram, die zoodanige wol opbrengt, behoort te worden aangehouden door hen die eene goede soort van Wol wilde voortbrengen. Wy weten zeer wel dat de Zuid-Afrikaansche Wolter met groote moeyelykheden te worstelen heeft, maar de Wol geproduceerd van de kudden van de Heeren Breda en Reitz, welke niet alleen syn zyn in qualiteit, maar in den besten staat, en dus der navolging waardig, toonen dat dezelve kunnen worden te boven gekomen.

Sommige kudden in de nabyheid van Grahamstad zyn mede wel bereid en de Wol van goede qualiteit. Wy herhalen dat de staat van de Wol een belangryk deel uitmaakt van de pligten van den Wolter, en diegenen die streven om hunne Wol tot volkomenheid te brengen, zouden wel doen hun product met eens naar de Engelsche markt te consigneren, ten einde de fouten van dezelve kunnen worden aangetoond en zoodanige aanmerkingen gemaakt, welke kunnen leiden tot eene spoedige verbetering.

COMMERCIAL RETROSPECT.—Aug. 7.

THE ELECTIONS ARE NOW OVER, and all the subtraction from business which they could accomplish must be regarded as done. Still we do not apprehend, however, that any very sensible difference will be felt or shown in the markets, monetary or mercantile, during the week upon which we have now entered. Matters are not in a state to be suddenly affected either one way or the other, but will in all probability recover themselves by a very slow and gradual process. There is great debility yet in the markets for merchandize, and the transactions continue to be confined to actual wants, and prices do not show sufficient elasticity to tempt speculation. It is perhaps as well, if not better, that a slow and good foundation should be laid in the solidity of prices for future prosperity, rather than that a sudden and flowing advance should raise hopes, which must end in bitter disappointment. We appear still to be in the ground work of a change for the better.

In the market for Public Securities the transactions have been extensive, and as a natural consequence of capitalists continuing to prefer the funds to any other kind of investment, the quotations have advanced, and are expected to advance still further. In fact, Money is so abundant, and the means of its profitable employment so scarce, that if it do not find vent in merchandize it will necessarily push up quotations of securities. During the past week Consols have been 91 1/2 Money and Account, and Exchequer Bills 52 5/4. Bank Stock has reached 211.

Discounts on the first-rate bills have been done from 3 to 3 1/2 per cent., which shows how plentiful money must be. These are the lowest rates of discounts which we have had to quote for a considerable time. Bullion is now beginning to come back again from distant parts, and the quantity in the Bank has been considerably increased. The number of bills in circulation continues, comparatively speaking, to be very small.

We have had no stoppages of any kind during the past week either in town or country; and the news from New York to the 8th ultimo represent things there as being more cheering. The intelligence of the suspension of the three great American houses went into port just as the intelligence quoted above came out. Of the effect produced by it we therefore can know nothing, but really it appears to us as if too much importance were attached to the effect of this news in the United States. We can scarcely suppose that a great commercial community, like that of the United States, can be sensibly affected by the suspension of payment of three houses, however great individually those houses may have been.

To-day (Aug. 7,) by the England packet we have news to the 18th ultimo from New York. The accounts are improving, and no effect of any moment had been created by the intelligence of the refusal of the Bank of England further to assist the American houses. This is just what we expected. It is said that the packet brings 400,000 dollars, but we believe that these specie statements are all exaggerated.

In the House of Commons Mr. Robinson's "Bonded Grain Manufacture Bill," was read a second time. The Chancellor of the Exchequer brought in a Bill on Friday night for the better regulation of the affairs of the General Post-office. A great number of Acts will be consolidated, as many we believe as one hundred and fifty; and the rates of postage will be reduced. A notice of motion has been made by Mr. Emmerson Tennent, that when the Sugar Duties come before the House of Commons, he shall move for a reduction of 4 1/2 per cent on Barbadoes Sugar.

Lord William Bentinck presented on Thursday night a petition from the East India Association of Glasgow, in favour of Steam Navigation with India; and a petition also from 7,600 inhabitants of Calcutta, and other parts of Bengal, in favour of a regular steam communication with all parts of India. His Lordship stated that the Inhabitants of British India had subscribed a sum of £30,000 for that purpose; he succeeded in getting a Committee appointed, and we hope the result will be the prompt establishment of such communication.

SUGAR.—There was a steady demand for West India Raw to-day, and the prices of Friday were maintained. The sales were estimated 1100 hhds., and tierces, of this quantity the larger proportion was taken by the grocers, the depressed state of the refined trade being greatly against the refiners purchasing to any extent. The above purchases include 140 hhds. of Barbadoes which were sold at public sale at from 60s 6d to 64s for good and fine quality, being rather lower than the sale on Tuesday last.

The stock of B. P. Sugar is 25 505 hds. & trs., against 30,186 at the corresponding period of 1836, thus shewing a decrease of 4681 hhds. and tierces; the weekly del veries are 2446 hhds. and tierces, against 2280 at the same time last year, thus shewing an increase of 166,

MAURITIUS.—There continues a fair demand chiefly from the grocers, and 2723 bags offered at public sale were all disposed of at steady prices; good and fine yellow at 57s to 61s, low and good middling do. at 53s 6d to 56s, and good and fine dry brown at 52s to 53s per cwt.

The stock of Mauritius is 82,745 bags, against 51,243 at the same time last year, thus showing an increase of 31,502 bags; the weekly deliveries are 4,944 bags, against 3,845 last year.—These returns include the East India Dock Company.

SALTPETRE.—The demand for Rough has become dull, and the whole of 1863 bags offered at public sale, was bought in at 24s 6d to 25s for good quality 4½ to 4 lbs per cwt. refraction, and at 22s for inferior quality 20½ lbs refraction, being its full value.

INDIGO.—There continues a fair demand for East India Indigo, and many of the lots that were bought in at the late sale have been sold at an advance of 3d per lb.

TALLOW.—The market remains dull, and the few transactions are at 39s per cwt, at which price there are further sellers. Yesterday the accounts received from St. Petersburg state, the market remained very flat; the prices ruled at 101 to 102 roubles. The quantity shipped off up to the middle of July was 61,613 cks against 48,784 to the same period last year.

WOOL.—The public sales of Colonial Wools have all been brought to a close. They have been well attended by manufacturers and others interested in the trade. The biddings throughout were very animated, particularly from the former, in consequence of an increased demand for manufactured goods. The whole quantity brought forward was readily bought up, and an advance on the last sales of 1d to 1½d per lb. was established for the better Flocks, whilst low qualities and in the grease brought full as much Money. The quantity of Wool arrived from Sydney this year to the 21st July, is 3809 bales, and from Van Diemen's Land in the same period 4216 bales, making a total of 8025 bales: of this quantity 5840 bales of New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land were put up at the above public sales, when 5440 bales were sold and 400 bales withdrawn, leaving nearly 3000 bales in the hands of importers.

In the English Wool market the struggle still continues between the manufacturers and the growers; the former refusing to accede to the demands of the latter. If they would both give way a little, more business would be done. Staplers are still buying sparingly, as they cannot get a remunerating price from the consumers.

At public auction on Friday about 355 tons Southern Oil, in ship's casks, sold at £24 to £25 10s for first quality at £23 15s to £24 for second quality, and at £22 for very inferior dark quality. 62 tons of Newfoundland Whale Oil of very pale and sweet quality sold at £24 10s to £24 15s per ton.

COTTON WOOL.—The total imports of Cotton into the Kingdom, compared with that in the corresponding 7 months of 1836 and 1835, have been as follows:—

	1837.	1836.	1835.

The total stock on the 1st July estimated to be 504790

The imports into the Kingdom since have been 91620

The demand throughout the past month has on the whole been steady, though without much animation or material change in the prices.

THE LONDON & BIRMINGHAM RAILWAY.

In a commercial point of view we have always looked upon Railways with interest; and we cannot avoid offering some remarks on the gigantic undertaking, which is specified at the top of this article. This Railway is more in favor than any other in the Railway Share market, nor is this surprising, when the traffic is so great between London and Birmingham; but this, great as it is, is about one-half only of what will be done on this road. It will be part of the line between London and Liverpool, and this distance which now takes twenty hours to travel it, and that too at a quick rate by coach, will be done on this Railway in eight and a half hours! So that a man may go from London to Liverpool and back in less time than he now goes from London to Liverpool! Letters will also travel in half the time, which will be a great and decided advantage to commerce. Goods will also travel in a proportionably quicker time. Already is the Railroad travelled upon between Liverpool and Birmingham; and the Directors and their friends have been making excursions on the London end of the London and Birmingham Railway much to their satisfaction, and in some part of the trip, which extended twenty-three miles, they went at the rate of thirty miles an hour! This speed is accomplished without any cruelty—no horses are punished to extremity on hot days for the sake of greater speed—No, it is all accomplished by unfeeling machinery—that appears as if it could be made to go at any rate the parties wish. This is a truly great important and useful national undertaking, and places the superiority of this country in a very striking light. Upon our own internal trade it will tell, in a variety of ways, with great and advantageous effect, and it constitutes one of the distinguishing features of the times in which we live. The costs of such an undertaking as this is enormous, and were it not for the certainty that it will and must pay, it would be alarming to think of so much capital being locked up. The cost of the London and Birmingham Railway hitherto has been £50,000 per mile on an average. The total amount of money invested in the speculation is estimated at £7,000,000 and upwards. One mile of the road between Primrose Hill and Camden Town cost £300,000. The amount paid weekly in laborer's wages amounts to about £40,000. This is enormous, and calculated to make us feel proud of our country, which can furnish the money for such an undertaking, and find profitable employment for it thereon. The Railroad now at the London end is an object of great attraction and admiration to both natives and foreigners, and crowds resort daily to see the work. The fame of it will go abroad through all lands, and will impress the superiority of the English upon Foreigners of all nations. When complete the speed of the first class carriages will be thirty miles per hour. The fare for passengers to and from Birmingham by the first class will, it is calculated, be 23s or 23s, and by the second class a third less. The immense speed at which the carriages will come, will be wound up gradually when they are within a mile of Euston Square, by means of a rope worked by stationary machinery; the locomotive engines being taken off. About sixty miles of the road will be ready to be opened on about the 1st of August.—July 18.

BANKING, PAPER MONEY & CURRENCY.

(From the Bankers' Circular.)

THE RETURN OF THE ELECTIONS AS FAR AS THEY WILL AFFECT MONETARY AND MERCANTILE MATTERS.—(Aug. 1.)

The remarks of the Bankers' Circular of this week on this topic, are, in our opinion very correct, sensible and important.

"The attention of nearly every man of business is now irresistibly drawn from the objects to which it is usually directed, and is rivetted upon the proceedings of the elections. If we thought the issue of the present contests would be likely to lead to any change in our commercial policy; and, still more, if we could discover in the selection of some candidates or the rejection of others sufficient grounds for concluding that a revision of our banking and currency systems would inevitably soon take place, it would become our duty to make the elections and their probable commercial consequences a topic of deliberate discussion. But as it appears to us from the best consideration that we have been able to bestow upon the subject that the constitution of the next House of Commons, will, as to party divisions and as to public questions generally, very nearly resemble that of the last, we have very little more to say than that we cannot thus far perceive any evidence, in the returns of members, of the great questions of commercial legislations being accelerated or retarded in any material degree by the altered constitution of the ensuing House of Commons. We observe less interest manifested by the constituencies on some great mercantile questions than on former general elections. The efforts, for example, to induce candidates to pledge themselves on the exciting subject of the Corn-laws are more feeble than they have been at almost all general elections for twenty years past. In Birmingham the subject of currency and its operation and consequences upon industry has been more discussed, and it is, perhaps, better understood by the people than in any other large manufacturing population in England; and there we find that the new candidate, Mr. Stapleton, found it expedient and probably incumbent upon him to expound his views on that important topic. This is the only instance where we have observed that question occupy a very prominent place among the tests of fitness applied by constituencies to the candidates.

"The plain matter of fact is, that party matters have excited so absorbing an interest in the minds of the people composing the borough constituencies, that subjects, which in other times would have commanded their exertions, have been wholly excluded from their attention. We regard this as a great evil, because its direct and inevitable tendency is to drive from Parliament, or bar from entrance into the House of Commons, men competent from knowledge, talent and experience, to examine and consider subjects of commercial legislation, unless they can find a passport into that assembly by professing extreme party predilections and opinions to suit respective constituencies; and it has also a tendency to force political adventurer and too many ambitious lawyers into the House of Commons, to the exclusion of men of business. On this ground purely, we regret to see, that Mr. M. P. Stewart, who is a Whig, will not be a Member of the ensuing House of Commons, and we rejoice to see, that Mr. M. W. Attwood, a Tory, is elected, because both these gentlemen are eminently qualified to deal with the highest and most important subjects of commercial legislation, purely on their intrinsic merits, without any regard to the bearing of particular questions in that branch of legislative investigation on the parties to which they respectively belong. It is a great evil to have session after session pass over and see the most important matters either hurried through Parliament in a few days at the close, when most of the members are absent from London, or wholly cast aside for a remote opportunity. The extraordinary decision of the Commons upon Railways, which is virtually to stop all speculations in that new branch of mercantile economy, is an example of hurry and negligence; and the protraction of all legislative proceeding regarding Joint-Stock Banks, is an instance of casting aside important questions.

"It is remarkable to observe how much more interest is excited in the Congress of the United States upon subjects which affect the industry and prosperity of the people than is manifested by the British Legislature. This is, to our minds, a very humiliating reflection, and the period of a general election does not seem an unfit opportunity for giving expression to it. It matters not what may be the subject selected for illustration—corn-laws, currency, banking questions, laws affecting public copartnerships or Joint-Stock companies, Rail-roads, or West-Indian slavery,—the constituencies at this period appear equally indifferent or incapable of bringing their attention from party matters to take an interest in what at former elections would have commanded all their anxiety and solicitude. Even the last-mentioned of these important topics, which on account of his zeal and energy in the cause of the slaves seven years ago placed Lord Brougham as representative for the County of York, and which, for the same reason, during nearly a quarter of a century, kept the late Mr. Wilberforce in the same high and honourable position, has no power to rouse the dormant interest of the people. At the great meeting over which His Royal Highness the Duke of Sussex recently presided, it was one of its especial objects to stir up the constituencies to influence their candidates in favour of the apprenticed slaves. And it is a remarkable proof of their signal failure in accomplishing this benevolent purpose that Mr. Fowell Buxton, on whose shoulders rested the mantle of Wilberforce, should be one of the candidates rejected. We allude to this, simply by way of illustrating the prevalent apathy on all but party matters, without intending to express any opinion concerning the accuracy and truth of the charges against the planters and stipendiary magistrates, which formed the basis of the proceedings at the aforesaid meeting. And we wish to avoid giving any such expression, because we have understood that in some of the West-India colonies, at least in Demerara, the provisions of the Emancipation Act have been acted upon generally with fidelity and integrity. This is no reason why an impartial and full investigation into the alleged abuses in Jamaica and other Islands should not take place; the entire failure of the benevolent men who attended that meeting to excite public sympathy affords, however, evidence of the impossibility of agitating the constituencies upon any subject but the domination of party.

(From the Bankers' Circular, Aug. 6.)

THE PRESENT STATE OF THE MARKETS FOR RAW MATERIALS DOES NOT WARRANT SPECULATION.

The Circular of this week goes into the present state of the market for Raw Cotton, Silk, and Wool, and whilst it admits the present firmness in the prices of these commodities, labours hard to dissuade parties from speculating in them; not that such parties would be liable to loss, but that they would not gain anything. The Circular supports this view of the subject by a reference to facts.

"It may be safely asserted that for a year, or perhaps two years, previous to the time when blight began to spread itself over commercial affairs in the autumn of 1836, the consumption of manufactures in almost all parts of the world had been increasing in consequence of the extension of civilization and the growing desire for articles of convenience among those habituated to their use; and that too, in a degree which would show that the stimulated desire and power of consumption was nearly adequate to the increased capacity of production of such manufactures. This it appears to us, is in great measure proved by fact, that notwithstanding the additional machinery brought into operation, no markets were greatly overstocked with manufactures except those of the East, especially the China market. With that exception, we will venture to assert that there never was a protracted period of enterprise and commercial prosperity suddenly checked by derangements in credit, when almost all the markets of the world were found so bare of manufactured goods as they were in the spring of the present year. Another evidence which shows the correctness of this conclusion is, that when raw materials have fallen to a comparatively low level, foreign merchants visit our ports to make purchases of them for the supply of the manufactures of their respective countries, which they would not do if there were a general glut in the stores of manufactures or a fixed stagnation in the process of dealing in them.

"These circumstances seem to justify confidence in the speculators and dealers in raw produce when they go into the markets at the present prices; but they do not appear to us to warrant an expectation of higher prices. The firmness which the markets have for some weeks assumed shows, in a gratifying manner, the sound condition of those who by their operations make them so. It shows that notwithstanding the great losses which most men engaged in trades connected with the manufacturers have sustained, the accumulated capital of our manufacturers and dealers is sufficient to enable them to go into the produce markets with strength and confidence when they have reasonable assurance for safety in their transactions; and it shows also that the bankers of Great Britain are in a state of efficiency which enables them to afford their usual assistance in carrying the trade of the country as soon as circumstances call for it. The contrast which is now presented between England and the United States, with respect to the resources and solidity of mercantile power, is of the most remarkable and instructive character, and to this alone is to be ascribed the upholding of commercial and banking credit through an ordeal that has ruined the trading classes of the United States, and scattered their inflated banking system to the winds. The prices of cotton have been reduced low, but they are not lower than a consideration of the causes which brought them down would lead any man to expect: and they have been checked in their descent and made firm on a reduced level at an earlier period than any one not thoroughly acquainted with the extraordinary resources of England would have imagined.

"We believe, however, that men who have the most firm and rational reliance on the abundance of British capital, are too apt, after a sudden and great fall of prices, to anticipate a considerable re-action. The reduction which took place in the prices of cotton between the months of November and May last, coming so abruptly after a period when, according to the view of many experienced merchants, prices appeared to be permanently settled on a higher level, was of so extraordinary a character that when the threatening aspect of the commercial atmosphere had been cleared, there was a natural rebound in the minds of some towards the former position. Low stocks of raw materials in the hands of the consumers, and a simultaneous rush to the cotton-market to lay in fresh stocks, contributed to strengthen this feeling. The increased production of cotton-wool and the stagnation in the sale of manufactured goods prevailing in the Chinese and American markets, are in our opinion causes sufficient to prevent any permanent rise of prices taking place. On the whole, therefore, it appears to us the merchants have reason to congratulate themselves that there is a firm and regular market for their produce so soon after the convulsions in credit began to subside; and although prices are comparatively low, they are not so low as, two months since, many intelligent men anticipated they would be, and they are not likely to rise or alter materially for a long period, unless some great alteration should take place in the supply of cotton from the planters. Looking at the causes operating upon prices, balancing the tendency towards a further reduction, caused by an increased supply of the raw material and diminished demand of our two best foreign customers, against the tendency towards a rise resulting from the gradually extending use of manufactures in all civilized countries, stability in the state of the cotton-market is the consequence which is to be expected, according to the best consideration that we have been able to bestow upon the subject. There is clearly no reason to expect an advance.

The Bank of England's quarterly statement of accounts is given—

BANK OF ENGLAND.

OILS.—The Oil market has, after a long continuance of dulness and depression, assumed rather a more cheering appearance. Pale Seal, though not much in demand, is rather stiffer in price. Cod, owing to the reported failure of the Newfoundland Fishery, is held for higher prices, at which some sales have been made, and for Southern rather more disposition to buy has been manifest. Sperm realizes former rates for the small quantity selling.

COMMERCIAL MEN RETURNED IN THE PRESENT ELECTION.

As the elections proceed we are looking with anxiety at the return of commercial men to parliament; and we do this exclusive of their politics. Mr. HURT who has been rejected at Hull, and Mr. EVART who has been rejected at Liverpool, were both very superior commercial men, and on this account we regret their rejection. We know nothing of their substitutes, and we prefer those we know, to those of whom we are ignorant. Mr. POULETT THOMSON, a commercial man, we are glad to see returned for Manchester. Up to the time we are writing Scotland has made but few returns, and therefore we do not know the political fate of Dr. BOWRING, Mr. HASTIE, Mr. KIRMAN FINLAY, Mr. WALLACE and others. We see with pleasure Mr. CRAWFORD, who is thoroughly a commercial man, returned for the City of London—and Mr. CLAY also, who is a commercial man, returned for the Tower Hamlets. Bristol has made some alteration in its representatives, whether for the better in a commercial point of view, remains to be seen. Mr. STURTT the member for Derby is also a commercial man, and he has been returned. For the present here we must stop, and we beg to repeat that we are glad that these parties are returned, solely on account of commerce, to which this Journal is devoted, and without any reference to politics, with which in this paper we never had, have not now, and never shall have any thing to do. For the reasons above stated we are very solicitous that Mr. HUME should be returned for Middlesex. He has acquired a fund of commercial knowledge, which it would be ridiculous to suppose any competitor of his at the approaching contest can possibly possess. He has again and again shewed himself master of the subject; and his laborious attendance and unwearied perseverance in parliament to the interests of trade, are without a parallel. We hope that all commercial men will support him, solely on account of his attention to the trade of the country, which he well understands, and to whose advancement he is devotedly attached. (Joseph, however, was rejected in Middlesex.)

* Since the above was written, we observe, with great regret, that Dr. BOWRING has been rejected at Port Glasgow. Mr. HASTIE is returned for Paisley.

THE REVENUE INCREASED BY THE SPREAD OF COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

(Mercantile Journal, Aug 1.)

All governments, from the time of Minister Pitt to the present, have proceeded on the policy of removing obstacles out of the way to the spread of mercantile publications. They have done this on the ground that commerce is the source of the wealth of the country—the prop of its greatness—and the great fountain whence its revenue is directly supplied. In this respect commercial information differs from any other—it is always on “the service of the crown,” and on that account we contend that the greatest possible freedom should be given to its circulation. Every barrier should be removed out of the way; and he who would throw an obstacle in the way shows, be he whosoever he may, that he does not understand what he is about, and proves himself incompetent to discharge the functions of office, for the good of the country, and the welfare of the crown.

On this ground, the benefit of the public revenue, we contend that Prices Current, and all papers containing matter wholly of a commercial nature, should go post free. The mail ought to carry them for nothing; and the Stamp Office ought not to necessitate them to stamp. That copies of each might be under the surveillance of the Stamp Office to see that they contain nothing but such matter; but this being their character, they ought, for the sake of the revenue, to be as free as the air we breathe. We are glad to see a similar disposition partially shown by the commissioners appointed to investigate the affairs of the Post Office, and in their printed report there is much said on our side of the question. We sincerely hope that all those in power will have the penetration to perceive the soundness of what we are now advocating, and that they will with all the promptitude that the matter will allow, put all publications of wholly a commercial nature on the footing we now urge.

AMERICAN LINE OF PACKET SHIPS.

The public are aware that, with a view to compete with the spirit of enterprise so conspicuously shown by the merchants of Liverpool, a line of American packet ships, not surpassed in accommodation for passengers, fittings, or qualities of sailing, was established about five years ago in the trade between London and New York. These splendid ships (which are from 500 to 750 tons register) leave the St. Katharine Docks on the 7th, 17th, and 27th of each month punctually, and return from New York at stated periods, in regular rotation, and perform their voyages with extraordinary dispatch. Four new packets have been recently built by the promoters of the line, and one of them has been called the Wellington, out of compliment to “the greatest captain of the age.” Captain Chadwick, the commander of the packet, having sent an invitation to the Duke of Wellington to view the ship, his grace was pleased to fix Friday morning, at eleven, to visit her, which he did amidst great eclat.

COMMERCE IN FRANCE.

The Moniteur contains an official report to his Majesty from the Minister of Commerce, on the expedient of withdrawing from Neapolitan vessels arriving at Marseilles and other ports of France the privileges hitherto enjoyed by them, of exemption from the navigation, tonnage, permit, passport and other dues. The minister proposes the measure on the ground that the Neapolitan government, in spite of the remonstrances of the French government, persists in keeping up a navigation tariff, which subjects French vessels of 200 tons from the port of Marseilles to a duty of 420f. on entering or quitting any of the ports of the two Sicilies, and sometimes 630f. when a second port is visited; whereas Neapolitan vessels of the same tonnage pay only 71f. 63c. on entering or quitting Marseilles. The report also complains that government packets between Marseilles and Constantinople, on entering any of the Neapolitan ports, are compelled to submit to the same formalities as ordinary merchant vessels, and to produce clean bills of health, and to submit to other arbitrary measures which are evidently vexatious and useless, as the vessels in question either come from France, where no germ of contagion exists, or, if coming from the East, have already performed quarantine at Malta.

The ordinance is dated Neuilly, 24th instant, and countersigned by the Minister of Commerce.

See SUPPLEMENT.

Draft of an Ordinance.

Proposed by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, to the Legislative Council thereof.

For establishing, regulating, and providing for the South African College.

WHEREAS several Persons did, on or about the year of our Lord 1829, subscribe certain sums of money, in Shares of £10 sterling each, for the purpose of establishing a College or Institution for the instruction of young persons in this colony, in certain branches of Literature and Science: And whereas the holders of the said Shares have made application that an Ordinance may be passed for carrying into effect such and other purposes, and to make more efficient provision for the said Institution: Be it therefore enacted by His Excellency the Governor of this Colony, with the advice of the Legislative Council thereof, that it shall and may be lawful for the said persons who have subscribed the sums of money aforesaid, or their representatives, and such other person or persons as may hereafter, in virtue of the provisions of this Ordinance, become Shareholders in the said sums of money, to associate together and become Joint-stock Proprietors thereof, and Managers, under the limitation and provisions of this Ordinance, of all additions which may be hereafter made thereto by way of Fees, Contributions, Endowments, Donations, or otherwise, to be administered in manner hereinafter provided, and to be managers as aforesaid of an Institution hereby established and designated the "SOUTH AFRICAN COLLEGE."

Of the Directors.

2. And be it further enacted, That the Funds, Property, Revenue, and Expenditure, belonging to the said South African College, shall be vested in and administered by a Council of 17 Directors, who shall superintend and conduct the affairs of the said College, subject to the limitations and provisions hereinafter contained, and in manner hereinafter provided; and that Sir John Andreas Truter, Knight, LL.D.,—His Honor Sir John Wylde, Knight, Chief Justice of this Colony,—The Honorable Hamilton Ross,—Daniel Denysen, LL.D.,—The Reverend Abraham Faure, B.D.,—Christoffel Josephus Brand, LL.D.,—Johannes Joachim Lodewyk Smuts,—Johannes Hendrik Hoffmeyer, LL.D.,—Daniel Fredrik Berrangé, LL.D.,—Daniel Johannes Kuys,—The Honorable Henry Cloete, LL.D.,—James Abercrombie,—Johannes de Wet, LL.D.,—Charles Louis William Liesching, M.D.,—William Ferdinand Bergh,—The Reverend George Hough, A.M.,—and the Reverend James Adamson, D.D., shall be such Directors, and so shall continue until their office shall be filled up by an equal number of Directors, to be appointed in manner hereinafter provided.

3. And be it further enacted, That the said George Hough and James Adamson shall remain in office as long as the Governor of this Colony, for the time being, shall think proper. And it shall and may be lawful for such Governor, at any time when he shall see fit, to remove the said George Hough and James Adamson, or either of them, from the office of Director; and in their or either of their place, at any time, to appoint another or other two Directors; and at any time when the said Directors or others so in future to be appointed in their stead, shall die, resign, or be removed, it shall and may be lawful for the Governor of this Colony for the time being, to fill up the vacancy or vacancies which shall thereby occur.

4. And be it further enacted, That the remaining 15 Directors shall remain in office until the second Tuesday of January in the year 1838, and thenceforth until some other Directors shall be appointed in their stead. And at the General Annual Meeting, which shall be held upon the said 2d Tuesday in the said month of January, 10 of the said Directors, the same to be determined by lot, shall vacate their office, and the Shareholders then present shall elect from among the Shareholders 10 Directors, by List given in and signed by such Shareholders respectively, containing the names of 10 persons for whom they shall vote to be so elected instead of those who shall then vacate their office as aforesaid; and the 5 remaining as aforesaid shall be put at the bottom of the list for that year. And at the General Annual Meeting which shall be held upon the second Tuesday in the month of January 1839, the 10 Directors who shall stand lowest upon the list of Directors for the preceding year, shall vacate their office, and the Shareholders then present shall in like manner elect 10 Directors from among the Shareholders, instead thereof, and the 5 remaining Directors shall be put at the bottom of the list. And in the same, at each succeeding General Annual Meeting, the 10 Directors standing at the bottom of the list shall vacate their office, and the Shareholders then present shall in like manner elect 10 Directors from among the Shareholders instead thereof.

Provided however, that if at any General Annual Meeting, the Shareholders shall not elect 10 Directors aforesaid, the Directors who would otherwise have vacated their office shall remain therein, until a General Meeting of the Shareholders shall be duly holden in manner directed by the Section of this Ordinance, at which Meeting such Directors shall vacate their office, and 10 Directors shall be elected as aforesaid. And provided further, that the Shareholders who shall in manner aforesaid have vacated their office, shall be eligible for re-election.

Provided however, and be it further enacted, That it shall not be lawful for the Shareholders at any such meeting, to elect any Person being at the time a Professor in the South African College, to fill the office of Director.

5. And be it further enacted, That in the event of the death, removal, or resignation of any Director during the current College year, it shall be at the option of the Council of Directors to determine whether the Shareholder, if any whose name stands next in rotation at the last preceding Ballot, shall succeed to the vacancy, or whether they shall call a meeting of Shareholders to fill up the vacancy which shall have occurred, and the Directors then succeeding, or being elected at the said meeting, when called and held to fill up such vacancy, shall continue in office until the period for which the Director so dying or resigning would otherwise have remained in office and no longer.

6. And be it further enacted, That the Council of Directors for the time being, shall stand, and be possessed of, and be entitled to, all the said Sums of Money heretofore subscribed for the purposes aforesaid, and of all Property and Claims of which the Shareholders shall have since become possessed, or entitled to, and of all Donations, Subscriptions, and Fees, or other Dues, of which the Shareholders shall become possessed, or entitled to, under the provisions of this Ordinance, in trust, to pay to the Professors, Janitors, and other necessary College Officers, the Salaries or Dues to which they now are or shall hereafter become entitled; to purchase such Books, Prizes, Apparatus for Scientific or other purposes, for which the College hath been established, and to keep the same in repair; to purchase, erect, or hire, such Buildings as may be deemed necessary by the Shareholders, for the use of the said College, in manner by the Section of this Ordinance provided, and to keep the same in repair; to pay such Sums of Money, for such object as shall appear to promote the objects of the Institution, as they shall be directed to do by any vote of the Subscribers, at any general meeting duly held for such purpose; and to pay to the Shareholders the residue, if any, in discharge of the Shares advanced by such Shareholders, until the whole of the said Loan shall be paid off.

7. And be it further enacted, That the Council of the Directors shall meet on Tuesday next after the General Annual Meeting, and on the 1st Tuesday in the months of April, July and October, respectively, and the said Council shall meet at any time when required by a Notice in Writing signed by the Chairman, and delivered to each Director not less than 3 days previous to the time hereby appointed; and the Chairman shall, and is hereby required, to call a meeting of the Directors in like manner at any time within 7 days after being thereunto required by a requisition in writing, signed by not less than five of the Directors, setting forth the purpose for which the same is to be held, whereupon a meeting of the Directors shall be held for such purpose accordingly, and for no other. Provided however, that it shall not be competent for the Council of Directors at any meeting, to pass any resolution, whereby any resolution passed by the Council of Directors during the current year shall be repealed or altered.

8. And be it further enacted, That 5 Directors shall form a quorum, and shall be competent to perform all matters and things which may be done by the Directors under the provisions of this Ordinance, except in so far as relates to the matter provided by the 40th Section of this Ordinance.

9. And be it further enacted, That the Council of Directors shall at their first Meeting after the General Annual Meeting in each year, elect from among themselves, a Chairman for the current College year, that is to say, until the next General Annual Meeting, who when present shall preside at the Meetings of the said Council: Provided that when such Chairman shall be absent from any such Meeting, the said Council shall elect another Director to act as Chairman of such Meeting. And in case the votes of the said Council shall at any time be equally divided, the Chairman, or Director acting as Chairman, shall have a casting vote in addition to his own vote, but such Chairman, or Director acting as Chairman, shall not enter into the discussion of any question which shall be before the Meeting.

10. And be it further enacted, That the Council

12. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Council of Directors to make such Rules, Orders, Regulations, and Bye Laws, and take such order for the management of the affairs of the said College, as shall seem to them expedient, provided the same be not repugnant to law and to the provision of this Ordinance, and provided the same be not repugnant to the power and authority hereinafter granted to and reposed in the Senate of the said College.

13. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Council of Directors, by and in the name of the Chairman for the time being, having previously obtained the consent of a majority of the Shareholders at a General Meeting convened in terms of the 22nd section of this Ordinance, to erect or purchase such Buildings as shall be necessary for the said South African College, and it shall be lawful for the said Council of Directors to alter, pull down, or sell any such buildings, and to alienate such part of the joint stock of the said College, after having in like manner obtained the consent of a majority of the Shareholders, but not otherwise.

17. And be it further enacted, That the resolutions of the Shareholders duly passed at any Public Meeting called in conformity with the provisions of this Ordinance, carried by a majority of votes, shall be binding upon the whole of the Shareholders in like manner as if each had been present and had consented to such resolution.

21. And be it further enacted, That the Heirs or Legatees of any Shareholder who shall die, shall thereupon and upon the production of his Certificate of Share, be entitled to be registered as the holder thereof, whereupon the Secretary of the Directors shall certify upon the said Certificate that such person or persons have become, by the death of such Shareholder, entitled to the same.

22. And be it further enacted, That a General Meeting of the Shareholders shall be held at the South African College, on the 2d Tuesday of the month of January in each year, at one o'clock in the afternoon, at which the Council of Directors shall lay before the meeting a Report of their proceedings and of the state of the Affairs of the College during the preceding year, and at which it shall be competent for the Shareholders then present, upon motion duly made and seconded, to consider, resolve, and determine on any matter relating to the said College. And provided that no business shall be transacted at any General Meeting, whether annual or special, unless there shall be then present not less than Shareholders duly entitled to vote.

23. 26. And be it further enacted, That an Alphabetical List of the Shareholders shall be made out from the Shareholders' Book, certified as correct by the Secretary, and shall be laid upon the table previous to, and remain during, the Proceedings of any General Meeting of the Shareholders.

And be it further enacted, That it shall not be lawful for any Professor to leave his Chair in the said College until he shall have given 12 months previous notice of such his intention to the said Council, and that if he shall leave his Chair without such notice having been given as aforesaid, he shall thereby incur and be liable to pay to the Council of Directors a penalty of £50 sterling: Provided however, that in the event of the Council of Directors failing to pay to such Professor his salary as the same shall become due, or within one thereafter, it shall and may be lawful for such Professor thereupon to leave his Chair without giving such previous notice.

Of the Senate.

31. And be it further enacted, That the Superintendence and Regulations of the Discipline and Instruction in the several Departments and Classes in the said College, shall be entrusted to, and reposed in a Senate, consisting as follows: 1st, Of 2 Directors elected annually by the Council of Directors, and who shall be so elected by a majority of votes of Directors, at a meeting thereof, within 8 days after the General Annual Meeting in each year. 2nd, Of the respective Professors of Dutch and

32. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Senate to fix from time to time the hours and days when the Classes respectively shall be open; to appoint and determine what Books shall be used or read, and what Subjects shall be taught in the said Classes, to divide the said College into such Classes as they shall see to be necessary, in order to carry into effect the objects of the Institution; to make arrangements for the due and regular matriculation of the Pupils attending the said College; to examine the respective Classes in the said College at such times as they shall appoint, and to grant to such Pupils as they shall think deserving, a Certificate of the progress made by, and the behaviour of, such Pupils respectively; to take such measures and inflict such punishments as shall be found necessary by them for the maintenance of due order and discipline in the said College, and to dismiss any Pupil when they shall see it to be necessary: Provided however, that no punishment by stripes or other corporal correction, except confinement for a limited time, or such other mark of disgrace as any Professor shall think it necessary to impose, shall be inflicted upon any particular Pupil, unless the same shall have been specially directed by the Senate, and with the consent of his proper Guardian, whereupon such corporal punishment shall be inflicted upon such Pupil as the Senate shall so direct, with a proper cane, by the Janitor of the said College, and in the event of such Guardian refusing his consent that such punishment shall be inflicted upon such Pupil, it shall and may be lawful for the Senate to expel such Pupil from the said College.

33. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Senate, by a majority of votes, to refer any matter within their jurisdiction to the decision of the Council of Directors, who shall thereupon consider and determine thereon, and the decision of the said Council of Directors upon such matter so referred to them shall be final.

34. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Senate, at the commencement, and also about the middle of every College Session, to determine what classes in addition to the Regular Establishment of the said College, shall be opened therein.

35. And be it further enacted, That the Senate shall meet on the , after each General Annual Meeting, and on a certain day in each week, at all times whilst the College Classes shall be open, and at such other times as they shall see fit; and they shall, at their first meeting after such General Annual Meeting, fix the particular day of the week on which they shall meet, regularly during the current College year, and shall at such meeting elect one of their number to be the Chairman, who shall preside at their meetings during such current College year, unless he shall happen to be absent from any meeting, when the Senate shall elect another member to preside at such meeting; and in case of an equality of votes, such Chairman or Member so presiding shall have the casting vote.

36. And be it further enacted, That three Members of the Senate shall be a quorum, and shall be competent to perform all business which may be done by the Senate under the provisions of this Ordinance.

37. And be it further enacted, That the Senate shall enter in a Book to be kept for that purpose, a minute of all their proceedings, in the English Language, which minute they shall, if they see proper, translate into Dutch, and enter such translation in the said Minute Book; and the minutes taken at any particular meeting, shall, previous to the dissolution thereof, be signed by the Chairman or Member at the time presiding.

38. And be it further enacted, That the Senate shall appoint their Secretary, and shall also appoint a Janitor, who shall be in attendance at the College at all times when the classes shall be open; and the Senate shall and may discharge such Janitor at any time when they shall see fit, and the Council of Directors shall pay to such Janitor, while in office, such salary as they shall fix, not less however than £50 sterling per annum.

39. And be it further enacted, That the Senate shall, at each Quarterly Meeting of the Council of Directors, lay before them the minutes of their proceedings kept by them from time to time; and it shall and may be lawful for the said Council, at any meeting thereof duly held, to call upon the Senate to produce such minutes, whereupon the said Senate shall produce the same. And it shall and may be competent for the Council, at any such Meeting, whenever it shall be made to appear to them that the said Senate have committed any violation of the provisions of this Ordinance, or of any Rules or Regulations duly made under and by virtue thereof, to make such resolutions thereupon as they shall see to be necessary, and to restrain the said Senate from doing any act whereby the same shall be violated.

40. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Council of Directors to appoint Professors duly qualified for the Classes or Departments hereinafter provided, or which shall, under any of the provisions of this Ordinance, be hereafter instituted; and, if they shall see fit to do so, to appoint Assistant Professors of such Classes or Departments; and such Professors or Assistant Professors, at any time, to discharge for immoral or improper conduct, or for nonfulfilment by such Professor or Assistant Professor of his engagement with the Council of Directors: provided however, that no such Professor or Assistant Professor shall be discharged as aforesaid until his case shall have been enquired into and reported upon by the Senate hereinafter appointed, and until 12 Directors, upon such Report, at a meeting of the Council duly called, shall have resolved, by a majority of votes, that such Professor or Assistant Professor shall be so discharged.

41. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Council of Directors, from time to time, to establish Professorships in Theology, and in such Branches of Literature and Science as they shall see to be for the interest of the said South African College, whenever the funds of the said College shall enable them so to do; such Professorships to be subject to the provisions of this Ordinance so far as the same shall be applicable thereto. And it shall and may be lawful for any person or persons, or any body or bodies, politic, corporate, or others, to found such Professorships, provided that the same shall be under the entire control of the said Council of Directors, and shall be in like manner subject to the provisions of this Ordinance.

42. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Council of Directors to establish a Schedule of Fees to be charged by each Professor respectively, for each Pupil who shall enter the Class or Classes under his charge, and which shall be chargeable accordingly, except as hereinafter provided with regard to Free Pupils whom the Governor of this Colony, for the time being, may appoint in virtue of the provisions of the 44th Section of this Ordinance. Provided however, that it shall and may be lawful for the said Council, with the consent of the Senate, to alter such Schedule from time to time as circumstances may require, in such manner, however, that the same shall not interfere with any engagement which shall have been entered into by the Council with any Professor in the College, unless such Professor shall consent thereto: And provided further, that if any Pupil shall apply to be entered in any particular class, after the expiration of six calendar months from the commencement of the College Session, in any year, he shall be chargeable only with a moiety of the fees chargeable as aforesaid.

Of the Pupils

43. And be it further enacted, That no Pupil shall be admitted into the said College under the age of 10 years, and unless he shall have been found by the Senate to have attained such a degree of Scholarship as shall be approved by them, whereupon he shall receive from them a certificate of his fitness to be admitted as such Pupil; whereupon, and upon payment to the Treasurer or Bursar, as the case may be, of such sum as the Council, by any regulation by them from time to time made, shall fix, not however exceeding the sum of £1 annually, exclusive of the fees which shall be payable to the Professor or Professors, in respect of the Classes which he may enter himself, to be applied in the purchase of Books, Stationery, and other articles, as may be required for the Institution, the Treasurer or Bursar shall grant to such Pupil a certificate thereof, which shall be received as satisfactory proof that such Pupil has been entered for such year upon the establishment of the College, and shall be entitled, upon payment of the fees chargeable in respect thereof, to be entered as a Pupil of any Class which shall be then open in the College.

44. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Governor of this Colony for the time being, to enter in the said College such number of Free Pupils as he shall think proper, not however exceeding 5 in the whole, at any time when there shall be not more than 50 Pupils in the College chargeable with Fees to the Professors, and not exceeding 10 in the whole at any time when there shall be more than 50 Pupils chargeable with such Fees; and every such Free Pupil, being upwards of 10 years of age, and having attained such degree of scholarship as shall be approved by the Senate, shall, upon payment of such fee annually, as it is provided by the Section of this Ordinance to be paid by each Pupil to the Treasurer or Bursar during the next ensuing years, be authorised to enter any class which shall be open at the time in the College, without payment of any fee in respect of any class belonging to the regular Establishment of the College: provided however, that such Free Pupil shall be required to pay to the Teacher of Writing, Drawing, or other department not forming part of the regular Establishment of the College, such fee as shall be payable in respect thereof by the other Pupils respectively attending the said College.

45. And whereas several persons did in or about the year of our Lord 1790, and at divers times between that time and the year 1805, subscribe certain sums of money for the purpose of qualifying competent School-masters, and for the improvement of School learning generally, and particularly for the establishment of a Latin and French School in the Colony, and which said sums afterwards increased in amount, by Contributions and Donations made by and through the Government of this Colony, now constitute the fund entitled the "Old Latin School Fund" at this time under the administration of certain persons appointed as, and known by the name of the Bible and School Commission, and which said Fund consists of Bonds and Cash, amounting in the whole to the sum of £ and of a certain House, being No. , situate in Grave-street in Cape Town.

And whereas the said South African College to be constituted and established under this Ordinance will fully carry into effect the objects for the maintenance and accomplishment of which the said Fund was raised and contributed, and it has become expedient therefore, that the said Fund should be made over to and administered by the standing Council of the Directors for that purpose aforesaid.

Be it therefore enacted, that the said Fund so now under the administration of the said Bible and School Commission, shall be paid, transferred, and made over in full; and the said Immoveable Property shall be transferred to the said Standing Council of Directors in trust from the Interest and Rent which may be made and shall arise from and in the management of the said Fund by the said Council of Directors to be applied from time to time towards the payment of the fixed salaries of the Professors respectively of the said College.

46. And be it further enacted, That this Ordinance shall be deemed, and taken to be, a Public Ordinance, and shall judicially be taken notice of as such by all Judges, Magistrates, and others, without being specially pleaded.

K. B. HAMILTON,
Clerk of the Legislative Council.

NOTICE TO THE TRADE.

S. MORDAN & Co. beg to call the attention of the Trade, and of the Public at large, to the following articles of their manufacture, viz:—

THE PATENT EVER-POINTED PENCIL is an instrument universally allowed to be of the greatest utility, and particularly recommended to the public, when made with that mathematical nicety on which its use depends. The Patentees inform the public that all Pencils having steel points are not of their make; and to avoid all inconvenience the following remarks on purchasing will ensure them a genuine article:—see the Pencil has the name, "S. Mordan and Co., Makers and Patentees," on the body of the case.

LEADS.—The spurious leads are a mixture of common lead-dust and antimony, and of all manner of sizes; they choke up the Pencil-case, and create an unjust prejudice against the genuine article. The proper leads for replenishing the case have on each box a yellow belt, with the word "warranted" and a red sealing-wax impression, bearing the initials "S. M. & Co."

Shopkeepers in provincial towns would do well to observe the above remarks, to prevent their being imposed upon, the public being much inconvenienced in not being supplied with the genuine article.

CEDAR PENCILS.—Artists and others are particularly requested to try their Black Lead Pencils in Cedar, made from the pure Cumberland lead, selected with the greatest care: they have been pronounced, by the most competent judges of the day, the best extant. (See J. D. Harding's Work on Pencil Drawings.) This article is patronized by all the Government offices.

THE PATENT OBLIQUE PEN, the only straight Pen. This peculiarity is owing to the slit being parallel to the angular slope of the writing, which gives it that freedom in use which is unequalled by any other pen by the direction in which both nibs are brought into use at the same time, the writer is not operating upon one edge of the nib, and the contrary edge of the other at the same instant, but upon the square surfaces or points of both together. Both nibs are thus brought into constantly equal wear, and a freedom is secured which no other metal Pen ever possessed. The Patent Oblique Pen is the most perfect hitherto offered.

PATENT TRIPLE-POINTED PEN.—The peculiarity of this pen, either in its straight or oblique form, is the addition of a third nib, which secures the following advantages:—

1. A certain supply of ink of any kind, uniform with the most rapid writing.
2. The two nibs of the ordinary pen act only as dividers or tracers, while the third nib, pressing upon the paper, conducts and distributes the ink.
3. The third nib renders the same pen capable of writing the boldest text or finest running hand.
4. The third nib retains a larger supply of ink without risk of blotting. (See Laws of Fluids.)
5. The third nib, acting on the slit of the pen, effectually removes the fibres as they are gathered from the paper, thereby removing the greatest impediment to the use of metallic pens.
6. Firmness in use is obtained by the third nib; and at the same time the flexibility is increased, and durability necessarily follows.

* * * Use the Improved Joint Holder, made expressly for these Pens.

PORTABLE QUILL PENS.—There are many persons who do not like steel pens; to those the Portable Quill Pen, and Silver Penholder, are particularly recommended. In Boxes containing Fifty and One Hundred.

"S. M. & Co., Makers," are marked on each box, and are warranted, with a yellow belt and wax impression.

COOPER'S PATENT SCENT BOTTLES.—These articles are confidently recommended from their superiority. The advantages derived from this invention are, that the Stopper, from its spherical form, can neither stick, or break in the neck, so constant a complaint against those on the old plan. The Stopper being made of glass never corrodes. They are so perfectly air-tight that they will preserve the most volatile spirits, even ether or ammonia, any length of time. They cause much less trouble in use than any others, the act of removing the cap and stopper being only one operation. They are more durable than any others, from their superiority both in workmanship and material, the silver and gold used in them being very stout, and warranted standard.

Manufactured by S. Mordan & Co.

PATENT TRAVELLING INKS.—S. M. & Co. invite particular attention to their improved Travelling Inks, to which they have adapted the Patent Spherical Stopper, so as to secure all its advantages, while the construction of the case admits of a glass holding a much larger quantity of ink than those in general use, without increasing its bulk; and at the same time it is protected by a strong case, neatly covered with leather. The improved Stopper to these Inks remove the objections to the India Rubber stoppers of the late Mr. Berry, and may be had in all the varieties made by him.

These Inks are also made in wood or ivory, for the pocket.

NEW FOUNTAIN INKSTANDS.—These Inkstands are of a very superior construction to those formerly in use. They present but a small surface of ink to the atmosphere, and comparatively no evaporation takes place; nor can dust accumulate to spoil the ink. The spout is placed at the most convenient angle for dipping the pen; and the ink being of a uniform depth, prevents the pen being spoiled by striking against the glass.

This Inkstand is peculiarly adapted for the writing fluids now in use. They are made of white or coloured glass, either plain or richly cut; and are also mounted with silver caps, which exclude the atmosphere or dust. Each Inkstand has a medalion, with the name S. Mordan & Co. London, on it.

SEVEN GUARDED LOCK.—There are few persons but have property of some kind to secure from prying curiosity or theft. No lock can be secure that has duplicate keys in existence, or that will allow of an impression being taken of the key to produce a facsimile, so easy in all warded and tumbler locks. The most serious robberies have taken place by means of duplicate keys, which allow the dishonest to relock without suspicion; this is fully borne out by the Police Reports. The only lock that gives positive security is the Seven Guarded Lock. The infinite variety of changes of which the key is susceptible, which causes every successive key to differ from all which have preceded it, makes this Lock perfectly secure. An inspection of the machine will justify this assertion.

This Lock is patronized by the Government offices; also at Newgate, Whitecross-street, and Warwick. There is scarcely a banking house in London but have these Locks more or less on their establishment.

Patent Joint Penholders, in Silver and Gold.
A new Guide Penholder, in Silver, much approved of.
Patent Parisian Spring Penholder, and Short Pens for do.
Gold Pens with Perpetual Points.
Fire-proof Deed-boxes, &c.
Iron Chests and Bookcases.
Iron Doors for Strong Rooms.
Lump Inks, Cone Inks, and Glass Inkstands of every description.
Toilet-bottles, Pestile burners, Rose-water Bottles, &c.
Smelling-bottles, mounted in Silver and Gold, with S. M. and Co.'s Improved Conical Stopper.
Soda-water Machines, &c. &c.

S. M. & Co. also inform the Trade that they have now in the course of manufacture several entirely new and useful articles, which will be laid before them with all possible dispatch.

CAUTION.—As imitations have been made of many of their articles, observe, that each bears the name of S. Mordan and Co., Makers, London.

Manufactory, 22, CASTLE-STREET, near FINSBURY SQUARE, LONDON.

N.B.—S. MORDAN will be happy to advise persons taking out Patents for new Inventions, as to the best mode of manufacturing and laying the same before the Trade.

Sold by A. S. ROBERTSON, of Cape Town,
By whom ORDERS for any articles made by S. MORDAN will be received, and executed promptly.

COMMERCIAL RETROSPECT.—Aug. 14.

The attention of the trade of London has been less occupied in political affairs during the past week; and in the mercantile markets therefore, rather more animation has been manifested, and upon the whole a tolerably fair extent of business has been done. Importers now appear to have more confidence, and almost all commodities are held with increased firmness. They now appear inclined to hold their goods, rather than submit to a further depression in prices; at the same time, any attempt on their part to make any material advance in prices, would almost immediately check the steady demand that now exists for Produce generally. The principal feature in these markets since our last has been the revival of demand for all descriptions of Raw Sugar; but as the Refined trade continues in so inactive and depressed a state, the larger proportion that has been sold, has been for the consumption of the home trade.

The Imports since this day week have been on a small scale, whilst the Exports are rather increased.

There has been a little change in the Money Market since our last. On the Stock Exchange Money has not been so plentiful, it having been diverted to some extent into the markets for raw material. The result has been, that much less business has been done in Securities, both English and Foreign, and prices have declined. Money has been plentiful off the Stock Exchange; and while the Bank of England have been charging 5 per cent interest on approved securities, Money can be got in other quarters on approved securities at 3½ to 4 per cent. The consequence is, that there are no applications made to the Bank of England, and the Money which parties borrowed on good security, of the Bank at 5 per cent, they can now pay back again, by giving 3½ to 4 per cent for it. The Bank of course cannot continue long to require 5 per cent., if it wish to do any business, should Money continue in its present abundance. To us there is every appearance that it will increase in plenty, and that we are slowly returning back—slow, but sure—and sure, because slow—to our wanted soundness and strength. Our recent calamities began with Money, and there has the remedy commenced; and the markets for merchandize will doubtless in a short time be regarded as safe and profitable investment of capital.

Things are also improving in the United States, but in this country it is to be feared that no sooner shall we be out of our difficulties, but they will be forgotten, so far as to their stimulating the mercantile world to take steps to prevent their recurrence, if such prevention possible and be practicable. We shall do all in our power to prevent such forgetfulness, and shall, from time to time, urge upon the attention of our readers the remedy against the recurrence of such calamities. There must have been a cause for them; to discover that cause, and to remove it out of the way, is the duty and interest of the whole mercantile world.

Parties seem now again to have become stable, and we are again unaccustomed to stoppages. We always held forth, from the beginning of our troubles, that we should come out of them without a prostration of public credit, and very extensive ruin. We have so done, we believe; and now we must do all that lays in our power, to prevent us from getting again into the same calamities.

Owing to Money finding employment in some branches of merchandize, there has been less done in Railway Shares, but there has been no change of consequence in their value.

Advices from Jamaica to the 20th June have arrived. They communicate that the prospects of the planters were very encouraging, and that, owing to the abundant rains, the crops were good.

August 15.

SUGAR.—The British Plantation market remained firm to-day, and there was a good demand from the grocers and refiners, who paid fully as much money as at the close of the market on Friday last, and the sales amounted to about 1100 hhds. and tres, including 118 hhds. Barbadoes, which were sold by public auction at steady prices; the quality of the better lots was not quite so good as that of the last sale: the prices realised ranged from 59s. to 64s. 6d. for middling to fine yellow.

MAURITIUS.—There continues a good demand for all qualities; and at the public auctions to-day, which comprised 10,252 bags, a further advance of 6d. to 1s. per cwt. was established on the middling and better sorts, whilst the low and brown Sugars fully supported the previous rates, and the whole quantity offered found ready buyers, low soft brown at 47s. to 48s. 6d., middling and good dry brown at 51s. to 52s. 6d., fine brown and middling yellow at 53s. 6d. to 55s. 6d., good middling yellow and good at 56s. 6d. to 59s. 6d., and fine do. at 61s. to 63s. 6d. per cwt.

COFFEE.—The market was quiet to-day. There is little or no enquiry for Ceylon in the face of the large sale that is advertised, comprising nearly 4000 bags at the 6d. duty. Of British Plantation the only business done was at a public sale which offered 80 casks Jamaica, and went off steadily at former prices.

TEA.—The demand for Teas is steady and improving, the tone of the market is healthy, the general feeling being that the article will gradually and steadily recover the severe depreciation in prices under which it has so long suffered. There is a great deal of enquiry for Teas, and for such bracks of the late sales as have been brought in the market, an advance on sale cost has been paid.

COTTON WOOL.—Last week's prices have been steadily maintained, but the business done has been limited; about 1,400 bales are the extent of the purchases, which comprise 700 very middling to good Surat at 3½d to 5d. 100 mid. and fair good Bengal at 4½d to 4¾d, and 600 middling fair and good Madras at 4½d to 4¾ per lb.

MAURITIUS.—The public sales since last Tuesday have been two in number, which have comprised 7398 bags, the samples of which presented a very good assortment. They went off with good spirit, and an advance of full 6d per cwt. was established; fine yellow (a favourite mark) sold at 64s 6d to 65s 6d, good yellow at 57s to 62s, low and middling bright yellow 54s 6d to 56s, fine brown at 53s to 53s 6d, good brown at 49s to 52s 6, and ordinary and middling brown at 46s to 48s per cwt. Almost the whole of the above quantity was disposed of.

COFFEE.—The British Plantation market continues rather dull for all descriptions: the demand by private contract has been extremely limited: and at the public sales which have offered 419 casks and 200 barrels, consisting principally of Jamaica, the biddings were languid and the prices realised were very uneven; but upon the whole they did not alter so much as to warrant us in reducing our last week's quotations. Jamaica fine middling fetched from 115s. to 117s. 6d., low middling and middling 102s. to 107s., fine and fine fine ordinary 83s. to 99s., and low ordinary 74s. to 78s.; Trinidad, fine and fine fine ordinary 86s. to 93s., and middling Dominica 91s. to 100s. per cwt. There is still no demand for Ceylon for exportation, and its value remains nominal: for such as is admissible for home consumption at the same rate of duty as West India, the market also remains quiet, but the importers demand the prices paid at the last public sale; the only sales are small parcels of good ordinary at 67s. to 68s. per cwt. In Sumatra or Samarang no business has been done; 168 bags of the former of common brown quality were offered at public sale on Friday, but all bought in at 28s. per cwt.

The Brazil was likewise only partly sold at 2s. to 3s. decline; good and fine ordinary greenish at 37s. to 40s.; very ordinary pale bought in at 34s., and good ordinary mixed at 37s. to 38s. 6d. per cwt.

Since the Sales some of the Havannah and Brazil has been sold at the buying in prices.

STATE OF TRADE IN THE MANUFACTURING DISTRICTS.

MANCHESTER.—Public attention has been of late so much engrossed by political events that the state of the markets has almost been lost sight of. We are now happy to say that, as political excitement abates there appears to be a steady increase in the demand for yarn, and some improvement also in manufactured goods, which we trust will prove to be permanent.

ROCHDALE FLANNEL MARKET.—There has been a good demand for goods to-day, especially for Flannels of the finer kind; but the manufacturers complain much of the extremely low prices offered by the buyers. Though wool has been advancing in price for four or five weeks, they have been able to get very little more for their pieces. Wool, to-day, has been difficult to buy at last week's prices.

COTTON FACTORIES.—The trade in the cotton factories at some of the towns in Lancashire is improving. This week many of the mills, which have been working only three and four days per week, have commenced working full time.

YORKSHIRE.—The reports from Leeds, Huddersfield, Bradford, and Halifax, all concur in stating that very little business has been done, the markets being almost entirely deserted in consequence of the bustle and excitement consequent on the elections. No improvement worth mentioning is noticed. At the York wool market a good deal of business was done. Prices remained stationary.

LEICESTER.—Trade is decidedly better. A large amount of goods for the home trade has been sold within the last fortnight, and very few wrought-hose hands are now out of work. Worsted yarns have advanced during the last week 1d. per lb. They are now selling at the rate of 28s or 29s. for farmers' parcels. Little or nothing is doing in wool with the growers: they still hold out for higher rates. The dealers, having no confidence in wool advancing during the present depressed state of the Yorkshire trade, seem inclined to let the farmers hold the stock of wool this season.

COMMERCE AT ST. HELENA.

The results of a scorching sun in travelling, promoting, &c. are frequently subversive of female comfort and attraction, by generating a tanned skin, parched lips, and unpleasing heat and roughness, and signalling a prominent feature of an otherwise beautiful countenance with unbecomingly redness. To successfully oppose these innovations, the Ladies have a powerful friend in ROWLAND'S KALYDOR—and where the results mentioned have attained progress or completion, this infallible specific excludes and resists with an effective and rapid energy truly astonishing, rendering the skin delightfully cool and pleasant, and increasing the fairness and transparency to the skin, exceeds all competition.—[See Advertisement.]

ORDINANCE

Enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the Advice and Consent of the Legislative Council thereof:

For releasing certain Property bequeathed to Esther Andrietta Constantia de Roos, from the entail of Fideicomis.

WHEREAS Maria Christina Kraaywinkel, Wife of Andries de Roos, late of Cape Town, deceased, did by her last Will and Testament made on the 12th day of May 1830, institute as her Sole Heiress her only Daughter Esther Andrietta Constantia de Roos, now the separated Wife of Marten Godlieb Eckard, both of Cape Town, and appoint the late Orphan Chamber to be the Executor of her said Will and Guardian of her minor Grandchildren, the Children of the said Esther Andrietta Constantia de Roos. And whereas the said Testatrix did by her said Will burden with the entail of Fideicomis the inheritance of her said Daughter, and did thereby provide that the said Daughter should enjoy the annual interest of the said inheritance during her life; and that at her decease the said inheritance should devolve on her lawful Children; and that in case her said Daughter should happen to die before her said Husband, then her said Husband should enjoy one half of the said interest, and her Children should enjoy the residue thereof, but that if her said Daughter should survive the said Husband, then, in such case, the said inheritance should be released from the said entail, and her said Daughter should become entitled to the said inheritance free and unencumbered. And whereas the said inheritance amounted in the whole to the sum of £358 17 0, a part whereof consisted of a certain House and Premises situate in Church street, Cape Town, and certain articles of moveable property, valued at the sum of £160 9 3, and the remainder consisted of monies which were taken under the administration of the late Orphan Chamber. And whereas the annual interest of the aforesaid inheritance was inadequate to the maintenance of the said Esther Andrietta Constantia de Roos and her said minor Children, and she and her said Children having been reduced to great poverty and distress by reason thereof, the Master of the Supreme Court, as acting in the place and stead of the late Orphan Chamber, did from time to time advance from the Guardian's Fund the sum of £198 7 9 to the said Esther Andrietta Constantia de Roos, to provide her and her said minor Children with the necessities of life, and to defray certain necessary expenses disbursed for their use and benefit. And whereas the said Marten Godlieb Eckard did, by a certain Notarial Deed executed by him, and bearing date the 30th day of August 1834, renounce all the right and interest to which he had and might become entitled under and by virtue of the provisions of the Will of the said Testatrix. Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, that the inheritance bequeathed by the said Testatrix to her said Daughter Esther Andrietta Constantia de Roos, shall be and the same is hereby released from the entail of Fideicomis imposed thereon by the said Will of the said Testatrix; and that it shall and may be lawful for the Master of the Supreme Court, and he is hereby authorized, to replace out of the said inheritance the said sum of £198 7 9, advanced by him as aforesaid; Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall affect or be construed to affect the right and interest which by the said Will is given to the said minor Children in the House and Premises aforesaid; And, provided also, that it shall not be lawful for the said Esther Andrietta Constantia de Roos to sell, alienate, or mortgage the said House and Premises; and that the said Esther Andrietta Constantia de Roos, shall have the free use and occupation of the said House and Premises during the minority of her said Children.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN,

XX. And be it further enacted, That any such resident householder as aforesaid, residing within any of the said wards respectively, shall be eligible to be elected a Wardmaster for the ward within which he shall at the time reside, and shall be proposed at the meeting of resident householders for such ward, called as aforesaid, by some person duly qualified to vote thereat, and shall be seconded by some other person in like manner qualified.

XXI. And be it further enacted, That every person who shall be elected a Wardmaster as aforesaid, shall go out of office at the end of one year from the general election of Wardmasters, and in place of such Wardmasters so going out of office, a like number of other Wardmasters for the said wards respectively, to be elected as hereinbefore provided, shall come into office, and remain in office for the following year, and at the expiration thereof shall, in like manner, go out of office, and be succeeded by other Wardmasters, for a like term of one year, and so on for ever: provided that any of such out-going Wardmasters shall be re-eligible, and may be re-elected for any such ward, and in such case continue to act and remain in office;—any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

XXII. And be it further enacted, That on the Monday immediately preceding the day on which any such term of one year shall expire, a meeting of resident householders of each respective ward shall be held for such ward, for the election of two Wardmasters for every such ward, for the next succeeding year, and such election shall proceed in such manner as is herein-before by the 19th section provided for the election of the first Wardmasters under this Ordinance.

XXIII. And be it further enacted, That any Wardmaster who shall cease to be such resident householder as aforesaid, or shall cease to reside within the ward for which he shall have been elected, or shall absent himself therefrom for any period exceeding three months, or shall become bankrupt or insolvent, or shall become incapacitated from fulfilling the duties of his office by mental or bodily infirmity or disease, or who shall accept any office of emolument under the appointment of Commissioners, relating to the Municipality, shall, ipso facto, vacate his office; and that, in case any person so elected a Wardmaster shall die, or become disqualified by bankruptcy or insolvency, or shall cease to reside within the ward for which he shall have been elected, or shall have absented himself therefrom in manner aforesaid, or shall resign or refuse to accept the office of Wardmaster, or in case of any casual vacancy happening in any manner whatever in such office, notice shall be forthwith given by the acting Wardmaster, or by the Commissioners, to the Resident Magistrate for Cape Town, or Officer acting as such, who shall forthwith, in the manner hereinbefore directed by this Ordinance, call a meeting of such resident householders as aforesaid, resident within such ward, for the purpose of filling up such vacancy or vacancies for the remainder of the year for which any such Wardmaster or Wardmasters shall have been elected.

XXIV. And be it further enacted, That it shall not be lawful for any person to hold the office of Commissioner and of Wardmaster at the same time: Provided however, that should it happen at any time that any person being at the time a Wardmaster, shall be elected to be a Commissioner, or being a Commissioner shall be elected to be a Wardmaster, such person shall, within eight days thereafter, give notice to the Resident Magistrate, or Officer at the time acting as such, whether he will continue to discharge the office he shall at the time hold, or whether he will resign the same and accept the office he shall have been in such manner last elected to, and not giving such notice he shall be taken, ipso facto, to have vacated the office to which he shall have been the last elected, and the Resident Magistrate, or Officer at the time acting as such, shall, and he is hereby required, upon the notice of any one Commissioner, to call a meeting of resident householders of the district, or of the respective wards, as the case may be, and in the manner hereinbefore provided, for the purpose of filling up such vacancy or vacancies.

XXV. And be it further enacted, That no person, being an Officer in Her Majesty's army or navy, in full pay, or in active employment, or being employed in the civil service of Her Majesty's Government, or persons in holy orders, shall be eligible to be elected as a Commissioner for the Municipality, or as a Wardmaster for any ward;—and any such person being a Commissioner or a Wardmaster, who shall be employed, or accept any employment, under Her Majesty's military, naval, or civil Government, shall be considered, ipso facto, to have vacated such appointment of Commissioner or Wardmaster, and the Magistrate, or Officer at the time acting as such, shall, and he is hereby directed, on notice thereof being given to him by the Commissioners, and they, or any one of them, are hereby required to give such notice forthwith, in the manner hereinbefore directed, to call a meeting of resident householders of the district, or of such respective ward, as the case may be, for the purpose of filling up such vacancy.

XXVI. And be it further enacted, That no person elected and appointed under and by virtue of this Ordinance, a Commissioner or Wardmaster for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions thereof, shall have or receive any salary, or shall exact, take, or accept, any fee or reward whatsoever, for or on account of any thing done or to be done by him by virtue of this Ordinance, or on any account whatsoever, relative to putting this Ordinance into execution.

XXVII. And be it further enacted, That the Commissioners for the time being shall, every second year, three months previous to the next ensuing election of Commissioners, draw out a list of all such persons as they shall find to be eligible to be elected Commissioners; and the said Commissioners shall every year, three months previous to the next ensuing election of Wardmasters, draw out a list of all such persons as they shall then find to be eligible to be elected as Wardmasters, and another list of all such persons as they shall find to be then qualified to vote as resident householders under the provisions of this Ordinance; which lists respectively, having been signed by them, shall, within two months before such election as aforesaid, be delivered to the Resident Magistrate for Cape Town, who is hereby empowered and required to act therein, in like manner as he is required by the 7th section of this Ordinance relative to the lists therein provided to be made by the Committee therein mentioned.

XXVIII. And be it further enacted, That the said lists shall remain with the said Magistrate until new lists, as in the preceding section directed, shall be delivered to him for the purpose of amending the same, if necessary, and any person becoming qualified to be elected a Commissioner or a Wardmaster, or to vote as in the 58th section hereinafter is provided, shall be entitled, on notice given at least forty-eight hours previous to any one of the Commissioners, to claim before the Magistrate, at least eight days previous to any meeting of resident householders, that his name shall be placed on any of the said lists;—and any resident householder may also, in the same manner, claim before the Magistrate, that the name of any person not being upon the said lists, shall be added thereto, as being duly qualified; or that the name of any person standing upon such lists, as qualified as a Commissioner or a Wardmaster, or entitled to vote as a resident householder, shall be expunged, as being or having become disqualified; provided that notice at least forty-eight hours previous, of such intended claim, be given to any one Commissioner and to the person whose name is sought to be expunged. And the said Magistrate shall in such case or cases, determine and decide as in the 7th section of this Ordinance directed.

XXIX. And be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners for the time being, (acting in pursuance of any Municipal Regulations to that effect), and they are hereby authorised and required to appoint during pleasure, such Treasurer and other Officers as shall be specified in any such Regulations, and to remove and displace the same, and to hold their office and meetings, and transact their business, in the Town House in Cape Town.

XXX. And be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, and they are hereby required, to take security from the Treasurer to be appointed by virtue of this Ordinance, for the due execution of his office of Treasurer, according to the true intent and meaning of this Ordinance, which security shall be to the full amount of the sum likely to be in the hands of the said Treasurer at any one time. And in case any such Treasurer shall neglect or refuse, for the space of three weeks next after his appointment, to give or offer such security to the satisfaction of the said Commissioners, then the appointment of every such person so neglecting or refusing shall be null and void to all intents and purposes, and the said Commissioners shall within three weeks then next, assemble and appoint some other fit and proper person to the office of Treasurer, instead of the person so refusing or neglecting as aforesaid; and shall so assemble and appoint from time to time until security shall be given to their satisfaction as aforesaid.

XXXI. And be it further enacted, That every such Treasurer, and other officer, appointed by virtue of this Ordinance, shall, under his hand, and at such time or times, and in such manner as the said Commissioners shall direct, deliver to the said Commissioners, or such person as they shall appoint, true and perfect accounts, in writing, of all matters and things committed to his charge by virtue of this Ordinance, and also of all monies which shall have been by such officer received by virtue or for the purposes of this Ordinance, and of how much thereof shall have been expended or disbursed, and for what purposes, together with proper vouchers for such payments; and that every such Officer shall pay all such monies as shall remain due from him, to the Treasurer for the time being, or to such person or persons as the said Commissioners shall appoint to receive the same; and if any such Treasurer, Officer, or other person, shall refuse or neglect to make and render such account, or refuse to deliver up the vouchers relating to the same, or to make payment as aforesaid, or shall refuse or willfully neglect to deliver to the said Commissioners, or to such person or persons as they shall appoint to receive the same, within three days after being thereunto required by the said Commissioners, by notice in writing under their hands, given to or left at the last or usual place of abode of such Officer, all books, papers, and writings, in his custody or power, relating to the execution of this Ordinance, or to give satisfaction to the said Commissioners, or such other person or persons as aforesaid, respecting the same, then and in every such case, upon complaint made by the said Commissioners, or by such person or persons as they shall appoint for that purpose, of any such refusal or wilful neglect as aforesaid, to the Supreme Court, or any Judge thereof,—the said Court or Judge shall, if they or he shall see fit, summon the Officer so refusing, or neglecting to appear before him;—and if it shall appear to the said Court or Judge, upon the hearing of the case, that any monies remain due from such officer, such Court or Judge may, by decree of the said Court, or warrant under the hand of the said Judge, cause such money to be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such Officer, and if no goods and chattels of such Officer shall be found sufficient to answer and satisfy the said money, and the charges of distraining and selling the said goods and chattels, or if it shall appear to such Court or Judge that such Officer had refused or wilfully neglected to render and give such account, or to produce the vouchers relating thereto, or that any books, papers, or writings, relating to the execution of this Ordinance, remained in the hands or in the custody or power of such Officer, and he refused or wilfully neglected to deliver or give satisfaction respecting the same as aforesaid, then, and in every such case, such Court or Judge shall, and they or he are or is hereby required to commit such offender to the common gaol or house of correction within the Municipality, there to remain without bail until he shall have given a true and perfect account as aforesaid, or until he shall have paid such monies as aforesaid, and until he shall have delivered up such books, papers, and writings, or give satisfaction in respect thereof, to the said Commissioners, or to such other person or persons as aforesaid, or until such other or further time as the said Court or Judge shall direct, provided that nothing herein contained shall prevent such Treasurer, Officer, or other person, from being tried, and if found guilty, convicted and sentenced according to law, for any crime or offence which he may have committed relative to any matter or thing intrusted to him under the provisions of this Ordinance; and provided further, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the Commissioners for the said Municipality, from bringing their action for the recovery of any sum or sums due by such Treasurer, Officer, or other person, to the said Municipality.

XXXII. And be it further enacted, That no prosecution or commitment under the provisions of this Ordinance, of any Treasurer or other Officer, or person, to be appointed under the powers of this Ordinance, shall acquit and discharge any surety or security that shall or may have been taken by, or given to, the Commissioners for the due and faithful execution of his or their office, or the payment of the monies received or to be received by him or them respectively.

XXXIII. And be it further enacted, That all acts, orders, and proceedings of the said Commissioners at any of their meetings, shall be entered in a book to be kept by them for that purpose, and shall be signed by the Chairman, or person acting as such, and two of the Commissioners then present; and all such acts, orders, and proceedings, shall then be deemed and taken to be original acts, orders, and proceedings; and such books shall and may be produced and read as prima facie evidence of all such acts, orders, and proceedings, upon any appeal or trial, or information, or any proceeding, civil or criminal, and in any court or courts of law or equity whatever.

XXXIV. And be it further enacted, That the said Commissioners shall, and they are hereby required, from time to time, to order and direct a book or books to be provided and kept at the Town House in Cape Town, which, under no pretence whatever, shall be taken from thence, except by process of the Supreme Court or any Judge thereof, or other court, in which shall be entered true and regular accounts of all sums of money received, paid and expended for or on account of the purposes of this Ordinance, and of the several articles, matters, and things, for which such sums of money shall have been disbursed and paid, and such book or books shall at all reasonable times be open to the inspection of the said Commissioners, and of every such resident householder as aforesaid, without fee or reward, and the said Commissioners and other persons aforesaid, or any of them, shall or may take copies of, or extracts from, the said book or books, without paying for the same; and in case the said Commissioners or any of them shall refuse to permit, or shall not permit the said persons aforesaid, to inspect the same, or take copies or extracts, as aforesaid, such Commissioners or Commissioner shall each forfeit and pay any sum of money not exceeding five pounds for each default, to be levied and applied in manner hereinafter provided.

XXXV. And be it further enacted, That in the month of September, in every year, a true account shall be made in writing, of all monies received and paid by virtue of this Ordinance, during the preceding year, ending on the thirty-first day of August in every year: and a copy or duplicate of such account, verified on oath before any Justice of the Peace, by the said Treasurer, and certified by the Chairman and two of the said Commissioners, shall be deposited with the said Commissioners, and shall be open to the inspection of any resident householders, or any party interested, and an abstract thereof published in the Government Gazette for general information, before the fifteenth day of the said month of September.

XXXVI. And be it further enacted, That the said Commissioners shall also, in the month of September in every year, draw out an estimate of the probable revenue and expenditure for the next ensuing year, showing the several taxes or rates to be levied or assessed during the same, which estimate shall be signed by the Treasurer, and countersigned by the Chairman and two Commissioners, and an attested copy thereof deposited in their office, at the Town House, and shall there be open to the inspection of any resident householder, or any party interested, and an abstract thereof published in the Government Gazette, for general information, before the fifteenth day of the said month of September.

XXXVII. And be it further enacted, That after the said abstracts in the two preceding sections of this Ordinance mentioned shall have been published as therein directed, during fourteen days, the said Commissioners shall, directly after the expiration of the same, call a meeting of such resident householders as aforesaid, upon seven days' notice to be given in manner aforesaid, for the purpose of assessing any such rate or rates on the immoveable property situate within the Municipality, and to endure for such period, not exceeding twelve months, as the majority of persons present and entitled to vote at such meeting shall deem necessary for all or any of the purposes of this Ordinance: Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall prevent any person who feels himself aggrieved by any such assessment from appealing therefrom to any Court having jurisdiction.

XXXVIII. And be it further enacted, That after the rates to be levied by virtue of this Ordinance shall have been assessed in manner aforesaid, it shall and may be lawful for the said Commissioners to appoint Collectors, for the purpose of collecting the amounts due and payable in manner aforesaid, and the said Collectors are hereby authorised to demand and receive the amounts so to be collected, and the said Collectors shall be furnished with an order under the hands of the said Commissioners, or any two of them, directing the said Collectors to levy the amount mentioned in the said order; and such Collectors shall give security to the said Commissioners for the due execution of their office, to such amount as they shall deem sufficient: Provided however, that nothing herein contained shall disqualify any of the Wardmasters from being appointed such Collector within the limits of their respective Wards.

XXXIX. And be it further enacted, That the said Collectors to whom any such order as aforesaid shall be issued, shall deposit in the Government Discount or other Bank in Cape Town, at the direction of the Commissioners, on account and in the name of the "Treasury of the Municipality of Cape Town," all such sums as they shall have received during any day, on the day the same shall have been received, or on the next succeeding day on which the said Bank shall be open for receiving deposits, and at the end of every week shall render an account thereof to the Treasurer, with Vouchers for the same; and in case any Collector shall neglect or refuse to deposit any sum or sums so received by him as aforesaid, within such time as aforesaid, such Collector shall forfeit all commission for collecting the same, and shall pay, by way of penalty, ten per cent. upon the amount he shall have so failed to deposit, and no such sum or sums of money shall be drawn out of such Bank, but upon Cheques, signed by the Treasurer, and countersigned by two Commissioners: Provided however, that nothing herein contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to release the Sureties for the said Collectors from their liability as such Sureties.

XL. ROWLAND'S KALYDOR is extracted from the most beautiful EXOTICS, and warranted perfectly innocent. It protects the Face and Skin from the baneful effects of the Sun and Dust—as Sun-burns, Tan, Parched Lips, Freckles, Harsh and Rough Skin, and an unpleasant Heat of the Face; it also completely eradicates Pimples, Spots, Redness, and all Cutaneous Eruptions, transforms even the most sallow Complexion into Radiant Whiteness, imparts a beautiful Juvenile Bloom, and renders the Skin delicately Clear and Soft. In cases of Stings of Insects, &c. it immediately allays the most violent inflammation, and renders the skin delightfully cool and refreshing. After Bathing, it protects the Skin from the injurious effects of Salt Water.

Gentlemen will find it allay the smarting pain after shaving, and make the skin smooth and pleasant.

Price 4s. 6d. and 8s. 6d. per bottle, duty included.

A VEGETABLE PRODUCTION,

In dressing HAIR, it keeps it firm in the curl and decorative formation; uninjured by damp weather, crowded rooms, or in the exercise of riding. To children, it is invaluable, as its application lays a foundation for a Beautiful Head of HAIR.

CAUTION.—To prevent imposition on purchasing, ask for "Rowland's Macassar Oil," as some shop-keepers offer for sale a spurious article (calling it the genuine), under the lure of being cheap.

The lowest price is 3s. 6d., the next price is 7s.—10s. 6d. and 21s. per bottle.

ROWLAND'S ODONTO,

NOTICE TO THE TRADE.

S. MORDAN & Co. beg to call the attention of the TRADE, and of the Public at large, to the following articles of their manufacture, viz:—

THE PATENT EVER-POINTED PENCIL is an instrument universally allowed to be of the greatest utility, and particularly recommended to the public, when made with that mathematical nicety on which its use depends. The Patentees inform the public that all Pencils having steel points are not of their make; and to avoid all inconvenience the following remarks on purchasing will ensure them a genuine article:—see the Pencil has the name, "S. Mordan and Co., Makers and Patentees," on the body of the case.

LEADS.—The spurious leads are a mixture of common lead-dust and antimony, and of all manner of sizes; they choke up the Pencil-case, and create an unjust prejudice against the genuine article. The proper leads for replenishing the case have on each box a yellow belt, with the word "warranted" in it, and a red sealing-wax impression, bearing the initials "S. M. & Co."

Shopkeepers in provincial towns would do well to observe the above remarks, to prevent their being imposed upon, the public being much inconvenienced in not being supplied with the genuine article.

CEDAR PENCILS.—Artists and others are particularly requested to try their Black Lead Pencils in Cedar, made from the pure Cumberland lead, selected with the greatest care: they have been pronounced, by the most competent judges of the day, the best extant. (See J. D. Harding's Work on Pencil Drawings.) This article is patronized by all the Government offices.

THE PATENT OBLIQUE PEN, the only straight Pen. This peculiarity is owing to the slit being parallel to the angular slope of the writing, which gives it that freedom in use which is unequalled by any other pen by the direction in which both nibs are brought into use at the same time, the writer is not operating upon one edge of the nib, and the contrary edge of the other at the same instant, but upon the square surfaces or points of both together. Both nibs are thus brought into constantly equal wear, and a freedom is secured which no other metal Pen ever possessed. The Patent Oblique Pen is the most perfect hitherto offered.

PATENT TRIPLE-POINTED PEN.—The peculiarity of this Pen, either in its straight or oblique form, is the addition of a third nib, which secures the following advantages:—

1. A certain supply of ink of any kind, uniform with the most rapid writing.
2. The two nibs of the ordinary pen act only as dividers or tracers, while the third nib, pressing upon the paper, conducts and distributes the ink.
3. The third nib renders the same pen capable of writing the boldest text or finest running hand.
4. The third nib retains a larger supply of ink without risk of blotting. (See Laws of Fluids.)
5. The third nib, acting on the slit of the pen, effectually removes the fibres as they are gathered from the paper, thereby removing the greatest impediment to the use of metallic pens.
6. Firmness in use is obtained by the third nib; and at the same time the flexibility is increased, and durability necessarily follows.

* * Use the Improved Joint Holder, made expressly for these Pens.

PORTABLE QUILL PENS.—There are many persons who do not like steel pens; to those the Portable Quill Pens, and Silver Penholder, are particularly recommended. In Boxes containing Fifty and One Hundred.

"S. M. & Co., Makers," are marked on each box, and are warranted, with a yellow belt and wax impression.

COOPER'S PATENT SCENT BOTTLES.—These articles are confidently recommended from their superiority. The advantages derived from this invention are, that the Stopper, from its spherical form, can neither stick, or break in the neck, so constant a complaint against those on the old plan. The Stopper being made of glass never corrodes. They are so perfectly air-tight that they will preserve the most volatile spirits, even ether or ammonia, any length of time. They cause much less trouble in use than any others, the act of removing the cap and stopper being only one operation. They are more durable than any others, from their superiority both in workmanship and material, the silver and gold used in them being very stout, and warranted standard.

Manufactured by S. Mordan & Co.

PATENT TRAVELLING INKS.—S. M. & Co. invite particular attention to their improved Travelling Inks, to which they have adapted the Patent Spherical Stopper, so as to secure all its advantages, while the construction of the case admits of a glass holding a much larger quantity of ink than those in general use, without increasing its bulk; and at the same time it is protected by a strong case, neatly covered with leather. The improved Stoppers to these Inks remove the objections to the India Rubber Stoppers of the late Mr. Berry, and may be had in all the varieties made by him.

These Inks are also made in wood or ivory, for the pocket.

NEW FOUNTAIN INKSTANDS.—These Inkstands are of a very superior construction to those formerly in use. They present but a small surface of ink to the atmosphere, and comparatively no evaporation takes place; nor can dust accumulate to spoil the ink. The spout is placed at the most convenient angle for dipping the pen; and the ink being of a uniform depth, prevents the pen being spoiled by striking against the glass.

This Inkstand is peculiarly adapted for the writing fluids now in use. They are made of white or coloured glass, either plain or richly cut; and are also mounted with silver caps, which exclude the atmosphere or dust. Each Inkstand has a medalion, with the name S. Mordan & Co. London, on it.

SEVEN GUARDED LOCK.—There are few persons but have property of some kind to secure from prying curiosity or theft. No lock can be secure that has duplicate keys in existence, or that will allow of an impression being taken of the key to produce a facsimile, so easy in all warded and tumbler locks. The most serious robberies have taken place by means of duplicate keys, which allow the dishonest to relock without suspicion; this is fully borne out by the Police Reports. The only lock that gives positive security is the Seven Guarded Lock. The infinite variety of changes of which the key is susceptible, which causes every successive key to differ from all which have preceded it, makes this Lock perfectly secure. An inspection of the machine will justify this assertion.

This Lock is patronized by the Government offices; also at Newgate, Whitecross-street, and Warwick. There is scarcely a banking house in London but have these Locks more or less on their establishment.

Patent Joint Penholders, in Silver and Gold.
A new Guide Penholder, in Silver, much approved of.
Patent Parisian Spring Penholder, and Short Pens for do.
Gold Pens with Perpetual Points.
Fire-proof Deed-boxes, &c.
Iron Chests and Bookcases.
Iron Doors for Strong Rooms.

Lump Inks, Cone Inks, and Glass Inkstands of every description.

Toilet-bottles, Pastile-burners, Rose-water Bottles, &c. Smelling-bottles, mounted in Silver and Gold, with S. M. and Co.'s Improved Conical Stopper.

Soda-water Machines, &c. &c.

S. M. & Co. also inform the Trade that they have now in the course of manufacture several entirely new and useful articles, which will be laid before them with all possible dispatch.

CAUTION.—As imitations have been made of many of their articles, observe, that each bears the name of S. Mordan and Co., Makers, London.

Manufactory, 22, CASTLE-STREET, near FINSBURY SQUARE, LONDON.

N.B.—S. MORDAN will be happy to advise persons taking out Patents for new Inventions, as to the best mode of manufacturing and laying the same before the Trade.

H. ROSE, Afslager.

W. TOMPSON,

Agent van de Anti Dry Rot Compagnie,

NEEMT deze gelegenheid om het Publiek te berigten, dat hy nu eene plaats heeft gehuurd aan het bovineinde van de Strandstraat, het Eigendom van de Joint Stock Compagnie, en dat nu eene Kuil wordt bereid voor het in werking brengen van KYANS PATENT, voor het bereiden van alle soorten van Rot; alsmede Zeildoek, Touwwerk, enz., tegen het weer. Dat W. T. bereid zal zyn zyne werkzaamheden te beginnen tegen het einde der aanstaande maand.

Timmerhout, Zeildoek, Touwwerk, enz., kan dadelyk worden aangenomen en in zyn droog Pakhuis geborgen tot zulken tyd als, volgens de rotatie van aflevering, de saturatie kan worden volbragt; die genen die verlangen zich te bedienen van de voordeelen van deze waarlyk nuttige ontdekking, zullen wel doen zich te adresseren by den Agent, in de Burgstraat, No. 14, zoo vroeg als zy kunnen, daar reeds vele aanvragen gedaan zyn.

Men heeft bevonden dat Timmerhout geveld gedurende de werkzame groei, met het blad groeyende, door de bewerking van Kyans geschikt wordt voor dadelyk gebruik.

Er is reeds zooveel gezegd over dit gewigtig onderwerp, en zoo vele onbetwistbare getuigenissen, van de kracht en de onschatbare voordeelen welke kunnen getrokken worden uit deze nuttige ontdekking, dat alle verdere aanpryzyng nutteloos is.

Uittreksel uit Sir R. SMIRKE's getuigenis, voor het Gekozen Committee over de regten op Hout, zullen ten vollen deze daadzaak bewyzen.

Kent gy Kyans Patent?—Ja.

Veronderstel dat het werd aangewend op geel Canadisch Hout, zou het hetzelfde even geschikt maken als Oostzeesch Hout voor de einden waartoe gy het nu gebruikt?—Ik heb het aangewend op GEEL CANADISCH GREINEN HOUT, en het blootgesteld aan de sterkste proeven, en het blijft onbeschadigd terwyl alle ander hout (eiken of Oostzeesch hout) zekerlyk zou zyn vergaan indien het aan dezelfde proeven waren blootgesteld geweest.

Heb de goedheid te melden aan welke proeven gy het hebt onderworpen.—Ik nam een aantal stukken hout gezaagd van hetzelfde blok GEEL GREINEN HOUT, POPULIER, en SCHOTSCH DEN, deze stukken plaatste ik eerst in eene kuil, waarin de gemeene rioelen uitloopen; hier bleven dezelve zes maanden; en werden toen gelegd in een broeibed van mest, in een tuin waar de zelve weder zes maanden bleven; vervolgens werden dezelve geplaatst in een bloembed, half in den grond, en ik gaf mynen tuinman last dezelve te begieten wanneer hy de bloemen begoot. Hier bleven dezelve weder zes maanden. Ik plaatste dezelve vervolgens in eene kelder waar eenig vocht was en de lucht geheel uitgesloten; waar dezelve weder zes maanden bleven, en vervolgens in een natte kelder. Die stukken hout welke dewerking van Kyan hebben ondergaan zyn nog net zoo als toen ik dezelve het eerst had, de anderen zyn allen min of meer verrot en het populier hout is Sir geheel vergaan.

Deze bewerking van den Heer Kyan wederstaat alle rot;—"IK KAN HET NIET DOEN ROTTEN," voegde Robert Smirke er by.

Het verspreid deszelfs weldadige invloed over geheel Engeland; meer dan honderd Edel Lieden hebben Licentien ingenomen om Hout op hunne eigen Landgoederen te bereiden; en Agenten zyn aangesteld voor meer dan honderd en vyftig voorname Steden in Groot Brittanien.

N.B. Een klein Huis te Huur, en ruim Pakhuis annex, kunnende dadelyk aanvaard worden, zeer geschikt voor een Timmerman of Kuiper. Adres by den Ondergeteekenden.

Huur van het Huis, Rds. 30 } per maand.

Per Velocity.—Major Brun, of the Dutch Navy, Passenger, states that the Dutch brig Nyrerheid, Capt. Bouman, on board of which he had embarked at Java, to proceed to Europe, was struck by Lightning during a severe gale on the 29th March, at about 7 o'clock p.m. when in 29 56 S. lat. and 43 38 E. long. A large quantity of Cinnamon stowed between Decks having caught fire, the flames burst out with great fury, and notwithstanding the most strenuous exertions of all on board, they were obliged to quit the vessel at about 11 o'clock at night, having with great difficulty succeeded in getting the boats out, and not being able to save more than about 60lbs. Biscuit, 2 Hams, and 2 small casks of Water, besides the Ship's Papers and Instruments,—the Longboat containing Capt. Bouman, Major Brun, Sergeant Reinweld, and his daughter of about 14 years old, and 10 men,—the Jolly Boat, the 2 Mates, 2 Passengers, and 4 Men, in all 22 persons. After a most perilous and tempestuous passage of 16 days, during which time they were suffering the greatest privations, they succeeded in reaching the East Coast of Africa, near the Cape de los Corrientes, in lat. 24 18 S. and long. 35 46 E. (the Sergeant having died in sight of the Land); whence they proceeded, after being obliged to leave on the Coast, one of the Men who had entirely lost the use of his limbs, to Inhambane, which they reached on the 26th April, and where they were most kindly received by the Governor and the principal Inhabitants. Having somewhat recovered from their fatigues, they embarked on the 4th May on board of a vessel bound to Mozambique, where they arrived on the 28th May, and where Major Brun left the Captain and remainder of the Crew, upon his embarking on board the Velocity.

The Tamerlane spoke the American ship Aurelia, from Manila, and American bark Mary Fraser, from Batavia, off the Cape. The Tamerlane in a gale of wind on the 5th Sept. off Hood Point, Cape of Good Hope, carried away her Main-Yard, Foresail, Fore, and Main top-sail, Spankerboom, &c. owing to the Wind shifting suddenly 12 Points.

W. TOMPSON,

Agent van de Anti Dry Rot Compagnie,

NEEMT deze gelegenheid om het Publiek te berigten, dat hy nu eene plaats heeft gehuurd aan het boveinde van de Strandstraat, het Eigendom van de Joint Stock Compagnie, en dat nu eene Kuil wordt bereid voor het in werking brengen van KYANS PATENT, voor het bereiden van alle soorten van Timmerhout, en het voorkomen van alle soorten van Rot; alsmede Zeildoek, Touwwerk, enz., tegen het weer. Dat W. T. bereid zal zyn zyne werkzaamheden te beginnen tegen het einde der aanstaande maand.

Timmerhout, Zeildoek, Touwwerk, enz., kan dadelyk worden aangenomen en in zyn droog Pakhuis geborgen tot zulken tyd als, volgens de rotatie van aflevering, de saturatie kan worden volbragt; die genen die verlangen zich te bedienen van de voordeelen van deze waarlyk nuttige ontdekking, zullen wel doen zich te adresseren by den Agent, in de Burgstraat, No. 14, zoo vroeg als zy kunnen, daar reeds vele aanvragen gedaan zyn.

Men heeft bevonden dat Timmerhout geveld gedurende de werkzame groei, met het blad groeyende, door de bewerking van Kyans geschikt wordt voor dadelyk gebruik.

Er is reeds zooveel gezegd over dit gewigtig onderwerp, en zoo vele onbetwistbare getuigenissen, van de kracht en de onschatbare voordeelen welke kunnen getrokken worden uit deze nuttige ontdekking, dat alle verdere aanpryzyng nutteloos is.

Uittreksel nit Sir R. SMIRKE's getuigenis, voor het Gekozen Committee over de regten op Hout, zullen ten vollen deze daadzaak bewyzen.

Kent gy Kyans Patent?—Ja.

Veronderstel dat het werd aangewend op geel Canadisch Hout, zou het hetzelfde even geschikt maken als Oostzeesch Hout voor de einden waartoe gy het nu gebruikt?—Ik heb het aangewend op geel Canadisch GREINEN HOUT, en het blootgesteld aan de sterkste proeven, en het blyft onbeschadigd terwyl alle ander hout (eiken of Oostzeesch hout) zekerlyk zou zyn vergaan indien het aan dezelfde proeven waren blootgesteld geweest.

Heb de goedheid te melden aan welke proeven gy het hebt onderworpen.—Ik nam een aantal stukken hout gezaagd van hetzelfde blok geel GREINEN HOUT, POPULIER, en SCHOTSCH DEN, deze stukken plaatste ik eerst in eene kuil, waarin de gemeene rioelen uitloopen; hier bleven dezelve zes maanden; en werden toen gelegd in een broeibed van mest, in een tuin waar de zelve weder zes maanden bleven; vervolgens werden dezelve geplaatst in een bloembed, half in den grond, en ik gaf mynen tuinman last dezelve te begieten wanneer hy de bloemen begoot. Hier bleven dezelve weder zes maanden. Ik plaatste dezelve vervolgens in eene kelder waar eenig vocht was en de lucht geheel uitgesloten; waar dezelve weder zes maanden bleven, en vervolgens in een natte kelder. Die stukken hout welke dewerking van Kyan hebben ondergaan zyn nog net zoo als toen ik dezelve het eerst had, de anderen zyn allen min of meer verrot en het populier hout is Sir geheel vergaan.

Deze bewerking van den Heer Kyan wederstaat alle rot;—"IK KAN HET NIET DOEN ROTTEN," voegde Robert Smirke er by.

Het verspreid deszelfs weldadige invloed over geheel England; meer dan honderd Edel Liederen hebben Licentien uitgenomen om Hout op hunne eigen Landgoederen te beelden; en Agenten zyn aangesteld voor meer dan honderd en vyftig voorname Steden in Groot Brittannie.

N.B. Een klein Huis te Huur, en ruim Pakhuis annex, kunnende dadelyk aanvaard worden, zeer geschikt voor een Timmerman of Kuiper. Adres by den Ondergeteekenden.

This valuable Stock of Rams are classed, to prevent individual selections out of the Flock, their prices are 1st class, £12, and 2d Class, £10 each.

The Proprietor has also his usual supply to meet the demand of the inferior Flock Masters, some of his young Saxon Merino Rams, the progeny of his well-bred Ewe Flock, and price £3 each.

Breede River Navigation Company.

Five Thousand Rix-dollars

Would be sufficient to clear the Drifts, so that Boats might navigate to Swellendam.

If, therefore, Gentlemen, will subscribe for SHARES of Fifty Rix-dollars to that amount, it would authorise an inspection of the Obstacles that are to be moved. A scientific survey is not wanted; it is a question of brute-force, aided by the power of Gunpowder (which now happily seems wanted only for Civil uses), and perhaps even this power may be dispensed with, for our Boers know how to destroy Rocks by Fire.

I would advise a legal instrument to be drawn up, and signed by each Subscriber, but I am not aware that any money would be wanted until after the Harvest, when the Boers being disengaged, I think would fully clear all the Drifts before the next Ploughing season.

The question of extending the Navigation to Worcester can be discussed hereafter; but I am persuaded no insuperable obstacle exists, nor would much money be wanted; for even admitting there was a sudden fall in the River (which I think I may safely deny) it could be surmounted by a single Wooden Rail-road of a few yards, as an inclined plane, and Barges could thus ascend or descend from one level to another.

As the Cape community is far from enterprising, I propose, in order to offer encouragement, that the Act of Council permits ten per Cent. to be received by the Subscribers for ever, and it may be hoped that Her Majesty's Attorney General will permit it to be considered a Public Act. If the Committee will authorise me, I will employ a person for three days at ten shillings per day, to make a "Report" to them of the nature of each Drift; and if I should have committed an error in representing falsely the eligibility of the undertaking, they need not repay me.

I therefore hereby respectfully invite (if not unpleasant to the managers) Gentlemen, to meet at the Commercial Rooms, Cape Town, on Friday, the 1st day of December next, at precisely 12 o'clock, to sign for the amount of their subscription, and at the same time choose a Committee and Secretary; and (if they please) to render unnecessary any farther interference on my part, accepting me, if agreeable, as a Subscriber for the amount assigned to each individual.

WILLIAM DUNN,

Gs. MUNNIK, Js.

Anti Dry Rot Company.

W. TOMPSON

HAS now the satisfaction to communicate to the Public, that his TANKS are in that state of forwardness as to enable him to state, that his SOLUTION will be prepared for carrying "KYAN'S PATENT" into operation by the 13th of December next, and that he shall commence the seasoning of TIMBER of all kinds from 6 to 30 feet in length; Canvass, Cordage, &c.; and as he has been at considerable expense, solicits, and hopes he may be flattered with the confidence, and liberal support of all Persons interested in a matter of such valuable importance, and also of unquestionable and general advantage to the Colony.

THE PERFECT AND CERTAIN SEASONING OF TIMBER.

A desideratum almost as important as the prevention of Dry-Rot, and for many domestic purposes more so, is the perfect and certain seasoning of timber. To effect the seasoning of timber in the usual way, it is left seldom less than three years, and often as long as six or eight years, protected from wet, but exposed freely to the air. By this means the destructive principle is dried, and under common circumstances rendered inert.

It is scarcely necessary to point out the great importance of the process, in this point of view, to joiners, cabinet-makers, &c. &c., inasmuch as all wood, including mahogany, and the finest and most expensive woods, may thus be seasoned with the greatest certainty and perfection in the short space of two months, instead of the years at present employed.

The efficacy of the Process is sufficiently established by the Evidence contained in the Report to the Lords of the Admiralty, and subsequently presented to, and printed by, the House of Commons; and likewise by the adoption of it by His Majesty's Government in Portsmouth Dock Yard.

The Process is of the utmost importance to every MARITIME and COMMERCIAL COUNTRY, for it is a certain Preventive of those destructive Ravages from Dry Rot—and consequent enormous Loss of Capital to the Ship-owner—which have hitherto prevailed in Vessels of every description; and to the SHIPPING INTEREST the Process is doubly valuable, for, as is clearly proved, it prevents Mildew and Decay in Canvass as well as in Timber.

Purposes for which the Prepared Timber, &c. would be highly useful.

Large Timbers, Floors, Roofs, Gutters, &c., Furniture, and all Joiner's Work,—Preserved from Dry Rot, and perfectly seasoned.

Posts, Rails, Gates, Park Paling, Fences, Hop-poles, Felloes, Spokes, Shafts, &c. &c.—For these purposes any kind of timber may now be used, instead of the more expensive kinds. It will also supersede, in many cases, the employment of iron, from its acquired durability and greater economy.

PUBLIC WORKS.

All wood exposed to moisture, as in Docks, Bridges, Piers, Jetties, &c., Canal Gates and Works, Sleepers for Railroads, instead of Stone; Piles for Foundations, &c.—Preserved from Dry Rot and Insects.

NAVIGATION.

VESSELS OF ALL KINDS.

Steam Boats, Barges, Masts and Spars, Boats, &c.

CANVASS, CALICO, &c.

For Sails, Awnings for all purposes, Covers for Carts, Bags and Sacks, Cloth Blinds for Houses, Tents, Rick Cloths, Tarpaulings, Hammocks, &c.

ROPES AND CORDAGE

For Shipping, Warehouses, Cranes, Whalers' Lines, Fishing Nets, Garden Nets, &c.

PRESERVATION OF CANVASS, CORDAGE, &c. FROM MILDEW, &c.

When canvass, cordage, calico &c. are exposed to moisture at the usual temperature of the atmosphere, the decaying principle which they possess, in common with all other substances of vegetable and animal origin, is particularly active, and will, in the course of a few weeks, destroy their texture to such a degree that they will not even hold together. The corrosive sublimates act precisely in the same way as on timber, neutralizing the element of decay converting it by mutual combination in an insoluble, inert, and indestructible compound, which therefore cannot be removed by subsequent moisture or wet but becomes as much a part of the cloth, &c. as the fibres of which it is composed. The destructive principle being removed by being rendered inert, moisture has no longer any substance on which it can act, and the fibre is preserved in its full strength.

Evidence of SIR J. MAY before the Commissioners appointed by the Admiralty, to report on Mr. Kyan's Patent.

Colonel Sir John May, Inspector of the Royal Carriage Department, Woolwich, delivered in a paper, containing particulars of the experiments at Woolwich Arsenal, on some pieces of canvass and cordage, prepared after Mr. Kyan's process. The pieces of cordage and canvass were produced and examined. A piece of prepared cordage of five inches, with a duplicate piece of white unprepared cordage, were produced, which had both been submitted to the same trial. The prepared piece was quite sound, the unprepared rotten. The same results were observable in two pieces of 2½ inch and 1½ inch cordage prepared and unprepared, as also in two pieces of tent line. In regard to the canvass, four prepared pieces were not affected with mildew; three unprepared pieces were affected with it, and one of them was quite rotten.

Sir, London; Jan. 13, 1836.

Having just returned from the East Indies, (in the command of the "Lord Hungerford") I am anxious to do justice to "Kyan's Patent Process," for the prevention of that mildew in sail-cloth which causes their certain decay, by detailing to you facts under my own observation. In order to satisfy myself of the alleged efficacy of the Process, on my departure from England last August, I had an AWNING, made partly of common canvass, and partly of the same canvass having been submitted to the Patent Process, considering this the fairest way of judging of the difference. The result proves that it was so; and, by the end of the voyage, I considered that I had most decisive proof of the preservative power of the Patent Process. The portions of the AWNING which had undergone the Process are perfectly sound and clean, whereas those made of the common unprepared canvass are quite mildewed. And I have much pleasure in affording to your Company so satisfactory a proof of the efficacy of the Anti Dry-Rot Process.

As the SOLUTION does not appear to discolor the Timber, it might be of great advantage to Cabinet Makers, to season their fine Veneer Woods, thereby improving its durability. During the time the Timber is immersed, the Solution insinuates itself into every pore throughout the whole of the Wood, and is efficacious in preventing the destructive effects of Insects, Vermin, and Animals of every kind; therefore it would be of essential utility to Upholsterers, by seasoning their Bedsteads and Sackings.

It is also very desirable for the preservation of the Sails of Wind Mills, and all Timber used in the erection of Corn Mills of every description, particularly those worked by Water.

Ship Timber prepared by KYAN'S PATENT, will be protected from the various kinds of Animals which adhere to or injure them, as completely as if they were coppered; the Sails, Rigging, Ropes, &c. effectually preserved from Mildew and Rot.

In fact, it were endless to dwell upon the inestimable benefits to be derived from the use of KYAN'S Process, as it includes Timber, and Wood of every description, used for various purposes, and exposed to the Weather.

No Farmer or other Person would use any Canvass for the Cover of Wagons, unless saturated with the above Solution after having once experienced a trial; and they are earnestly recommended to try the experiments, as it may be effected at a trifling cost.

PRICES for seasoning Timber, Canvass, Cordage, &c.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

IF any thing, more than another, be needed as an indubitable proof of the celebrity of ROWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL, it is the fact, that no known production in the world is so many spurious and base imitations, which a set of unprincipled vendors endeavour to foist on the Public under the lure of being CHEAP.

To PREVENT such vile Imposition, ATTENTION to the following is solicited.

THE LOWEST PRICE of the original is 3s. 6d. per bottle. The label has the words "Rowland's Macassar Oil," and between these words are the same word, minutely and curiously engraved 24 times, also the Name and Address in Red on Lace-work.

A. ROWLAND & SON, 20, HATTON GARDEN, Counter-signed ALEX. ROWLAND.

All others are Frauds.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION, on purchasing, is respectfully solicited, as the Proprietors cannot be responsible for the serious injury resulting from the use of base and cheap Imitations of injurious quality, now offered to the Public as the "GENUINE."

The following testimonials (selected from an immense number) of the extraordinary good effects of ROWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL, with many from the Nobility, may be seen at the Proprietors, A. ROWLAND and SON, 20, Hatton Garden, London.

Broad Street, Brighton, April 19, 1833.

GENTLEMEN,—Having derived essential benefit from the use of your Oil, I am induced to send you the particulars; which you are at liberty to make known, as you think proper. Rather more than twelve months since I made trial of the Oil, tho' I confess without much faith, as I had been very bald 18 years; it was near three months before any effect was perceptible, when a slight down appeared at the expiration of five months, hair had grown on the bald part, full half an inch long; I then had the whole of my head regularly shaved once a week for a considerable period, constantly using the Oil, night and morning; the result is, that I have this day discarded my wig, my hair being quite restored, and as strong and great in quantity as when I was 20 years of age.

I am, Gentlemen, your obedient Servant, C. P. D. Messrs. Rowlands.

ADVERTENTIE.

Maatschappij voor het bevaren van de Breede Rivier.

DE best onderrigte Persoon, wonende boven het bevaarbare deel van de Breede Rivier, geeft als zyn gevoelen, dat Vyf Duizend Ryksdaalders voldoende zullen zyn om de Driften te zuiveren, zoo dat Schuiten tot Swellendam kunnen varen. Indien men dus wil inschryven voor aandeelen van Vyftig Ryksdaalders, tot dat bedragen, zou het eene inspectie autorizeren van de hinderpalen welke moet worden uit den weg geruimd. Een wetenschappelyke inspectie is niet noodig, het is slecht: eene vraag van bloot geweld, geholpen door het vermogen van buskruid, en misschien is zelfs dat niet noodig, daar de Boeren weten klipp n te laten springen door middel van vuur.

Ik zou raden dat een geregtelyk instrument wierde opgemaakt en geteekend door alle inschryvers, maar ik weet niet dat er eenig geld zal noodig zyn voor het einde van den oogst, wanneer de Boeren, geen werk hebbende de Driften zouden kunnen opruimen voor den aanstaanden ploegtyd.

De vraag van het uitstrekken der vaart tot Worcester, kan naderhand behandeld worden, maar ik ben overtuigd dat er geen onoverkomelyke hinderpalen zyn, en dat er niet veel geld zou noodig zyn, want veronderstellende zelf, dat er een plotselyke val in de rivier is, (hetwelk ik vrilig durf ontkennen) kan dezelve worden te boven gekomen door eene enkele Houten Spoorweg van eenige yards lang, als eene helling, en Schuiten zouden dus van het eene Waterpas naar het andere kunnen opgaan en afgaan.

Daar de Ka psche bevolking verre van ondernemend is, stel ik voor, ten einde aanmoediging te geven, dat de Acte van den Raad toe ate dat de inschryvers voor altoos 10 per Cent ontvangen, en het is te hopen, dat Harer Majesteits Procureur Generaal, zal toelaten dat dezelve worde beschouwd als eene Publieke Acte.

Indien het Committee my wil autorisereu, zal ik iemand gebruiken voor drie dagen, tegen 10s per dag, om een Verslag te maken van iedere Drift, en indien ik eene dwaling heb gemaakt in het voorstellen van de verkiesbaarheid van het Plan, behoeft men my niet terug te betalen. Ik noodig dus eerbiedig de Heeren om te vergaderen in de Beurs, in de Kaapstad, op VRYDAG, den 1sten December, ten 12 ure precies, om te teekenen voor het bedragen hunner inschryvingen, en tevens een Committee en Secretaris te verkiezen, en indien zy goedvinden ten einde alle verdere tusschenkomst van myne zyde onnoodig te maken, my aan te nemen als een Inschryver voor het bedrage voor ieder persoon bepaald.

WILLIAM DUNN,

Aan het Residentie Huis, mond van de Breede Rivier.

GOVERNMENT ADVERTISEMENT, Respecting the Erection and Maintenance of Land Marks.

THE greatest inconvenience having been experienced by Surveyors, in consequence of the very general want of Land Marks, shewing the boundaries of private property, in this Colony, whereby not only the Government suffers, but frequent disputes arise between private persons, the settlement of which is attended with extreme difficulty and much expense: His Excellency the Governor hereby calls upon all Proprietors of Lands abutting on ungranted Crown-Land, who have had diagrams of such Lands delivered to them, or for whom such Lands have been duly inspected and measured,—to cause proper Beacons or Landmarks to be erected thereon, on or before the 31st of January next, in conformity with the Proclamation of the 23d of December 1814, which is now republished for general information.

And all Civil Commissioners and Field Cornets, are particularly called upon to enforce the provisions of the said Proclamation, in every case of neglect or refusal to comply therewith, which shall come under their notice.

Colonial Office, Cape of Good Hope, 28th November 1837.

By His Excellency's Command,
(Signed) J. BELL, Sec. to Government.

PROCLAMATION.

By His Excellency General the Right Hon. Lord CHARLES HENRY SOMERSET, &c. &c.

WHEREAS it is extremely desirable and highly necessary, that permanent Landmarks should be placed and continued at the several Angles of the respective Landed Properties and Estates within the Settlement: It is therefore hereby directed, that whenever a regular Survey has taken place of any Estate or Landed Property, the Government Surveyor shall point out to the Possessor or Occupier, the proper Angles thereof, when such Possessor or Occupier shall be bound, within three months, to cause to be erected durable Landmarks of Stone and Lime, or of Brick and Lime; and if any such Possessor or Occupier shall fail in causing such Landmarks to be built within the time specified, the Landdrost of the District shall call upon him, in writing, to do so; and should he still neglect or refuse to comply with such direction, then the Landdrost shall be, and is hereby, directed and authorised to cause such Landmarks, as aforesaid, to be built at the expence of the party so neglecting; and such party shall also be liable to a penalty of 25 Rds. beyond the expence of the Landmark, for each Landmark erected as aforesaid; which expence and penalty shall be recoverable in the usual manner of small fines, by summary Sentence of the Court of Landdrost and Heemraden of the District. And it is hereby further ordered, that Commissioners from the Court of Landdrost and Heemraden do, from time to time, inspect the boundaries of the several Estates within their jurisdiction, with the view of keeping up the Landmarks thereof; and that they call upon the respective Field-Cornets to report to them the state of such Landmarks in their several Divisions, in order that such persons as shall have suffered any Landmark or Landmarks to go to decay, may be called upon, in writing, without delay, to place the same in proper and substantial repair. And it is hereby declared, that if any person shall neglect to comply with such requisition from the Landdrost of the District to repair the same within three months, such Landmark or Landmarks shall be repaired at his cost by direction of the Board of Landdrost and Heemraden, and the expence thereof, together with a penalty of 25 Rds. for each Landmark so repaired, shall be recoverable against him in the same manner as hereinbefore directed.

And in order that no Person may plead ignorance hereof, this shall be published and affixed in the usual manner.

THE Undersigned has now a supply of young Rams for Sale, from his imported Australian Ewe Flock, 8 months old. These Sheep combine the quality of Fleeces so desirable to be introduced in this Colony—fineness of fibre, with great length of staple—the results doubtless of superior judgment and selection, in crossing Ewes of pure Saxon Origin, with Rams possessing fine long heavy compact Fleeces.

This valuable Stock of Rams are classed, to prevent individual selections out of the Flock, their prices are 1st class, £12, and 2d Class, £10 each.

The Proprietor has also his usual supply to meet the demand of the inferior Flock Masters, some of his young Saxon Merino Rams, the progeny of his well-bred Ewe Flock, and price £3 each.

ADVERTENTIE.

Maatschappy voor het bevaren van de Breede Rivier.

DE best onderrigte Persoon, wonende boven het bevaarbare deel van de Breede Rivier, geeft als zyn gevoelen, dat Vyf Duizend Ryksdaalders voldoende zullen zyn om de Driften te zuiveren, zoo dat Schuiten tot Swellendam kunnen varen. Indien men dus wil inschryven voor aandelen van Vyftig Ryksdaalders, tot dat bedragen, zou het eene inspectie autorizeren van de hinderpalen welke moet worden uit den weg geruimd. Een wetenschappelyke inspectie is niet noodig, het is slechts eene vraag van bloot geweld, geholpen door het vermogen van buskruit, en misschien is zelfs dat niet noodig, daar de Boeren weten klipp n te laten springen door middel van vuur.

Ik zou raden dat een geregtelyk instrument wierde opgemaakt en getekend door alle inschryvers, maar ik weet niet dat er eenig geld zal noodig zyn voor het einde van den oogst, wanneer de Boeren, geen werk hebbende de Driften zouden kunnen opruimen voor den aanstaanden ploegtyd.

De vraag van het uitstrekken der vaart tot Worcester, kan naderhand behandeld worden, maar ik ben overtuigd dat er geen onoverkomelyke hinderpalen zyn, en dat er niet veel geld zou noodig zyn, want veronderstellende zelf, dat er een plotselyke val in de rivier is, (hetwelk ik wel durf ontkennen) kan dezelve worden te boven gekomen door eene enkele Houten Spoorweg van eenige yards lang, als eene helling, en Schuiten zouden dus van het eene Waterpas naar het andere kunnen opgaan en afgaan.

Daar de Kaapsche bevolking verre van ondernemend is, stel ik voor, ten einde aanmoediging te geven, dat de Acte van den Raad toeate dat de inschryvers voor altoos 10 per Cent ontvangen, en het is te hopen, dat Harer Majesteits Procureur Generaal, zal toelaten dat dezelve worde beschouwd als eene Publieke Acte.

Indien het Committee my wil autoriseren, zal ik iemand gebruiken voor drie dagen, tegen 10s per dag, om een Verslag te maken van iedere Drift, en indien ik eene dwaling heb gemaakt in het voorstellen van de verkiesbaarheid van het Plan, behoeft men my niet terug te betalen. Ik noodig dus eerbiedig de Heeren om te vergaderen in de Beurs, in de Kaapstad, op VRYDAG, den 1sten December, ten 12 ure precies, om te teekenen voor het bedragen huaner inschryvingen, en tevens een Committee en Secretaris te verkiezen, en indien zy goedvinden ten einde alle verdere tusschenkomst van myne zyde onnoodig te maken, my aan te nemen als een inschryver voor het bedrage voor ieder persoon bepaald.

CHARLES GRIFFITH.

Anti Dry Rot Compagnie.

W TOMPSON

HEEFT het genoegen het Publiek te kunnen berigten, dat zyne KUILEN nu zoo verre gereed zyn dat hy melden kan, dat zyne OPLOSSING voor het in werking brengen van "KYANS PATENT," zal gereed zyn op den 13den December aanst., en dat hy zal beginnen met het bereiden van TIMMERHOUT van alle soorten, van 6 tot 30 voeten lang; Zeildoek, Touwwerk, enz.; en daar hy aanzienlyke kosten gemaakt heeft, hoopt hy zich te kunnen vleyen niet de hoop de liberale ondersteuning van allen die belang hebben in zaken van zulk groot gewigt en van zulk onbetwistbaar en algemeen voordeel voor deze Kolonie.

DE VOLKOMEN EN ZEKERE BEREIDING VAN TIMMERHOUT.

Het volkomen en zeker bereiden van Timmerhout is eene zaak van byna even groot belang als het voorkomen van de Dry Rot, en voor vele huisselyke einden nog meer. Om dit op de gewone wyze te doen wordt het hout zelden minder dan drie jaren, en dikwyls zes of acht jaren op eene drooge luchtige plaats bewaard waar de wind vry kan door spelen. Door dit middel wordt het vernielend principe op gedrongd, en onder gewone omstandigheden krachteloos gemaakt.

Het is ter naauwernood nodig melding te maken van het groote belang van deze bewerking voor timmerlieden, schrynwerkers, enz. enz., daar alle soorten van hout, daar onder mahony, en de fynste en kostbaarste hout soorten, dus onder korten tyd van twee maanden met de grootste zekerheid en volkomenheid kan bereid worden, in plaats van jaren te behoeven, welke nu noodig zyn.

De deugdzamenheid der bewerking is genoeg bewezen door het Getuigenis verval in het Rapport van de Lords van de Admiraliteit en gevolgens gepresenteerd aan en gedrukt door de Gemeenten; en mede het aannemen van hetzelfde op zynen Majesteits Scheepstimmerwerf te Portsmouth.

De bewerking is van het grootste belang voor ieder zeevarend en handeldryvend volk, want het is een zeker behoudmiddel tegen de schrikkelijke verwoesting van de Dry Rot, en gevolgelyk zwaar verlies van kapitaal voor den Scheeps-reeder, welke tot nu hebben plaats gehad in alle Schepen, en voor de Scheeps Belangen is de bewerking dubbel nuttig daar het duidelyk bewezen is, dat dezelve het Weer en Bederf in Zeildoek even zeer tegengaat als in Hout.

Einden waarvoor het Bereide Timmerhout hoogst nuttig zou zyn.

Zware Balken, Vloeren, Daken, Goten, enz., Meebelen, en alle Schrynwerkers Werk, — bewaard tegen Dry Rot, en volkomen bereid.

Stylen, Leuningen, Hekken, Palen, Rasters, Hopalen, Spaken, enz. — Voor deze einden kan alle soorten van hout nu worden gebruikt zonder het kostbaarste te behoeven. Het vervangt ook in vele gevallen het gebruik van yzer, door deszelfs aangewonnen duurzaamheid en goedkoopheid.

PUBLIEKE WERKEN.

Alle hout blootgesteld aan vocht, als in Dokken, Bruggen, Steigers, Kanaal Deuren en Slapers voor Spoorwegen, in plaats van Steen; Palen voor Fondamenten, enz. — Bewaard tegen Dry Rot en Insecten.

BEWARING VAN ZEILDOEK, TOUWWERK, ENZ.
TEGEN HET WEER.

Wanneer Zeildoek, Touwwerk, Calico, blootgesteld is aan vochtigheid in de gewone temperatuur der lucht, is het bederfend principe dat dezelve bezitten, in het gemeen met alle plantaardige en dierlyke stoffen byzonder werkzaam, en kan in weinige weken derzelver weefsel zoodanig verbraken dat het niet meer aan elkander wil houden. De corrosive sublimatie werkt juist op dezelfde wyze als in timmerhout, nemende de grondstof van het bederf weg door het door verbinding te veranderen in een onoplosbaar, werkloos en onverruilbare stof welke daarom niet kan worden weggenomen door volgende rochtigheid, maar even zeer een deel van het doek wordt als de vezel waaruit het is zamengesteld. Het vernielend principe zynde weggenomen en krachteloos gemaakt, is er niets overig waarop het vocht kan werken, en wordt de vezel in deszelfs volleksterkte bewaard.

Getuigenis van SIR J. MAY, voor de Commissarissen aange-steld door de Admiraliteit om te rapporteren op Kyans Patent.

Kolonel Sir JOHN MAY, Inspecteur van het Koninklyk Ry-tuig Departement te Woolwich, leverde een papier en bevat-tende de byzonderheden van de proefnemingen aan het Arsenal te Woolwich, op eenige stukken Zeildoek en Touwwerk. De stukken Zeildoek en Touwwerk werden geproduceerd en be-zigtigd een stuk bereid touw van vyf duim, met een duplicaat van wit onbereid touw, welke beide aan dezelfde proeven waren onderworpen werd geproduceerd. Het bereide stuk was ge-heel gaaf, het onbereide was verrot. Dezelfde gevolgen zag men in twee enden 2½ en 1½ dm. touw, bereid en onbereid, en mede in enden Tentlyn. Wat het zeildoek aanging, waren bereide stukken niet aangedaan door het weer, van de onbe-reiden waren drie aangedaan door het weer, en een geheel vergaan.

MYNHEER, — Ik ben juist terug gekeerd uit de Oost Indien, (kommanderende de "Lord Hungerford.") en verlang regt te doen aan Kyans Patent, bereiding voor het tegengaan van het weer in Zeildoek, dat het zoo zeker doet vergaan. Ten einde my te verzekeren van de deugdzamenheid der bewerking, heb ik voor myn vertrek uit Engeland in August 11, een Zonnentent laten maken, half van gemeene zeildoek, en half van zeildoek bereid volgens Kyans Patent, rekenende dat dit de beste manier was om het te heproeven. De uitlag toont dat het zoo was, en by het einde van de reis geloof dat ik de beste bewys had van de nuttigheid van Kyans Patent. Dat deel van de Zonnentent dat de bewerking had ondergaan, was geheel zuiver en onbeschadigd, terwijl het deel van onbereid zeildoek gemaakt geheel vol weer was. En het geeft my ge-noegen uwe compagne dit bewys te kunnen geven van de krachtadigheid van de Anti Dry Rot Bewerking.

Daar de oplossing het hout niet schynt te doen verkleu-ren, kan het van groot voordeel zyn voor Schrynwerkers, en hun hout om op te leggen te bereiden, makende het dus duurzamer. Terwyl het hout ingedompeld is, dringt de oplossing door alle poren van het hout heen, en het is een even krachtig behoudmiddel tegen alle soorten van onge-dierte, en dus zeer voordeelg voor het maken van bedde-zakken en Ledekanten.

Scheeps Hout door Kyans Bewerking bereid is even goed beschermd tegen alle soorten van dieren, welke zich aan hetzelfde hechten als of de Schepen gekuperd waren.

Niemand zal ooit een Wagtent maken zonder dat de-zelve eer-t van dit vocht doortrokken is, na hy eens eene proef heeft genomen; en men wordt aanbevolen de proef te nemen, daar de kosten maar gering zyn.

Breede River Navigation Company.

Five Thousand Rix-dollars

Would be sufficient to clear the Drifts, so that Boats might navigate to Swellendam.

If, therefore, Gentlemen, will subscribe for SHARES of Fifty Rix-dollars to that amount, it would authorise an inspection of the Obstacles that are to be moved. A scientific survey is not wanted, it is a question of brute-force, aided by the power of Gunpowder (which now happily seems wanted only for Civil uses), and perhaps even this power may be dispensed with, for our Boers know how to destroy Rocks by Fire.

I would advise a legal instrument to be drawn up, and signed by each Subscriber, but I am not aware that any money would be wanted until after the Harvest, when the Boers being disengaged, I think would fully clear all the Drifts before the next Ploughing season.

The question of extending the Navigation to Worcester can be discussed hereafter; but I am persuaded no insuperable obstacle exists, nor would much money be wanted; for even admitting there was a sudden fall in the River (which I think I may safely deny) it could be surmounted by a single Wooden Rail-road of a few yards, as an inclined plane, and Barges could thus ascend or descend from one level to another.

As the Cape community is far from enterprising, I propose, in order to offer encouragement, that the Act of Council permits ten per cent. to be received by the Subscribers for ever, and it may be hoped that Her Majesty's Attorney General will permit it to be considered a Public Act. If the Committee will authorise me, I will employ a person for three days at ten shillings per day, to make a "Report" to them of the nature of each Drift; and if I should have committed an error in representing falsely the eligibility of the undertaking, they need not repay me.

I therefore hereby respectfully invite (if not unpleasant to the managers) Gentlemen, to meet at the Commercial Rooms, Cape Town, on Friday, the 1st day of December next, at precisely 12 o'clock, to sign for the amount of their subscription, and at the same time choose a Committee and Secretary, and (if they please) to render unnecessary any farther interference on my part, accepting me, if agreeable, as a Subscriber for the amount assigned to each individual.

NOTICE TO THE TRADE.

SMORDAN & Co. beg to call the attention of the TRADE, and of the Public at large, to the following articles of their manufacture, viz:—

THE PATENT EVER-POINTED PENCIL is an instrument universally allowed to be of the greatest utility, and particularly recommended to the public, when made with that mathematical nicety on which its use depends. The Patentees inform the public that all Pencils having steel points are not of their make; and to avoid all inconvenience the following remarks on purchasing will ensure them a genuine article:—see the Pencil has the name, "S. Mordan and Co. Makers and Patentees," on the body of the case.

LEADS.—The spurious leads are a mixture of common lead-dust and antimony, and of all manner of sizes; they choke the Pencil-case, and create an unjust prejudice against the genuine article. The proper leads for replenishing the case have on each box a yellow belt, with the word "warranted" on it, and a red sealing-wax impression, bearing the initials "S. M. & Co."

Shopkeepers in provincial towns would do well to observe the above remarks, to prevent their being imposed upon, the public being much inconvenienced in not being supplied with the genuine article.

CEDAR PENCILS.—Artists and others are particularly requested to try their Black Lead Pencils in Cedar, made from the pure Cumberland lead, selected with the greatest care: they have been pronounced, by the most competent judges of the day, the best extant. (See J. D. Harding's Work on Pencil Drawings.) This article is patronized by all the Government offices.

THE PATENT OBLIQUE PEN, the only straight Pen. This peculiarity is owing to the slit being parallel to the angular slope of the writing, which gives it that freedom in use which is unequalled by any other pen by the direction in which both nibs are brought into use at the same time, the writer is not operating upon one edge of the nib, and the contrary edge of the other at the same instant, but upon the square surfaces or points of both together. Both nibs are thus brought into constantly equal wear, and a freedom is secured which no other metal Pen ever possessed. The Patent Oblique Pen is the most perfect hitherto offered.

PATENT TRIPLE-POINTED PEN.—The peculiarity of this Pen, either in its straight or oblique form, is the addition of a third nib, which secures the following advantages:—

1. A certain supply of ink of any kind, uniform with the most rapid writing.

2. The two nibs of the ordinary pen act only as dividers or tracers, while the third nib, pressing upon the paper, conducts and distributes the ink.

3. The third nib renders the same pen capable of writing the boldest text or finest running hand.

4. The third nib retains a larger supply of ink without risk of blotting. (See Laws of Fluids.)

5. The third nib, acting on the slit of the pen, effectually removes the fibres as they are gathered from the paper, thereby removing the greatest impediment to the use of metallic pens.

6. Firmness in use is obtained by the third nib; and at the same time the flexibility is increased, and durability necessarily follows.

* * * Use the Improved Joint Holder, made expressly for these Pens.

PORTABLE QUILL PENS.—There are many persons who do not like steel pens; to those the Portable Quill Pens, and Silver Penholder, are particularly recommended. In Boxes containing Fifty and One Hundred.

"S. M. & Co. Makers," are marked on each box, and are warranted, with a yellow belt and wax impression.

COOPER'S PATENT SCENT BOTTLES.—These articles are confidently recommended from their superiority. The advantages derived from this invention are, that the Stopper, from its spherical form, can neither stick, or break in the neck, so constant a complaint against those on the old plan. The Stopper being made of glass never corrodes. They are perfectly air-tight that they will preserve the most volatile spirits, even ether or ammonia, any length of time. They cause much less trouble in use than any others, the act of removing the cap and stopper being only one operation. They are more durable than any others, from their superiority both in workmanship and material, the silver and gold used in them being very stout, and warranted standard.

Manufactured by S. Mordan & Co.

PATENT TRAVELLING INKS.—S. M. & Co. invite particular attention to their improved Travelling Inks, to which they have adapted the Patent Spherical Stopper, so as to secure all its advantages, while the construction of the case admits of a glass holding a much larger quantity of ink than those in general use, without increasing its bulk; and at the same time it is protected by a strong case, neatly covered with leather. The improved Stopper to these Inks remove the objections to the India Rubber Stoppers of the late Mr. Berry, and may be had in all the varieties made by him.

These Inks are also made in wood or ivory, for the pocket.

NEW FOUNTAIN INKSTANDS.—These Inkstands are of a very superior construction to those formerly in use. They present not a small surface of ink to the atmosphere, and comparatively no evaporation takes place; nor can dust accumulate to spoil the ink. The spout is placed at the most convenient angle for dipping the pen; and the ink being of a uniform depth, prevents the pen being spoiled by sinking against the glass.

This Inkstand is peculiarly adapted for the writing fluids now in use. They are made of white or coloured glass, either plain or richly cut; and are also mounted with silver caps, which exclude the atmosphere or dust. Each Inkstand has a medalion, with the name S. Mordan & Co. London, on it.

SEVEN GUARDED LOCK.—There are few persons but have property of some kind to secure from prying curiosity or theft. No lock can be secure that has duplicate keys in existence, or that will allow of an impression being taken of the key to produce a facsimile, so easy in all warded and tumbler locks. The most serious robberies have taken place by means of duplicate keys, which allow the dishonest to relock without suspicion; this is fully borne out by the Police Reports. The only lock that gives positive security is the Seven Guarded Lock. The infinite variety of changes of which the key is susceptible, which causes every successive key to differ from all which have preceded it, makes this Lock perfectly secure. An inspection of the machine will justify this assertion.

This Lock is patronized by the Government offices; also at Newgate, Whitecross-street, and Warwick. There is scarcely a banking house in London but have these Locks more or less on their establishment.

Patent Joint Penholders, in Silver and Gold.

A new Guide Penholder, in Silver, much approved of. Patent Parisian Spring Penholder, and Short Pens for do.

Gold Pens with Perpetual Points.

Iron Chests and Bookcases.

Iron Doors for Strong Rooms.

Yum Inks, Cone Inks, and Glass Inkstands of every description. Toile-bottles, Pastile-burners, Rose-water Bottles, &c. Smelling-bottles, mounted in Silver and Gold, with S. M. and Co.'s Improved Conical Stopper. Soda-water Machines, &c. &c.

S. M. & Co. also inform the Trade that they have now in the course of manufacture several entirely new and useful articles, which will be laid before them with all possible dispatch.

CAUTION.—As imitations have been made of many of their articles, observe, that each bears the name of S. Mordan and Co., Makers, London.

Manufactory, 22, CASTLE STREET, near FINSBURY SQUARE, LONDON.

N.B.—S. MORDAN will be happy to advise persons taking out Patents for new Inventions, as to the best mode of manufacturing and laying the same before the Trade.

Sold by A. S. ROBERTSON, of Cape Town, By whom ORDERS for any articles made by S. MORDAN will be received, and executed promptly.

COMMERCIAL RETROSPECT, Aug. 21.

Notwithstanding the partial employment of money in some departments of merchandize, to a greater extent than of late, still that employment has not been sufficient sensibly to diminish the quantity in circulation, and capital has flowed to the Stock Exchange in a tide rather increased than otherwise. The operations in English Securities have been on a large scale, and prices have been higher than those quoted last week; the average price has been 91½ Money and Account Consols. Most of the transactions have been for money, indeed nearly the whole.

Money in loans on English Securities has been easily obtained at under 2 per cent per annum, and the very best bills have been discounted at 3 per cent. These rates are significant of the great plenty of money, which will doubtless by degrees find its way into merchandize. The prevailing impression appears to be that commerce will now gradually revive, and confidence which of late has been so seriously diminished, is slowly returning. We are still without any fresh stoppages to shake or endanger the improvement, and it may now be presumed that we are again upon solid ground. Still as our recent disasters have prevailed so long, and struck so deep, caution is indispensably necessary, and will doubtless for some time continue to be exercised. Up to the time we are writing, nothing fresh has been heard from the United States, and indeed now matters seem to have assumed that character, that such intelligence cannot be very influential on monetary and mercantile matters here. Things appear to be left, so to speak, to themselves to work out their own way, and doubtless they will accomplish this, and that at no very great distance of time. We again urge upon the parties interested not to let matters pass away without devising some means to prevent a recurrence of those calamities, which, although becoming even lighter and lighter every day, have been so severe and so destructive.

The news from both Spain and Portugal have been of a character calculated to shake confidence in the existing governments of both those countries, and the consequence has been that the securities of both countries have declined in price; Spanish Bonds have gone down to 20½; Portuguese 5 per cents 39½ 39, and the three's 25. Other Foreign Securities have been at good prices.

More business has been done in the leading Railways, and the prices of shares have advanced. The London and Birmingham, and the great Western, continue to take the lead.

Sugar has been produced from the Pumpkin in France with very great success. The Pumpkin is reported to abound much more in saccharine matter than the Beet Root. It appears very probable that the cultivation of Pumpkin for the purpose of making Sugar will be very general in France.

News from New York to the 24th ulto. have arrived. Every thing was looking better and improving; and a considerably increased quantity of specie in circulation. It is said half-a-million of dollars have just come to Liverpool.

SUGAR.—The Stock of B. P. Sugar is 22,307, hds. & trs., against 27,601 at the corresponding period of 1836, thus shewing a decrease of 5294 hds. and tierces; the weekly deliveries are 2985 hds. and tierces, against 2991, at the same time last year, thus shewing a decrease of 6.

MAURITIUS continues to be taken off readily at full prices: 1613 bags offered at public sale sold with spirit at 55s to 56s 6d for middling and good middling yellow.

The stock of Mauritius is 68,677 bags against 46,742 at the same time last year, thus showing an increase of 21,935 bags; the weekly deliveries are 9,245 bags, against 5,399 last year.—These returns include the East India Dock Company.

COTTON WOOL.—The Cotton market was more active last week, a good demand having been experienced and full prices to 4d. per lb. advance has been freely paid, particularly on Surat and Bengal. There was 2260 bales Surat put up at public sale on Friday, 600 of which were withdrawn before the commencement of the sale. About 1099 bales were disposed of at an advance on the public sales of the 14th inst., of 4d. to 4½. per lb., and the remainder was bought in at this advance. At the commencement of the sale the biddings were brisk, but as it proceeded became languid. The buying has been mostly on speculation, with some for export.

SUGAR.—The demand for all sorts of West India Raw Sugar has been good since our last, and the prices of last week have been firmly maintained, indeed in some instances the importers have refused prices that would have been accepted at the close of last week. The finer descriptions have become rather scarce.

MAURITIUS.—The demand for all qualities continues good, and the public sales on Friday which comprised 5,160 bags, went off with good spirit, nearly the whole finding buyers at prices fully supporting the advance established at the sales in the beginning of the week; good and fine bright brown sold at from 52s 6d to 54s, low middling and middling yellow at 54s 6d to 56s 6d, good middling to good at 57s 6d to 59s 6d, and very good at 60s to 60s 6d per cwt.

COFFEE.—The public sales of British Plantation Coffee have offered about 513 casks and 366 barrels and bags, for which there was a good demand, and full former rates were paid, and in some instances a trifling advance realized, the whole quantity finding ready buyers. Jamaica, middling and good middling sold at 105s. to 118s., fine ordinary and low middling at 85s. to 100s.; Demerara, good ordinary at 76s. to 80s.; Dominica, low middling at 96s. to 96s. 6d., and Berbice, unclean fine ordinary at 68s. per cwt. There being a large parcel of Ceylon admissible at the 6d. duty advertised for auction this week, the market has become very flat, and some small parcels of good ordinary have been forced off at 66s. to 67s., which is 1s. below the prices recently paid, and at which there are no further buyers. Mocha remains firm, but the sales are quite unimportant. In shipping sorts of East India there is still no business whatever doing, and the prices of all kinds remain nominal. The Foreign market remains in a very dull state, and at a public sale of 500 bags Brazil on Thursday a further reduction of 1s. to 2s. per cwt. was established, and only a part was disposed of, good ordinary pale and colony at 33s. 6d. to 36s. per cwt. On Friday there was another public sale comprising 3980 bags when the holders exhibited rather more firmness, and in some instances the prices realized were a shade better than on the previous day, but upon the whole it went off with considerable heaviness and only about one-third was disposed of, good ordinary dingy to fine mixed Rio at 36s. to 39s., and at 31s. 6d. to 34s. for ordinary and broken. The only business that has transpired privately is about 250 bags of fine and fine fine ordinary Havannah at 40s. to 48s. per cwt.

NUTMEGS are only in partial request, but a small parcel at public sale sold for home consumption, at 5s 3d to 5s 4d for good first quality. In export sorts nothing done.

PEPPER.—The prices continue firmly supported though there has not been so much business done by private contract; and at public sale only a small parcel has been sold at 3½ to 4d. for good and fine Malabar.

INDIGO.—There has been a good deal of business done in East India descriptions, some parcels that were withdrawn at the late sales have been sold, for which 4d to 6d per lb. advance has been paid on the sale prices.

SILK.—The market continues buoyant and a steady business is still doing in China sorts, chiefly in the fine descriptions, which have become scarce. In the Italian market there continues to be only a limited demand for the new Silks at stiff prices.

OIL.—The market generally continues to wear an improving appearance, and the prices of most kinds are again higher. There has been a steady demand for all common descriptions of Fish Oils, and a further advance of about 4s to 6s has been established. By private contract fine pale Seal has brought £39 per tun, and there are further buyers at that price. Southern went off briskly at a public sale of 200 tuns, in good ship's casks, on Wednesday, at the above advance: inferior dark to fine quality realized £24 to £25 5s per tun. Spermin steadily maintains last week's prices.

WHALEBONE.—The article continues to advance in value, and there is a good demand for it, chiefly for exportation. 10 tons of Southern sold at public sale on Wednesday at £124 to £125 for inferior, and at £129 to £134 per ton for good and fine quality.

SEPT. 4.

There has been great quiet in the mercantile markets during the past week, and the transactions have been on a very slender scale; prices continue firm however, and there does not appear to be any danger of the markets being sent back by a pressure of goods upon them. Most commodities are firm, and have every appearance of continuing so, TEA in particular.

Such is the state of things in the Spanish capital, and so unsettled is the government from recent ministerial changes and military revolutions, that it is said the Queen attempted a clandestine flight, accompanied by a band of cavaliers, but that she was frustrated in her purposes. How matters will end there, it is impossible even to guess, but such intelligence caused Spanish Bonds to drop to 19½, and at these figures there were more sellers than buyers.

To-day Consols have been 91½ money, and 91½ account. Exchequer Bills 42.44. Bank Stock 21½

COTTON WOOL.—The accounts received from Liverpool represent the market there as healthy and improving, which have had a favorable effect upon this market: a good demand has been experienced and very full prices have been realized. Yesterday and to-day the transactions have amounted to about 1500 bales, said to be mostly on speculation, of which 1200 were Madras, and realized 3½ to 5½. the remainder Surat at 3½ to 4½. per lb. The holders are very firm, and not much is offering.

STATE OF TRADE IN THE MANUFACTURING DISTRICTS, SEPT. 5.

YORKSHIRE.—There was a fair average quantity of goods sold in the halls and warehouses at Leeds, but without any advance in price. Stocks are very much reduced. At Bradford the increased demand for fine goods still continued, and there was a trifling advance in prices both in the piece and the yarn market. In the wool market a small advance was obtained on the finer sorts, but in the inferior descriptions not much was done. At Halifax there was an improved demand for stuff goods and yarns, at prices a shade higher.—Considerable business was transacted in the wool market, at an advance of 20s per pack. Middle wethers were selling at £13 per pack. At Wakefield wool market, on Friday there was a good demand, and for finer sorts a further advance of 5s to 10s per pack.—No alteration in the middle and low qualities. At Wakefield trade generally was in an improving condition.

SHEFFIELD.—In some of our local branches of trade a slight improvement has taken place; but it is feared it will be some time before any thing like full employment can be extended to our numerous artisans.

MANCHESTER.—There was a very good demand for yarn yesterday, especially for lower and middle numbers of water twist, for which an advance of about ½d per lb was very generally obtained. There was also a fair demand for goods, and prices were firm, but without any change.

ROCHDALE FLANNEL MARKET, AUG. 28.—There has been another good market; rather higher prices have been obtained. Wool has been more difficult to buy, and has been sold to-day at an advance upon last week's prices.

SADDLEWORTH AND GLOSOP DALE.—The woollen trade here is rather dull, but better than it was a month ago. Wages remain the same, but the hands, on an average, have not more than four days' work a week. Cotton spinning has considerably improved within the last month.

BURY AND ROSSENDALE.—The blanket-weavers in Bury have more work, and the trade is reviving a little. The coarse woollen or backing trade at Rossendale is in a pretty fair state, and hands have full employment, yet wages were scarcely ever known to be so low as at present.

SILK TRADE.—This trade seems to be in a very unsettled state, manufacturers scarcely knowing what kind of goods to manufacture. Fine sorts of plain sarcelots and sattins appear to be most in request. There has been a greater number of sattins given out this week at the warehouses in Manchester, while the coarser sorts of plain sarcelots are almost over.—There are very few silk goods on hand, and, as the dyers are rather busier this week, we may expect that there will also be more work for weavers. Figured silks are pretty brisk.

THE WOOL TRADE, &c.

British and Foreign Wools.—London, Sept. 18.

There is a considerable increased degree of activity apparent in the British wool trade, and, in many instances, further advanced prices have been obtained. Manufacturers appear to be busily occupied in executing those orders for woollen goods which have been lately received from the United States. Many persons appear to be buying up large stocks, in anticipation of further enhanced rates. From our provincial districts our accounts are exceedingly favourable; indeed, everything seems to indicate a great degree of buoyancy in this branch of our manufactures.

Electoral Saxony wool from 4s. 4d. to 5s. 4d; first Austrian, Bohemian, and other German wools, 3s. 2d. to 4s. 4d.

Australian fine crossed do., 3s. to 3s. 4d.; do., native sheep's do., 1s. 6d. to 3s. 0d; Van Dieman's Land native sheep's do., 1s. 6d. to 2s. 6d; and Cape of Good Hope do., 1s. 6d. to 3s. per lb.

At the public sales which took place last week the attendance of buyers was large and the biddings were very brisk. Nearly the whole of the wool was disposed of at an advance of from 5 to 10 per cent., compared with the prices realised at the preceding sales. Inferior Australian wool produced from 7½d. to 1s. 3d; superior ditto 1s. 4d. to 2s.

Ad; German 1s. 5d. to 1s. 9d.; Van Diemen's Land 1s. 3d. to 1s. 8d.; Tasmanian 1s. 6d. to 1s. 10d. East India 6d. to 7d.; Cape of Good Hope 1s. to 1s. 6d.; and Italian wool 4d. to 7d. per lb. The sales were concluded on Saturday. The imports have consisted of 3,135 bales of Australian, 2,000 of Turkish, 100 of Russian, 180 of Italian, and 167 of Cape of Good Hope wools.

LONDON WOOL SALES, SEPT. 18

The sales of colonial and other descriptions of wool, the commencement of which we noticed in our last report, continued daily during the past week, and finally closed on Saturday evening last. The sales have been very fully attended throughout, and the biddings became so brisk towards the conclusion, that a very material advance in prices took place.

The sales of Monday last were conducted by Messrs. Thos. Southey & Son, and consisted of 862 bales, of which 341 were Australian, 355 Van Diemen's Land, and the rest Cape and Spanish wool. The prices ranged for Australian from 1s. 7d. to 1s. 9d., and for Tasmanian from 1s. 1d. to 1s. 9d. for fair, and from 8d. to 1s. 1d. per lb. for inferior and greasy wools. The Tuesday's sales of Australian wools by Messrs. Loughnan and Hughes realised 10d. to 2s. 1d. per lb., which with Messrs. Marsh and Edinborough's (which were offered together) amounted to 1,130 bales. Though the colonial wools went off rather better, we cannot quote any alteration in the averages. Messrs. Marsh and Edinborough resumed selling on Wednesday, and realised 1s. 11d. to 2s. per lb. for several marks, viz., J. A. W. and T. W. Much spirit was evinced at this sale. At Thursday's Sale by Messrs. Simes and Co., 1,053 bales were offered, and prices fetched an advance of 2d. on the finer, and 3d. per lb. on the lower qualities, a few lots obtaining 2s. 6d. per lb., marked W. K. R. The sales of Friday by Messrs. T. Ebsworth & Son were also well attended; only 667 bales of wool were offered at this sale, of which 591 were Colonial, and the rest East India wools. The prices realised were nearly equal to those before quoted. A few good combing Van Diemen's wools sold at 1s. 8d. to 1s. 9d. per lb. The second sale on Saturday by Messrs. Simes & Co. consisted 136 bales, of which there were 89 bales of fair Australian, which generally sold at 1s. 7d. to 2s. 1d. per lb. There were sales on the same day by Messrs. Loughnan & Hughes; who offered 530 bales of New South Wales from 10d. to 1s. 10d. per lb. This sale was followed by Messrs. Southey and Son offering 428 bales of Australian wool which went off at very full prices. This concludes the public sales for the present. At these sales about 8,500 bales have been bought by home consumers and exporters. There were several buyers of low wools at the sales from France and the Netherlands. The exports of low wools to France within the last months have not been less than 4,000 bales. The sales just concluded have established a very firm market for wools. The averages of prices obtained were nearly as follows:—Australian—First quality 1s. 10d. to 2s. 4d.; second ditto 1s. 6d. to 1s. 9d.; third ditto 1s. to 1s. 6d. per lb. Van Diemen's Land—First quality 1s. 6d. to 1s. 9d.; second do., 1s. 2d. to 1s. 5d.; third do., 1s. 1d. to 1s. 5d. per lb.

GENERAL IMPROVEMENT IN THE MARKETS.

At length the time has arrived when the markets generally shew symptoms of decided, and, as far as can be judged, solid improvement. In particular we may notice Cotton, Sugar, Coffee, Spices, Timber, Metals, Oils, Silk and Wool. True it is, that the sea-son has far advanced, and much business for export cannot be expected to be done this year, yet still an extensive business may be calculated upon next year. The foundation for such business seems to be laid. An inclination generally exists amongst holders to be firm, and there is the appearance of a disposition amongst speculators to invest. At present there is a great difference in discounts, some are done at 5 per cent, and others at 8. This state of things can only last during times of great distrust, such as we have recently gone through, and now it may be expected gradually and shortly to disappear. Without presumption we think that we can see an end to our present calamities. Time has at length brought us to that desirable event. It has been a matter anxiously wished and diligently sought after. Many have been the palpitations of hope and the pulsations of desire on this matter. The time has now arrived to put aside our mourning; still at the same time we wish to guard against an impression that we wish to encourage speculation. We are anxious that all parties who have invested capital in merchandize should get remunerating prices. The stocks of dealers must now be low, and consequently we may expect that transactions will be very large. What we are most afraid of is that our recent calamities will soon be forgotten, and that in the joy of returning prosperity no remedy against a recurrence of our late calamity will be devised. We shall not forget this, and if the mercantile world do, we will remind them of it.—Aug. 22.

STATE AND PROSPECTS OF TRADE IN SCOTLAND.—SEPT. 3.

PAISLEY.—We feel pleasure in stating that the number of unemployed continues on the decrease. GLASGOW.—We observe, in some of the public journals, that a degree of discredit is thrown out as to the reality as yet of any revival in trade. We are happy to say, however, that in so far as we can judge, and from the best sources of information, the anticipations of the last month on this subject have been fully realized; and that a substantial improvement in the leading articles of our trade has taken place, with every prospect of its further extension.

DUNDEE.—In consequence of Flax having got in fewer hands, and many of our spinners being in the market, owing to the reduction of their stocks, the holders now demand a remunerating price, and have in several instances obtained increased prices. But though there is rather an improved demand for Yarns, and at a small advance, yet the prices of Linens are as before, and it is usual for many of our operatives to go to harvest work, now at hand, when of course the demand for Yarn decreases, it is to be feared, therefore, the advance is but temporary, and the stocks both of Linens and Yarns, are much too heavy for any improvement of consequence until we have orders from America (the greater vent of our coarser fabrics,) which cannot be expected before next spring, if then; so that this late advance in Flax will do more injury than benefit, as it is to be dreaded, this small advance here will be followed by a corresponding one in the Flax markets abroad. A good many Linens have been sold this week, chiefly of the finer descriptions, for the home and West India markets, but still at former prices. All our cotton bagging manufactories have been shut up for some months past, and will be for many months to come; it being estimated that there is more bagging on hand than will suffice for the ensuing crop of Cotton, notwithstanding it is supposed to be the largest ever raised.

Yarns have been selling more freely, and in some cases at a small advance, but a good merchant may yet buy at former prices. There is also more doing in Cloth. Considerable sales of dowlas have been effected, but no improvement as yet in the price; several manufactures, however, have declined parting with their goods at present prices, expecting an improvement soon. Other kinds of Goods are also more in request, and it is probable by the end of harvest, the present stock will be considerably drained. The supply for some time past has been very limited, and there will be little more added to it for the space of six or eight weeks.

The gloom which has so long hung over our local trade begins to give place to a more cheering state of things. A considerable briskness is apparent in our different markets. A rise of about £2 a ton has taken place in certain kinds of flax; and although linen and Yarns have not advanced in the same proportion, there is a great demand for both. Returning confidence amongst mercantile men is also felt to exert a beneficial influence in commercial transactions. We are happy to add, that the latest accounts from America have been of a more favourable description than any received for several months past; and the expectations of relief from that quarter, so often disappointed, are now likely to be ere long realized. It is gratifying to state that for some time past we have heard no complaints of any portion of our industrious operatives being in want of employment.

COAL AND STEAM COMMUNICATION WITH THE UNITED STATES.

As the extension of travelling by steam progresses, it appears necessary that fresh resources of Coal should be opened up to supply the increasing demand. We have no doubt that as Coal is required it will be discovered. In the United States there are large tracts of Coal, as appears from the following paragraph, which we extract:—

"As there is an immediate prospect that a part of our valuable trade with the United States of America will be carried on by steam ships, it must be satisfactory to all interested in this branch of our commerce to know that in Pennsylvania the coal mines are more extensive than in any of the other districts, and what are there called coal lands, extend to 22,000 square miles. The mines now in work are the Schuylkill, the Lehigh and the Lacawanna. In 1834 there were 224,242 tons shipped from the Schuylkill 106,500 tons from the Lehigh, and 42,700 tons from the Lacawanna mines, making in all 373,442 tons. Since that time the quantity has greatly increased with the growth of manufactures, and the consequent increase of demand.

"The capital invested in these lands, including lands, buildings, and working apparatus, is little short of £4,000,000. The coal is very hard, but when ignited, and acting under the influence of a strong current of air, it produces an intense heat. This species of coal was first used in steam navigation in 1836, by the Novelty steamer, plying between New York and Albany, distance 150 miles. She made her passage up to the river in twelve hours, and down in ten, proving, to the satisfaction of the proprietors, the practicability of using this description of coal in steam navigation, a circumstance highly important to the experiment about to be made of steam navigation between London and New York."

Information to Commanders of Ships entering the Harbour of Kingscote, Kangaroo Island, South Australia.

"Kingscote is situated on the point of land which divides the Bay of Shoals from Seal Bay, on your charts; it has two miles of water frontage, one towards Seal Bay, and one towards the Bay of Shoals, and commands a full view of Nepean Bay, from Point Marsden to Kangaroo Head, including the opposite coast of Cape Jarvis. Kingscote harbour is the finest in the colony, with the exception of Boston Bay (Port Lincoln). Our harbour will accommodate some hundreds of vessels, and 700 ton ships can lay within half a mile of the landing place; the Coromandel (662 tons register) anchored here on the 12th of January, in 4½ fathoms. Vessels from England, on making Kangaroo Island, should shorten sail, if in the night, and endeavour to make Point Marsden by day-light, as the passage is not good for a stranger to lay in at night, owing to the strong tides. On making Point Marsden the lead must be kept going, with a hand aloft to look out for the Sand Spit. This Spit runs off from Point Marsden about nine miles, in a direction a little south of E. S. E., and the passage round it to Kingscote is about three miles wide on the Kangaroo Head side of the bay. Vessels should keep not less than five fathoms all the way round the sand, and until they get the Company's flag-staff bearing N. N. W., and a yellow looking bluff cliff, which is between Lagoon Bay and the Bay of Shoals E. S. E. They may then run up for the Company's flag-staff; they should keep the lead going, however, all this way. The safest plan for a vessel from Europe is, on rounding Point Marsden, to fire a gun, and hoist the signal for a pilot, then run about four miles of the Sand Spit down, and heave to for a boat from the shore. She should also attend to guns fired, or signals made from the shore. The approach, when known, is perfectly plain and safe, but the Sand Spit, not being correctly laid down on any chart, is apt to deceive a stranger. The Company's servants have brought in every vessel from England, except the Buffalo, (she did not call here,) and no accident whatever has occurred, save to the William Hutt; she ran on shore on the Spit, through not attending to our signals, but we got her off again without the least damage.

Manufactured Tobacco or Segars pays a duty of 9s. per lb.

The serious inconvenience experienced by persons of delicate complexion, from the rays of the summer sun producing freckles, eruption, and annoying irritation on the face, neck, and hands, is best obviated by that well established and celebrated invention—Rowland's Kalydor, which, although composed of the most delicate materials, causes the skin of those who use it to resist the influence of the meridian sun, and constantly allays the prickly itching, and smarting pain, consequent upon long exposure to it. In relieving the smarting pain often experienced by the operation of the razor, nothing can equal it, and it is, in fact, an indispensable requisite in the toilette of every lady and gentleman.—[See Advertisement.]

GOVERNMENT ADVERTISEMENT, Respecting the Erection and Maintenance of Land Marks.

THE greatest inconvenience having been experienced by Surveyors, in consequence of the very general want of Land Marks, shewing the boundaries of private property, in this Colony, whereby not only the Government suffers, but frequent disputes arise between private persons, the settlement of which is attended with extreme difficulty and much expense: His Excellency the Governor hereby calls upon all Proprietors of Lands abutting on ungranted Crown-Land, who have had diagrams of such Lands delivered to them, or for whom such Lands have been duly inspected and measured,—to cause proper Beacons or Landmarks to be erected thereon, on or before the 31st of January next, in conformity with the Proclamation of the 23d of December 1814, which is now republished for general information.

And all Civil Commissioners and Field Cornets, are particularly called upon to enforce the provisions of the said Proclamation, in every case of neglect or refusal to comply therewith, which shall come under their notice.

PROCLAMATION.

By His Excellency General the Right Hon. Lord
CHARLES HENRY SOMERSET, &c. &c.

WHEREAS it is extremely desirable and highly necessary, that permanent Landmarks should be placed and continued at the several Angles of the respective Landed Properties and Estates within the Settlement: It is therefore hereby directed, that whenever a regular Survey has taken place of any Estate or Landed Property, the Government Surveyor shall point out to the Possessor or Occupier, the proper Angles thereof, when such Possessor or Occupier shall be bound, within three months, to cause to be erected durable Landmarks of Stone and Lime, or of Brick and Lime; and if any such Possessor or Occupier shall fail in causing such Landmarks to be built within the time specified, the Landdrost of the District shall call upon him, in writing, to do so; and should he still neglect or refuse to comply with such direction, then the Landdrost shall be, and is hereby, directed and authorised to cause such Landmarks, as aforesaid, to be built at the expence of the party so neglecting; and such party shall also be liable to a penalty of 25 Rds. beyond the expence of the Landmark, for each Landmark erected as aforesaid; which expence and penalty shall be recoverable in the usual manner of small fines, by summary Sentence of the Court of Landdrost and Heemraden of the District. And it is hereby further ordered, that Commissioners from the Court of Landdrost and Heemraden do, from time to time, inspect the boundaries of the several Estates within their jurisdiction, with the view of keeping up the Landmarks thereof; and that they call upon the respective Field-Cornets to report to them the state of such Landmarks in their several Divisions, in order that such persons as shall have suffered any Landmark or Landmarks to go to decay, may be called upon, in writing, without delay, to place the same in proper and substantial repair. And it is hereby declared, that if any person shall neglect to comply with such requisition from the Landdrost of the District to repair the same within three months, such Landmark or Landmarks shall be repaired at his cost by direction of the Board of Landdrost and Heemraden, and the expence thereof, together with a penalty of 25 Rds. for each Landmark so repaired, shall be recoverable against him in the same manner as hereinbefore directed.

And in order that no Person may plead ignorance hereof, this shall be published and affixed in the usual manner.

Anti Dry Rot Company.

W. TOMPSON

HAS now the satisfaction to communicate to the Public, that his TANKS are in that state of forwardness as to enable him to state, that his SOLUTION will be prepared for carrying "KYAN'S PATENT" into operation by the 13th of December next, and that he shall commence the seasoning of TIMBER of all kinds from 6 to 36 feet in length; Canvass, Cordage, &c.; and as he has been at considerable expense, solicits, and hopes he may be flattered with the confidence, and liberal support of all Persons interested in a matter of such valuable importance, and also of unquestionable and general advantage to the Colony.

THE PERFECT AND CERTAIN SEASONING OF TIMBER.

A desideratum almost as important as the prevention of Dry-Rot, and for many domestic purposes more so, is the perfect and certain seasoning of timber. To effect the seasoning of timber in the usual way, it is left seldom less than three years, and often as long as six or eight years, protected from wet, but exposed freely to the air. By this means the destructive principle is dried, and under common circumstances rendered inert.

It is scarcely necessary to point out the great importance of the process, in this point of view, to joiners, cabinet-makers, &c. &c., inasmuch as all wood, including mahogany, and the finest and most expensive woods, may thus be seasoned with the greatest certainty and perfection in the short space of two months, instead of the years at present employed.

The efficacy of the Process is sufficiently established by the Evidence contained in the Report to the Lords of the Admiralty, and subsequently presented to, and printed by, the House of Commons; and likewise by the adoption of it by his Majesty's Government in Portsmouth Dock Yard.

The Process is of the utmost importance to every MARITIME and COMMERCIAL COUNTRY, for it is a certain Preventive of those destructive Ravages from Dry Rot and consequent enormous Loss of Capital to the Ship-owner—which have hitherto prevailed in Vessels of every description; and to the SHIPPING INTEREST the Process is doubly valuable, for, as is clearly proved, it prevents Mildew and Decay in Canvass as well as in Timber.

Purposes for which the Prepared Timber, &c. would be highly useful.

Large Timbers, Floors, Roofs, Gutters, &c., Furniture, and all Joiner's Work, — Preserved from Dry Rot, and perfectly seasoned.

Posts, Rails, Gates, Park Paling, Fences, Hop-poles, Felloes, Spokes, Shafts, &c. &c. — For these purposes any kind of timber may now be used, instead of the more expensive kinds. It will also supersede, in many cases, the employment of iron, from its acquired durability and greater economy.

PUBLIC WORKS.

All wood exposed to moisture, as in Docks, Bridges, Piers, Jetties, &c., Canal Gates and Works, Sleepers for Railroads, instead of Stone; Piles for Foundations, &c. — Preserved from Dry Rot and Insects.

NAVIGATION.

VESSELS OF ALL KINDS.

Steam Boats, Barges,
Masts and Spars, Boats, &c.

CANVASS, CALICO, &c.

For Sails, Awnings for all purposes, Covers for Carts, Bags and Sacks, Cloth Blinds for Houses, Tents, Rick Cloths, Tarpaulings, Hammocks, &c.

ROPES AND CORDAGE

For Shipping, Warehouses, Cranes, Whalers' Lines, Fishing Nets, Garden Nets, &c.

PRESERVATION OF CANVASS, CORDAGE, &c. FROM MILDEW, &c.

When canvass, cordage, calico &c. are exposed to moisture at the usual temperature of the atmosphere, the decaying principle which they possess, in common with all other substances of vegetable and animal origin, is particularly active, and will, in the course of a few weeks, destroy their texture to such a degree that they will not even hold together. The corrosive sublimates act precisely in the same way as on timber neutralizing the element of decay converting it by mutual combination in an insoluble, inert, and indestructible compound, which therefore cannot be removed by subsequent moisture or wet but becomes as much a part of the cloth, &c. as the fibres of which it is composed. The destructive principle being removed by being rendered inert, moisture has no longer any substance on which it can act, and the fibre is preserved in its full strength.

Evidence of Sir J. MAY before the Commissioners appointed by the Admiralty, to report on Mr. Kyan's Patent.

Colonel Sir John May, Inspector of the Royal Carriage Department, Woolwich, delivered in a paper, containing particulars of the experiments at Woolwich Arsenal, on some pieces of canvass and cordage, prepared after Mr. Kyan's process. The pieces of cordage and canvass were produced and examined. A piece of prepared cordage of five inches, with a duplicate piece of white unprepared cordage, were produced, which had both been submitted to the same trial. The prepared piece was quite sound, the unprepared rotten. The same results were observable in two pieces of 2½ inch and 1½ inch cordage prepared and unprepared, as also in two pieces of tent line. In regard to the canvass, four prepared pieces were not affected with mildew; three unprepared pieces were affected with it, and one of them was quite rotten.

Copy of a Letter from CHARLES FARQUHARSON, Esq. Captain of the "Lord Hungerford."

Sir, London: June 13, 1836.

Having just returned from the East Indies, (in the command of the "Lord Hungerford") I am anxious to do justice to "Kyan's Patent Process," for the prevention of that mildew in sail-cloth which causes their certain decay, by detailing to you facts under my own observation. In order to satisfy myself of the alleged efficacy of the Process, on my departure from England last August, I had an AWNING, made partly of common canvass, and partly of the same canvass having been submitted to the Patent Process, considering this the easiest way of judging of the difference. The result proves that it was so; and, by the end of the voyage, I consider that I had most decisive proof of the preservative power of the Patent Process. The portions of the AWNING which had undergone the Process are perfectly sound and clean, whereas those made of the common unprepared canvass are quite mildewed. And I have much pleasure in affording to your Company so satisfactory a proof of the efficacy of the Anti Dry-Rot Process.

As the SOLUTION does not appear to discolor the Timber, it might be of great advantage to Cabinet Makers, to season their fine Veneer Woods, thereby improving its durability. During the time the Timber is immersed, the Solution insinuates itself into every pore throughout the whole of the Wood, and is efficacious in preventing the destructive effects of Insects, Vermin, and Animals of every kind; therefore it would be of essential utility to Upholsterers, by seasoning their Bedsteads and Sackings.

It is also very desirable for the preservation of the Sails of Wind Mills, and all Timber used in the erection of Corn Mills of every description, particularly those worked by Water.

Ship Timber prepared by KYAN'S PATENT, will be protected from the various kinds of Animals which adhere to or injure them, as completely as if they were coppered; the Sails, Rigging, Ropes, &c. effectually preserved from Mildew and Rot.

In fact, it were endless to dwell upon the inestimable benefits to be derived from the use of KYAN'S Process, as it includes Timber, and Wood of every description, used for various purposes, and exposed to the Weather.

No Farmer or other Person would use any Canvass for the Cover of Wagons, unless saturated with the above Solution after having once experienced a trial; and they are earnestly recommended to try the experiments, as it may be effected at a trifling cost.

PRICES for seasoning Timber, Canvass, Cordage, &c.

FOR THE TEETH AND GUMS.

The first TOOTH POWDER extant, both as to cleanliness in using, and effectually realizing BEAUTIFUL TEETH, is ROWLAND'S ODONTO, OR PEARL DENTIFRICE.

DURING several years past, and at the present time, ROWLAND'S ODONTO, as a purifier, guardian, embellisher, and preserver of the Teeth and Gums, has been patronized (almost exclusively) by Royalty and the Nobility, and is now universally appreciated as possessing renovating qualities — unequalled by any Dentifrice of the age. This justly celebrated toilet appendage is a Vegetable White Powder of great brilliancy, and as cleanly in application as felicitous in result.

As an Anti-Scorbutic, it totally ejects defect, and renders the Teeth and Gums impervious to decay from youth to age; imparts fragrance to the breath; cleanses artificial teeth, and prevents their changing colour. Rowland's Odonto, or Pearl Dentifrice, is composed of the most rare and salutary vegetable mixtures, which are so perfectly innoxious, as to be used with equal safety and success, by infant as adult; in fact, it subdues all ailment to which the Teeth and Gums are liable, and is recommended accordingly by the most noted of the Faculty. Price 2s. 9d. per box, duty included.

The Name and Address of the Proprietors (as under) is engraved on the Government Stamp affixed on each Box.

ROWLAND'S ESSENCE OF TYRE,

For changing Red or Grey Hair, Whiskers, & Eyebrows, to Black or Brown. Price 4s.—7s. 6d.—10s. 6d. and 21s. per Bottle.

For immediately relieving the most Violent Tooth-Ache, Gum Boils, Swelled Face, &c.; it is also an excellent Stomachic in cases of Flatulency, Spasmodic Affections, &c. and gives instantaneous relief. Price 2s. 9d.—4s. 6d. and 10s. 6d. per bottle.

ROWLAND'S CERELEUM,

FOR THE HEAD-ACHE,

An infallible, instantaneous and permanent reliver of the most inveterate Vertigo, by external application. ROWLAND'S CERELEUM will be uniformly found to exceed even the most sanguine expectation. In Bottles, at 2s. 9d. each.

The above Articles are sold by the Proprietors' Appointment, by A. S. ROBERTSON, Cape of Good Hope, and Messrs. LEVICK, SON, and SHERMAN.

RESUMPTION OF THE WORKS IN THE THAMES TUNNEL.

We urged last week, in common with the rest of the London press, the resumption of the works in the Thames Tunnel, under a firm conviction that every difficulty would ultimately be surmounted, and that the work would at length be perfectly accomplished. We are glad to see that the work has been resumed under the most favourable prospects of success. Mr Brunel, the engineer, has made a report to the directors, which is very satisfactory. A considerable portion of the water has been got out of the tunnel, and there is no doubt but that it all will be ultimately ejected. When this work is finished, which we have no doubt it will in due time it will be one of the most extraordinary achievements of human skill and industry that there is in the world. But it will not be a matter of barren admiration only, but one of great commercial utility. In this point of view we urge the finishing of the Thames Tunnel.—Sept. 5.

RAILROADS IN INDIA:

Railroads appear, in all probability, as if they would soon be in all quarters of the globe. This mode of effecting communication between man and man is not confined to any parallels of latitude; the whole world seems suitable for it—wherever Railways are brought into existence, Commerce will quickly be increased, and in our rich possessions in India doubtless this mode of intercourse will soon be embodied.

Extract of a Letter from a British officer, dated Madras, April 21, to a respectable firm in London:—

"There is not a country in the world that is better adapted for railroads than India. I am more than surprised that the speculative gentlemen in your metropolis do not try the experiment. The level state of the country is, of itself, no small inducement. The conveyance of troops alone, would nearly meet the expenditure. It is needless to observe, that regiments having a route of 300 miles, will not perform it sooner than about three months. This great delay is quite a common occurrence in India; and consequently troops are permitted to remain at one station five or six years, if they be in the good graces of the commander in chief. The slow conveyance of luggage, &c. by bullocks, that do not travel more than ten miles per day, is disgraceful to the hon. government, and unpleasant for any Englishman to witness. The state of the roads in this presidency is truly lamentable; and the rivers (about one-third the breadth of the Thames) between Madras and Trichinopoly are without a single bridge; and therefore, when it happens to rain heavily, travellers are compelled to remain two or three days in a miserable bungalow, before the river becomes fordable. It would be an act of charity to represent these facts to the London journals."

Of all the discoveries for preserving and decorating the hair, longtried public approbation has for many years awarded the palm to ROWLAND'S celebrated MACASSA OIL.

The singular virtues of this successful invention in stopping and preventing all weakness and decay of the hair, and restoring it where it is bald, is too well known and appreciated by an intelligent public to need much comment; while its regular application subdues all relaxing tendencies and promotes a quick and vigorous growth of beautiful curly Hair, which continues to the latest period of human life.

Its extraordinary properties prove it the friend of both sexes; for, while it facilitates the progress of Female Beauty, it enhances, by producing Whiskers, Mustachios, &c. the Graces of Manhood.

The Proprietors feel great satisfaction in acknowledging the High Testimonials they are continually receiving from all parts of the civilized world of the wonderful efficacy of their Oil.

If any thing more is required as indubitable proofs of the excellence and utility of this Oil, it is the fact, that "No Specific in the world has so many spurious and deleterious imitations," which a set of unprincipled vendors foist on the public, under the lure of "cheapness," to the great injury of those deceived by the cheat.

And all Civil Commissioners and Field Cornets, are particularly called upon to enforce the provisions of the said Proclamation, in every case of neglect or refusal to comply therewith, which shall come under their notice.

IMPORTANT TO SHEEP BREEDERS.

EASTERN PROVINCE.

THE Undersigned has now a supply of young Rams for Sale, from his imported Australian Ewe Flock, 8 months old. These Sheep combine the quality of Fleeces so desirable to be introduced in this Colony — fineness of fibre, with great length of staple — the results doubtless of superior judgment and selection, in crossing Ewes of pure Saxon Origin, with Rams possessing fine long heavy compact Fleeces.

This valuable Stock of Rams are classed, to prevent individual selections out of the Flock, their prices are 1st class, £12, and 2d Class, £10 each.

The Proprietor has also his usual supply to meet the demand of the inferior Flock Masters, some of his young Saxon Merino Rams, the progeny of his well-bred Ewe Flock, and price £3 each.

FAURÉ & KORSTEN.

Anti Dry Rot Compagnie.

W. TOMPSON

HEEFT het genoegen het Publiek te kunnen berichten, dat zyne KUILEN nu zoo verre gereed zijn dat hy melden kan, dat zyne OPLOSSING voor het in werking brengen van "KYANS PATENT," zal gereed zijn op den 13den December aanst., en dat hy zal beginnen met het bereiden van TIMMERHOUT van alle soorten, van 6 tot 30 voeten lang; Zeildoek, Touwwerk, enz.; en daar hy aanzienlyke kosten gemaakt heeft, hoopt hy zich te kunnen vleyen met de hoop de liberale ondersteuning van allen die be ang hebben in zaken van zulk groot gewigt en van zulk onbetwistbaar en algemeen voordeel voor deze Kolonie.

DE VOLKOMEN EN ZEKERE BEREIDING VAN TIMMERHOUT.

Het volkomen en zeker bereiden van Timmerhout is eene zaak van byna even groot belang als het voorkomen van de Dry Rot, en voor vele huiselijke einden nog meer. Om dit op de gewone wyze te doen werkt het hout zelden minder dan drie jaren, en dikwyls zes of acht jaren op eene drooge luchtige plaats bewaard waar de wind vry kan door spelen. Door dit middel wordt het vernielend principe opgedroogd, en onder gewone omstandigheden krachteloos gemaakt.

Het is ter naauwernood noodig melding te maken van het groote belang van deze bewerking voor timmerlieden, schrynwerkers, enz., daar alle soorten van hout, daaronder mahony, en de fynste en kostbaarste hout soorten, dus onder korten tyd van twee maanden met de grootste zekerheid en volkomenheid kan bereid worden, in plaats van jaren te behoeven, welke nu noodig zijn.

De deugzaamheid der bewerking is genoeg bewezen door het Getuigenis verrat in het Rapport van de Lords van de Admiraliteit, en vervolgens gepresenteerd aan en gedrukt door de Gemeenten; en mede het aannemen van hetzelfde op zynen Majesteits Scheepstimmerwerf te Portsmouth.

De bewerking is van het grootste belang voor ieder zoezand en handeldryvend volk, want het is een zeker behoudmiddel tegen de schrikkelijke verwoestingen van de Dry Rot, en gevolgelyk zwaar verlies van kapitaal voor den Scheeps-reeder, welke tot nu hebben plaats gehad in alle Schepen, en voor de Scheeps Belangen is de bewerking dubbel nuttig daar het duidelyk bewezen is, dat dezelve het Weer en Bederf in Zeildoek even zeer tegengaat als in Hout.

Einden waarvoor het Bereide Timmerhout hoogst nuttig zou zijn.

Zware Balken, Vloeren, Daken, Goten, enz., Meubelen, en alle Schrynwerkers Werk, —bewaard tegen Dry Rot, en volkomen bereid.

Stylen, Leuningen, Hekken, Palen, Rasters, Hoppalen, Spaken, enz.—Voor deze einden kan alle soorten van hout nu worden gebruikt zonder het kostbaarste te behoeven. Het vervangt ook in vele gevallen het gebruik van yzer, door deszelfs aangewonnen duurzaamheid en goedkoopheid.

PUBLIEKE WERKEN.

Alle hout blootgesteld aan vocht, als in Dokken, Bruggen, Steigers, Kanaal Deuren en Slapers voor Spoorwegen, in plaats van Steen; Palen voor Fundamenten, enz.—Bewaard tegen Dry Rot en Insecten.

SCHEEPVAART.

ALLE SOORT VAN VAARTUIGEN.
Stoombooten, Schuiten,
Masten en Sparren, Sloepen, enz.

ZEILDOEK, CALICO, ENZ.

Voor Zeilen, Zonnententen, Wegtenten, Zakken, Raamblinden, Tenten, Mytkleden, Presennings, Hangmatten.

TOUWWERK.

Voor Schepen, Pakhuizen, Kranen, Walvisch Lynen, Vischnetten, Tuinnetten, enz.

BEWARING VAN ZEILDOEK, TOUWWERK, ENZ. TEGEN HET WEER.

Wanneer Zeildoek, Touwwerk, Calico, blootgesteld is aan vochtigheid in de gewone temperatuur der lucht, is het bederfende principe dat deze bezigtigen, in het gemeen met alle planbaardige en dierlyke stoffen byzonder werkzaam, en kan in weinige weken derzelver weesfel zoodanig verbreken dat het niet meer aan elkander wil houden. De corrosive sublimaat werkt juist op dezelfde wyze als in timmerhout, nemende de grondstof van het bederf weg door het door verbinding te veranderen in een onoplosbaar, werkloos en onvermijelbare stof, welke daarom niet kan worden weggenomen door volgende vochtigheid, maar even zeer een deel van het doek wordt als de vezel waaruit het is zamengesteld. Het vernielend principe zynde weggenomen en krachteloos gemaakt, is er niets overig waarop het vocht kan werken, en wordt de vezel in deszelfs vollekterte bewaard.

Getuigenis van Sir J. MAY, voor de Commissarissen aange-steld door de Admiraliteit om te rapporteren op Kyans Patent.

Kolonel Sir JOHN MAY, Inspecteur van het Koninklyk Ry-tuig Departement te Woolwich, leverde een papier en bevat-tende de byzonderheden van de proefnemingen aan het Arsenal te Woolwich, op eenige stukken Zeildoek en Touwwerk. De stukken Zeildoek en Touwwerk werden geproduceerd en be-zigtigt een stuk bereid touw van vyf duim, met een duplicaat van wit onbereid touw, welke beide aan dezelfde proeven waren onderworpen werd geproduceerd. Het bereide stuk was ge-heel gaaf, het onbereide was verrot. Dezelfde gevolgen zag men in twee enden 2½ en 1½ dms. touw, bereid en onbereid, en mede in enden Tentlyn. Wat het zeildoek aangaang, waren bereide stukken niet aangedaan door het weer, van de onbe-reiden waren drie aangedaan door het weer, en een geheel vergaan.

MYNHEER,—Ik ben juist terug gekeerd uit de Oost Indien, (kommanderende de "Lord Hungerford,") en verlang regi te doen aan Kyans Patent, bereiding voor het tegengaan van het weer in Zeildoek, dat het zoo zeker doet vergaan. Ten einde my te verzekeren van de deugzaamheid der bewerking, heb ik voor myn vertrek uit Engeland in August 11, een Zonnentent laten maken, half van gemeene zeildoek, en half van zeildoek bereid volgens Kyans Patent, rekenende dat dit de beste manier was om het te beproeven. De uitleg toont dat het zoo was, en by het einde van de reis geloof dat ik de beste bewys had van de nuttigheid van Kyans Patent. Dat deel van de Zonnentent dat de bewerking had ondergaan, was geheel zuiver en onbeschadigd, terwyl het deel van onbereid zeildoek gemaakt geheel vol weer was. En het geeft my ge-noegen uwe Compagnie dit bewys te kunnen geven van de krachtigheid van de Anti Dry Rot Bewerking.

Daar de oplossing het hout niet schynt te doen verkleu-ren, kan het van groot voordeel zijn voor Schrynwerkers, en hun hout om op te leggen te bereiden, makende het dus duurzaam. Terwyl het hout ingedompeld is, dringt de oplossing door alle poren van het hout heen, en het is een even krachtig behoudmiddel tegen alle soorten van onge-dierte, en dus zeer voordelig voor het maken van bedde-zakken en Ledekanten.

Het is mede zeer nuttig voor de kleden van Windmolens, en voor alle Hout en Molenwerken, vooral voor Water-molens.

Scheeps Hout door Kyans Bewerking bereid is even goed beschermd tegen alle soorten van dieren, welke zich aan hetzelfde hechten als of de Schepen gekoperd waren.

Het zou inderdaad eindeloos zijn de menigvuldige voor-deelen te willen melden welke van Kyans Bewerking kun-nen getrokken worden, daar het alle soorten van hout om-vat dat aan het weder is blootgesteld.

Niemand zal ooit een Wagentent maken zonder dat de-zelve eerst van dit vocht doortrokken is, na hy eens eene proef heeft genomen; en men wordt aanbevolen de proef te nemen, daar de kosten maar gering zijn.

IMPORTANT TO SHEEP BREEDERS. EASTERN PROVINCE.

THE Undersigned has now a supply of young Rams for Sale, from his imported Australian Ewe Flock, 8 months old. These Sheep combine the quality of Fleece so desirable to be introduced in this Colony—fineness of fibre, with great length of staple—the results doubtless of superior judgment and selection, in crossing Ewes of pure Saxon Origin, with Rams possessing fine long heavy compact Fleeces.

This valuable Stock of Rams are classed, to prevent individual selections out of the Flock, their prices are 1st class, £12, and 2d Class, £10 each.

The Proprietor has also his usual supply to meet the demand of the inferior Flock Masters, some of his young Saxon Merino Rams, the progeny of his well-bred Ewe Flock, and price £3 each.

THE ISSUE OF THE ELECTIONS AS FAR AS OUR MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL MATTERS ARE CONCERNED.

The general issue of the elections which are now over, in our judgment, is more against the monetary and commercial interests of the country than the issue of the election previous. The next House of Commons, when it assembles, will be composed, we believe, of a greater number of party men than the last; and if we are not greatly mistaken, the time of the House will be chiefly occupied in the discussion of party questions, which if we may judge from the past, will end in nothing. Commerce the great stay of the country, and the source of its wealth, will receive but little attention if any. It has never been treated with the respect and earnestness which its importance merits, at the best of times; and now when countries around us are advancing in intelligence, and old established usages are giving way, commerce requires more attention than formerly from the legislature. In all probability it will receive less, and most likely none at all. The necessary consequence of this will be, that the mercantile world will look less and less to parliament, and more and more to themselves. Were there not usages and regulations now in existence, which have all the force of laws, and which act against the expansion of our commerce, we could do sufficiently well without the legislature. But the aid of that assembly is required, to repeal and do away with many of the old existing laws, which were the offspring of centuries ago, and which are not all applicable to the present day. Commerce and monetary matters have been very little studied by our legislators generally—they are ignorant of commerce—it is to the generality of them more an annoyance than any thing else, when it is brought forward. These very same parties are, however, very zealous and alive to all party questions, and have never done on these topics.

We regret to see that some of the parties who gave notice of several important commercial matters for next session, have now no seats in the House.—London Paper.

BANKING, COMMERCE, &c. (From the "Bankers' Circular.")

The Circular goes into the state of the Money market, and remarks, that although there is such an abundance of money, still capitalists prefer investing in raw materials, to investing in Shares. It then says

"The impulse given to purchases of Railway shares of the more stable, promising and weighty character, proceeded principally from Lancashire, and we have no doubt that the few favourite lines will be firmly sustained in the market. The opening and success of the Grand Junction Railway contributed to make investments into this kind of property more eagerly sought after. It is very generally known that the average receipts for this line, since it came into full operation between Birmingham and Liverpool and Manchester, have amounted to about five thousand pounds per week, or at the rate of about £250,000 per annum; and this large sum is chiefly derived from passengers. In a brisk state of trade, when goods are wanted quickly, for shipping, the receipts for the conveyance of goods must considerably increase.

The markets for silk, cotton and wool continue brisk, with a tendency to advance in prices—more especially those of the two first mentioned. Indeed the prices of silk having been more depressed than those of any raw material, and having been lower in England than on the Continent, were likely to advance; they have risen for some qualities more than fifteen per cent from the lowest point; and most of the holders of silk are unwilling to sell at that advance because the prices of particular sorts are still lower by nearly thirty-five per cent than they were during the autumn of 1836, and because all foreign merchants know this to be the cheapest market. We have all along thought that silk was placed in somewhat different and more favourable circumstances for an advance than either cotton or wool. We remain of opinion that if any material rise should take place in any of the principal raw materials we should see a retrograde action before Christmas next."

CIRCULATION OF THE BANKS IN ENGLAND AND WALES.

It is not surprising that in the recent derangement and depression that we have experienced, the circulation of the Banks throughout the country should exhibit a decline. The following returns will show, however, that it is not so great as might have been expected.

"The returns of the aggregate amount of notes circulated by the private banks and the joint-stock banks, in England and Wales in the quarter, ending on the first of July has been made public, by which it appears that the former have had issued £7,187,673, and the latter £3,684,764, making a total of £10,872,437. As compared with the return for the quarter, ending on the 1st of April last, a decrease is exhibited in the issues of the private as well as of the joint-stock banks, which were at the date last stated at £7,275,784, for the former, and £3,755,279 for the latter.—The total decrease in the circulation of all these establishments since the April return is £158,628. The circulation of the private Banks in the quarter, ending the 25th June, 1836, was £8,614,132, and of the joint stock banks, £3,588,064, making a total of £12,202,196, and showing a decrease in their circulation, as compared with this return of £1,329,750."

Provided however, and be it further enacted, That it shall not be lawful for the Shareholders at any such meeting, to elect any Person, being at the time a Professor in the South African College, to fill the office of a Director.

5. And be it further enacted, That in the event of the death, removal, or resignation of any Director during the current College-year, it shall be at the option of the Council of Directors to determine, whether the Shareholder, if any, whose name stands next in rotation at the last preceding Ballot, shall succeed to the vacancy, or whether they shall call a meeting of Shareholders to fill up the vacancy, which shall have occurred;—and the Director or Directors then succeeding, or being elected at the said meeting, when called and held to fill up such vacancy,—shall continue in office, until the period, for which the Director so dying, or resigning, would otherwise have remained in office, and no longer.

6. And be it further enacted, That the Council of Directors, for the time being, shall stand, and be possessed of, and be entitled to, all the said Sums of Money heretofore subscribed for the purposes aforesaid, and of all Property and Claims, of which the Shareholders may, and shall have, since become possessed, or entitled to, and of all Donations, Subscriptions, and Fees, or other Dues, of which the Shareholders shall become possessed, or entitled to, under the provisions of this Ordinance, in trust, to pay to the Professors, Janitors, and other necessary College-Officers, the Salaries or Dues, to which they now are, or shall, hereafter, become entitled;—to purchase such Books, Prizes, Apparatus for Scientific or other purposes, for which the College hath been established, and to keep the same in repair;—to purchase, erect, or hire, such Buildings, as may be deemed necessary by the Shareholders, for the use of the said College, in manner by the 25th Section of this Ordinance provided, and to keep the same in repair;—to pay such Sums of Money, for any such object, as shall appear to promote the objects of the Institution, as they shall be, or have been, directed to do by any vote of the Subscribers, at any general meeting duly held for such purpose;—and to pay to the Shareholders respectively, such amounts and the residue thereof, if any, in discharge of the Shares advanced by such Shareholders, until the whole of the said Loans shall be, and have been, paid off.

7. And whereas several persons did in or about the year of our Lord 1790, and at divers times between that time and the year 1805, subscribe certain sums of money for the purpose of qualifying competent School-masters, and for the improvement of School-learning generally, and particularly for the establishment of a Latin and French School in the Colony; and which said sums, afterwards increased, in amount, by Contributions and Donations made by and through the Government of this Colony, now constitute the fund entitled the "Old Latin School Fund"—at this time under the administration of certain persons appointed as, and known by the name of, the Bible and School Commission,—and which said Fund consists of Bonds and Cash, and certain immovable property:

And whereas the said South African College to be constituted and established under this Ordinance will fully carry into effect the objects, for the maintenance and accomplishment of which the said Fund was raised and contributed, and it has become expedient therefore, that the said Fund should be made over to, and administered by the standing Council of the Directors for the purposes aforesaid.

Be it therefore enacted, that the said Fund, so now under the administration of the said Bible and School Commission, with all thereunto appertaining and belonging, or therefrom arising, at, from, and since the 1st day of January 1831, shall be paid over, transferred, and made over in full,—and the said immovable property be transferred and made over also, to the Standing Council of Directors in trust, for the interest, rent, and proceeds, which may and shall be made, and shall and may arise, in the management of the said Fund, by the said Council of Directors, to be applied from time to time towards the payment of the fixed salaries of the Professors respectively, of the said College.

8. And be it further enacted, That the Council of the Directors shall meet on Tuesday next, after the General Annual Meeting, and on the 1st Tuesday in the months of April, July and October, respectively; and the said Council shall meet at any time, when required by a Notice in Writing signed by the Chairman, and delivered to each Director, not less than 3 days previous to the time thereby appointed; and the Chairman shall, and is hereby required to call a meeting of the Directors, in like manner, at any time within 7 days after being thereunto required by a requisition in writing, signed by, not less, than five of the Directors, setting forth the purpose, for which the same is to be held; whereupon a meeting of the Directors shall be held for such purpose accordingly, and for no other. Provided however, that it shall not be competent for the Council of Directors, at any meeting, to pass any resolution, whereby any resolution passed by the Council of Directors during the current year shall be repealed, or altered.

9. And be it further enacted, That 5 Directors shall form a quorum, and shall be competent to perform all matters and things, which may be done by the Directors under the provisions of this Ordinance, except in so far as relates to the matter provided by the 13th Section of this Ordinance.

10. And be it further enacted, That the Council of Directors shall, at their first Meeting, after the General Annual Meeting in each year, elect from among themselves a Chairman for the current College-year, that is to say, until the next General Annual Meeting, who, when present, shall preside at the Meetings of the said Council: Provided, that when such Chairman shall be absent from any such Meeting, the said Council shall elect another Director to act as Chairman of such Meeting. And in case the votes of the said Council shall at any time be equally divided, the Chairman,—or Director acting as Chairman,—shall have a casting vote in addition to his own vote; but such Chairman,—or Director acting as Chairman,—shall not, while in the chair, enter into the discussion of any question, which shall be before the Meeting.

11. And be it further enacted, That the Council of Directors shall keep a Book, wherein they shall enter the names and additions of each of the Shareholders, who shall have paid up the Instalments due upon his Share or Shares, or who shall have become entitled thereto by purchase, donation, or otherwise, from the original holder of such Share or Shares, and of which entry, a Certificate, signed by the Chairman and Treasurer, shall be delivered to every such Shareholder; and such Certificate shall be at all times deemed sufficient evidence of the Interest in such Share of the respective parties, to whom the same shall be granted; and the said Certificate shall be in the form, or to the effect following:

No. Certificate of Share

In the South African College.

We, the Undersigned, Chairman and Treasurer of the South African College, do hereby certify, that A. B. of is the holder of the Share No. amounting to £10 Sterling in the South African College, established under, and by virtue of, an Ordinance of His Excellency, the Governor of the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope, and the Legislative Council thereof, No. 1837, transferable with the approval of the Council of Directors.

Cape Town, the day of 1837.

C. D. Chairman of the Council,
E. F. Treasurer of the College.

12. And be it further enacted, That whenever it shall be made to appear to the Council of Directors, that any Certificate of share has been lost, or destroyed,—the said Council shall, upon the application of the Shareholder entitled thereto, and upon payment of the sum of Ten Shillings sterling,—which shall go to the funds of the said College,—grant a new Certificate of such Share, and which Certificate shall set forth, that the same hath been granted upon such application, and that it has been made to appear, that the Original Certificate had been lost, or destroyed.

13. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Council of Directors to appoint Professors duly qualified for the Classes or Departments now, or which shall, under any of the provisions of this Ordinance, be hereafter instituted; and, if they shall see fit to do so, to appoint Assistant-Professors of such Classes or Departments; and such Professors or Assistant-Professors, at any time, to discharge for immoral or improper conduct, or for nonfulfilment by such Professor or Assistant-Professor of his engagements with the Council of Directors: provided however, that no such Professor or Assistant-Professor shall be discharged as aforesaid, until his case shall have been enquired into and reported upon by the Senate hereinafter appointed, and until 12 Directors, upon such Report, at a meeting of the Council duly called, shall have resolved, by a majority of votes, that such Professor, or Assistant-Professor shall be so discharged.

14. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Council of Directors, from time to time, to establish Professorships in Theology, and in such Branches of Literature and Science, as they shall see to be for the interest of the said South African College, whenever the funds of the said College shall enable them so to do;—such Professorships to be subject to the provisions of this Ordinance, so far as the same shall be applicable thereto. And it shall and may be lawful for any person or persons, or any body or bodies, politic, corporate, or others, to found such Professorships;—provided that the same shall be under the entire control of the said Council of Directors, and shall be, in like manner, subject to the provisions of this Ordinance.

15. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Council of Directors to establish a Schedule of Fees to be charged by each Professor respectively, for each Pupil, who shall enter the Class or Classes under his charge, and which shall be chargeable accordingly,—except as herein provided with regard to Free Pupils, whom the Governor of this Colony, for the time being, may appoint in virtue of the provisions of the 45th Section of this Ordinance. Provided however, that it shall and may be lawful for the said Council, with the consent of the Senate, to alter such Schedule from time to time, as circumstances may require; in such manner, however, that the same shall not interfere with any engagement, which shall have been entered into by the Council with any Professor in the College, unless such Professor shall consent thereto: And provided further, that if any Pupil shall apply to be entered in any particular class, after the expiration of six calendar months from the commencement of the College-Session, in any year, he shall be chargeable only with a moiety of the fees chargeable as aforesaid.

16. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Council of Directors to make such Rules, Orders, Regulations, and Bye-Laws, and take such steps for the management of the interests and affairs of the said College, as shall seem to them expedient, provided the same be not repugnant to law, and to the provisions of this Ordinance;—and provided the same be not repugnant to the power and authority hereinafter granted to, and reposed in, the Senate of the said College.

17. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Council of Directors, by and in the name of the Chairman for the time being,—having previously obtained the consent of a majority of the Shareholders at a General Meeting convened in terms of the 25th section of this Ordinance,—to erect or purchase such Buildings, as shall be necessary for the said South African College; and it shall be lawful for the said Council of Directors to alter, pull down, or sell any such buildings, and to alienate such part of the joint-stock of the said College, after having in like manner obtained the consent of a majority of the Shareholders,—but not otherwise.

18. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Council of Directors, by and with the consent of a majority of the Shareholders at any General Meeting convened in manner provided by the 25th Section of this Ordinance, to increase the capital of the said South African College by creating such number of additional Shares of £10 each, as they shall deem advisable:—in taking which, the persons then being Shareholders shall be entitled to the preference before others:—and such additional Shares, when taken, and paid, shall be subject to all the provisions of this Ordinance, and shall entitle the holders thereof to the same benefits, rights, and privileges in respect thereof, as if the same had been originally subscribed for at the Establishment of the said College.

19. And be it further enacted, That the Council of Directors shall keep a Book wherein shall be entered in the English language, (whereof translations into Dutch, if required, shall be made) all the proceedings and resolutions duly had and taken by them; which proceedings and resolutions shall be drawn up, at the time,—when the same shall have been had and taken,—by their Secretary; and marked with the Initials of the Chairman then presiding:—and which shall be entered by the said Secretary in the said Book, and signed by the Chairman, or acting Chairman, at the next Meeting of the said Council. And the said Book shall be open for the inspection of the Shareholders at the General Annual Meeting, for which purpose the same shall lie open at the said Meeting, and during 3 days previous thereto, at the College, between the hours of 10 in the Morning and 4 in the Afternoon.

20. And be it further enacted, That all Actions and Suits, and all other proceedings at Law, to be commenced or instituted for, and on behalf of, the Council of Directors of the said College, against any person or persons, bodies politic or corporate, or others,—whether Shareholders under this Ordinance or otherwise,—for recovering any Debts, or enforcing any Claims or Demands due to the said Council of Directors, or for any other matter relating to the concerns of the said College, shall, and lawfully may, after the passing of this Ordinance, be commenced or instituted and prosecuted to a final judgment or sentence in the name of the Treasurer of the South African College, as the nominal Plaintiff, Applicant, or Petitioner, for and on behalf of the said Council of Directors, and shall and lawfully may, subject to the Provisions of the Ordinances No. 40 and 73, or of any Law or Ordinance, which may hereafter be enacted on that behalf, prosecute any criminal action for any fraud, crime, or offence committed against, or with intent to defraud, the said Council of Directors, or the Shareholders aforesaid jointly; and that no action, or other proceeding, shall abate, discontinue, or be rendered ineffectual by reason of the death or resignation of such Treasurer; but the Treasurer for the time being shall always be deemed to be the Plaintiff, Applicant, Petitioner, or Prosecutor, in any such Action, Suit, or other proceeding, as the case may be. And that all Actions and Suits, and proceedings at Law, to be commenced or instituted by any person or persons, bodies politic or corporate, or others,—whether Shareholders under this Ordinance or otherwise,—against the said Council of Directors, or against the said Shareholders jointly, shall and lawfully may be commenced, instituted, and prosecuted to a final judgment or sentence against the said Treasurer of the South African College, as the nominal Defendant or Respondent for, and on behalf of, the said Council of Directors, or of the Shareholders aforesaid,—and not against the Council of Directors or any of them, or against the Shareholders, or any of them.

21. And be it further enacted, That the Council of Directors shall, at their first Meeting held after the General Annual Meeting in each year, elect by a majority of votes of Directors present, an Honorary Treasurer for the ensuing College-year, who shall administer the funds of the said College in such a manner, as the said Council shall direct from time to time, and who shall give any, and such, security in respect of his office, and shall execute the same under such regulations, as the Council shall and may, from time to time make, declare, and publish:—Provided however, that whenever the funds of the said College shall permit, the Shareholders shall, at a General Meeting to be held for that purpose, elect a Treasurer, as the Bursar, with such salary, as such Meeting shall determine, who shall from thenceforth discharge the office of Treasurer, instead of such Honorary Treasurer so to be elected by the Council of Directors as aforesaid.

22. And be it further enacted, That any Director, who shall become Insolvent, or have been absent from the Colony for three months, or shall cease to be a Shareholder,—in any such case such Director shall become disqualified, and his office shall become vacant.

Of the Shareholders.

23. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for any Shareholder to assign and transfer his Share, or Shares, by endorsement upon the Certificate,—specifying the person or persons, to whom the same is, or are, transferred;—provided however, that no such endorsement shall be valid to transfer any right or title thereto, or advantage therefrom, until such endorsement shall have been duly registered by the Secretary of the Directors; and three of the Directors shall have certified on the back of the said certificate their consent to such transfer.

24. And be it further enacted, That the Heirs, or Legatees of any Shareholder, who shall die, shall thereupon and upon the production of his Certificate of Share, be entitled to be registered, as the holder thereof; whereupon the Secretary of the Directors shall certify upon the said Certificate, that such person, or persons, have become, by the death of such Shareholder, entitled to the same.

25. And be it further enacted, That a General Meeting of the Shareholders shall be held at the South African College, on the 2d Tuesday of the month of January in each year, at one o'clock in the afternoon, at which the Council of Directors shall lay before the meeting a Report of their proceedings, and of the state of the Affairs of the College during the preceding year; and at which it shall be competent for the Shareholders, then present, upon motion duly made and seconded, to consider, resolve, and determine, on any matter relating to the said College under, by virtue, and in pursuance of, the several provisions of this Ordinance. And a General Meeting of the Shareholders shall be held at any time, provided the Council of Directors shall give notice thereof, and of the purpose, for which the same is to be held, 14 days at the least before the same shall take place, in the Government Gazette of this Colony; and the Council of Directors shall call a General Meeting of the Shareholders within 7 days, after having been thereto required, by a requisition in writing delivered to the Chairman and any 2 Directors, setting forth the purpose, for which the same is to be held,—signed by not less than 12 of the Shareholders;—and of which meeting a like notice shall be published in the said Gazette not less than 14 days, and not more than 20 days, before the same shall be held:—Provided that it shall not be lawful for any General Meeting, either annual or special, to pass any resolution, whereby any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall be virtually repealed, altered, or rendered ineffective,—or whereby any resolution duly passed at any General Meeting, during the preceding 12 months, shall be repealed, altered, or rendered ineffective,—or which shall be inconsistent with any engagement duly entered into by the Council of Directors with any person or persons relative to any matter whatever:—And provided, that no business shall be transacted at any General Meeting, whether annual or special, unless there shall be then present not less than 12 Shareholders duly entitled to vote.

26. And be it further enacted, That in all matters submitted to the consideration of any General Meeting of the Shareholders, each holder of one Share shall be entitled to one vote, and each holder of two Shares shall be entitled to two votes;—and no Shareholder shall be entitled to more, than two votes: Provided that no person shall be entitled to vote in respect of any Share or Shares, until his name shall have been registered in the Books of the said College for a period of 3 months, as the proprietor thereof; and that no person shall be entitled to vote, or interfere in the discussions of any such meeting, unless he shall have been duly in such manner registered as the proprietor of a Share or Shares, and shall have paid all claims due by him to the Council of Directors,—and unless he shall be present at such meeting.

27. And be it further enacted, That the resolutions of the Shareholders, duly passed at any Public Meeting,—called in conformity with the provisions of this Ordinance,—carried by a majority of votes, shall be binding upon the whole of the Shareholders,—in like manner,—as if each had been present, and had consented to such resolution.

28. And be it further enacted, That all the Proceedings and Resolutions of any General Meeting of the Shareholders, shall be taken down, and shall, previous to the dissolution of such meeting, be signed by the Chairman, and when so signed shall be entered by the Secretary of the Council of Directors in the Minute Book of their Proceedings.

29. And be it further enacted, That the Shareholders present at any General Meeting, whether annual or special, shall, before they proceed to business, elect from among themselves a Chairman to preside thereat; who, in case the votes of the Shareholders shall be equally divided upon any particular question, shall be entitled to a casting vote;—but such Chairman, while in the chair, shall not be authorised to enter into the discussion of any question before the meeting.

30. And be it further enacted, That an Alphabetical List of the Shareholders shall be made out from the Shareholders' Book,—certified, as correct, by the Secretary,—and shall be laid upon the table previous to, and remain during, the Proceedings of any General Meeting of the Shareholders.

Of the Professors.

31. And be it further enacted, That there shall be in the said College—

- 2nd, A Professor of Dutch-Classic-Literature, and of modern Languages;
- 3rd, A Professor of Physical Sciences, and
- 4th, A Professor of Mathematics.

32. And be it further enacted, That each of the said Professors, so long as his engagement with the South African College shall continue, shall be entitled to receive out of the Funds of the said College, a salary of £100 sterling per annum,—to be paid by four instalments, to wit: Upon the 1st day of January, the 1st day of April, the 1st day of July and the first day of October, in each year.

33. And be it further enacted, That no Professor as aforesaid shall be compelled to open any Class in the said College, until Six Pupils at the least, chargeable with fees, shall have offered themselves for the same, and paid the fees chargeable, as hereinbefore provided, for and in respect of such Class.

34. And be it further enacted, That it shall not be lawful for any Professor to vacate his Office in the said College, until he shall have given 12 months previous notice of such his intention to the said Council; and that if he shall do so without such notice having been given as aforesaid, he shall thereby incur, and be liable to pay to the Council of Directors, a penalty of £50 sterling: Provided however, that in the event of the Council of Directors failing to pay to such Professor his salary, as the same shall become due, or within one calendar month thereafter, it shall and may be lawful for such Professor thereupon to vacate his Office, without having given such previous notice.

Of the Senate.

35. And be it further enacted, That the Superintendence and Regulation of the Discipline and Instruction in the several Departments and Classes in the said College shall be entrusted to, and reposed in, a Senate, consisting of 2 Directors elected annually by the Council of Directors,—and who shall be so elected by a majority of votes of Directors, present at a meeting thereof, within 8 days after the General Annual Meeting in each year,—and of the respective Professors of the College for the time being: Provided, however, that should the Council of Directors at any time fail to elect such 2 Directors, or either of them, to be Members of the said Senate, it shall and may be competent for the Professors aforesaid to perform such matters, as the Senate is by any of the provisions of this Ordinance empowered to perform,—in like manner as if such 2 Directors, or either of them, had been duly elected by the said Council, and had acted as Members of the said Senate.

36. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Senate to fix from time to time the hours and days, when the Classes respectively shall be open;—to appoint and determine what Books shall be used or read, and what Subjects shall be taught in the said Classes,—to divide the said College into such Classes, as they shall see to be necessary, in order to carry into effect the objects of the Institution;—to make arrangements for the due and regular matriculation of the Pupils attending the said College;—to examine the respective Classes in the said College at such times, as they shall appoint, and to grant to such Pupils, as they shall think deserving, a Certificate of the progress made by, and the behaviour of, such Pupils respectively;—to take such measures and inflict such punishments, as shall be found necessary by them for the maintenance of due order and discipline in the said College, and to dismiss any Pupil—when they shall see it to be necessary.

37. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Senate, by a majority of votes, to refer any matter, within their jurisdiction, to the decision of the Council of Directors; who shall thereupon consider and determine thereon: and the decision of the said Council of Directors upon such matter so referred to them shall be final.

38. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Senate, at the commencement, and also about the middle of every College-Session, to determine what classes, in addition to the Regular Establishment of the said College, shall be opened therein.

41. And be it further enacted, That the Senate shall enter in a Book to be kept for that purpose, a minute of all their proceedings, in the English Language, (which minute they shall, if they see proper, translate into Dutch, and enter such translation in the said Minute Book;) and the minutes taken at any particular meeting, shall, previous to the dissolution thereof, be signed by the Chairman or Member at the time presiding.

42. And be it further enacted, That the Senate shall appoint their Secretary, and shall also appoint a Janitor, who shall be in attendance at the College at all times, when the classes shall be open; and the Senate shall and may discharge such Janitor at any time, when they shall see fit;—and the Council of Directors shall pay to such Janitor, while in office, such salary as they shall fix, not less however than £50 sterling per annum.

43. And be it further enacted, That the Senate shall, at each Quarterly Meeting of the Council of Directors, lay before them the minutes of their proceedings kept by them from time to time; and it shall and may be lawful for the said Council, at any meeting thereof duly held, to call upon the Senate to produce such minutes, whereupon the said Senate shall produce the same. And it shall and may be competent for the Council, at any such Meeting,

Of the Pupils

44. And be it further enacted, That no Pupil shall be admitted into the said College under the age of 10 years, and unless he shall have been found by the Senate to have attained such a degree of Scholarship, as shall be approved by them;—whereupon he shall receive from them a certificate of his fitness to be admitted as such Pupil; whereupon, and upon payment to the Treasurer of such sum, as the Council, by any regulation by them from time to time made, shall fix,—not however exceeding the sum of £1 annually,—exclusive of the fees which shall be payable to the Professor or Professors, in respect of the Classes, for which he may enter himself,—to be applied in the purchase of Books, Stationery, and other articles, as may be required for the Institution,—the Treasurer shall grant to such Pupil a certificate thereof, which shall be received as satisfactory proof, that such Pupil has been entered for such year upon the establishment of the College, and shall be entitled, upon payment of the fees chargeable in respect thereof, to be entered as a Pupil of any Class, which shall be then open in the College.

45. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Governor of this Colony for the time being, to enter in the said College such number of Free Pupils, as he shall think proper,—not however exceeding 5 in the whole,—at any time when there shall be not more than 50 Pupils in the College chargeable with Fees to the Professors,—and not exceeding 10 in the whole at any time, when there shall be more than 50 Pupils chargeable with such Fees; and every such Free Pupil, being upwards of 10 years of age, and having attained such degree of scholarship, as shall be approved by the Senate, shall, upon payment of such fee annually, as is provided by the 44th Section of this Ordinance to be paid by each Pupil to the Treasurer be authorised to enter any class, which shall be open at the time in the College, without payment of any fee in respect of any class belonging to the regular Establishment of the College: provided however, that such Free Pupil shall be required to pay to the Teacher of Writing, Drawing, or other department, not forming part of the regular Establishment of the College, such fee, as shall be payable in respect thereof by the other Pupils respectively attending the said College.

ADDRESS TO SIR BENJAMIN D'URBAN.
On Wednesday last, a Deputation from THE FREEMASONS' LODGE, THE HOPE, waited on His Excellency the Governor, and presented the following ADDRESS:
To His Excellency Lieutenant-General Sir BENJAMIN D'URBAN, K. C. B., Colonel of Her Majesty's 51st Regiment of Foot, Governor and Commander in Chief of the Cape of Good Hope in South Africa, &c. &c. &c.

May it please your Excellency,
We, the Worshipful Master, Officers, and Members of The Hope Lodge (No. 473) of the Ancient and Honorable Fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons, desire to express our unfeigned regret at the approaching departure of your Excellency from this Colony.
Associated with us in the active exercise of the benevolent principles of our Order, and in private life displaying in their fullest splendor those truly Masonic Ornaments which characterise a good Mason, Your Excellency has endeared yourself to the affections of your Companions and Brethren, and gained the esteem of all who have had the happiness to be cemented with you in that fraternal bond of social union.
Long after your Excellency shall have quitted our coast, you will retain, and we hope indulge, the pleasing reflection of having deposited in the faithful breasts of Masons, a friendship, which changes and chances cannot obliterate, and death only can destroy.

Our earnest wishes will attend you for your health and happiness, wherever your lot may be cast, throughout the intricate windings of this mortal life; and when this transitory scene shall have passed away, may the Hope of the Good Man be changed into fruition, and may you enjoy, through the mercy of the Great Architect of the Universe, the rest and reward of the just.

Signed at Cape Town, Cape of Good Hope, in open Lodge, this 21st day of December A. L. 5837, A. D. 1837.

(The Address was signed by the Members of the Lodge.)

His Excellency received the Deputation at Government House, and returned the following REPLY.

Government House, Cape Town, 27th December 1837.

To the Worshipful Master, Officers, and Members of the Hope Lodge (No. 473) of the Ancient and Honorable Fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons.

Gentlemen and Brethren,

I deeply feel, and gratefully acknowledge, the affectionate Address with which you have been pleased to honor me.

To have been "associated with you, in the active exercise of the benevolent principles of our Order," is to me a source of real, as it will be, of lasting happiness;—while your opinion that I have not unworthily "displayed those true Masonic Ornaments, which characterise a good Mason," is one of proud satisfaction. And to know that I "have endeared myself to the affections, and gained the esteem of my Companions and Brethren," will not fail to afford me a gratification, and a solace, as long as I live.

It will indeed be "a pleasing reflection for me, that I have deposited in the faithful breasts of my brother Masons, a friendship which changes and chances cannot obliterate, and which death only can destroy;"—and well, and truly, may I affirm, that these, in all their force, are my feelings, and sentiments towards them.

Gentlemen, friends, and brethren, I accept with all my heart, the good and pious wishes for me, with which your address concludes;—and I too, pray, as fervently as sincerely, that the Great Architect of the Universe may bestow upon you all, those blessings, which in your affectionate friendship you have invoked for me.

(Signed) B. D'URBAN.

ROWLAND'S KALYDOR,

PREPARED from the most beautiful Exotics, and WARRANTED PERFECTLY INNOCENT, yet possessing properties of surprising energy: it eradicates all CUTANEOUS ERUPTIONS, PIMPLES, SPOTS, REDNESS, &c., transforms even the most SALLOW COMPLEXION into RADIANT WHITENESS, realizing delicate WHITE FACE, NECK, HANDS, and ARMS, and imparting a BEAUTIFUL JUVENILE BLOOM to the COMPLEXION; successfully render HARSH and ROUGH SKIN, beautifully soft, smooth, and even.

The KALYDOR is equally indispensable in the Nursery as at the Toilet. Perfectly innocuous, it may be used by the most delicate Lady, with the assurance of safety and efficacy.

To MOTHERS NURSING their OFFSPRING, it gives, in all cases of incidental Inflammation, immediate relief; cools the mouth of the Infant, and enhances internal pleasure in the act of administering alimentary nourishment.

To GENTLEMEN, whose faces are tender after Shaving. A great infelicity which attends the operation of shaving, is the irritation of the skin;—many Gentlemen suffer greatly from this cause. Rowland's Kalydor will be found excellent (beyond precedent) in ameliorating and allaying that most unpleasant sensation.

It protects the Skin from the baneful effects occasioned either by intense solar heat or cold winds, and thus to the Traveller, whose avocations expose him to various changes of weather, proves an infallible Specific—a prompt resource; and, as conducing to comfort, a pleasing appendage and invaluable acquisition.

Price 4s. 6d. and 8s. 6d. per Bottle, duty included.

* To prevent Imposition, the Name and Address of the Proprietors, as under, is ENGRAVED ON THE GOVERNMENT STAMP affixed over the cork of each Bottle. All others are spurious.

TESTIMONIALS.

TO MESSRS. ROWLAND AND SON.

Gentlemen,—I with pleasure acknowledge the singular benefit I have derived from your excellent Kalydor. My face, which has been subject to inflammation and Eruption for years, is now restored; and my friends (to whom I recommended it) gave it their decided approbation. Please to send six bottles per bearer of this note.

I remain, Gentlemen, your obedient Servant,
Bangor, Sept. 17, 1837. A. H. S.

TO MESSRS. ROWLAND AND SON.

Hambro', March 23, 1833.

Gentlemen,—I am happy to inform you, that the virtue of your Kalydor, has obtained great fame, and that there is scarcely a Lady at Hambro', but which has it at her toilet; it is not only a favourite with the ladies, but is equally beneficial to Gentlemen; and one of our first physicians, sixty years of age, whose face was in a state of continual inflammation so as to render shaving impossible, has been entirely cured. He is much gratified, and recommends it to all families.

I am, Gentlemen, your's, &c. G. VOSS.

TO MESSRS. ROWLAND AND SON.

Theatre of Zoology, 8, Gower Place, London University.

Gentlemen,—Having recently recovered from an almost fatal illness, arising from the effects of morbid poison being imbibed by a wound I received in dissection last November, I have, in consequence of the extreme tenderness of my skin, used your Kalydor, and consequently can bear testimony of its good effects; also in several cases of cutaneous defect.

I remain, your's obediently,
June 7, 1832. H. W. Dewhurst, Surgeon.

Extract of a Letter from Ballenstadd, July 3, 1833, near Hamburg.

"Rowland's Kalydor having been recommended to the Court Counsellor, Mr. Curtze, by Dr. Schleden, Physician, who has repeatedly witnessed its wonderful efficacy, Mr. Rowland's Agent is requested to send three packets immediately to the Post Office, where the same will be paid for."

Sold by the Proprietors' appointment by A. S. ROBERTSON, Cape of Good Hope, and Messrs. LEVICK, SON, and SHERMAN.

NOTICE TO THE TRADE.

S. MORDAN & Co. beg to call the attention of the TRADE, and of the Public at large, to the following articles of their manufacture, viz:—

THE PATENT EVER-POINTED PENCIL is an instrument universally allowed to be of the greatest utility, and particularly recommended to the public, when made with that mathematical nicety on which its use depends. The Patentees inform the public that all Pencils having steel points are not of their make; and to avoid all inconvenience the following remarks on purchasing will ensure them a genuine article:—see the Pencil has the name, "S. Mordan and Co. Makers and Patentees," on the body of the case.

LEADS.—The spurious leads are a mixture of common lead-dust and antimony, and of all manner of sizes; they choke up the Pencil-case, and create an unjust prejudice against the genuine article. The proper leads for replenishing the case have on each box a yellow belt, with the word "warranted" on it, and a red sealing-wax impression, bearing the initials "S. M. & Co."

Shopkeepers in provincial towns would do well to observe the above remarks, to prevent their being imposed upon, the public being much inconvenienced in not being supplied with the genuine article.

CEDAR PENCILS.—Artists and others are particularly requested to try their Black Lead Pencils in Cedar, made from the pure Cumberland lead, selected with the greatest care: they have been pronounced, by the most competent judges of the day, the best extant. (See J. D. Harding's Work on Pencil Drawings.) This article is patronized by all the Government offices.

THE PATENT OBLIQUE PEN, the only straight Pen. This peculiarity is owing to the slit being parallel to the angular slope of the writing, which gives it that freedom in use which is unequalled by any other pen by the direction in which both nibs are brought into use at the same time, the writer is not operating upon one edge of the nib, and the contrary edge of the other at the same instant, but upon the square surfaces or points of both together. Both nibs are thus brought into constantly equal wear, and a freedom is secured which no other metal Pen ever possessed. The Patent Oblique Pen is the most perfect Lithero offered.

PATENT TRIPLE-POINTED PEN.—The peculiarity of this Pen, either in its straight or oblique form, is the addition of a third nib, which secures the following advantages:—

1. A certain supply of ink of any kind, uniform with the most rapid writing.
2. The two nibs of the ordinary pen act only as dividers or tracers, while the third nib, pressing upon the paper, conducts and distributes the ink.

3. The third nib renders the same pen capable of writing the boldest text or finest running hand.

4. The third nib retains a larger supply of ink without risk of blotting. (See Laws of Fluids.)

5. The third nib, acting on the slit of the pen, effectually removes the fibres as they are gathered from the paper, thereby removing the greatest impediment to the use of metallic pens.

6. Firmness in use is obtained by the third nib; and at the same time the flexibility is increased, and durability necessarily follows.

* Use the Improved Joint Holder, made expressly for these Pens.

PORTABLE QUILL PENS.—There are many persons who do not like steel pens; to those the Portable Quill Pens, and Silver Penholder, are particularly recommended. In Boxes containing Fifty and One Hundred.

"S. M. & Co. Makers," are marked on each box, and are warranted, with a yellow belt and wax impression.

COOPER'S PATENT SCENT BOTTLES.—These articles are confidently recommended from their superiority. The advantages derived from this invention are, that the Stopper, from its spherical form, can neither stick, or break in the neck, so constant a complaint against those on the old plan. The Stopper being made of glass never corrodes. They are so perfectly air-tight that they will preserve the most volatile spirits, even ether or ammonia, any length of time. They cause much less trouble in use than any others, the act of removing the cap and stopper being only one operation. They are more durable than any others, from their superiority both in workmanship and material, the silver and gold used in them being very stout, and warranted standard.

Manufactured by S. Mordan & Co.

PATENT TRAVELLING INKS.—S. M. & Co. invite particular attention to their improved Travelling Inks, to which they have adapted the Patent Spherical Stopper, so as to secure all its advantages, while the construction of the case admits of a glass holding a much larger quantity of ink than those in general use, without increasing its bulk; and at the same time it is protected by a strong case, neatly covered with leather. The improved Stoppers to these Inks remove the objections to the India Rubber Stoppers of the late Mr. Berry, and may be had in all the varieties made in wood.

These Inks are also made in wood or ivory, for the pocket.

NEW FOUNTAIN INKSTANDS.—These Inkstands are of a very superior construction to those formerly in use. They present but a small surface of ink to the atmosphere, and comparatively no evaporation takes place; nor can dust accumulate to spoil the ink. The spout is placed at the most convenient angle for dipping the pen; and the ink being of a uniform depth, prevents the pen being spoiled by striking against the glass.

This Inkstand is peculiarly adapted for the writing fluids now in use. They are made of white or coloured glass, either plain or richly cut; and are also mounted with silver caps, which exclude the atmosphere or dust. Each Inkstand has a medalion, with the name S. Mordan & Co. London, on it.

SEVEN GUARDED LOCK.—There are few persons but have property of some kind to secure from prying curiosity or theft. No lock can be secure that has duplicate keys in existence, or that will allow of an impression being taken of the key to produce a facsimile, so easy in all warded and tumbler locks. The most serious robberies have taken place by means of duplicate keys, which allow the dishonest to relock without suspicion; this is fully borne out by the Police Reports. The only lock that gives positive security is the Seven Guarded Lock. The infinite variety of changes of which the key is susceptible, which causes every successive key to differ from all which have preceded it, makes this Lock perfectly secure. An inspection of the machine will justify this assertion.

This Lock is patronized by the Government offices; also at Newgate, Whitecross-street, and Warwick. There is scarcely a banking house in London but have these Locks more or less on their establishment.

Patent Joint Penholders, in Silver and Gold,
A new Guide Penholder, in Silver, much approved of.
Patent Parisian Spring Penholder, and Short Pens for do.
Gold Pens with Perpetual Points.
Fireproof Deed-boxes, &c.
Iron Chests and Bonkeases.
Iron Doors for Strong Rooms.
Lump Inks, Cone Inks, and Glass Inkstands of every description.

Toilet-bottles, Pastile-burners, Rose-water Bottles, &c.
Smelling-bottles, mounted in Silver and Gold, with S. M. and Co.'s Improved Conical Stopper.
Soda-water Machines, &c. &c.

S. M. & Co. also inform the Trade that they have now in the course of manufacture several entirely new and useful articles, which will be laid before them with all possible dispatch.

CAUTION.—As imitations have been made of many of their articles, observe, that each bears the name of S. Mordan and Co., Makers, London.

Manufactory, 22, CASTLE STREET, near FINSBURY SQUARE, LONDON.

N.B.—S. MORDAN will be happy to advise persons taking out Patents for new Inventions, as to the best mode of manufacturing and laying the same before the Trade.

Sold by A. S. ROBERTSON, of Cape Town,
By whom ORDERS for any articles made by S. MORDAN will be received, and executed promptly.
